So doe Winterbotham when referring to only State and towns write Newbern; and so does Lossing and Williams; our for the Presbyterian Orphanage at greatest men in Newbern never varied from this way of writing it. In other States the name is similarly written Newbern, with perhaps one or two exceptions. The writer admits he was misled when he had the name New Berne, cut who use it. on the slab over the gateway of Cedar Grove cometery. He has regretted it from the day it was fixed in its place The city government then authorized him, a very young man, its Chief Ex-ecutive officer to attend to it and hence the result of his attention. It was certainly his duty to follow the act incorporating the town and should have given its incorporate name, Newbern. The New Berne should be chiseled out and the 'r chiseled in in the word "transferred" on the slab which the stone cutter omitted. As the fashion goes why not have it New Bernie. We imagine the French would so pronounce New Berne. Unless ne our people will assuredly call it Nubun. To pronouce the name New Berne among themselves, either sex, would create a smile.
