GOV. CAMPBELL has issued his Thanksgiving Proclamation. There's grit for you!

THE News and Observer, always reliable and noted for its sterling Democracy, is showing unusual enterprise. Its issue of the 11th inst., is largely devoted to the Fifth Maryland Regiment and is beautifully embellished with pictorial representations of Baltimore.

THE laboring people of Massachusetts are surprised in intelligence by the laboring element of no State in the Union. They are thinking people, and have studied the tariff question in an intelligent manner, and the result is defeat of the Republican party in that State.

NEW YORK markets: Money easy at 4@6 per cent.; closing offered at 4 per cent.; cotton dull; middling uplands 8½ cents; middling Orleans 8 11-16 cents; Southern flour quiet; wheat lower and moderately active for export and milling; No. 2 red $1.05½ in store and at elevator; corn unsettled and moderately active at 78@80 cents afloat; rosin steady and quiet; strained, common to good $1.32½@1.40; spirits turpentine quiet and steadier at 36@36½ cents.

LOCAL NEWS.

ACCORDING to Col. Clarkston the Republicans in New York and Massachusetts were out-journaled as well as out-generated.

AN agreement has been concluded between the United States and British governments in the Behring Sea sealing fishery questions.

OHIO claims about 1,100 square miles of Indiana territory, and Indiana to get even, claims a big hunk of Illinois, which includes Chicago and the World's Fair.

OF the average yield of cotton in eleven States, reported by the Department of Agriculture, North Carolina stands fourth with an average of 175 pounds per acre.

ONE of the funny things of the day is the New York Tribune rejoicing over Republican gains in the Pennsylvania Legislature when there was no election for members of the Legislature.

THE Grand jury of the Federal court in session at San Antonio, Texas, has indicted the officials of the Louisiana Lottery company for sending their advertisements through the mails.

A NEW YORK chemist has discovered that there are 1,045 different and distinct nuisances on the water shed from which Gotham draws her supply of drinking water. No wonder the average New York man don't like water.

THE revolution in Brazil is assuming proportions; the provinces of Para and Rio Grande do Sul have declared their independence, and the province of Bahia will soon follow; President Fonseca is moving to put down these revolts.

SENATOR GORMAN will not be a candidate for the Presidential nomination next year. He is young and can well afford to wait. It is no small compliment to Mr. Cleveland that Senator Gorman gracefully yields to his superior claims.

THE fellow who wrote a letter to Governor Gordon in the name of Miss Winnie Davis asking the loan of $1,000 was as much fool as knave. If he had had three grains of brain he would have known that Gen. Jno. B. Gordon knew Miss Winnie Davis too well to be imposed on in any such way. The daughter of the South is not that sort of girl.

A MINNEAPOLIS exchange bases an editorial paragraph upon a dispatch announcing the burning of a "gin" house at Opelika, Ala., and draws a prohibition moral from it. The views of the same author upon the project to cross fine-wool merino ewes with hydraulic rams would be read with great interest throughout the wool raising districts.—Chicago Mail.

ONE good result of the elections is to make free coinage of silver an issue to be avoided hereafter, at least in States east of the Mississippi river. Using the war similarities common to politics, Tuesday's notions were in the nature of skirmishes preceding the battle of 1892, and the results of those skirmishes are to make the tariff the leading issue with both parties.—Phil. Ledger.

BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION.

Sixty-first Annual Meeting in Session at Goldsboro. Large and Influential Assemblage—More Than 2 Hundred Delegates Present and Others Arriving—Rev. W. H. Marsh of Oxford Elected President. (Special Correspondent.)

The sixty-first annual meeting of the N. C. Baptist State convention convened Wednesday, Nov. 11th. The introductory sermon was preached by Dr. Hume of Chapel Hill Thursday night.

The convention elected Rev. R. H. Marsh of Oxford, president. N. B. Broughton and N. B. Cobb, Secretaries. A welcome extended to visiting brethren.

There are one hundred delegates enrolled this morning, and many others have come in since. The report of the Board of Missions and S. S. was read by Dr. Durham. The usual committees were appointed. The aged ministers relief fund was reported upon and discussed.

Orphanage work discussed tonight. State mission work discussed tomorrow morning. The hospitality is everything one could wish. Jews and Catholics extend in this line.

THURSDAY, NOV. 12TH.

Instead of discussing the orphanage last night as was expected, the subject of general education was taken up. Dr. Winston, President of State University was introduced and made a capital speech. He delighted everybody. He said he wanted the Baptist to capture the University by sending on their boys. President Winston made a fine impression on the convention.

Rev. W. R. Gwaltney of Wake Forest read a report on the Education Board. The report stated that 71 ministerial students are at W. F. College, 40 of these students are helped by this Board.

The report stated that the Board was out of debt and had five dollars on hand. Dr. W. H. White of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., being present spoke in behalf of the Seminary. He stated that the Seminary now has 223 students; nine of these students are indigent students from N. C. He asked for $720 and received $766.

Conventions adjourned. This morning the subject of State missions was discussed. A debt of $1,800 was provided for. Minister's Relief Fund was reported on and several speeches made.

