"THERE are women who sometimes think on Sunday that they have religion, but when the clothes line breaks down on Monday they find out that they haven't."

"My friend," said a temperance lecturer lowering his voice to the impressive whisper, "If all the grog shops were at the bottom of the sea, what would be the result?"

OPPORTUNITY dwells only in the present moment, and if we would seize it and make it a stepping stone, it must be by a heart quiet as to the future, a mind quick to see and seize the meaning and promise of the moment.

LOCAL NEWS.

Lucas & Lewis—Molasses, J. D. Barfield—Oranges etc. M. D. W. Stevenson—Money to lend.

The weather forecast is: Fair till Monday night with slowly rising temperature Sunday and Monday.

A remarkably fine and handsome portrait of Capt. K. R. Jones, the work of Mr. Nace Brock is on exhibition at the New Berne Drug Company's store.

Dr. Wm. E. Hall will deliver another lecture, subject "Happy Homes" at the Church of Christ Monday night. This is pronounced one of Dr. Hall's choicest lectures. Tickets will be on sale during the day at the usual place.

One of our prominent citizens from the Emerald Isle being asked what he thought of a certain ward politician with whom he differed replied; "Since he got up a little mitehead in the world he's fell back behindhand altogether entirely."

Messrs. N. Tisdale and W. H. Bray were nominated by the Eighth township convention which met at the court house yesterday as delegates to the county convention, which will be held at the court house on Saturday May 7th.

We acknowledge receipt of an invitation to participate in the ceremony of unveiling of the monument to Gen. A. P. Hill, which is to take place near Richmond, on Monday, May 30th. The ceremonies on that occasion will be conducted by the Pegram Battalion Association.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Norfolk Virginian says that the State Medical Association has received a report that a Mrs. Hoaks, who lives in Stanley county, gave birth last Saturday to six well developed children. Four of the children have since died.

A party of three Pennsylvanians—Mr. R. M. Stockton, of Honesdale; Mr. S. W. Cook, of Jersey, and Mr. W. F. Underwood, of Lake Como, came in last night partially on a pleasure trip but principally prospecting in reference to timber and truck lands.

Mrs. Lucia Redding Thompson, M. D., daughter of Dr. J. P. Redding formerly of this city, came in last night on route to Stoneville to visit relatives and is stopping at Hotel Albert. Mrs. Thompson graduated in medicine in Europe and is now directress of a Philadelphia hospital.

When Republicans in convention have their usual turmoil and rattle, Democrats look on with supercilious air but when the Democrats wallow in the same mire how does it appear? We are unable to harmonize the conduct of the first ward meeting Friday night with such intelligent men as composed the convention.

One of our citizens remarked the other day that of all the improvements suggested he looked on that of a system of first class roads leading to the city as the most desirable. To show what those elsewhere who have established them regard what they have done we will cite one instance. Union county, New Jersey, incurred a bonded debt of $35,000 for public roads, and it is said that the farmers now declare that they would not take $1,000,000 for them, and they consider the benefits derived from them equal to railroads.

THE action of that county is a good example not only for our county but for the State.

"Mistakes of Ingersoll."

Ladies as well as gentlemen are invited to the Young Men's Christian Association Hall this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to hear the lecture of Dr. Wm. E. Hall on "The Mistakes of Ingersoll."

Mr. Hall will present a careful review of Ingersoll's arguments giving just what he says and combating them. It is desired to make the occasion a grand Christian mass meeting and a hearty welcome will be given to all. Everyone should hear the lecture.

Ward Committees. The Democratic ward committee of the second ward was appointed yesterday, completing the list of committees for the ensuing year.

Third ward, J. W. Biddle, E. H. Meadows and J. W. Smallwood. Coming and Going. Rev. L. C. Vase, of Savannah, Ga., who has been spending a few days with relatives in this city left yesterday morning for Savannah, Ga.

Mr. J. M. Mewborn Alliance lecturer passed through from Beaufort where he delivered his last lecture enroute to Greenville where he will lecture tomorrow.

Mr. S. Z. Waters, the clever collector of the Union, went up to Kingston to visit relatives.

Manufacturing. It is stated that the contract for the erection of a $500,000 cotton mill to be known as the Erwin mill has been given out by the Dukes, of Durham.

The Durham Globe comes out on the platform that its subscribers are to pay strictly in advance or they will no longer be subscribers.

The cash on hand at the beginning of each subscriber's month and if he fails to have the cash ready the paper is to be stopped at once.

That the above plan can be worked successfully we have doubts. This is not usually adopted by the majority of papers in the South is beyond dispute, and there is a great need for some revision.

Church Services. Centenary M. E. Church—Rev. R. A. Willis, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., conducted by Rev. J. W. Lee.

A number of the witnesses in the John C. Davis case now being tried in Wilmington tell of eccentricities that make it appear that his mind has been unbalanced for some time.

The wood work of the addition to the Presbyterian lecture room with the exception of a little on the windows has been completed and the plasterers and painters have commenced work.

A Noted Optician. Dr. D. S. Harmon, the renowned Russian scientific optician, who was in this city last summer, and for nearly two months was kept busy fitting glasses for the eyes of many of our best citizens.

Dr. Harmon has made many and lasting friends during his sojourn in our midst, and all were glad to shake his hands once more. He is certainly the best optician that ever visited this city.

Ice Tickets. For the convenience of the people the New Berne Ice Company will keep ice tickets continually on sale at John Dunn's, G. O. Green's and Churchill's Parkers, at regular rates.

HANCOCK STREET CHURCH.

Formerly Andrew Chapel—Early History—Great Revivals—Great Men Who Have Preached There.

On Hancock Street in Newbern, N. C., stands one of the oldest Methodist Church buildings in the State. It dates back near the beginning of this century. In the summer of 1899, Thomas Mason, long connected with the Book Concern in New York, visited his relatives in Craven county.

There have been many revivals in that house. A good old lady informed me over fifty years ago that during one of the earliest revivals a number of reckless persons surrounded the altar with bottles of rum, when so feebly (there were no policemen then,) and by such disorder attempted to break up the meeting.

Many of the old, renowned preachers visited this church. A Mr. Taylor informed me, when I was a youth, that he heard Bishop Asbury preach for the first time in this town, when so feebly he had to be seated in a chair in the altar and deliver his discourse.

During the year 1899 a most powerful revival occurred under the ministry of Christopher Thomas. I remember when I was a boy, that the country people for miles around Newbern were in much excitement about the fact that the great revivalist was dead, and that he predicted his death, as he had predicted. This revival was referred to for many years as "the great Christopher Thomas revival."

Andrew Chapel has sent out a number of preachers. Edward Wardsworth, who died while president of LaGrange College, Ala., John Todd Brame, a small but brainy young man.
