THE Republican forces are moving upon Minneapolis. The Harrison parlors were opened at the West Hotel on the first instant.

THIS is a busy, rushing, practical, selfish age, and happy is he who does not forget those great virtues—sentiment and principle.

GEN. HUTTON was sworn in as Senator from Virginia, on the first instant. His initial vote was for free coinage. Hill voted the same way.

THE friends of the river and harbor bill are becoming somewhat anxious as to its ultimate fate. The time of its final passage is wholly problematical.

ON the first of June the Philadelphia Record completed its fifteenth year as the "pioneer exemplar of successful journalism," during which time it has doubled its size and more three times tribbled its circulation.

THERE is to be no vote on the free silver coinage bill or on any amendment to it until after the Minneapolis convention shall have closed, and in all probability there will be none until after the Chicago convention shall have also come to an end.

"We have preached the doctrine that honesty and sincerity should be exacted from political parties. Let us not fall under the condemnation which waits on shifty schemes and insincere professions."

"I believe our countrymen are prepared to act on principle, and are in no mood for political maneuvering. They will not waste time in studying conundrums, guessing riddles or trying to interpret doubtful phrases. They demand a plain and simple statement of political purpose."

"If, inspired by the true Jacksonian spirit, we hold to the doctrine that party honesty is party duty and party courage is party expediency, we shall win."

AN Indianapolis dispatch of June 1, says: The flood continues to increase in magnitude and disasters are reported on every hand. Several persons are reported drowned and the indication now is that Indianapolis is about to experience the worst flood in her history.

COMMISSIONER RAUM, of the Pension Bureau, was again before the Senate subcommittee on deficiencies of the Appropriations Committee last Wednesday and explained the necessity existing for a deficiency appropriation of $7,000,000 on account of pension. This deficiency, it allowed will make the total pension payments for the year nearly $147,000,000.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Kinston College. W. P. Burrus & Co.—Bricks. Hackburn & Willett—Get in out of the wet. Winkelman's Diarrhoea and Cholera Remedy.

The executive committee of the New Berne Ladies Auxiliary to the World's Fair will meet Monday afternoon at six o'clock instead of this afternoon as at first announced.

Dr. G. L. Kirby, A. D. Ward, Esq., and Capt. D. J. Broadhurst will conduct the examination of applicants for the West Point cadetship on June 17, in the office of the County Sup's Public Instruction in Goldsboro, N. C.

A correspondent of the Kinston Free Press proposes Capt. W. W. Carraway for Congress from that district. Capt. Carraway is a man that is well known, and he is popular, possesses wide information, and would make a most worthy representative.

The depth of the excavation for the sewerage pipe has not been so deep in the portion of the system that has been constructed recently and the work has been progressing rapidly. The square bounded by Middle, South Front, Craven and Pollock streets, the main business square of the city, is now almost entirely by the part last completed.

There has been some talk of having the sewerage company to temporarily cease work owing to the fear that so much digging in hot weather might produce sickness. The Board of City Council held a special meeting last night and decided to let the work go forward until further notice. We are much pleased at this action. We like to see improvements and consider that those making them should not be hindered in any way except when really necessary.

The Beaufort Beside of Thursday says: "News reached here last evening of the death of John W. Stanton at his home on Core Creek at 1 o'clock p. m. He had been sick for several months, and was 46 years old. In his death Carteret county loses one of her most prominent citizens and the sad news will be heard with much regret. In him were the elements that go to make up men of high order." Mr. Stanton had relatives in New Berne and was quite well and favorably known here.

The commencement week of Davidson college begins tomorrow at 11 a. m., with the preaching of the Baccalaureate sermon by Rev. J. B. Sheaver, D. D., LL. D., of North Carolina; the Y. M. C. A. sermon will be preached at 8:30 p. m., by Rev. J. Y. Fair, D. D., of Va. The annual oration will be delivered on Wednesday, the 9th at 10 a. m., by Hon. J. J. Dargan, of S. C., and the Alumni oration by Hon. J. D. McIver, of N. C. The re-union of literary societies will take place on Tuesday the 7th; the junior oratorical contest Wednesday night and the graduating exercises on Thursday.

Church Service. Hancock Street Methodist Church—On Sunday—Sunrise prayer-meeting commences 8 o'clock. Men, women and children invited to make a little sacrifice and come.

Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., by the pastor, Rev. Jno. F. Butt. Subject: Old Time Religion. Preaching in open air, end of New South Front street, at 4 p. m. Everybody invited to come who wants to be a worker for the Lord.

Trenton High School Commencement. The closing exercises of Trenton High School will begin on the night of June the 15th by recitations from the primary classes. On the 16th, beginning at 10 o'clock will be recitations by the advanced pupils, and at 11 o'clock Dr. Dixon, President of Greensboro Female College will deliver the literary address before the school. At night there will be a concert by the school. The patrons and public are invited and a dinner will be spread on the grounds a basket laden with good things will be gladly received from any who feel disposed to bring one.

Superior Court. The case of Geo. W. Best, col., of Dover, who is charged with murdering his wife, Rachel Best, on the 29th of last December, by poisoning her, occupied the attention of court yesterday.

It was shown by the testimony that Best and his wife lived very disagreeably together. She had charged him with unfaithfulness, they had repeatedly quarreled, he had often beaten her and threatened to take her life, he had told it outside of his family that he could not live with her, and on the morning of the day on which she died he had told her it would be the last time he would tell her about his breakfast.

The family and a visitor all took breakfast, and nothing produced any harm. After breakfast the wife went with the visitor, who was starting home, to the train. After they had gone Best sent his step-daughter, a girl about entering her teens, off after wood. This left him alone in the house with the exception of a small, young child. He left for his work of cutting crosties before the girl got back with the wood, and did not return, as was sometimes the case before, until the next day.

