JUDGE GRISHAM is reported as saying that the use of his name as the candidate of the third party for President is unauthorized. This is like a great many other names that have been used in this State in connection with the third party—wholly without warrant either in law or conscience.—State Chronicle.

In a recent interview General Hampton is reported to have said that South Carolina would cast her electoral vote for Cleveland and Stevenson. South Carolinians are not likely to throw away the vote of their State at a time when liberty and free elections are the issue. The Palmetto State knows what bayonet rule means.

MR. BRACKINRIDGE, of Arkansas, democrat, has introduced in the House a bill to repeal the tax on State Bank Notes. The measure provides that after its passage no tax shall be laid or collected by the United States on the notes of any person or any State banking association, or of any town, city or municipal corporation, used for circulation or otherwise.

If Harrison is elected the South is to be bayoneted. Do not forget that.

VIRGINIA under Mahone Radicalism was made to drink the gall and bitterness of a corrupt rule. But North Carolina had a worse fate in Reconstruction days under the Holden-Kirk regime, and the domination of the black and tan party led by greedy and often rascally scallwags and carpet-baggers. It will be a very great course if a split among white leads to a return of the control of the State by the negro party.—Wilmington Messenger.

LOCAL NEWS.

The post-office at Goose Creek Island has been changed to the name of Lowlands.

While driving on Pollock street yesterday, Mrs. F. C. Roberts was thrown from the buggy. We are glad to say that she was only slightly hurt.

Today the time expires for listing taxes. If you have not yet attended to the matter go this morning, give them in and save yourself trouble and expense.

The College Institute building will be opened today at 11-12 o'clock in order to receive any books now out of the New Berne Public Library. Those who promised to present books and have not done so will be given the opportunity this morning.

The first cotton bloom has made its appearance at the JOURNAL office. It was sent by Mr. W. E. Grimley of Snow Hill. Mr. Grimley says it came from a ten acre field that was planted the last of April. The first bloom was discovered on the 25th inst. He also reports crops in good condition.

The State Press Convention meets at Charlotte, July the 27th. The queen city is making preparations for their reception. At the close of the session the Association will go on an excursion to Washington City and New York. We would be glad to have the Association meet in New Berne next year. What say our citizens?

The opportunity to attend the splendid exercises arranged for the Teachers' Assembly at Morehead, and to hear Rev. Thos. Dixon, of New York, preach and lecture, and Prof. Hamill's lectures, is one not to be lightly esteemed. A very good opportunity to hear all is afforded by the railroad. There will be low rate tickets Saturday night—$1.50 for the round trip—tickets good until Tuesday morning. Besides this there will be a special train Sunday morning, leaving here at nine o'clock and arriving before the morning service, at which Mr. Dixon is to preach. The fare on this train will be only $1.00 for the round trip. Sunday will be the last day of the Assembly.

Fire in Kinston. Yesterday morning, just before eleven o'clock, Mr. William Bond, who keeps a butcher's stall two doors south of B. W. Canady's hardware store, was startled by his neighbor, Mr. Wagner, with an exclamation that there was a great smoke in the attic of his establishment.

In a few minutes Mr. Bond's house was in a blaze—and in one hour it was totally consumed together with the store used by Mr. Wagner as a beer-bottling establishment.

Bond's house was insured, as also a part of his stock. The other house was the property of the McCoy heirs.

Death of Mr. Philemon Holland. Mr. Philemon Holland, one of the old and highly respected citizens of New Berne, died Tuesday night, June 28, at 11:30 o'clock.

The funeral services will be held from Centenary M. E. Church, this afternoon at five o'clock.

Mr. Holland was in the 70th year of his age, having been born the 8th of October, 1823, at Stocumb's creek, Craven county. He united with the Methodist church in 1843, and was married to Miss Margaret Pickett of Bogus in 1845.

He was an excellent and successful farmer, and followed that occupation until 1858, when he gave it up mainly on account of poor health, partly induced by a severe fall from a runaway horse, and moved to the city to engage in quieter occupations.

For over half his life he has been feeble, and a sufferer from repeated long and exhausting attacks of illness, similar to the one which has just ended his life, and they have many a time brought him to death's door, but he rallied again and again, even after hope had been abandoned by his anxious relatives and friends.

He was for some time city tax collector, and he also had held the office of steward and trustee in his church, of which he was ever conscientious member. He has for years been perfectly willing to die at any time.

