So far as we can learn the trucking interest in this section is doing well.

The people are patriotic. Show them the right and they will embrace it. Teach the right way by walking in it yourself.

A DISPATCH from Berlin says Chancellor Von Caprivi and Minister Von Zedlitz have resigned from the Prussian Cabinet.

REMEMBER that personal abuse does no good in a political campaign. Attract people to your standard by displaying upon its folds correct principles of government.

We don't pretend to know who is in the lead as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination at Chicago, nor do we very much care. What concerns us most is the success of the party, for upon its success depends the prosperity of the country.

A NEW YORK judge travelled one hundred miles to get in his vote at the late election. When the votes were counted it was found that his ticket was elected by a majority of one. This shows the importance of one vote sometimes, and one is as good as one thousand if it wins.

GOVERNOR HOLT.

We have received a communication from Democrats of character and distinction, in advocacy of the nomination and election of Gov. Holt, to the office he now fills with honor to himself and credit to the State. While the nomination is open to all Democrats, the candidates now prominently before the people of North Carolina are Gov. Holt, Auditor Sanderlin and Mr. Carr.

The JOURNAL has heretofore expressed a preference for Mr. Sanderlin, but it antagonizes no Democrat, and will give a cordial support to whoever is nominated by the State Convention.

We commend the communication to the thoughtful consideration of our readers. It is as follows:

The administration of Gov. Holt has been characterized by great practical ability, high common sense, and by the most patriotic devotion to the honor and interests of the State. He seems to be, from his intellectual endowment, and his enlarged and varied business experience, a common center, about which all the Democratic elements of the State could rally, with the brightest prospects of success in the approaching campaign. He is a farmer, manufacturer, well equipped politician, a patriotic statesman, and a typical Democrat. The interest of no class of Democrats, could, if entrusted to his care, suffer injury, for the reason that he is the personal and interested representative of each class. We hail him as one of the people, and devoted to the people, and he is entitled to receive the highest consideration and warm commendation from the people.

Amid the confusion, perplexities, and intricacies of the present status of politics in the State, we would take occasion to remark, that Gov. Holt would seem to possess all necessary requirements for effecting harmony and success. We make this statement, and in addition to what we have already said, and base it upon the following reasons:

1st. That the administration of Gov. Holt has been entirely satisfactory to Gov. of North Carolina, and has been blameless.

2d. That it has been the universal custom, and the unwritten law of the Democratic Party, to renominate a Governor, who has come into office under the circumstances that Gov. Holt came into office.

3d. The fact that there will be a Third Party in North Carolina, this year, renders it absolutely essential that there should be complete harmony and cordial and united efforts, on the part of Democratic Alliance, and Democrats who are not Alliance men. Neither one should seek to take advantage of the other, and care should be taken that the Democratic ticket be so framed that both shall be fairly represented on it.

4th. And in addition to the fact of Gov. Holt's intimate relationship with the industrial interests of the State, the reforms, which the Alliance seeks to accomplish, are of a legislative character; the Government having no vote, or veto power in this State, can neither advance nor retard them; therefore, the office is of small importance to the Alliance and, no doubt, it will be the pleasure of our Alliance friends to accord it to their Democratic associates, who are not in the order and at the same time, to pay a just and deserved compliment to Gov. Holt who, for years, in season and out of season, has been a faithful worker for the Party, by renominating him.

Far be it from us to disparage the claim of any aspirant for the high office of Governor, who belongs to, and is anxious for the success of the Democratic Party. The success of its principles are above all personal considerations. Upon it, we firmly believe, the perpetuity of our Republican institutions wholly depends. It is pre-eminently the People's Party, and the people should sustain it, at all times, under all circumstances, and at all hazards.

EVERY Democrat in the country who is more devoted to the success of the party and to the triumph of Democratic principles than to promoting the aspirations of a favorite will endorse the following from the speech of Senator Hill at Birmingham, Ala. In conclusion he said:

"It is not essential who the candidate of the Democratic party may be; the great point is to achieve a victory for Democratic principles in November next. I pledge you the State of New York. I pledge you New York's electoral vote for the Democratic party. I need not say to you how important that victory will be to the future of this country. As the country goes this fall, in my judgement, will its control remain for years. If we are true to our party we shall be true to our country."

MR. S. R. Townsend proprietor of Hotel Townsend and owner of the celebrated mineral springs of this place, on yesterday was making experimental artesian borings near the other springs and struck a strong vein of sulphur water that came gushing up from a considerable depth in a strong bold stream. He succeeded in getting in tubing, and this morning it is rushing out the spot a foot above the ground and crowds from all directions are visiting this phenomenal discovery. This completes the minerals that health seekers need—the iron and sulphur. Mr. T. will have it analyzed at once—Red Springs Comet.

GREAT MAGAZINE

The Century's Programme in 1892—A New "Life of Columbus"—Articles for Farmers, etc.

THAT great American periodical, The Century, is going to outdo its own unrivaled record in its programme for 1892, and as many of its new features begin with the November number, few readers should commence with that issue. In this number are the opening chapters of "The Naulahka," a novel by Rudyard Kipling, the famous author of "Plain Tales from the Hills," written in collaboration with an American writer, Wolcott Balestier. It is the story of a young man and a young woman from a "coming" Colorado town, who go to India, he in search of a wonderful jeweled necklace, called "the Naulahka" (from which the story takes its name), and she as a physician to women. The novel describes their remarkable adventures at the court of an Indiana maharajah. Besides this, The Century will print three other novels during the year, and a great number of short stories by the best American story-writers.

The well-known humorist Edgar W. Nye ("Bill Nye") is to write a series of amusing sketches which he calls his "autobiographies," the first one of which, "The Autobiography of a Justice of the Peace," is in November. This number also contains a valuable and suggestive article on "The Food-Supply of the Future," which every farmer should read, to be followed by a number of others of great practical value to farmers, treating especially of the relations of the Government to the farmer, what it is doing and what it should do. This series will include contributions from officers of the Department of Agriculture, and other well-known men will discuss "The Farmer's Discontent," "Cooperation," etc., etc.

A celebrated Spanish writer is to furnish a "Life of Columbus," which will be brilliantly illustrated, and the publishers of The Century have arranged with the managers of the World's Fair to print articles on the buildings, etc. One of the novels to appear in 1892 is

A story of New York Life by the author of "The Anglomaniacs," and the magazine will contain a great deal about the metropolis during the year,—among other things a series of illustrated articles on "The Jews in New York." In November is an illustrated description of "The Players, Club," founded by Edwin Booth, and one of the features of the splendidly illustrated Christmas (December) number is an article on "The Bowersy."

Comfort isn't all of it though. Soft Eyelets, and "bones" that can't break or kink—Ball's corsets have both of these.
