SENATOR HILL has returned to Washington much pleased with his Southern trip. Quite a number of leading papers say he gained nothing by it.

THERE is no responsible person in Great Britain or America who wants to fight about a year's seal fishing in Behring Sea. Lord Salisbury and Mr. Harrison may think it good politics to talk about fighting, but the signs of the press are that they are both mistaken.—N. Y. World.

HON. Jerry Simpson remarks that the s. p. will carry Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas and North Carolina. When Jerry got through his Southern campaign in 1890 he made some similar remarks when he returned to Washington; and further remarked that they were going to secede Ohio and lay John Sherman out. He still persists in making these remarks notwithstanding his dismal failures.

THE March report of the statisticians of the department of agriculture shows that the production of cotton of the world exceeded the consumption more than 1,500,000 in 1890 and further greatly enlarges the excess in 1891, glutting the markets, increasing visible stocks during the past year more than 100,000 bales and reducing the Liverpool price of middling uplands from 6 1/2c. in January 1890 to 4 1/2c. in January 1892. It states that in two years, this country has produced an excess above normal requirements of more than 2,000,000 bales and indicates a heavy reduction in breadth as the only possible remedy, otherwise the agriculture of the South will suffer more than western agriculture ever has. It declares that the cotton States must introduce new crops as the agricultural population

THE largest gun manufactured at the Krupp Gun Works, Essen, Germany, weighs 270,000 pounds, and is of the finest quality of steel. The calibre of this monster engine of death is 19 1/4 inches and the barrel is 44 feet long. The greatest diameter of this gun is 6 1/2 feet, and its range is about twelve miles. Guns of the above size can be fired twice per minute, each shot costing $1,500. The projectile is four feet long, weighs 2,700 pounds and is fired by a charge of powder weighing 700 pounds. This gun will "carry up" for nine miles and penetrate twenty inches of solid steel armor.

GOV. FLOWER is proving at Albany that he will be no party to extravagant appropriations, and he is getting in his prudent and economical work without making any show over it or seeking to get any fame from it. When a bill appropriating money comes before him and he concludes that it ought not to become a law, he sends for the author of the bill and suggests to him that a withdrawal of the bill would be less disagreeable in every way than a veto. Then the member goes back to the legislature and offers a resolution respectfully requesting the Governor to return the bill to the house where it originated. He does this and no more is heard of it.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. W. H. Foster—Piano tuner, etc. T. C. Howard—Beer, liquors, etc.

The State Chronicle came to us in a new dress last night.

A runaway horse broke a buggy yesterday. A noly dog was the cause.

Our former subscribers will note with interest the appointments we publish this morning for Hon. G. W. Wilcox, the Alliance District Lecturer.

Everybody remember and attend the meeting at the City Hall tonight to appoint a delegation to attend the launching of the cruiser Raleigh and arrange other matters connected with it.

The officers of the Fair are substantially the same as last year. The board of directors was increased from 11 to 15. The new ones are Messrs. John Humphrey, W. H. Bray, J. W. Stewart and W. F. Crockett.

A special excursion will be run from New Berne to the launching of the cruiser Raleigh at Norfolk which is to take place on the 31st. It will be by the steamer Neuse connecting with a train at Elizabeth City.

As the time has arrived for city politics to claim attention we republish the list of Democratic ward committees; 1st ward, C. Reizenstein, Chas. Bell and J. C. Green; 2d ward, John Dunn, Edward Gerock and S. W. Smallwood; 3d ward, Jas. W. Eldide, Sam'l. W. Willis and J. W. Smallwood.

The New Berne Iron Works had a 60 horse boiler which they had just completed for the Siltman Lumber Company, on the streets yesterday on route for delivery. This is the second boiler of that size they have built for the same mill within two months. That's right. Patronize home enterprise, every time; it pays all hands.

A friendly but strongly contended sparring encounter between a bright-headed disciple of Blackstone and a square built son of Neptune which took place back of the former office afforded spectators considerable amusement. The lawyer was as handy with the gloves as he generally is with his tongue and gave the Captain as much as he received.

