

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT

THE DAILY JOURNAL is published... THE WEEKLY JOURNAL is published... The Journal is published daily except on Sundays and public holidays...

THE JOURNAL

G. S. HARPER, - - Proprietor. G. T. HANCOCK, - Local Reporter. Published at the Postoffice Box No. 10, New Bern, N. C.

Two colored laborers on the Norfolk & Western Railway, named Smith and Finkey, killed a colored boy without the slightest provocation and then fled. Friends of the murdered boy pursued the men and captured them. Smith who did the killing, was lynched and Finkey was released. He began to brag about his exploit and was seized, tied to a tree and riddled with bullets.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic State Convention meets in Raleigh today. A few days ago the JOURNAL said, there are evidences that the approaching Convention will be Democratic to the core. It is evident that one who is on the field understands the situation for better than those who are distant spectators of the fight. The Raleigh correspondent of the Wilmington Messenger says:

"The Democrats here are gratified at the outlook and at the manner in which the Third Party is being crushed. Reports were received today of many county conventions and these are particularly encouraging. In nearly all, including Guilford, Stanly, Rowan, Burke, Rockingham, Anson, Washington, Alexander, Greene, Davidson and Catawba, straightouts of the purest sort were chosen. The St. Louis platform is receiving a heavy blow. Third Party advocates held a caucus here today which was a complete failure. There is rejoicing at the overthrow of Otho Wilson. He was denounced formally by the straight-out Democrats of his township for his attempts to sell out the Democrats to the Third Party."

The Democratic party must be successful in the approaching campaign. Stupendous issues are involved and the manner in which they are met will have its influence on the destinies of North Carolina for years to come. We trust that the members of the State Convention will prove themselves worthy of the spontaneous plaudit of their countrymen, "well done good and faithful servants."

SENATOR VANCE.

There is no man in North Carolina so dear to the people as Zebulon B. Vance. His public services, domestic virtues and personal characteristics, have made his name a household word in the Old North State, and all men do him reverence.

There is in all parts of this Commonwealth a painful solicitude for the health of the Senator, and, on this account we transfer to our columns the following, from the Washington Post, as the latest information in regard to him. The Post of the 16th says:

"Senator Vance arrived here yesterday from his mountain home at Gombroom, N. C., where he was taken sick the middle of last week. Although the Senator rode ten miles in a buckboard Saturday and spent a night on the cars, he made the trip without serious discomfort. Aside from the disagreeable effects of the application of mustard plasters and hot bags to his body, and of the morphine administered to him to relieve his sufferings, he is comparatively comfortable.

When he reached his home he ate a light breakfast, took a warm bath, and went to bed, where he enjoyed a rest after his long journey. Later in the day he sat up for a time. Mrs Vance the Senator's wife, says she hopes it will be a matter of but a few days before her husband is able to be out again and resume his Senatorial duties.

The cause of his recent attack, she says, was the result of a little indisposition on the part of the Senator.

He was engaged during his recent visit to Gombroom in superintending operations on the plantation. One day in the middle of last week while the sun was very warm he stood out in the damp field for some time talking with one of his employes. As a consequence he perspired freely. Going up to his house he sat down in a large, comfortable chair on the shady side of the veranda, and while sitting there he was taken with a chill, which later developed into lumbago and sciatica.

Owing to the remoteness of the place considerable delay was experienced in obtaining the services of a physician, during which time the Senator suffered intensely. Domestic remedies were applied, but they did not bring substantial relief. After waiting some time a physician arrived at the house, and administering a hypodermic injection of morphia, succeeded in alleviating the sufferings of the Senator in a very brief time.

Typographical Errors.

Authors and publishers are often chagrined at the blunders of the printing press. A Frenchman, having counted three hundred typographical errors in his favorite book, gave up the ghost and got out of the world as soon as he could. We wonder that a similar departure was not witnessed when one of our popular magazines was by mistake of the printer-boy, called "The Epileptic Review."

But the worst of all typographical errors is that of small type. Let publishers not forget the failing sight of the old. As age comes on, father and mother cannot go out as much as they used to, and are more dependent upon reading for entertainment. Put not before their diminished sight typography that blurs and confounds them. In plain print tell them the news of the world out of which they are about to enter. Let the hymn book, and the Bible, and the religious newspaper be in distinct letters.

The poorest compliment ever paid to the Lord's Prayer was the cutting it in small letters on a five-cent piece. It is a hard thing for an octogenarian to "read his title clear" in type smaller than nonpareil or agate. It is a grand thing to have a page so plain that old age can read it either with or without spectacles.

ELECTRO-POISE. SIMPLE IN CONSTRUCTION. PERMANENT IN DURATION. EASILY APPLIED. ITS SKILLFUL USE QUICKLY LEARNED. The Electro-Poise is an Instrument for THE CURE OF DISEASE WITHOUT MEDICINE.

BASED ON NEW THEORIES OF THE CAUSE AND CURE OF DISEASE, it deals with the electrical and magnetic conditions of the body and the gases surrounding it in the atmosphere, controlling these conditions at will. It is not electricity. DISEASE is simply impaired vitality. The Electro-Poise constantly adds to the vitality and only assists nature, in Nature's way, to throw off the trouble. A 48-page book, describing treatment and containing testimonials from all sections, and for the cure of all diseases, mailed FREE on application. Address ATLANTIC ELECTRO-POISE CO., Washington, D. C. Charleston, S. C. Atlanta, Ga. W. M. WATSON, Agent, New Bern, N. C.

Small departures from the truth are called "white lies," but there is really no such thing as a white lie. The whitest lie that was ever told was a black as perdition.

The book that makes the greatest stir in society is the well filled pocket book.

The Best in the World. Senator Henry C. Nelson, of New York, writes:

"On the 27th of February, 1888, I was taken with a violent pain in the region of the kidneys. I suffered such agony that I could hardly stand up. As soon as possible I applied two ALLOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS, one over each kidney, and laid down. In an hour, to my surprise and delight, the pain had vanished and I was well. I wore the plasters for a day or two as a precaution, and then removed them. I have been using ALLOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS in my family for the last ten years, and have always found them the quickest and best remedy for colds, strains and rheumatic affections. From my experience I believe they are the best plasters in the world."

There are twenty representatives in Congress who are under 30 years of age.

Some Foolish People Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. It's easy enough—the Ball corset. That's because it has coils of fine wire springs in the sides. They clasp the figure closely, but yield to every motion.

They "give", but they come back. So does your money—if you've worn a Ball corset two or three weeks, and find that you don't like it.
