The Wisconsin Democratic State convention has met and appointed delegates to the National convention. The convention was enthusiastic for Cleveland; it instructed the delegates to vote as a unit and desires them to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

The Buck Creek sub-Alliance of Carroll county gets right at "the milk in the cocoon" in this resolution: "Resolved, That if Carroll county Alliance adopts the St. Louis platform, we will not pay any more dues, and our charter will be subject to the proper authorities." There is no third partyism in that sub-Alliance and there are many more of the same kind in Georgia.—Savannah News.

To the observant man it is as plain as noon-day that the Republican leaders in the South hope to ultimately recover power in the South through division in the Democratic ranks. They do not disguise this. The action of the late Republican convention in this State shows that this is their dependence here, and also the public declarations of some of the colored leaders in their county conventions and other public gatherings. U. S. Marshall Buck, of Georgia, and other Republican leaders in that State express confidence in the same result in that State as do the Republican leaders in South Carolina, also.—Star.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Painters wanted, Let—Unsolicited letter. Howard—It is better, etc. Lucas & Lewis—Hams, butter, etc.

The city hall was packed last night to learn the result of the organization of the new board.

The Methodist church of Wildwood will picnic at the banks today. Several people went down from New Berne last night to attend it.

The Goldsboro Headlight advises its readers to look out for counterfeit twenty-five cent pieces. Several have been successfully passed upon several merchants there.

The Democratic county convention will meet in the court house today at 12 M. to nominate county officers and elect delegates to the State, Senatorial and Congressional conventions.

The Supreme court, to which appeal was taken, has decided against George H. Wyldie who was arrested in Kinston six months ago, convicted at Greensboro of bigamy and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

If you have an advertisement or other matter you wish in the next JOURNAL, bring it in as early in the day as possible. If you wait until night or even late in the afternoon there is very little chance of its appearing in the next morning's paper.

This season the Seven Springs hotel will be under the management of Mrs. B. F. Nunn, of Kinston. Mr. Nunn is an experienced hotelier and a very good one. The Kinston Free Press says that he and Mrs. Nunn went up on Wednesday to open this fine health resort.

The first lot of the new machinery purchased by Mr. F. J. Rasberry on his recent trip north for Franks & Rasberry, has arrived and the other is on the way. These additional machines will so equip this excellent machinist firm that they will be ready for any kind of work that comes along.

Yesterday Messrs. J. H. Crabtree & Co. commenced the erection of another building alongside their machine shops. The new one will be iron covered and 80x24 feet. It will be used for storing pipe, as a pattern shop and for the office of the company. The machinery for the company has been shipped and work will be commenced very soon.

A drummer negro woman named Ann Chadwick who was arrested yesterday morning for disorderly conduct at the junction of Middle and South Front streets, attracted considerable attention by her screeching and struggling against policeman Dixon as she was being hauled to the station in a dray.

Washington people are bestirring themselves in the N. W. & C. Railroad matter. We see in the Progress that a petition is being circulated in that township asking for an election to be held in that township to vote $50,000 to the capital stock of the N. W. & C. Railroad, and $15,000 in Choocowiny township, as an inducement for the railroad to come to that town. It says truly the advantages of such a road are too manifest to need stating.

Big Shipments Beginning.
Not less than $15,000 worth of truck left New Berne yesterday. Peas are going off lively. There were large shipments of them and also other truck by rail, by the steamer Newberne and by the steamer Neuse.

We obtained exact figures of the cargo taken by the latter boat. She had 4,599 packages; over a thousand packages of these were asparagus and strawberries, and she had 3,499 boxes of peas. The special daily truck trains for truck only, begin running today at 11 o'clock.

Ruling prices on truck are good and it makes the farmers happy.

Thanks.
I extend sincere thanks to the firemen and friends generally for their kind services during the fire Thursday night.
J. F. TAYLOR.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

Mr. Ellis Declared Elected.—Mr. Baxter Will Contest the Seat.—Board Organized.—Election of Associates and Officers.

The old board of city council met yesterday afternoon, canvassed the returns from the late election for city councilmen, and declared the following councilmen elected: 1st ward, Wm. Ellis; 2d ward, Basil Manly; 3d ward, S. R. Street; 4th ward, V. A. Crawford; 5th ward, I. W. Eubank, ocl.

The certificate of election from the 1st ward was signed by Mr. Jos. E. Nelson and Mr. C. S. Bell, two of the judges of election, in favor of Mr. J. J. Baxter, but Mr. R. P. Williams, the other judge, entered his protest and declared Mr. Ellis elected on account of twelve ballots having been counted for Mr. Baxter which had O. K. written on the back, which he held was a device, rendered them illegal, and necessitated throwing them out, which would place Mr. Ellis in the majority.

The board based the decision in favor of Mr. Ellis on the legal advice of Mr. Jas. W. Waters, city attorney, to the effect that the protest of Mr. Williams opened the case for investigation, that the marks constituted a device and illegalized every ballot having them on it.

