At the fall meeting of the New York Presbytery of the Reformed Presbyterian Church held October 28th the charges of heresy against the Rev. J. C. K. Milligan, of New York, and the Rev. J. F. Carson, of Brooklyn, were considered. The charges consisted in their advising the members of their churches to vote at political elections, contrary to the doctrines of the Church. After much heated discussion the charge was dropped on the grounds that their action was not in reality antagonistic to the historical position of the Church, and that there had always been more or less diversity of opinion in the Church on the matter.

A PROTESTANT merchant in Barre, not far from Aix-la-Chapelle, the State Counselor, Oscar Erkens, is the sole manufacturer of the regulation robe for the Roman Catholic cardinals. For one hundred and fifty years the firm, of which he is now the head and which he inherited from his father and grand-father has been in possession of the secret of dyeing these garments their characteristic red color, as also of the manufacture of the cloth. In this way a Protestant firm has had the monopoly of making these robes for a century and a half, and is undoubtedly the oldest firm patronized by the Vatican.

For a long time the Roman Catholics of St. Louis have been looking forward to the celebration of Archbishop Kenrick's golden jubilee, which has been planned on an international scale, dignitaries from all over the world having been invited to participate in it. A difficulty has, however, arisen, owing to an order issued by a clique who are opposed to the public school system, that all Catholic children who attend the public schools shall be forbidden to participate in the jubilee chorus of children on December 1st. This has stirred a number of priests to such bitter opposition that it is possible that the whole affair will be broken up.

One of the things past finding out is why the Germans, both Protestants and Catholics, regard the lottery as a legitimate method of securing money for church purposes. The Empress is patroness of the Church Recreation Society in Berlin, and she recently accepted the sum of 210,000 marks, the profits of a lottery, to be used for church and charitable purposes. She disposed of the money by using 100,000 for the erection of a new Protestant church in East Berlin, gave 10,000 for a new organ in the Catholic St. Sebastian church and 100,000 marks for a lying in hospital for poor married women. To the credit of German Protestantism it must be said that when a few months ago, those in authority proposed an immense lottery scheme to raise several millions for church purposes, the protest of the Evangelical pastors was so determined that the project has originally been dropped.

A VERMONT farmer picks the apple seeds from his cider presses and sells them for use in the manufacture of prussic acid. He gets about one bushel of seeds from 140 bushels of apples.

AMONG the various workers for the Indians in Indian Territory the Rev. E. W. Officer, of Atoka, has accomplished not a little. He has paid especial attention to providing for Indian homeless orphan children and helpless aged persons, and this last spring began work among the wild tribes, which, however, has not been pushed on account of lack of means. One great purpose is to educate the children, and through them to reach their parents.

MR. MCKINLEY is probably mistaken in his anticipations of Democratic policy on the tariff question as affected by the recent elections. He thinks that the Ohio result will cause the Democrats to modify their platform. So far as can be seen or safely predicted the very opposite is the more probable course. Mr. Cleveland, Gov. Russell and Gov. Boies are the Democratic favorites of the hour certainly, and all the gossip since the election is on the line of what the Democrats call tariff reform or a low tariff. It is very true that Mr. McKinley's own State has pronounced decidedly in favor of protection and reciprocity. But prudent Democratic calculators never looked for a change there.—Wash. Star.

THE Sunday question is coming to the front in England, and the Daily Telegraph is opening its columns to a discussion of it. In one of the articles, Mr. Charles Hill, secretary of the Workingmen's Lord's Day Rest Association writes very earnestly, taking the ground that "Sunday opening means Sunday labor," and utterly refuting the claim that Sunday gives the working man his only chance of recreation. A prominent Church of England paper, The Rock, commenting upon the discussion, deprecates most strongly the "insertion of this thin edge of the wedge," and says: "The whole outcry against the dullness of an English Sunday is an unhappy sign of the times. It means that religion itself is regarded as irksome; that any period of quiet is considered loss of time, and that the many are to tyrannize over the few."