Time of the meetings of the Convention was changed so as to meet Thursday night after the first Sunday in December. The place of next meeting was decided upon. The place of meeting is to be Raleigh. Rev. J. H. Hardaway of Oxford to preach the Convention sermon. Rev. Rufus Ford of New Berne, alternate.

Over 200 delegates present, and about the same number of visitors. The hospitality is unbounded. F.

PUBLIC ROADS.

The South is Awakening to Better Highways—They Must be Improved. This subject has no doubt grown monotonous to many of the JOURNAL readers, but we cannot help it. To us it is too important a question not to keep hammering upon especially at a time when it is being so widely agitated.

North Carolina must have better roads; Virginia is making demands in that direction, Alabama is thoroughly aroused with the idea, and in fact the entire South is seeing the great need of improved thoroughfares.

The Goldsboro Argus has also been pounding away. We copy one article: The improvement of our country roads—the adoption of a better system of working them, one more fruitful of results in giving us better roads—has been a topic upon which the Argus has had much to say from time to time as the years have rolled back from his shoulders and he has advanced years. And yet it has accomplished very little, if anything at all, in securing better country roads for the convenience of our country friends and the incalculable advantage of Goldsboro.

But the Argus is not one to faint and fall by the way or give up ever the fight for progress and the right; therefore we still urge and hope for better country roads—a better system of securing and maintaining them, than we now have.

We see from the Richmond Times that Major Myers has just read before the Tobacco Club of that city, an essay on the subject of country roads, which that paper suggests ought to be printed in leaflet form and scattered throughout the State, besides being reprinted in all newspapers desiring to promote the general interests of the Commonwealth, and adds truly, that roads are typical of the civilization and progress of a people. The roads built by the Romans are today recognized to their energy and wisdom.

The Time sounds the key note of justice, too, when it says that the labor contribution plan, that of requiring every male of proper age to work so many days each year on the public roads, is a palpable injustice, and as such has never been enforced, except in such a slipshod way as to bring law into contempt. Why should a laborer be required to work three or more days in the year and thus have such a large proportion of his income—his labor appropriated to roads over which he never drives a hoof of his own?

A HUNTER'S IDEAL.

Eastern North Carolina as a Game Country. Both followers of Nimrod and the disciples of Isak Walton will find plenty of sport all over North Carolina, but when it comes to the finest sport in the world Eastern North Carolina bears off the palm. Our fall and winter hunting is near perfection. In the first place, our weather during those seasons is nearly perfect. This of course is of the utmost importance to those who desire to leave the frosts and snows of the North, with its accompanying lowering skies and icy winds behind them, and are in search of a country where they can revel in balmy sunshine, and whose soft winds bear upon them the breath of eternal spring.

The climate of Eastern Carolina compares with that of Southern France. There are comparatively few cold and wet days, the winter weather for the most part being bright and crisp. It is claimed that there are several points along our coast where frost has never been known. On the main land on our coast, and in fact all kinds of water fowl to be found in this country. The woods are full of small game, quail, partridge, snipe, quail, opossum raccoon, and many other kinds, plentiful enough to delight the heart of the hunter.

As to fishing, whether in the ocean or the land locked waters near the coast, the fisherman has but to drop his line to pull out a plentiful supply of the gamest kind of fish, such as blue fish, mackerel, bass, trout, chub, pike, etc.

To give an idea of the variety of the sport we give the result of a hunting and fishing trip made by a party of gentlemen to the country near the Albemarle sounds. They brought home the skins of three wild cats, two otters, the antlers of three large stags, and a single load of fish and turtles. They also killed a large number of muskrats, squirrels, raccoons and opossums, besides a large amount of small game.

Deer, bear and wild turkeys are very plentiful, and along our eastern streams, an occasional spot may be had as an alligator, and if a fisherman gets tired of the famous sport of inland fishing, he can take a sail out upon the broad Atlantic, fitted out with the proper tackle, and after catching a shark or two he will have all the excitement and exercise he will need for some time.

We will say to those who desire an infinite variety of sport in a delightful climate, come to North Carolina.—Argonaut.

We will add to the above that if any one wants ocular demonstration that the above is a plain statement of facts and wants it without going to the native haunts of the game he can satisfy himself on that line by attending the Fifth Annual Exhibition of the East Carolina Fish, Oyster, Game and Industrial Association which begins the 23d of next February. Every animal, bird and fish above enumerated will be found and dozens of other species to which allusion is not made at all in the article. It will be a Fair worth going hundreds of miles to see, and what is more people will come from hundreds of miles to see it. It will be an opportunity of gaining information about the resources of our State that should be embraced as far as possible by everybody.

Its Excellent Qualities Command to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye, and to the taste and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

Oyster Supper. The Ladies' Memorial Association will give an Oyster Supper at the Store formerly occupied by D. Hassell, corner Pollock and Craven streets, Wednesday evening, Nov. 13, 1891. All are invited.

Contributions will be received by the committee at the building, in the afternoon after 4 o'clock same date.

"How much a man is like old shoes, For instance both a sole may lose." We wish to say a word about shoes. There are all kinds of shoes, good and indifferent. Which kind have you been buying. Now the shoes made by Stacy Adams & Co. are the good kind. The prices range from $8.00 to $5.00, they are all good, no bad or indifferent in them. If that's the kind of shoes you are looking for, call on
