

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT

THE DAILY JOURNAL is published daily, except Mondays, at 10 cents per copy. For the six months, it is sold to city subscribers at 50 cents per month.

THE JOURNAL.

E. E. HARPER, - Proprietor.
G. T. HANCOCK, - Local Reporter.

It was kind of the British lion to offer its much twisted tail as a bit of olive branch.

The French archbishops publish a letter stating that their country has become atheistic.

The Clearfield, Pa., miners demand higher wages. The demand is refused and the mines will be closed.

A CALL has been issued by its chairman for a meeting of the Republican State Executive committee.

A DESPERATE fight occurs near Cumberland Gap, Tenn., between officers and outlaws. One on each side is killed.

THE cotton factory at Chester, S. C., together with $30,000 worth of gingerham, was burned Tuesday; loss, $220,000.

A DELAGATION of colored men wait on the President and urge the appointment of W. D. Cram, colored, as postmaster at Charleston, S. C.

A DISPATCH from Chili to the London Times says that the disparity between the two nations was the cause of Chili's conciliatory terms to the United States.

SECRETARY POSTER telegraphs to Capt. Evans of the Yorktown, now at Callao, to give his men shore leave, which means that the vessel will be there several days.

THE country will echo the applause which greeted Speaker Crisp's appearance in the House and will welcome his resumption of the duties of his position as an assurance of his restored health, which is all the more gratifying on public grounds on account of the grave questions which now confront both branches of Congress.

MR. ROGER Q. MILLS is just the man who is going to surprise all these politically wise men who persist in mapping out a course at variance with the policy of the Democracy. Mr. Mills will be found, when he is needed, shoulder to shoulder with the other strong men of the party, and with the "pull all together" which they will make, great results will be accomplished. - Savannah News, Dem.

A LEADING MEDICAL JOURNAL of London pronounces the "grippe" an infectious disease, and urges the line of treatment which experience has approved in such cases. Great stress is laid upon the need of warm woolen clothing, wholesome and easily assimilated food, avoidance of exposure, abstinence from alcoholic drinks, and a general care for the tone of the system. This is a wise regimen on general principles, whether it have specific value against "grippe" or not; and equally sound is the advice of the question that the patient should "never attempt to fight the disease but give up and go to nursing immediately."

It is reported from Munich that the new explosive which has been adopted for the German artillery, makes a shell of most murderous effectiveness. The best shells used during the Franco Prussian war only covered an area, when exploded, of some forty paces, and in bursting seldom injured more than seven or eight persons. Experiments with the new shell go to show that it will destroy everything within an area of 900 feet. Some of the fragments will be large enough to kill a man, others almost invisible and calculated to merely excoriate the skin. In an experiment an enormous target was riddled with thousands of holes by the bursting of a single shell. Four shells were sufficient to sink an obsolete iron-plate used as a target at Kiel. It is said that one battery, if the range were accurate, could annihilate a whole division.

PEACE ASSURED.

Although the reply of Chili to the United States does not meet in express terms the demands of this Government, its animus indicates a willingness to go to the ultima thule of the requirement.

It cannot be doubted that the United States will meet Chili with the magnanimity characteristic of true greatness and adjust the difficulty in a way honorable to both nations. Indeed she should show that her beneficence in peace is more conspicuous than has been her preparation for war.

It is now evident that President Harrison sent in his late message to Congress too soon, but Chili had long delayed and there was no reason to expect an immediate change in her attitude. The people will not hold him to a strict account for coming to a conclusion to which he was impelled by the lessons of experience and the dictates of patriotism.

The war clouds dissipated, let us consider some of the lessons of late events.

No sooner was it known that war was emanating than the national spirit was exhibited throughout the Union. The determination to defend the flag and vindicate the national honor, found expression in every State from Maine to Texas and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. While this does not prove the complete elimination of sectionalism, it shows that we are again a united people, proud of our common country and resolved to defend its honor and perpetuate its fame.