The larger part of the work of the Baptist State Convention yesterday was of a miscellaneous character, not of interest to the general public. The chief event of the day was a fine address on Sunday schools by Rev. Dr. Frost, of Nashville, Tenn., who is in charge of the Sunday School Board of Southern Baptist Missions. It had the effect of awakening a determination to prosecute Sunday school work in this State more vigorously during the coming year. Attending ministers fill the different Goldsboro pulpits today and it will be the last day of the convention.

Its Excellent Qualities Commanded public approval the California Liquid Fruit Remedy Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye, and to the taste and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

PARENTS SHOULD BEAR IN MIND that the season for attacks of Group is now on us. Be guarded for this insidious disease by always having a bottle of B. N. Duffy's Cough Syrup in the house. Prepared after the recipe of the late Dr. Walter Duffy, and for sale by the proprietor at his store on Middle street, next to O'Connell House, and by New Berne Drug Company.

Close of Fifty Years Active Ministry.
Rev. T. P. Ricard who has so acceptably filled the position of pastor of Hancock Street M. E. Church, preaches his closing pastoral sermon there tonight. Under his two years ministry this church has nearly doubled its membership—but for deaths and removals it would have been more than doubled. For full fifty years he has labored zealously in gospel work and he feels that owing to the infirmities of advancing years he is no longer able to bear up under the active duties of pastoral work and consequently he will now retire for needed rest. His sermon tonight will not only be his last as pastor of this church but his last as a stationing minister, which causes a special interest to attach to the occasion. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend. The subject of the morning sermon will be, "Progression," and the subject of the evening sermon, "The One Thing Needful."

Worth Considering.
Steam transportation is soon to be established between Beaufort and some northern points. We wish the new line North and if properly conducted we believe it will pay through the development of a coast-wise trade.

We notice that it is intended to tap various points in Hyde county which will be calculated to turn in the opposite direction from New Berne a trade that by all means should be brought here and would be had the proper effort been made. Some of our enterprising citizens have in the past attempted to build up such a route, but they were not properly sustained at either point to make it a success.

If a company were formed among some of the leading men of this city and Hyde and a first-class pier put down at the most feasible point at the latter place, we can see no good reason why the line should not in a very short while work up a profitable traffic, besides being of incalculable value to each end of the line. As it is now all our communication with that rich county, both passenger and freight, is of the poorest order, not one whit better than it was fifty years ago.

We cannot allow these advantages that lie all around us remain dormant. Seventy-five thousand dollars have been appropriated for the deepening of Ocracoke Inlet but what will it avail us if we quietly allow other towns and cities and corporations to monopolize our commerce and take off our trade.

BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION.

Encouraging Missionary Report—Distinguished Visitors—Religious Periodicals—Wake Forest College—Resolution on State Appropriations.

Harmony in the Convention and Hospitality of Goldsboro.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Last night foreign mission was discussed by Rev. T. P. Bell, Assistant Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board at Richmond. A very interesting speech was made by Rev. A. A. Newhall, returned missionary of the Tetelques. He reports a marvelous growth—very discouraging at first, but now the reaping time of a rich harvest. Over two thousand added to the church in one day. Remarks were made on the report by R. Van Davenport, T. H. Pritchard and others. A collection was taken and the convention adjourned.

This morning Dr. Tichenor, Secretary of the Home Mission Board, Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. Dickerson, editor of the Religious Herald, Richmond, Va., received a hearty welcome into the Convention.

After some incidental business, the work of the Orphanage was discussed. The sum of three hundred dollars was secured by cash and pledges to pay for a new printing press for "Charity and Children," the orphanage paper. There are over 100 children at the orphanage and these are supported by the liberality of the churches and Sunday schools. Several thousand dollars are raised annually for this purpose.

A report on Religious Periodicals was read and discussed.

A report on W. F. College was read, and President C. E. Taylor made a fine speech. Present endowment, $210,000. Present number of students 237.

Various announcements were made for preaching on Sunday by the ministers of the Convention to the churches in Goldsboro and those near by the town.

