Beware of unbelief, and do not suspect the Lord's kindness; but seek him, and hope in him, and expect all good things from him, assuring thyself that neither thy hope nor thy prayer, nor a single sigh, will be lost. THE Democrats of the West, it appears, are to make a serious attempt to repeal the provisions of the McKinley law providing for the payment of bounties on sugar. They regard the bounty as oppressive and it takes $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 annually from the Treasury to enrich a few planters in the South.

I WAS in Italy, and in crossing the Alps with my wife, the sun was so hot that it scorched her face. She asked me to get her some elder-flower water. I started off to a chemist; and as I did not know a word of the Italian language, I looked through the jars and bottles in his shop, but could not find anything of the kind. I tried to jabber something in French; but the chemist did not understand me, because it was no language at all. I went down to a little brook that ran through the town, and walking along the edge, I came to an elder-flower tree. I got a handful of flowers, walked off to the shop, and held it up to the man; and he knew in an instant what I meant. I think it is no easy to convey the gospel to the heart by merely talking of it; but if you can say by your own life: "This is the life of Christ, this is the joy of being a Christian," you will be much more likely to make converts.—Rev. C. H. Spurgeon.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Get There. Mutual Life Ins. Co. W. P. Burrus & Co.—Hardware, etc. Howard—Disguise our bondage, etc.

Send up your exhibits. The Fair managers are ready.

There will be a match trotting race at the Fair grounds tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. Mile heat, best 3 in 5. Admission, adults 25c, children 10c.

The Free Press says there is one class of subscribers it has no use for. It is that class who take their home paper just to encourage horse enterprise but never pay for it. Ditto neighbor.

The Presbyterians Sunday school will be held this afternoon at three o'clock, a half hour earlier than usual, so that its members can attend the union Sunday school meeting at Centenary Methodist Church.

Another attraction, a phonograph, one of Edison's latest and best, has been secured for the Fair from Hartford, Conn. It repeats instrumental music, singing and talking, and about ten people can hear it at one time.

The annual report of Superintendent Black, of the Oxford Orphan Asylum shows that there are 213 inmates in the Asylum; that 84 were admitted during the past year, 48 placed in homes, 33 returned to their homes, 3 dismissed, 2 ran away and 6 died.

Mrs. J. L. Winstead dropped dead yesterday afternoon of heart disease at her home on Broad street. She was 22 years of age. The family had recently moved here from Tolenoet, Wilson county. She leaves a husband and children, the youngest an infant.

We regret to learn that Mr. B. A. Fox, the Virginia Fancy Poultry breeder who intended to bring a very large exhibit of Plymouth Rocks and Leghorns to the Fair will not be able to come on account of having been unexpectedly called to attend a meeting at New York of the American Poultry Association, of which he is a member.

Information is desired as to the whereabouts of Mr. F. R. Jackson, who was fireman at Messrs. Moody & Co.'s mill. He left home Friday morning, February 5th, saying he was going down town to buy a bed, and was seen at the depot at train time, but nothing is known of him later. He came from near Charlotte and had been speaking of seeking employment there, and may for some reason have left unexpectedly, but his wife, with whom he parted as affectionately as he ever did, has thus far had no letter or other information from him. He had been slightly ill for a few days.

The directors of the Fish and Game Department of the Fair has a word to say in reference to it. We have also been approached by some of our readers who believe that a portion of the communication published Thursday morning (though such was, of course, far from the writers intention) was calculated to cause those not informed in the matter to underestimate the opportunity afforded visitors for satisfying any desire for fish and oysters on the grounds and therefore need a reference to it. The Fair restaurant which was built and run by the proprietor on terms more advantageous to the Fair Association than any one else would offer is pleasant, well-kept and a credit to the Fair and for the sake of visitors as points distant from the coast it makes a specialty of fish and oysters prepared in various styles to meet the taste of all and oysters are constantly being served raw and cooked in every way except roasted which method of preparation being too unwholesome is not attempted.

JOINING IN.

Other Papers Want the Roads Worked By Convicts.

