THE Democratic programme of economy in the matter of appropriations is met at the outset by the announcement that the Billion Dollar Congress has made economy almost impossible. There is no doubt that the surplus-spenders did their work thoroughly, but the duty of their successors to push the work of retrenchment and reform is none the less clear and urgent.—N. Y. World.

THE Kansas City Times, Democrat, says Cleveland will have a solid delegation from Missouri and Kansas. It says, "Shall it be Cleveland or a Western man? New York can decide. It cannot pick the candidate. Cleveland suits the party in all the other States. He suits the business classes, the laboring classes, the professional classes. He suits the people."

IT is said that the identical sword that Columbus wore when he first placed his feet on American soil is now in this country. It is the property of the Museum of Salzburg, Germany, and was borrowed for exhibition at the Chicago World's Fair by Mr. Stickler, one of the commissioners who were sent to Germany in the interest of the fair.

THE potato was introduced into Europe from the western hemisphere. History has it that Christopher Columbus was the first European who ever tasted a potato, but the vegetable that he ate at Cuba in 1492 and brought to Genoa was the sweet potato. The first potato grown east of the Atlantic Ocean was planted by Claudius in the botanical gardens of Virginia in 1682. Dr. Walter Raleigh found the potato in Virginia and took specimens back to England.

THE news of the defeat of the rebels in China has been promptly followed by the news that the defeat was really a victory, and that things are looking very blue for the Government. The news from China is very much of the same character as a great deal of the news we used to get from our own war, "interesting if true."

"THE President cannot make up his mind to withdraw the scandalous nomination of Woods for the Circuit Judgeship and a Republican Senate will hardly refuse to confirm him, but both President and Senate doubtless wish that Woods could have been provided for quietly without attracting so much unfavorable notice."

THE Augusta, Ga., Chronicle says: "Free silver coinage is dead. Both parties are coquetting for the votes of Nevada and Colorado and for the free silver States of the Northwest, but neither the Democrats nor Republicans want to tackle the question on the eve of a Presidential election. It is and it is not 'a good enough Morgan' for campaign purposes. Both parties are afraid of it."

EXPERIMENTS are being made in London with petroleum in a solid state for fuel purposes, the crude oil being mixed with a chemical compound equal to about 15 per cent. of its weight, and then being subjected to a moist heat of 212 degrees, after which it is dried at a high temperature and compressed into the form of bricks by a powerful press. The fuel in this form, when burned in an ordinary grate, presented a bright flame of intense heat, without giving off any liquid, and leaving but little ash. The tests made are said to have been very successful, the blocks being equal to coal in heating power, without being liable to spontaneous combustion, and giving no clinkers when burned.

LOCAL NEWS.

We are glad to note that the next session of the Teachers' Assembly will be held at Morehead. The third Tuesday in June is the opening day.

Mr. A. Cohn made sale yesterday of one of his fine Mehlman pianos to our townsmen, Mr. N. Schultz. It is a handsome six hundred dollar instrument.

The Kingston Free Press learns that George Davis alias John Howe whose brother from England is looking for him, and who has been left a legacy left Goldboro ten years ago for Mississippi and that his wife is now living in Goldboro.

The spring like weather we have been in causing vegetation to put forth. Collards are beginning to go to seed, the blooms being in sight on some of them, and a caterpillar was seen crawling around yesterday in the city as lively as if it were mid summer. How is that for New Year's day?

Two thousand of the Fair Premium lists have already been sent off, leaving about five hundred now in the hands of Mr. O. Boissstein, Secretary and Treasurer. Half of which are for mailing and the remaining two hundred and fifty to be retained for local use.

The Cook Combination Company gave another excellent entertainment last night, and will likely do so again at night in the future. Prof. Cook and his band have been so accommodating to all who occasion required that they deserve the patronage of our people whenever it is possible to give it.

The New Year race yesterday was quite an interesting ride. There were a large number of spectators out on foot and in buggies and carriages. The route was a splendid one, about a mile and a half over heavy ground, a few ditches and a number of short turns. It was just difficult enough to exercise good horsemanship and not enough so to engender danger. In the first tilt Mr. James Whedbee, riding Jennifer an imported Kentuckian was the victor. He was closely followed by Mr. Milan Howard on Pete, Messrs Hackburn & Willett's sorrel racer. The second tilt was won by Mr. Howard riding the same horse.