Dr. R. D. Fleming of Warrenton introduced resolutions protesting against the appropriations made by the State to any charitable institution, not under State control; also urging Christian people to contribute their money for charitable objects through their churches and not through secret societies. A motion was made that the two resolutions be voted upon separately, another motion was made that they be referred to committee, another that they be tabled. All these were lost, and the brother discussed the resolutions till the hour of adjournment arrived.

Night session. The special order is home mission. The report is read and discussed by Dr. Tichenor and others.

The business of the Convention is practically over. Two things have impressed me: The harmony of the Convention and the hospitality of the Goldsboro people.

The pastor of the Baptist church informed me that there were forty homes which had not been supplied with guests, notwithstanding there were over four hundred people to be housed. In a few days three of these eastern N. C. towns will have been called upon this fall to entertain a religious body: The Disciples at New Berne, the Baptist at Goldsboro, and the Methodist at Greenville. If either of these places can show a better record of lavish hospitality than Goldsboro then that one is entitled to a medal. The good people of Goldsboro have made a record on this line of which any town might be proud.

THE JOURNAL SUPPLEMENT.

A Revelation of what Public Spirit and Enterprise Has Done and is Doing For Winston-Salem.

With this issue we send out a supplement giving full particulars of Winston and the Winston-Salem Land and Investment Company, the prosperity of which, it gives us much pleasure to note.

On one side of the supplement will be found much information relating to the prosperous and rapidly growing Twin city (Winston-Salem) and vicinity—its resources, past developments, present condition and future possibilities and outlook. The articles on its water, climate, agriculture, mining properties, factories, markets, railroads, and other private and public improvements will be found quite instructive.

The other page of the supplement is mainly given up to an account of the Winston-Salem Land and Investment Company, of which our former townsman and ex-Congressman, Hon. F. M. Simmons is President, a description of their property and the great utility they have made in thorough, systematic and substantial improvements (the completeness and excellence of which has seldom, if ever, been equalled by any similar company, North or South) and the consequent appreciation in which the lots they offer for sale are held by those best acquainted with their true value.

This company, as our readers know, justly value the power of printer's ink. With true business instinct they realize that no matter how valuable property placed on the market may be, nor how good an opportunity is offered for reasonable investment it will avail but little unless those facts are placed squarely and prominently before the public. The natural advantages of the location, coupled by the company with a spirit of wise investment and development brought to notice by judicious advertising is what has caused Winston to grow from a quiet village of 400 inhabitants twelve years ago to its present large proportions and business activity.

THE EXPOSITION.

Schools Visit It—Kinsey Seminary. Another large crowd went up to the Exposition Thursday. Among the number were three schools each of which visited it in a body. They were Kinsey's Female Seminary, of La Grange; James High School, of Grifton, and the Wilson Female Collegiate Institute. The day was lovely, and all appeared in the height of enjoyment.

Every boarding pupil of Kinsey Seminary and numbers of the local pupils attended, all arrayed in the modest and attractive blue-gray school uniform. The school as it moved along in charge of the Principal and the six teachers (also nicely uniformed) presented a charming appearance.

We are pleased to learn that the patronage of the school is still increasing. The number now in attendance is larger than at any former period of its history and the majority of them are boarding pupils coming from quite a number of counties of Eastern North Carolina.

The school eminently deserves the success it has achieved. No pains are spared by the principal, Mr. Jos. Kinsey to make it first-class. Five States are represented in its faculty and the teachers are selected with the one single object of securing the most suitable that can be found for the department over which each is to preside.

The business department of the school is a very important feature. The teacher in charge, Miss Mollie Nowell is an intellectual, highly accomplished and expert young lady of Southwestern Virginia. The department embraces book-keeping, stenography, commercial correspondence, etc., and its graduates go forth prepared to contend successfully in the struggles of life and to command at once comfortable yet lucrative positions even beyond the bounds of our own State.

The instruction imparted at this Seminary is as good as any, the pupils are under religious influences and the watchful and kindly care extended over them by the Principal, his family and the teachers is equal to that which they would receive in their own homes. North Carolina have just cause for pride in the Seminary and it is a matter of congratulation for the eastern portion of the State that such an admirable institution of learning is located in its midst.