There is a growing demand on the part of the people of the State for the keeping of convicts in the counties for the purpose of working the roads and doing other public work. As it is now the railroads and eastern farms get the most of them and the counties which have made no provision for retaining their convicts are suffering for good roads and at the same time are realizing nothing from these railroads, farms and swamp lands.—High Point Enterprise.

The roads of Mecklenburg county furnish a good example of the results of keeping convicts at home. Perhaps no county in the State has so good roads as the county of Mecklenburg. Every county ought to work its roads with its own convicts and in a few years every section of the State would enjoy good roads. This is the easiest way of solving the road problem.—Charlotte Chronicle.

We have long believed that this was the solution. Wilson county averages in the penitentiary perhaps an average of twenty-five convicts each year. If these were put to work on our roads in charge of an efficient superintendent, with a rock crushing machine, in twenty years we would have roads of which to be proud, and children yet unborn would rise up and call us blessed and wise. It ought to be done. And some day it will be.—Satebury Herald.

Working the public roads by men who live along them as is now done is a disagreeable task which all would like to shun. To have the work performed by men paid for it from the taxes collected would be preferable to the present system if nothing better could be devised, but when the State has hundreds of convicts condemned to hard labor where is the sense in having the roads worked by either system. Why not put the convicts on them? Is there any other employment they could be put to that would come into such little conflict with honest labor? Is there any way they could be employed that would give such relief to the people and result in such wide-spread benefits? We believe the above movement would be sanctioned almost unanimously by the people of the State. As such is the desire the way to obtain its adoption is to act on the matter and demand the proper legislation. The good roads that could thus be provided would be an immense factor in helping forward the development of the State and promoting prosperity.

Ready For Exhibits.

The time has come for the Fair gates to be closed to all except exhibitors and workers. Committees will be on hand tomorrow and thereafter to receive and arrange exhibits, and it is desired to get them as early as possible so that they may be placed to best advantage. Exhibitors will lighten the work of those in charge by sending up all articles as soon as they are ready.

Things are moving at the grounds. Capt. S. H. Gray has had a force of hands in Machinery Hall several days preparing for his exhibit. Messrs. Smallwood & Slover and E. H. and J. A. Meadows have also commenced arrangements for the displays they are to make. The Fair Association has finished the shed for the poultry coops, and carpenters are now making additional stands for the Floral Department, which is to have double the space allotted to it this year than it has had heretofore.

The Fraternal Circle.

The latest move in Baltimore by members of the Fraternal Circle is to get the court to receive the assessments paid. The Fraternal Circle was ordered to show cause yesterday why this should not be done. The members are unwilling to put any more money in the hands of the company in its present condition, but a double assessment of $5 for each member falls due tomorrow and must be paid that day, or according to the terms of their certificates, they will forfeit all claims on the order, and many of them have claims of $200 just maturing. To pay or not to pay? That is the question.

There are 140 members in New Berns but it is not likely that the Fraternal will get the $700 now called for from this place, but we believe it would be well for the members to be represented in Baltimore by some attorney to look after their interests. The motion to appoint a receiver will be heard there on the 21st and 25th insts.

Hotel Albert had the following arrivals yesterday: G. G. Brooks, Laird Behrends, W. E. Wilton, F. C. Mitchell, Baltimore; Chas. E. O'Donnell, Fisher Hyle, New York; H. B. Elton head, Springfield, Mass.; J. W. Day, Newark, N. J.; Geo. G. McCann, Staunton, Va.; F. S. Blair, Guilford College, N. C.; H. G. Hyde, Mass.; John B. Drew, South Bend, Ind.; W. D. McIver, city.

Mr. Thos. T. Gooding, a native of New Berns, died Friday, February 11th, at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. F. P. Gatlin, on Trent Creek, Pamlico county, aged 67 years. He was a son of the oldest Mr. Jacob Gooding and is the last of three brothers, the others being Nathan, who died in Mobile several years ago, and Jacob, who died in New Berns in 1860. The deceased had been an invalid for 80 years from neuralgia of the stomach. He leaves four daughters and two sons. The remains were taken to Kinston and interred Saturday by the side of his wife.

A Unique Fish Exhibition in North Carolina.