The old board finished its work last night. The new one organized immediately after.

By advice of his attorney, Mr. Baxter appeared, but his claim not being recognized he will contest the seat by proceedings of a quo warranto nature.

The following councilmen-at-large were chosen: Hugh Lovick, J. E. Latham and Capt. Dan. Roberts.

The following officers were elected: Mayor, M. Manly; city tax collector, W. D. Wallace; marshal, John M. Margott; treasurer, Hugh J. Lovick; city attorney, S. C. Bragaw; port physician, Dr. N. H. Street.

The election for policemen resulted as follows:
Moses T. Roberts was elected first but declined the office and J. K. Land was then elected.

J. E. Gaskill was elected next but declined and Eli Elliott was elected.

Then J. B. Dixon was elected the third policeman. S. F. Hurtt, market clerk, J. L. Willis headquarter watchman, David Stallings, sexton Cedar Grove Cemetery, and Daniel Best, col. sexton of Greenwood Cemetery.

Fire company's Engineers, J. C. Green and W. R. Waters.

Coming and Going.
Mr. W. S. Mercer, of New York, a member of the Lewis Mercer, Construction Company which is putting in Sewerage in the city who has been in the city a few days looking after the interests of the company left yesterday morning to visit other points.

Mr. R. C. Kehoe returned on the Steamer Neuse of the E. C. D. line from a trip to Massachusetts combining business and a visit to his son Mr. Harvey Kehoe.

Miss Nannie Roberts who has been visiting relatives in New York returned home on the steamer New Berne of the O. D. line.

Capt. Dave Roberts and wife have returned from a visit to relatives of the latter in Tyrrell county.

Lieut. S. S. Willett, of Philadelphia, is visiting his father-in-law, Dr. Jas. P. Long.

Judge A. S. Seymour returned last night from holding U. S. Court in Wilmington.

Messrs. W. B. Boyd, W. F. Rountree and W. G. Brinson returned from attending the Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum at Salisbury.

Mrs. Mary Chambers, of Florida who has been visiting relatives in the country, returned to the city to spend further time with her parents.

Mrs. F. Ulrich went down to Croatan last night to visit the family of Mr. W. H. Mallison.

Mrs. J. B. Watson and child, of Croatan, who have been visiting at Mr. Wm. M. Watson's, returned home last night.

Wants Convicts on Roads.
The Fayetteville observer takes the view of utilizing convict labor on the public highways that we do. It says: "Accepting the figures of Col. Paul Farson, chairman of the board of managers of the State Penitentiary, in his last quarterly statement thereof to Gov. Holt, we are once more confronted with the fact that this institution is daily growing more burdensome to the State, the expenses of the last quarter having exceeded the receipts by something like fifteen thousand dollars.

Naturally enough, then, the question arises why not work and keep in repair the public roads of North Carolina with convict labor. In no other way could the gross masses of the people derive more benefits from the operations of the penitentiary for which they are annually taxed to maintain and support.

Good roads to a country sparsely settled like North Carolina is highly essential to the growth and prosperity of the rural regions and to the cities and towns as well, and we hope the day is not far distant when better roads will radiate from Fayetteville in every direction, permeating the dark corners of civilization and the most isolated regions of the Old North State."

Thursday Night's Fire.

Mr. J. F. Taylor informs us that our estimate in yesterday's paper of the damage to his stock ($5,000) by the fire was too low, that it was fully $6,000. His total loss was $10,000.

Mr. R. B. Weston's stock was a $1,400 one and was entirely consumed.

With these exceptions the estimates of loss given in yesterday's paper were correct.

A portion of Mr. Taylor's and of Mr. Jas. Parson's stock survived the flames, but in a badly damaged condition. What was worth moving was stored in warehouses until the insurance adjusters take action.

The total loss as stated was $25,000. The total insurance was $3,100. The loss of those who were insured and the amount of insurance was as follows:
Jas. F. Taylor, loss on stock, $6,000; insurance $3,000; warehouses, $4,000; insurance $1,000. Jas. T. Parsons, on stock $2,000, insurance $500. U. S. Mace, buildings $3,700, insurance $1,500. R. B. Weston, stock $1,400, insurance $1,000. City market, insurance $900. B. B. Lane, stock $300, insurance $200. The others had no insurance.

This fire demostrated the fact that it is very hard work to fight fire in iron covered wood buildings. The fires burn inside and the iron covering keeps it for a long time from burning through and the sheets of iron keep the water from reaching the flames, and the iron on buildings near the one burning will get red hot and ignite the wood work in contact with it.

Every one of the buildings burned was thus constructed and another point that added to the hardness of fighting the fire was that all the buildings except two were built over the water and were difficult of approach.

The fire was not stopped until it reached the brick store of Mr. J. F. Clark which stood as a bulwark against the further encroachments of the devouring element, though for about an hour many thought it likewise was doomed.