Over a dozen witnesses were examined at the coroner's inquest over the body of the poisoned colored woman, Rachel Simmons. The evidence pointed to her husband as the poisoner, and the verdict of the jury, of which F. P. Outlaw was foreman, was that: "We, the undersigned, duly sworn as jurors by the coroner of Onslow county to investigate the cause of death of Rachel Best, who died near Dover Station, Tuesday, Dec. 29, 1891, do say that in our opinion death was caused by poison, and that it is probably acute arsenical poison, and further say that from the evidence we are of the opinion that George Best, husband of the deceased, is responsible criminally for the death of said Rachel Best."

STRANGE COINCIDENCES.

A Marriage, a Baptism, and a Funeral All at the Same House.

The first official work performed by Rev. Jno. F. Butt, pastor of Hancock Street M. E. Church, upon arriving in this city on the 16th of December was to marry Mr. Wilkins Smith to Miss Ida, daughter of Mr. S. L. Curtis, at 8 p. m., just two hours after his arrival. Yesterday Mr. Butt was called upon to preach the funeral of Mr. Curtis' eleven months old son, Jas. R. Curtis and also to perform the sacrament of baptism for three other of his children, which in each instance was the first service of the kind he has performed since he entered upon his present pastorate. The first marriage, first baptism and first funeral all in the same house and for members of the same family.

Death of Mrs. Jas. A. Bryan. Mrs. James A. Bryan, who has long been a sufferer from neuralgia, died in Brooklyn from that trouble yesterday morning. The remains are expected here by a special train tomorrow.

Mrs. Bryan was a gentle, kind hearted Christian lady, bright and agreeable in manner and well liked by all.

She came of a distinguished family. Her grandfather was the highly honored Judge Wm. Donnell, and her father, Hon. Chas. Shepard, was a Member of Congress and a very brilliant speaker. Her uncle, Hon. Richard Speight Donnell, was also prominent as a lawyer and statesman. He was a Member of Congress and was Speaker of the House near the time of his death.

Mrs. Bryan's death will be regretted by all, and the bereaved family will receive the sympathies of the community in their affliction.

Coming and Going.

Mr. J. W. Ruple of Shendon, Va., who has been spending Christmas with his sister, Mrs. C. G. Vardell, left for his home yesterday morning.

Mr. E. Carter returned to Raleigh from a visit to relatives in the city.

Mrs. J. B. Temple, of Kinston returned to her home from a visit to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rufus Ford.

Mr. G. D. Gardner and bride, who have been spending a short time in the city, left for their home at Aberdeen.

Hon. O. C. Clark and wife have returned from a visit to relatives in Wilmington.

Miss Janis Brown, who has been teaching school at Trenton has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Roberts returned last night from a visit to relatives in Baltimore.

Miss Mary Hay returned from a visit to her brother Robert at Kinston.

The steamer New Berne took out the following passengers: Mr. Geo. Hancock returning to Norfolk, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam' l. W. Ironmonger, Mrs. J. M. Ironmonger and Miss Emma Ironmonger returning to Norfolk from a visit to the families of Mr. W. H. Bray and Mr. W. F. Crockett.

The steamer Neuse of the E. C. D. line took out the following passengers yesterday: Rev. J. B. Sawyer, of Roanoke Island station, and his bride, nee Miss Mattie Stephens, of Wilmington, on their bridal trip to their home, Mr. Sawyer's sister accompanying them; Miss Minnie Willis returning to her school at Manteo from spending Christmas with her parents in the city; Mrs. L. C. Yeomans and child and Miss Carrie Yeomans leaving for Norfolk to visit Mrs. Yeomans' sister, Mrs. W. M. Moore; Mr. J. H. Hackburn on a pleasure trip to Baltimore; Mr. Melzer Orr, returning to his home in Norfolk from a visit to his wife's relatives; and Mr. R. L. Weeks returning to Norfolk from spending Christmas with his parents at Harlowe.

Diversified Crops.