At dinner, bread made from the same lot of flour from which breakfast had been cooked tasted so bad that the girl ate but very little of it, the little boy, the son of Best and his wife ate more, was made very sick, but the poison yielded to treatment and he recovered. The woman ate what she wanted of the bread but did not partake of anything else and she died that night in great agony, asserting that her husband had killed her. It was testified to that he had administered poison to his family on a previous occasion in the morning but after they had been sick through the day he gave them a remedy at night and the next morning they were well.

It was shown that Best was a vender of medicines, that he had offered to sell "rough on rats" two weeks before the poisoning of his wife, that the symptoms of her death, the post mortem examination and the analysis of her stomach indicated death by an irritant poison and pointed more particularly to arsenical poisoning.

The presence of arsenic in the bread used at dinner and in the dough from which it was made was indicated by several delicate tests. "Rough on Rats" subjected to the same processes gave the same results.

Messrs. Caho & Leigh and W. D. McIver represented the prisoner. Solicitor White the prosecution. After argument on both sides the Judge delivered his charge to the jury and they took the case.

The jury is composed of ten white and two colored men. About equally divided between residents of the county and of the city. At this writing the jury is hung.

Coming and Going. Mrs. L. H. Cutler left yesterday morning for Greensboro to visit her daughter, Mrs. Bertha Watkins.

Mrs. E. P. Cotton and Mrs. Geo. W. Kidder, who have just organized a Ladies' World's Fair Auxiliary in this city with a very bright outlook for usefulness, left—Mrs. Cotton to continue the work at Goldsboro, Wilson and other points, and Mrs. Kidder returning to her home at Falkland.

Rev. F. H. Johnson, D. D., of Elizabeth City, one of the trustees of Davidson College, came in on the steamer Neuse of the E. C. D. line and left by rail to attend a meeting of the trustees at the college next Tuesday. He will stop on the way at Goldsboro and preach tomorrow.

Mrs. Mary Duffy left to visit her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Coppedge, of Graham.

Messrs. Numa Nunn and Geo. Dall, who have been attending the District Straton Saddler Business College of Baltimore, returned home on the steamer Newberne of the N. W. & W. Direct line.

Mr. Jas. A. Bryan returned on the steamer Neuse of the E. C. D. line from a visit to relatives in Norfolk.

Mr. Chas. H. Brown, of Kinston, who has been attending Superior court, left, returning home.

Mr. Roscoe Nunn, Assistant Meteorological Observer, came down from Raleigh to spend a short time with his relatives in the city.

Miss Susie Danenburg returned from attending the Female Seminary of Staunton, Va.

Mr. W. H. Rogerson has moved from Boston to Newport.

Mrs. E. B. Ellis, who has been attending the commencements of the University and Peace Institute, returned home last night accompanied by her daughter, Miss Emma Kate Jones, who has been attending the Institute.

Columbian Exposition. Now that New Berne and Craven county are about to get a "boom" for the Columbian Exposition by reason of the Ladies' Auxiliary, it may be in order to say that "The World's Fair Visitors' Association of Ohio" have requested Rev. Edward Bull to act as their agent in assisting those who wish to attend the Fair. Through this agency the expense will be greatly reduced, and the convenience and comfort of the trip, as well as the profit to be derived from it, will be greatly enhanced.

The Picnic. Of the two picnic parties yesterday the Episcopalians led the way. Christ Church Sunday school and the mission school assembled at the church and marched down in regular order to the steamer Kinston, Capt. T. G. Dixon, at the O. D. wharf and they started about 8:30 a. m. for Spring Garden where they spent the day.

A slight shower caused them to spread dinner on the boat, instead of in the grove as first contemplated, but interfered no further with the plans for the occasion.

A brass band was along and merry dancing accompanied its lively music. Messrs. G. H. Roberts, E. B. Roberts and S. R. Street, in connection with the rector, Rev. T. M. N. George, were in charge and the expression of pleasure testified to the success of their efforts. All returned happy, delighted and wanting to go again.

The Presbyterians assembled at their lecture room and after brief and appropriate religious exercises marched to the foot of Craven street and embarked on the steamer Trent, Capt. Dave Roberts, and after a pleasant run to Foy's mill, went ashore there for dinner, which was a sumptuous one, and was accompanied by about 24 barrels of lemons.

After dinner they re-embarked, kept on up the river to Pollockville, spent a short time there and then started for home, joyous and singing. It was pronounced a grand time by those so fortunate as to be along.

ROCKY MOUNT. In the coming great industrial city of North Carolina if not of the South, therefore there can be no better investment in the world than Rocky Mount, we would therefore advise every one wishing to make money to attend the great auction sale of lots, which will be held at that place on the 15th of June. There is no question that a person purchasing lots on that day will be able to a great deal more than double their money within the next few months, at that portion of the town lying between Thomas St. and Tar river now owned by the Rocky Mount Improvement and Manufacturing Company, will soon be the most valuable portion of Rocky Mount. One of the largest buildings in Eastern Carolina is now being erected on the property, and arrangements have been made by which large manufacturing plants will be erected at that place during the summer. Architects are also making plans and specifications for a large number of elegant private residences, the erection of which will be commenced at once. The 15th day of June will be one of the biggest days Eastern North Carolina has ever seen. There will be an ox roast and a ball game, and any one buying a lot for $200.00 or over can have their R. R. fare refunded. It is going to be a big time. Every body should make it a point to be in Rocky Mount on June 15th.