Mr. Charles Hallock ("Sam Slocum") contributes the following notice of the New Berns Fair to the American Angler for February. Mr. Hallock's various efforts to promote the success of our exhibit are fully appreciated by the citizens of this community. We quote:

"The fifth annual fair of the East Carolina Fish, Oyster and Game Association of Newbern will be one of the most unique exhibitions imaginable, and one that will be amply attractive to naturalists and sportsmen. It is to be held February 23 to 27, inclusive.

"Generous premiums are offered for the best exhibit of each and every species of game, and not a few of the fishes, to be found within the limits of the State; and the enumeration is said to be larger than in any other geographical division of the continent, aggregating no less than sixty-seven species of game alone.

"The four annual exhibits which have already been made on these lines have been very creditable and comprehensive. The prizes range from three dollars to fifteen dollars for individual specimens and from thirty to forty dollars for collective exhibits. The oyster display promises from all antecedents, to be very fine, and will be of great economic interest, as the State of North Carolina produces twenty different kinds of oysters, several of which are equal to the best known anywhere, but does not at present occupy more than two per cent of its area adapted to the growth and cultivation of this most estimable product.

"It ought not to be necessary for us to urge upon the readers of The American Angler the advantages and pleasure of visiting this show. There will also be a kennel, horse and poultry exhibit, and a comprehensive display of farm, household and mechanical products. This fair occurs at a season of the year when spring assumes its most charming aspect and the country can be seen to enviable advantage. All go."

An open invitation from the managers of the New Berns Fish and Oyster Fair is extended to the Fish Commissioners of all the States, severally and collectively, to be present during our exhibit which takes place on Feb. 23 to 27. We are positive that their attendance will prove of mutual advantage.

Visitors to the Fair who wish information about where they can produce board and lodging can obtain direction from Mr. C. Reizenstein, Treasurer, at the ground, immediately upon their arrival. Do not wait until night. Rev. Edw. Bull has just made a canvass for names and has a list of those who will take boarders and lodgers. If there still remains any one willing to take either whose name has not been given to him, a favor will be conferred by handing it to him or to some officer of the Fair, so that parties can be directed to you. In such times every one who can, ought to be willing to offer accommodation.

To the Members of the New Berns Fire Engine Company No. 1.]

You are hereby notified to meet at your Hall tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. By order of Foreman, A. B. CARROLL, Secy.

Notice. Rev. C. H. Phillips, col. D. D. A. M. E. Z. connection will preach at St. Peter's church on Queen street at 7:30 p. m. All friends are cordially invited to hear the divine.

The performance of the Minstrels on next Wednesday at the theatre will be to aid the Club complete the work begun on the property at the foot of Broad street, a place where much enjoyment may be had this summer.

Quality and Variety, Not Quantity.

Edron Journal.—Your correspondent J. D. W. in his recent article offers advice and suggestions as to the management of our Annual Fair and especially criticizes the fish and oyster department.

I beg, as manager of that department to give my views as to what the exhibit should be if I have not been able to show it by former exhibits. My aim has been to show as great a variety of fishes and oysters and as fine specimens of such varieties as it was possible to procure—rather than to show large quantities.

In other words, quality rather than quantity, and to arrange this exhibit so that it should be attractive and pleasing to the eye, if it was possible to make such an exhibit attractive.

My aim has been, and will continue to be so long as I have charge of this department to impress our visitors with the idea that they are at a Fair and not at a fish market.

A big fish fry and oyster roast is no doubt a good thing in its place, but had we not better wait until the next Fall Road Celebration, or Presidential contest and then if desired, we could substitute the feast, a Fair grounds in place of the old barbecue.

If our visitors wish to see quantities of oysters Mr. Cokely will no doubt be glad to show them his stock at the cannery factory, and if we preferred any of our dealers will show them in quantity at their respective houses.

Our fish market is always an exhibition. Yours truly, J. D. W.

See the Signs.

Let all who are going to New Berns, which commences on Feb. 23, and continues till the 27th, be reminded to be four balloons ascending and parachute leaps, and the largest and finest display of fireworks ever in this State for several years. Besides all of this, there will be a line-up of all kinds of fish, fowl, horses, dogs, cats, fancy work, and farming material, in fact everything to please the taste and eye.—Carolina Dispatch.