The Durham Globe announces that the clock of Trinity College fell as it was being placed in the tower, resulting in damaging it to the amount of fifty or sixty dollars. The gentleman sent by the company to superintend the placing of the clock in the tower says he has placed many hundreds similar in style and dimensions and that this is absolutely the first accident he ever had.

We have received a letter from Washington written by Mr. J. D. Myers which states that incompetency and neglect of duty by the pilot whom Capt. Ippok hired to take the steamer E. H. Lee from this city to Washington was the reason why the captain refused to pay him and this resulted in the libel suit which is to be tried on the 6th of April in this city before Judge Seymour in chambers.

A gentleman from one of our interior towns writes the JOURNAL if there is a fertilizer manufactured here that is made especially for truck. We take much pleasure in informing him that there is such a factory here owned by our enterprising townsmen. Messrs. E. H. & J. A. Meadows, and that they make an extensive scale fertilizer that is especially adapted for the various kinds of truck, and they are largely used by our planters. The only one we saw many instances that proved the impression of keeping New Berne's business interests advanced.

HURRAH! HURRAH! HURRAH!

The Fair a Financial Success in Spite of All Obstacles.

A Surprising Report.

The report of Mr. C. Reizenstein, treasurer of the Fair, read at the stockholders' meeting last night, astonished the crowd.

The large attendance at the Fair during the prevalence of such unusually disagreeable weather as was experienced throughout the week of the Fair has been a subject of comment ever since it was held, but knowing that a very large proportion of those who intended to come did not even start and that many of those who started by water failed to reach here by reason of the continued storm caused the general opinion to be that the exhibition had resulted in a loss to the Fair of from one to two thousand dollars.

Imagine the surprise then when the report showed that although the expenses of the Fair were over $5,000, instead of losing money it had actually made $850 00.

This statement of affairs gives the brightest outlook for the next exhibition of any that has yet been held. Permanent improvements were made on the Fair grounds just previous to the last exhibition to the amount of $811.25. Everything is now in good order and if the next exhibition turns out as favorable in proportion as the last one the probability is that Fair stock will be at a premium.

Our Carriage Factories.

Messrs. G. H. Waters & Sons have added a harness department to their carriage factory and will hereafter both make and repair harness.

They are now getting the upper story of their factory partitioned off into convenient rooms, some of them celled for their various purposes. They have one a moss room, where the moss and excelsior for mattresses is packed to pieces for cushions which probably no other factory has as separate department, such work generally being carried in in some other room but as the dust and fine particles from the materials fly about and sometimes give annoyance by settling on work in progress they have fixed a tight room for this special part of the operations of the factory.

Messrs. Henry Winfield & Son are also quite nicely fixed in a building that answers their requirements and are getting out good vehicles. Good practical workmen workmen are at the head of each of the factories and they see that every thing that leaves the shop is well constructed. The result is they are kept quite busy as they should be, for home institutions should be given the preference over those elsewhere especially when a fair examination will prove that on account of the substantial and excellent character of the products that it is the advantage of the customer themselves to do so.

Coming and Going.

Mr. and Mrs. Telford and son Mortimer, of Newark, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Overton, of New Jersey, who have been spending a short time in the city on a pleasure trip, left yesterday on the steamer New Berne, of the O. D. line, returning to their homes.

Mr. Silas McBoe, a trustee and commissioner of the University of the South, who not long since delivered some very fine discourses at the Episcopal Church on Education, with special reference to the work of the University, arrived again last night.

Mr. A. E. Cook, a well known commission merchant of New York arrived last night looking after his interests in the approaching busy part of truck shipping season.

Miss Sarah Newman, of Edenton, who has been visiting the family of Mr. N. Schultz returned to her home in Edenton.

Why Shouldn't They?

An exchange states that 1,300 convicts are at work outside of the penitentiary. Couldn't those 12,000 lusty fellows make the dirt fly if they were put to work building and keeping in order the roads of the State. It would not take them long to have every part of the Quaker Bridge road good in all kinds of weather or to construct that short cut road to Aurora. The benefits of their being thus employed would soon be felt in every part of the State.