In an able article on reducing the acreage of cotton in the South, the Wilmington Star tells in the following extract what our Southern country would be if the planters would raise diversified crops: "How different Southern plantations would look and how different the South would be if the plantations were divided up into cotton fields, grain fields, clover and grass fields, corn fields, with a good big garden and a nice orchard near by, instead of being all cotton, as so many of them are; cotton field after cotton field, nothing to break the sameness unless the green woods that may be between."

If every plantation of a hundred acres, say, had ten acres for grass, ten for wheat, ten for corn, ten for oats, ten for orchard and small fruits, with garden, potato patches, etc., and larger and smaller farms divided up in the same proportion, and each supplied with good stock, the Southern farmers would soon be the most prosperous in the world, and the South the richest agricultural section on the globe. When the all cotton delusion vanishes all this may come, but a good start will never be made in that direction until it does vanish."

FANCY DRESS BALL.

DELIGHTFUL DANCING.—THE FANCY COSTUMES.—THREE HUNDRED INVITATIONS.—THE CHAPERONS.

A Large Gathering of Prominent Society People Make Old Lowthrop Hall A Scene of Soul-Stirring, Unrivalled Gayety.

Few cities in good old North Carolina equal in enjoyability the social entertainments of our city. She does not pray judgment in the court of criticism upon the elegant and courteous gatherings her people enjoy. The very souls of her men and women are warmed by sympathy and a love of unaffected society.

THE ONE ENTERTAINMENT which on account of its elegant appointments stands prominently forth in the chronicles of New Berne society is the Fancy Dress Ball in Lowthrop Hall on New Year's Eve, 1891-92.

It was shortly after nine o'clock when a brilliant audience of faces fair and intelligent gathered to enjoy the mazy waltz and ring out the low spirits of the heart with laughter and social greetings. Oh! how human nature is lifted to higher impulses as the beautiful life appeals to man when such an array of glad faces assemble for merry entertainment.

Anticipation had something to do with the fever of enlivened feelings, because for several weeks the dancing young men of the city had been at work carefully preparing an elaborate program of festivities for the guests.

PROGRAM.

Waltz, Moonlight on the Neuse. Quadrille, Winona. Schottische, Clermont. Lanciers, Ruth Cleveland. Waltz, Clarendon. Polka, Maryland. My Maryland. Quadrille, Pembroke. Waltz, City of Elms. Lanciers, Old North State. Reel, Sir Roger de Coverly. Waltz, Good-by Old Year. Lunch, German Cotillion. Home, Sweet Home. Such a program shows the foresight and reflects credit upon the taste of the managers; Messrs. Ralph Gray, F. E. Morton, B. S. Guion, Shepard Bryan, C. D. Bradham and the Chief Mayor Manly.

THE BALL ROOM had been decorated for the occasion under the personal direction of Mr. Pierre LaMontagne. Over the entrance doors hung the flag for which men tried their souls.—The windows and corners of the spacious hall were filled with evergreens and trailing vines. The drapery of the walls was especially attractive as a flood of light lent an animated appearance to the scene. Taste wielded her sceptre in the ball-room decorations!

THE COSTUMES The number of elegant toilettes displayed was unusually large and many deserve particular notice for judgment and striking attractiveness. Lack of space forbids our noticing the exquisiteness of the gowns and jewels worn.

THE DANCERS who were in fancy dress costumes and enjoyed the light fantastic under the inspiration of a special atmosphere of sociability and Terpsichorean strains were:

Misses E. K. Jones and Kathleen Bryan, as Spanish Girls.

Misses Crisp and Morgan, Queens of Night.

Miss Lidie Patterson, Grecian Maid.

Miss Maude Moore, Cigar Girl.

Miss Faith Brock, Bo-Peep.

Miss Mary Gooding, Greek Girl.

Miss Annie Crisp, Peasant Girl.

Miss Hammond, Roman Maiden.

Miss Nellie Walker, Queen of Hearts.

Miss Maggie Bryan, Daughter of the Regiment.

Miss Nannie Street, Tambourine Girl.

Mrs. LaMontagne, Spanish Lady.

Miss Sophie Jones, Butter-Fly.

Miss Nan Roberts, Lady Tessel.

Mrs. Ralph Gray, White Lilacs.

Miss Minnie Bryan, Lady of XIX century.