His wife, four children and a number of grandchildren survive him. He had wide family connections and leaves very many friends in and beyond the city to regret his death.

Coming and Going.

Mrs. M. E. and Miss Sadie Manly and the family of Mr. B. E. Davenport returned from Morehead yesterday morning.

Mr. Frank Tidwell left for the State University to finish his law studies.

Dr. Wm. E. Hall of New York who has been lecturing at Morehead, passed through en route to Greenville to lecture to night. He expects to be in New Berne again in the fall.

The following left to spend some time at Morehead: Messrs. J. M. Howard and L. L. Hendon, Misses Mary Lucas and Lizzie Hancock, Mr. J. A. Arthur, a member of the University glee club, who has been making a short visit to Mr. H. D. Thomas, to take part in the club's concert at Assembly Hall last night, the other members of the club, which numbers sixteen, went down the previous night.

Mrs. Thos. Walter, children and nurse, came in from Washington on the steamer Newberne to visit her father, Hon. C. C. Clark.

Washington's Railroad Meeting.

The Washington Progress publishes the proceedings of the railroad meeting there. We give the following paragraphs:

It has been stated that Mr. McKibben the general manager of the road, and others representing its interests were in the town, on motion a committee, consisting of Messrs. Daugham and Jacobson were requested to invite them to come before the meeting and explain their plans. Mr. Winston, representing the road, stated that it would certainly be built, that as the map showed, the original line would run about 13 miles west of this place, but as New Berne had interested herself in getting the Company to deflect its route to go to that place, they were in hopes Washington would take an equal interest in having the road come to Washington, he showed the many advantages accruing from this road, and explained the difference in the cost of the two lines.

Mr. Jas. A. Bryan, of New Berne was next called upon to address the meeting. He did so in an excellent speech, forcibly setting forth the many advantages accruing to this section from the building of road, stating that Craven county or a portion of it, proposed to give $150,000 to secure this road, the Company agreeing to maintain a traffic bridge over Neuse river.

After hearing the speeches, on motion the following resolutions were adopted: a committee to investigate the road and report to some adjourned meeting as to what the township could give to secure the road to be built through Washington: B. B. Nicholson, C. M. Brown, Jones Spencer, N. S. Falford, W. H. Short, S. T. Beckwith, D. N. Beag, W. P. Baughman.

The Journal and the people of New Berne are glad to see the people of Washington so interested in the matter. By united action we can certainly secure the road. Apathy might lose it and it is lost—built near without coming to either place—none of the inhabitants will ever get the opportunity to have a through trunk line again. Let all keep their interest up and work for the road.

Greensboro's Bar-Rooms to Close.

Our neighbor, Greensboro, will soon be a dry town.

At a meeting of the City Fathers Friday night a vote was taken which resulted in a tie (five for and five against) but the Mayor decided the question by voting against the saloons. The bartenders will be given three months to close out their business.

On Friday two of Greensboro's most prominent ladies, one of them the wife of a minister, went around and secured over 800 signatures to a petition against saloons. The result of the meeting, it is said, was like a thunder clap to the whisky men, who had not dreamed of such a result.—Twin City Sentinel.

Scaring and Pounding.

Save me from my friends. Some one has said that they were always afraid of their friends, that when injured it was always by professional friends. This may be so but I must say I am not afraid of my friends.

A timid girl was once very much frightened when one who very much admired her, after visiting her a good while with but little faith in his expected success to win her hand, and then as a partner for life worked himself up to the point to make a proposition for marriage. He felt himself surely defeated when in reply she said to him: "You scare me, you scare me" and taking that as an evidence of his rejection said no more to her. As the subject, but she found out her mistake, and after waiting and waiting and waiting to have the same proposition made to him one night about 10 o'clock when he was about to leave, "Johnny, Johnny, scare me again, scare me again!" So, some my age we were called on one night by those who said they were our friends and we got such a pounding from them at the Parsonage that if not scared we were completely conquered, and again Monday night almost before the wounds were healed from the other pommeling, they came in crowds again with flour, sugar, lard, butter, &c., &c., and in addition a pair of snow white galloways to hang us on, for which we were melted in gratitude, and hope they may be hung on the same galloways which they want us to hang on. And when they ask we need it they can scare us again.

Jno. F. Butt, Pastor of Hancock Church.

TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY.

Comforting Each Other During the Storm—Lecture, Addresses and Reading of Papers—Historical Society Organized.

