Feb'y 14, 1892. Col. Jno. D. Whitford,
My dear sit:—It has occurred to me since I came here that I can set some of the World's Fair officials to go to Newborn, and I wish you would take it over with the officers of your Fair. I can get Col. McKenzie of Ky., Vice Pres's of the Nat. World's Fair (ommission, maybe President Palmer, and other equally prominent people. I have talked with McKenzie about it, but not with others, because I don't know what your people would do about it. The gentlemen I have in mind will all be in Washington next Friday, and if your and injured vessels during the recent Fair management desire anything like this, if they will leave a communica-tion at the Ebbitt for me that day I will put myself to the work at once.

Yours truly,
THOMAS B. KECGH.

World's Fair, touching the matter:

Chicago, Feb y 14, 1892.

Dear Colonel:—I am trying to arrange for a little party to go from Washington. to the New Berne Fair. I have written Col. Whitford to see the officials there and ascertain their idea of having some of the World's Fair officials go there. President Palmer, St. Clair, Massey and Lorman, will be in Washington next Friday—also Col. McKenzie. If the New B-rue people will take the matter up and communicate with me next Fig. 1 think I can give them an advertisement that will do the State some good. * * * * We could take the party to Raleigh from New Berne. Yours truly, THOS B. KEOGH.

Below is a letter from Col. Andrews on the same subject: Raleigh, February 17, 1993.

According to custom, a collection will be taken during the Convention for the fish industry. Now we can state that Senator Ransom, of North Carolina with a party of Senatore, among whom will be the President pro tem of the Senate, Mr. Manderson, design visiting in April the North-eastern fisheries of the State as well as those at New Berne, (taking in our truck farms) and thos of Morehead and Beaufort. These industries are exciting much greate interest abroad than our people con template. The immense catch of fish on Albemarle sound and its tributaries and in the waters about New Berne and Beaufort harbor, of which the JOURNAL is constantly giving what seems to those not acquainted with the industry to be fabulous accounts and the curiosity to witness such fishing even in Washington Oity incresses daily. Thus we may expect these distinguished visitors with certainty at the time mentioned. "While on this subject I would men tion the fact that the virtue of the water in Seven Springs in Wayne county is reaching out in the country, and even in Washington City it is ac-knowledged. President Chadwick, cf the A. & N. C. R. has an order from Senator Ransom for some of this water that he might show to his colleagues to prove his faith by his works. This request of Senator kansom for the water will be immediately complied with, But few people who have not visited these springs can have any idea of their beautiful location. It resembles more the country in the mountains than on the Neuse. than on the Neuse.

"I found also the trucking interest of New Berne far reaching. I met a distinguished gentleman from Detroit who, when he became acquainted with the place I was from, New Berne, said the name was familiar to him from the sale of its truck in his city. We presume of course that there were second. sume of course, that there were second hand shipment made perhaps from cities on the Atlantic coast. "It is now known to the North Caro-

"It is now known to the North Carolina Commissioners of the World's Fair that the bits of iron found by Robt. S. Moore, of New Berne some years ago in the post to which Columbus was chained in the dungson on the lele of St. Domingo, are now where they can be obtained, with the history of the manner in which they were discovered. Mr. Moore was an officer in the United States navy at the time and he was aided in his work by the Governor of St. Domingo. They will have them probably exhibited at the World's Fair, giving credit for the preservation of this scored relic of the great discoverer of the New World to whom credit is due.