The opinion was generally expressed by those who witnessed the strenuous and unceasing efforts of the fireman amid heat and blinding smoke that if the buildings had been of wood so that affording the water access directly to the flames, instead of keeping them boxed inside like fire in a gigantic stove that the fire could have been put out sooner and at considerable saving to the property owners.

The fire caused the covering of buildings with iron to serve as a protection against fire to fall very much in the estimation of which it has been regarded heretofore in this city.

Duels in North Carolina.
One of our exchanges has compiled in brief form a number of historic duels that have been fought within the borders of The Old North State. Among them are names of some of the best and most prominent families in our history: "North Carolina has been the scene of many fatal duels, and it has always been regarded as a perfectly safe place to fight so far as the law is concerned. Among the duels that have been fought in the State only a few of the most prominent ones can be mentioned here.

John Stanley fought with Richard Dobbs Spaight, a. r., behind the Masonic Hall in Newbern, on Sunday afternoon, September 5, 1803. At the second fire a bullet pierced the coat collar of Stanley; at the fourth, Spaight received a wound in the right side, of which he died in twenty three hours. The challenge was sent and accepted and the duel fought on the same day, 800 people witnessing it.

In 1812, on the Virginia line, Thomas J. Stanley was killed at the first fire by Louis D. Henry. This duel arose from a dispute in regard to the question who was the partner of a certain lady in a dance at a party given by Judge Gaston.

Jarvis Clifton and Prentice Law fought at Crosses, on the line between Gates county, North Carolina, and Southampton county, Virginia, in 1806 or 1808. Law was a Northern man by birth, while Clifton was a native of Bertie county. They fought over a Mrs. Blanchard. Law struck his antagonist, and in pulling the clothing from the wound the ball came with it. Clifton afterwards married Mrs. Blanchard and she died in a year.

In 1812 Lieutenant Samuel H. Bryant, a United States Army, was killed in a duel in North Carolina. In 1844 William E. Boudinot fought two duels with Montgomery Hunt, within a few days of each other. The first was on the island of Java, where neither was hurt; the second at Singapore, where Hunt was wounded in the thigh at the second fire. They afterwards became warm friends. Hunt was a naval officer and was lost at sea. Boudinot was really the inventor of the present signal service system, and died near Pittsburg, N. C., in the spring of 1889.

The half-way house, where the Dismal Swamp Canal crosses the North Carolina line into Virginia, has been the scene of two duels. The first took place on the Virginia line during the autumn of 1847, when H. F. Harris fell in a duel with Edward C. Yellowly. The second was on June 12, 1868, when Robert W. Hughes, of the Richmond State Journal, fought William E. Cameron, of the Richmond Index, with pistols, and wounded him in the breast at the first fire.

Maurice, the son of Judge Alfred Moore, of the United States Supreme Court, fought with Benjamin Smith, afterwards Governor of North Carolina, in 1800 or 1801, on the South Carolina line with pistols, because of an alleged insult to Moore's father. Smith was badly wounded in the side. Smith was engaged in other duels."

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

May 10th, 1892.

The services of Memorial Day, will be held in the Theatre, in this city, on Tuesday, May 10th, beginning punctually at 5 o'clock P. M. Ladies are requested to occupy the dress circle, gentlemen the parquette, and children will find seats in the gallery.

ORDERS OF EXERCISES:
1. Anthem: "Praise ye to the Mighty Father."
2. Prayer: Rev. C. G. Vardell.
3. Music: "I'm tender Home Today."
4. Oration: Col. Wharton J. Green.
Subject, Gen. Robert Ransom.
5. Music: "Hurry me near the old Home."

At the conclusion of these services in the Theatre, the body will be sounded, and a procession will be formed on Hancock Street by their parade in the following order:
FIRST DIVISION.
New Berne Juvenile Band between Confederate Soldiers and sailors.
Survivors of the 1st Regiment of North Carolina Cavalry, and of other commands of General Robert Ransom.
SECOND DIVISION.
Orator and Chaplain.
Ex Orator and Chaplains.
Six young ladies carrying wreaths.
Ladies Memorial Association.

THIRD DIVISION:
Children with flowers.
Citizens.

The procession will move up Johnson street to the cemetery, will be halted on the main avenue, the ranks of soldiers and sailors will be opened and pass the orator chaplain, the six young ladies with wreaths, the Choir, and Ladies Memorial Association through their ranks to centre of the Confederate, when their ranks will be closed, and the soldiers and sailors mounted to the right and left, forming a circle around the Confederate Monument.

Here will be sung
"The Guard around the Tomb."
After which the Memorial Association, the young ladies with wreaths and the Choir will proceed—the bands playing a dirge—to the grave of Gen. Ransom, where a Refrain, "Peace to the Memory of the Brave," will sung, a Benediction pronounced by the Rev. T. M. N. George, and "Taps" sounded.

The Memorial Association request that the resting place of deceased Confederate soldiers and sailors only be decorated on this day.

Assistant Marshals will report at the Theatre promptly at half past four o'clock.

James W. Biddle,
Chief Marshal.