The rapidity of preparation and the alacrity with which the men of every section of the Union volunteered showed the United States to be a military power of the first magnitude. Her standing army is relatively small, but volunteer organizations exist in every community that are ready at any moment to respond to the call of the country.

Much has been said of Minister Egan. He has been the subject of severe animadversion, but the President applauds him to the echo. "There cannot be so much smoke without some fire." It will be hard to convince the public that the appointment of Mr. Egan was a wise one; His fidelity to his Government is most commendable, but he is wanting in the suavity in modo so essential to the popularity of public men. It seems that Mr. Egan offended the Chillyans more by his personal bearing than by official acts.

We trust that a brighter future is before our sister republic of the South. May prosperous winds fill the sails of her commerce, and peace, plenty and prosperity be within her borders.

CARRIE HOFFMAN, aged eighteen years, of Phillipsburg, Pa., retired on Tuesday evening in her usual health. Since that time she has not awakened. She has been sleeping seventy-two hours and all efforts of physicians to arouse her have been in vain. The case is a peculiar one, and the outcome of Miss Hoffman's long sleep is awaited with anxiety.

ATLANTIC ELECTROPOISE - Genuine - For the past five years my wife has been a sufferer from dyspepsia. So completely did the disease make a wreck of her former self that she was almost despaired of. Her nervous system was almost entirely destroyed and the slightest noise would throw her into a nervous spasm, which would last for hours. Medical skill failed to bring any relief.

Through the recommendation of an eminent divine we were induced to try the Electropoise. After a persistent use of the instrument, the effect has been wonderful. Her nervous system has been restored to its almost normal condition; her digestion is wonderfully improved; she is rapidly gaining in flesh; and, upon the whole, is making a rapid recovery, which speaks volumes for the wonderful curative powers of the Electropoise, as her case was considered hopeless. If any are skeptical on the subject, let them try the Electropoise, and its wonderful powers will quickly dispel all doubt.

GREAT MAGAZINE.

The Century's Programme in 1892 - A New "Life of Columbus" - Articles for Farmers, etc.

THAT great American periodical, The Century, is going to outdo its own unrivaled record in its programme for 1892, and as many of its new features begin with the November number, new readers should commence with that issue. In this number are the opening chapters of "The Naulahka," a novel by Rudyard Kipling, the famous author of "Plain Tales from the Hills," written in collaboration with an American writer, Wolcott Balestier. It is the story of a young man and a young woman from a "booming" Colorado town, who go to India, he in search of a wonderful jeweled necklace, called "the Naulahka" (from which the story takes its name), and she as a physician to women. The novel describes their remarkable adventures at the court of an Indina maharajah. Besides this, The Century will print three other novels during the year, and a great number of short stories by the best American story-writers.

The well-known humorist Edgar W. Nye ("Bill Nye") is to write a series of amusing sketches which he calls his "autobiographies," the first one of which, "The Autobiography of a Justice of the Peace," is in November. This number also contains a valuable and suggestive article on "The Food Supply of the Future," which every farmer should read, to be followed by a number of others of great practical value to farmers, treating especially of the relations of the Government to the farmer, what it is doing and what it should do. This series will include contributions from officers of the Department of Agriculture, and other well-known men will discuss "The Farmer's Discontent," "Cooperation," etc., etc.

A celebrated Spanish writer is to furnish a "Life of Columbus," which will be brilliantly illustrated, and the publishers of The Century have arranged with the managers of the World's Fair to print articles on the buildings, etc.

One of the novels to appear in 1892 is
by the author of "The Anglomaniacs," and the magazine will contain a great deal about the metropolis during the year, among other things a series of illustrated articles on "The Jews in New York." In November is an illustrated description of "The Players, Club," founded by Edwin Booth, and one of the features of the splendidly illustrated Christmas (December) number is an article on "The Bowery."

The Pittsburgh Lamp

is one of those inventions that seems to be finished. It seems to reach the end as to goodness of light in every way, and ease of management.

The only care it requires is