(SPECIAL JOURNAL CORRESPONDENT.)

SEVENTH DAY, TUESDAY, JUNE 28, 1892.

Another unpleasant day. The storm continued with great force all night long, and the noise caused by the wind and waves disturbed or prevented the slumbers of many. Very little damage was done, however. The boats remained secure at their moorings. Only a bath house went down—just by the bath itself.

This item was whispered to my ear. A suitable heading would be "Here's the young dream," but we prefer "Pluribus Unum," as it is, no doubt, only "one of many." The storm wind and terrible beating of the waves had driven sleep from many eyes, and cast a shadow of anxiety, or perhaps of fear over many hearts. In the late gloaming—say about four in the morning—a pair of lovers, seeking rest but finding none, dropped into an alcove, to encourage each other's heart, amid the darkness and danger, by mutual sympathy and tenderness. The room on one side of the little safe (heaven) was occupied by four festive young ladies, from whose eyes sleep had also departed. To characterize all concerned, after a political method, we would say, the young man was a "radical," the lady a "conservative," while the "four" evidently belonged to the "third party." Between them there was only the slender lattice of an open window. We shall not tell how close were the embraces, nor how warm, and sweet, and numerous were the kisses, nor how soft and tender were the low spoken words. The "two" know these things full well, the "four" have a keen appreciation, but you and I, dear reader, are left entirely to our imagination. Moral, when you go into the alcove, look well to the lattice.

At the hour for opening, the devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. Hogwood, of the Oxford Female Academy.

Hon. H. A. Gudger, of Asheville read an interesting and excellent paper on "Popular Education," which will be published.

Mr. McIver, President of the Normal and Industrial School for girls at Greensboro, made a fine presentation of his institution, as to its object, purposes and hopes, spoke of it as the offspring of the Teachers' Assembly, said it should be always considered as a part and parcel of the general educational work of the State, never to be divorced from the public school, and declared that he did not intend to turn out a single teacher, who was not a fighting friend for popular education.

Dr. Shearer, President of Davidson college, said he had spoken on a hundred platforms concerning educational work by the church. He considered education to be the handmaid of religion. It was within the province and the power of the church to make education the handmaid of religion in North Carolina.

A Historical Society was organized, with a membership of about sixty. The Constitution adopted was formulated in large part after the State Historical Society of Wisconsin. The officers elected were: President, Dr. Geo. W. Graham, Charlotte; Vice-Presidents, Hon. David Schenck, Greensboro; Prof. Alex. Graham, Charlotte; Col. W. H. S. Burgwyn, Henderson; Maj. Graham Daves, New Berne; Col. Jas. D. Cameron, Asheville; W. D. Pyden, Eq., Edenton; Hon. Geo. Davis, Wilmington; Capt. Samuel A. Ashe, Raleigh; Dr. T. E. Kingsbury, Wilmington; Col. Julian S. Carr, Durham; Hon. Thos. J. Jarvis, Greenville; Dr. W. S. Currell, Davidson college; Dr. Charles E. Taylor, Wake Forest; Gen. Rufus Barringer, Charlotte; Dr. Thomas F. Wood, Wilmington; Col. A. F. Davidson, Asheville. Corresponding Secretary, Edward A. Alderman, Greensboro; Recording Secretary, G. A. Grimley, Greensboro; Treasurer, Stonewall Durham, Elon college; Librarian, J. C. Birdsong, Curators—ex officio—Hon. Thomas M. Holt, Governor, Hon. Octavius Coke, Secretary of State, Hon. S. M. Finger, Sup't. of Public Instruction.

Dr. Hall of New York put in his lecture on "How to get Married and how to stay so," as a kind of after dinner speech, that is he delivered it in the ball room, just after dinner was finished. This is a lecture which was very highly appreciated in New Berne. It was delivered today under very unfavorable circumstances. The confused noise of the wind and waves, and the cattered condition of the audience— they being distributed all over the room, and in the balconies above— detracted much from the effect.

Professor Alderman, of Greensboro, gave us at the night session, a thoroughly well prepared and admirably presented address on "Our Needs." It ranks among the best papers presented thus far.

We will only take time in closing, to say that "our crowd" like all similar gatherings, comprises a large number of beautiful ladies, and among them New Berne has more than one who stands out in the front rank.

A "Leap Year German" is making things lively in the ball room.
