REPRESENTATIVE O'FARRALL, of Virginia, says the Third party will not carry a Southern State Correct.

It now seems that Grady and Koonce will lock horns in the Third district. Tiger and Wild-oat! Won't the wool fly!

"The Old Roman," Allen G. Thurman, says: "The renomination of Cleveland is a just tribute to his sterling merits as a man, a citizen and a Democrat."

W. R. LINDSAY, chairman of the People's party State committee, has called a State convention to meet at Raleigh on the 16th of August to nominate candidates for State offices and electors.

ONLY five of the annual appropriation bills have gone to the President for his approval. Six bills are still in conference, or the conference reports upon them have not been acted upon, and three have not been passed by the Senate.

THE Democrats are walking right over the track in North Carolina. Republicans, Third party men and Prohibitionists, are consulting, but they haven't yet devised ways and means to defeat the Democracy. It cannot be done.

THE Washington Post says that one Western Senator pays for the board and lodging of himself, wife and one servant at a fashionable hotel $1,800 per month; a middle State Congressman pays $1,200 per month for himself and wife; another $1,000.

THE widespread prevalence of cholera in Asia and in Eastern Europe lends force and cogency to the instructions issued by the Surgeon General of the Marine Hospital Service to the Government officers under his control. Except through neglect or dereliction of duty no importation of the dreaded pestilence could possibly occur.

and sleepless vigilance is not too high a price to pay for immunity from this scourge.

THE Carnegie industry by its own claim has been built up and maintained on the proposition that it would offer its workmen a condition of superior comfort if the American people would tax themselves on their iron purchases. The American people have kept their part of the agreement. Is the Carnegie industry keeping its part? We say no. We say further that this agreement, maintained now by the people for more than thirty years, gives them the right to demand of this iron industry in Pennsylvania that it shall accede to reasonable terms, take for a time reasonable profits, if the need be, and give those men work—in Indianapolis (Ind) News, Dem.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Elon College.
Big watermelon wanted.

W. Bellard—U. Telephone Co.

Weather today: Generally fair, slightly cooler in central portion.

Mr. J. K. Willis has placed in a prominent position in his marble yard two tastefully ornamented monuments of beautiful Georgia marble.

One of New Berne's bicyclists rides around on hot days guiding the vehicle with one hand and holding an umbrella over himself with the other.

Rev. D. W. Davis, who a little over a year ago conducted a successful revival in the Church of Christ in this city will begin a protracted meeting in Greenville next Sunday.

The steamer Neuse took out about 2,000 barrels of cantaloupes and 500 barrels of potatoes yesterday, besides other truck. The former are bringing $2.00 to $2.25 per barrel, the latter about $1.50.

Mr. John H. Matthews is canvassing to secure the names of those who will form a party of excursionists to spend a week at Ocracoke, the date to be chosen by those who go. A trip to Ocracoke is a pleasant one.

Ex-Senator Geo. Green and Sheriff Lane were in the city. They both report much damage from the heavy rains, but the jovial Sheriff, who always looks on the bright side, says that the sweet potato crop is all O. K.

It is stated in an exchange that the Grifton church was the only one fully represented in the New Berne District Conference at Beaufort. The pastor and all four of the delegates, from Hancock Street Church were in attendance besides two of the alternates and other members who were there as visitors.

The campaign is opening and a hand will be greatly needed. We hoped, ere this, that the one recently organized would be well under way and be ready for service, but a room for practice has not been secured. Some of the members are very much interested. We hope to hear a cheering account from them soon.

The New Berne engine won in both contests at Asheville, and it was an easy victory. She had no competitors! Under the premium regulations a prize of $50 was to be given for quick steaming, and another of $25 for distance. These are the prizes she won. The premiums offered were larger in case other engines had entered.

Another furniture store is added to those in New Berne. Mr. W. H. Hooten received his first supply on Monday and has now got the lower floor of his store adjoining the New Berne engine house packed with furniture of different grades. Among it are some very pretty sets. Another lot is on the way with which he will fill the upper floor. Mr. Wooten was burned out in the fire which destroyed Dr. Leinster Duffy's uptown property and he is pluckily coming again.

Elon College.
Concerning the advertisement of Elon College in this issue, Dr. John S. Long, who delivered the Literary Address before this Institution at its last Commencement, says of it, "that it is the most marvelous growth of literature, learning and zeal, for a short time, this country has ever produced. It is not yet two years old, and yet it had near 150 scholars at its last closing, is illustrating with practical force the splendid theory of co-education, and is shedding the light of christian knowledge over one of the fairest countries the sun ever rose upon. The founders of this college went into the forest, and put up two fine brick buildings, one for boys and the other for girls, at a cost of $58,000.00, every dollar of which has been raised. The chapel is a gem and the literary halls are very tasteful. The groves around the college are large, open and beautiful. Comfortable houses for the professors, a neat little village and the great railroad are the ornaments and the chartered privileges of the situation. Rev. W. S. Long, D. D., the oldest of five brothers, all of them men of mark and mental opulence, is the cultured head of Elon College. Let the people of the East get close to this young giant, and study its educational promise."

