which in 1880 grew 500,000 bales of cotton and 250,000 bushels of corn, in 1891 grew 1,000,000 bales of cotton and 500,000 bushels of corn, and receiving tens of millions of dollars for truck and fruits, which made but a small item in the total.

THE New York Courts decided that Samuel J. Tilden didn't know how to write a will, and now a Tennessee Court has decided that ex-President James K. Polk didn't know how, either. He died in 1849. He willed his estate to Mrs. Polk during her life time, and at her death to the State of Tennessee, in trust, to be occupied by that one of the heirs who might prove the most worthy relative bearing the name. During the life of Mrs. Polk there was no movement to set aside the will because as far as she was concerned the will was valid, but on her death, which occurred last year, Tasker Polk, of this State, contested the will on the ground that it entailed the property, and was sustained by the Court because which the case was tried. The estate is now worth about $600,000, which will be divided among some sixty heirs.—Wil. Stan.

While insisting upon an economical administration, we are not of those who approve needless appropriations for unnecessary objects. When Mr. Simmons was in Congress he distinguished himself to the people by hearing appropriations heard in the district.

about North Carolina. There never was a more persistent, determined, ceaseless, aggressive friend of appropriation for North Carolina for her rivers and harbor, than this distinguished Senator (Mr. Ransom) who has succeeded in obtaining for the State of North Carolina enormous appropriations for the improvement of her rivers and harbors, and her people are grateful to him, as they ought to be. He has succeeded in obtaining for the harbor of Wilmington $2,919,000, besides the appropriation contained in the river and harbor bill which I shall have the honor to call up next."

Mr. Allison—And the improvement at Wilmington is not completed yet?
Mr. Frye—It is not completed yet. In addition to that, $1,600,000 has been expended on Wilmington, Cape Fear river, and on the harbor, for light houses, buoys, monuments and charts, all during the last fifty years, and the laws of North Carolina provide today that any coastwise vessel of the United States, whose captain knows that harbor just as well as the pilot knows it, and who in the darkness of night or the light of day can put the nose of the vessel right up to the wharf in Wilmington just as well as the pilot can do it—the laws of North Carolina provide that that vessel shall pay one pilot for going up the river to Wilmington, then when he loads his lumber to go out, he shall pay another pilot to take him over the bar. No vessel can go into that port, where we have expended these millions of dollars in order to make it safe and descent for our vessels to go into and out of, without paying four pilots at least $150."

This occurred the day before Senator Ransom had to go to Charlotte with Senator Hill, but busy as he was he secured an amendment to Frye's bill not to let it go into effect until July 1st, 1893. It is singular, but Ransom seldom leads a forlorn hope. He goes in to win, and does it.

For sleeplessness and nervousness, take Lemon Elixir. For loss of appetite and debility, take Lemon Elixir. For fever, chills and malaria, take Lemon Elixir. Lemon Elixir will not fail you in any of the above diseases, all of which arise from a torpid or diseased liver, stomach, kidneys, bowels or blood. Prepared only by Dr. H. Waves Mountain High—Or somewhat less—threaten, during a storm, to engulf the venturesome voyager on the tempestuous Atlantic. Sometimes he is torn with deep despair at such a juncture, sometimes he is rather glad of it. The latter condition of mind obtains when he is sea sick. The diabolical quailms which he has undergone, and which are now aggravated ten-fold by the pitching of the ship, render him in a measure indifferent to his fate. This picture is scarcely exaggerated, as people who have been violently sea sick will assure you. Travelers and tourists by sea and land should always be provided with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a means of counteringacting sea sickness and the nervous disturbance or stomachic trouble begotten of uncomfortable transit by land or water, or unwholesome food hastily swallowed at railway stations. Emigrants should supply themselves with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a family safeguard against malaria, stomach, liver and bowel complaints, kidney trouble and rheumatism.

When one dose of religion has lasted a man 47 years, it is well to keep an eye on him in business matters.

Caution. Imitations have been put upon the market so closely resembling ALLOOCK'S POREUS PLASTERS in general appearance as to be well calculated to deceive. It is, however, in general appearance only that they compare with ALLOOCK'S, for they are worse than worthless, inasmuch as they contain deleterious ingredients which are apt to cause serious injury. Remember that ALLOOCK'S are the only genuine porous plaster—the best external remedy ever produced; and when purchasing plasters do not only ask for but see that you get ALLOOCK'S POREUS PLASTERS.