Is there any sound reason why these much needed improvements should not be accomplished through convict labor? Can a man be found who would not rather the convicts should do the work than for him and his neighbors to do it or pay taxes for laborers to be hired for the purposes?

It is announced that the Beaufort Methodist Church, is to be enlarged, remodelled, modernized and greatly beautified, to be made in fact, almost a new building, with new pews, carpets, pulpits, furnitures, etc. It is proposed to spend about $2,500 or $3,000 on the improvements, and the work is to begin as soon as the services of a skilled architect is secured. It is probable that all the windows will be taken as memorial windows. Five have been thus taken and four or five others have spoken of having one.

By Pine Wood. I will have 50 cords of dry Pine Wood of the spot this morning. M. P. Foster.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Speaker Crisp—Visitors—No Spare Time—Some of the Great Men.

The Senate as a Body.

March 16th, 1892.

The dereliction of your correspondent was not from choice—other engagements that could not be overlooked had to be given precedence, thus, the nonfulfillment before of his promise. However, there is comfort in the belief, that your loss in the above mentioned particular, may have benefited your many readers in having other matter daily spread before them, of a more interesting character. After this prelude just where to begin with the song is some what of a puzzle.

The purpose of all writing, as well as speaking, should be to interest or instruct and not to retail gossip or repeat third hand tales. If we should attempt an excursion out in the political field at this period in our history, we would undoubtedly, be enveloped in impenetrable haze. What then could we tell you more than you already know? Question one of the great political leaders here and the answer would be you can penetrate the future with your vision, as accurately as yourself. But a single partition wall with a door in it divides the rooms of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and your correspondent. The office is considered in influence you know, only second to that of the President of the United States. The main doors to our respective rooms, are near to each other. We were thus located for convenience by a clever clerk at the hotel, we happen to know, and sent to be a neighbor of Speaker Crisp. He is very affable and cordial. In 47 he is, what hair he has is light, he has blue eyes, kind of dome forehead, slight mustache, small features, round plump youthful face, is some five feet 8 inches high and would weigh about 180 pounds. While not a great man in one sense what is more to a good man, is the way he treats his family, through mistake, call upon us, thus we sometimes see sweet faces when answering a gentle tap on the door with "oome" and then hear "oh, oh, beg pardon, excuse me."

