Gov. HILL is a trump. He found an election clerk monkeying with the returns, and he at once served notice on him that charges of misconduct in office had been made against him and that he would be heard in his own defense uat the Executive Chamber in Albahy next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MR. E. A. ROBINSON, 7 Sidney Terrace, Grimsby, England has published a veritable curiosity in the shape of a tiny book. It bears the tittle of "Mite," and it is all its name implies. The book contains thirty-two pages, the size being five-eights by three-fourths of an fuch, and is bound in cloth, full gilt eages. It is a red line edition, profusely illustrated, and weighs exactly ten grains.

Tax Emperor Napoleon III. oct31tf) placed a high estimate on the military ability of Gen. Beauregard, the Confederate commander. In one of his letters to Col. Beauregard, for I should have been pleased to avail myself of his

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT PROMISES, PLEDGES, CONTRACTS

Truth is the anchor of the soul It is an essential element in over; manly and womanly character. It is the bond of society and the pillar of the State.

Usage, statutes and constitutions, have created certain safe guards of Truth, which are termed promiser, pledges, contracts and oaths. They are the same in nature and differ only in degree.

Of these, contracts and oaths are regarded as the most binding, but every right-minded and well-meaning person regards a promise or a pledge as sacred.

No promise, pledge, contract or oath is binding which abrogates a pre existing contract or obligation of equal or superior dignity. Upon every citizen there rests an obligation to use the elective franchise and every right of citizenship, for the public good, and no power can absolve him from that duty. It is inherent in citizenship.

We have heard of men saying; "I am a member of the Alliance and I have contracted to do certain things." "I have taken an oath, and if I violate it I sha'l commit perjury."

What is a contract? It is an agreement, between two or more persons, with mutual obligations

This exact formula may not be always employed, but it is always try and of God are superior to those of any order or society. If any order or society prescribes a course of political action the contract is broken, and every man is absolved from his allegiance to that order or will some day inaugurate a freer society. But, if the contract was not broken it would be void because of the paramount claims of

"But, I have taken an oath, and I cannot commit perjury." Dear Brother, you are in no danger. It is not every man who reads a prescribed form of obligation to an applicant for membership, who is competent to administer an oath. The novel describes their remarkable adventures at the court of an Indina maharajah. Besides this, The Century will print three other novels during the year, and a great unmber of short stories by the best American story-writers.

The well-known humorist Edgar series of amusing skerches which he calls his "autobiographies," the first one of which, "The Autobiography of a Justice of the Peace," is in November. This number also contains a valuable and suggestive article on "The Food-Supply of the Future," which every farmer should read, to be followed by a number of others of Great Practical Value to Farmers, treating especially of the relations of the Government to the farmer, what it is doing and what it should do. This series will include contributions from officers of the Department of Agriculture and other well-known men will dis-cuss "The Farmer's Discontent,"