In evening dress: Miss Laura Hughes, Mrs. Strudwick, Norfolk, Miss Lillian Roberts, Mrs. Winslow, Miss Disoway, Miss Minzesheimer, Miss Meadows.

The gentlemen in costume were: Messrs. Ralph Gray, as Don Pedro; J. E. Latham, Confederate Captain; Milan Howard, Sailor Boy; S. C. Bishop, Jockey; M. M. Marks, Mexican; P. LaMontagne, Uniform of the Rockaway Hunt Club; Jones Wahab, Reversible Gentleman; C. B. Foy, C. F. Harvey, Shepard Bryan, Leo Burrus as 18th Century Gentleman; C. D. Bradham, Marquis; Clarence Disoway, Sir Peter; W. G. Boyd, Beau Brummel; Thomas Waters, a Knight; John Seymour, French.

In evening dress, the conventional black suit: Messrs. J. J. Disoway, H. R. Bryan, Jr., C. R. Hancock, E. M. Green, E. L. Archabell.

PROMINENT GUESTS.

Judge and Mrs. H. R. Bryan, Judge A. S. Beymoot, Dr. and Mrs. Primrose, W. H. Oliver, Esq., Mayor Manly, Lieut. and Mrs. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. Hallock of N. Y. city, Mrs. Strudwick of Norfolk, Miss Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Street, Mrs. Basil Manly, Mrs. Prettyman of Va., Mrs. Mohler of St. Paul, Mrs. Clement Manly, Miss Lillian Roberts, F. G. Mitchell, H. A. Banks of the State University, Mr. Jack of the Wilsons, Benj. Guion, Miss Marian Radcliff, Miss Heath, Mrs. Moulton, Mrs. Ella Street.

As the Old Year drew her sable curtains aside that the New Year might witness the gaze of Time in his endless course, the guests were invited to a lunch provided by Sam' l. R. Radcliff Esq., so well known to the epicurean CHAPERONS.

Judge and Mrs. H. R. Bryan, Lieut. and Mrs. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Steele.

THE MUSIC was excellent and proved an additional charm to the evening, which will long linger in the memories of those who witnessed the dancing and soul-stirring gayety.

Balls at New Berne Seventy Years Ago. In this season of Fancy Dress Balls it may be interesting to the grand children to learn what their grand parents were doing in that way. Seventy years ago. Their proficiency in dancing and the decorum of their department, gave gratifying evidence of the fidelity with which the masters devoted their skill and time to the improvement of the pupils—male and female. Undoubtedly the manner of both boys and girls, should be attended to as their minds. The town of Newbern in the days ago referred to, had justly the reputation of being one of the most polished in this country. What progress accomplished for it in that respect?

It would be interesting to know all of those who participated in the DeGrand Val ball. But as our fathers were as much averse to an exhibition of the names of the different members of their families in print as their sons are fond of it, our curiosity will probably never be gratified unless our venerable and esteemed citizen, Mr. A. T. Jenkins, who was there or thereabouts should recall the past and tell us of events in the vigor of his youth.

The ball was at "Mr. Devereux's Long Room." Now sleeping rooms in the Gaston House immediately above the dining room.

Statement of the Case of Rev. J. T. Abernathy.

The committee, consisting of the following, ministers of the North Carolina Conference, Rev. R. A. Willis, Rev. R. R. Hall, Rev. F. M. Shamberger, Rev. W. W. Ross and G. Smith, called to investigate the reports affecting the moral character of Rev. J. T. Abernathy met in Snow Hill Dec. 23rd, and after a thorough investigation, found a trial to be necessary. This does not necessarily mean that this committee believes he is guilty, but only that the investigation disclosed a case to be tried by the Annual Conference. The committee feel that this statement is due Rev. J. T. Abernathy at this time, and they have requested me to make it, and to ask the public to withhold its judgement until the case is tried by the annual conference, and its verdict rendered. However, such finding as the above by our investigating committee necessitates, under the law of the church, the suspension of the accused from all ministerial functions until the ensuing Annual Conference, and such will be the case with Rev. J. T. Abernathy until the next session of the North Carolina Conference. Respectfully, W. S. ROBE, Presiding Elder Newbern District, North Carolina Conference.