"Certainly, certainly" is the reply without deviation. Under similar impression of the wisdom of a less tender variety, visit the Statesman and "Good morning, Judge," the Speaker is generally so called here followed by his home title. "Good morning it seems to be the largest snow of the season." Yes sir. "Senator Morrill holds his office as a Senator, he may surpass him in Hill." "Yes sir." We pass on. Don't button hole a big man here if you desire his favor. Eyes with one of your own representatives it would do you no good, otherwise apt to do harm. They want no flourishing—come to the point and let us hear what you have to say. It is interestingly conceded that Mr. Crisp including his unexceptionably, pure personal character, was the best qualified for the exalted position he holds, of any of his Democratic colleagues. He could not be so easily rattled as Mr. Mills by the assaults of members of the Reed class, while Mr. Mills may surpass him in some respects in ability, as an all-around man Crisp is his superior. One is gentle compared to the equally mild of the other. Mills' tariff efforts were able and instructive and there he could lead the Speaker, yet, he would not be a leader in the matter. Crisp is in that respect outstrip them all. Vance has had some practice in that place and was complimented by the former able management and prudence exhibited at the critical moment. Carlisle in talent is in the front rank. He is not however what we know as an orator. None of these public men referred to are. We stood at the door of the Senate a few days ago, with the Messenger Mr. Keller, who pointed out the Senators as they entered the Chamber. He attempted to tell us, stop, said we, see if we know them from the reality to the pictures. Yes, here comes Mr. Gorman passing in a foot of us. Another passes in, who is that little fellow for all the world like a Jew, that is Senator Brice. Here again a large man comes out and goes towards a committee room, I believe, said we that is Senator Palmer, correct we saw him in the picture. Yes, here now, comes Kanter of West Virginia; then Call of Florida; Morris of Tennessee; Manderson of Nebraska; our expected visitor, Gray of Delaware; Blackburn, Kentucky; Pepper, Kansas; Allison, Iowa; Coke, of Texas; brother of the State, and the last of the line, Vance now comes up with a funny word about Pepper's name and disappears through the door; Ransom is in his seat. It is 10 o'clock, after prayer the session commences for the day. We still linger to get near the man upon whom all eyes in this great country are turned, at this moment, who is that? The Messenger, as with rapid but easy stride, he passes, smiles and bows and the door closes behind him, David Benes Hill of New York. He is rather smaller than we expected though the picture we see of him in the Statesman is very good. We were jumped over many prominent Senators. Mr. Sherman was already in his seat, the Vice President passes in. He resembles a keen financier more than a Statesman and that is what he is. Our own Senators would not suffer by comparison with those from any other State. There are just twelve feet of them. Ransom and Vance each measuring six feet in height, the former weighing one hundred and ninety pounds and the latter two hundred and thirty five. He has pulled down the beam at 65 pounds. Senator Ransom has seen 62 years and Vance will pass his 63d year in May next. Undoubtedly, the most courtly member of either House of Congress is the senior Senator from North Carolina. Vance states that he (Ransom) has the ability to match it if put to the test and that his influence here is very great. They are both on important committees and Vance presides over the committee on Woman Suffrage. Senator Morrill is the oldest man in the Senate and has served the longest time. Next comes Sherman in years of service in that body; then Ransom, who exceeds all other North Carolina Senators in point of time and perhaps no Southern Senator ever equalled it. Mason was elected for three full terms but resigned after 2 years of the third term. However, able a man may be that comes in the Senate has to serve a tain apprenticeship to reach the head of important committees. The Senate if not as brilliant in intellect as in the by gone with particular men it is yet equal in wisdom, ability and dignity to any political body of men upon earth. Senator Vance has been quite ill with sore throat though is now convalescing yet unable to leave his house.

He Will Not Accept the Nomination for President.

Having received so many communications from all over the South requesting me to allow my name to go before the people to swell the list of Presidential candidates, and as my complicated business relations will not permit me to reply to each separately, I trust, Mr. Editor, you will give me space in your valuable paper to make a general statement to the people in appreciation of the interest they manifest in my behalf.

My fellow-citizens, I do indeed most sincerely thank you for this evidence of your continued confidence in me, and most heartily say amen to your prayers for our country's good. For I with you am sensible of the great and pressing needs for reform that will meet the demands of that portion of our countrymen whose labors are most arduous, and whose rewards are most meager. Yes, my friends, I am for those reforms that will bring a fair compensation to the laborer of the soil for the sweat of his brow, and not cast all favors upon those who place restraints upon trade and boast of their millions. And yet, my fellow-citizens, with a due regard for your wishes, I must decline this proffered honor, nor am I prompted by any selfish motive, for our beloved South cannot yet have her proper recognition in the national conventions, consequently the result of offering my name for nomination would be humiliating to you and sacrificing myself, which I would readily do for my country's good.

Were I seeking notoriety or personal aggrandizement I might quite accept the proffered cup, but love and respect for our beloved South will not permit me to do or attempt anything that would be humiliating to her pride or damaging to her honor.

Another cause which I cannot overlook prevents my accepting this call, and that is the number of friends who are near me and are relying on me to keep prices for home necessities down to living rates, which I am enabled to do by buying out at a great discount the stocks of my unfortunate friends whose liabilities far exceed their assets, and give my friends the benefit thereof. My home is now stuck to me in my poorer days, and no man shall ever say that Big like went back on his friends, but in New Berne, North Carolina, he will continue to buy bankrupt stock at 40, 60 and 67 cents on the dollar, and sell to his old customers and friends at less than New York cost, thus enabling them to live in these pressing times, and let such men as Cleveland and Hill seek Presidential honors.