How Are They in Craven?
The public roads and bridges and sign boards we mean. Are they in a creditable condition and do they come up to the requirements of the law? We are satisfied that they nothing like come up to these requirements.

There are dangerous bridges in many places and at some points the roads are not sufficiently wide for easy passage. In other places they could wonderfully be improved by grading and repairing at only a slight cost. Also sign and mile post should be more plentiful for the benefit of strangers.

In Beaufort county there is complaint along the same line. The Gazette says: "Our attention has been called to the fact that the roads of the country are in bad condition. There are no sign boards in some sections. A preacher last Sunday got lost and failed to reach his appointment. This is no joke, we will give the preacher's name and the matter ought to be attended to. Are the supervisors doing their duty? Are they complying with the law? Will each one ask himself these questions?"

The Louisville, Ky., Home and Farm an admirable paper for general information says that it is cheaper for each farmer to pay $100 out of his pocket to secure perfect roads than to be compelled to buy and support an extra horse or two to draw loads over roads that are almost useless in winter. It goes further and cites an illustration upon this important subject.

"What we need," says a man blind in one eye, "is not good roads, but good markets."

Well, good roads lead only to good markets.

Two roads lead to Nashville: one good and easy, one rough and worn out.

A farmer on each carries his load of farm products to market. Laying on the good road, Farmer A. can carry twice the load Farmer B. can carry, for he lives on the worn out road. Both sell their products and get exactly the same price. It has cost Farmer B. more to bring his wheat or cotton to Nashville, but the buyer does not care for this, and he certainly is not going to pay Farmer B. for living on a bad road.

It is the common of the farmer above everybody else to have good roads and to have them good all the year around. It costs much to haul your products to market and to haul your supplies home.

On a good road, one horse and one man can do as much as two horses and two men. A wagon will last twice as long rolling over a smooth road as it will rolling over a rough road.

Here is an expense that must be reduced. It is heavy, and increases the cost without increasing the price of every bushel of wheat and every bale of cotton.

Farmers, what will you do about it?

Coming and Going.
Rev. C. G. Vardell left yesterday morning for Goldsboro to attend a call meeting of Presbytery to take action on the call extended by the Goldsboro church to Mr. Miller, of Virginia.

The family of Dr. N. Street left to visit relatives in Kernansville.

The family of Mr. H. B. Lane left to visit relatives at Core.

The steamer Neuse brought in the following passengers: Judge H. R. Bryan and wife returning from Washington, D. C.; Mr. M. Makley, and children, who had started to visit relatives in Virginia, returning on account of the sudden illness of Mrs. Makley, who, we are glad to say, is now considerably improved; Mr. Walter Bellard, of Jersey City, the fresco painter, returning from a trip to his home (he is stopping at Hotel Albert); Dr. Geo. R. Bright of Elizabeth City, on a business trip to New Berne; Mr. H. T. Wilson and family, of Louisville, consisting of his wife and seven children, en route to spend some time at Morehead.

Mr. J. C. Long and family, of Harlowe, left on the steamer Neuse to visit relatives near Hertford.

Miss Charlotte Grimes, of Grimesland, arrived to visit her uncle, Judge H. R. Bryan.

E. G. Hill, Esq., who is summering at Beaufort, came up to spend a few days in the city.

Mr. F. M. Harper, who has been visiting his brother, Mr. E. E. Harper, left to spend a few days at Beaufort.

A Scurry Piece of Business.
After the death of Chang and Eng, some of the "big Northern doctors" no less than Dr. Agnew, of Philadelphia, at the head—applied to the family for the privilege for the sake of science, etc., of making a post mortem examination. They offered to pay all expenses, and a regular contract was made out and signed.

The bodies were taken to Philadelphia, and the autopsy held in the presence of a number of physicians. When they were done with it Dr. Agnew telegraphed the family that the "bodies were at their disposal, and as the contract was signed on Sunday of course it was not valid." It is a fact the family then had to send money to pay the autopsy the bodies, as they paid the full amount on the carriage of the bodies to and from Philadelphia. They afterwards had to guard them for a long time, as threats were made of stealing their remains.

This can be verified by a member of the family now living in Raleigh.—Correspondence News and Observer.

His Mother's Bible.
Dr. Chas. Duffy, Sr., of Catharine Lane, Onslow county, an ardent admirer of President Cleveland, having read that his simple, Democratic tastes led him to put aside the costly and magnificent Bible which it had been designed to use in inducing him into the Presidential office in 1885, and to be sworn in upon a modest little copy of the holy scriptures, a gift from his mother, wrote to Washington for confirmation of the story and received in reply a letter from the President himself, on the subject. Dr. Duffy treasures the original among his prized papers—the following is a copy:

LAKEWOOD, N. Y., April 26th, 1892.
DR. CHARLES DUFFY,
My Dear Sir—Congressman Grady has sent me your letter, of the 18th inst., and requested me to answer it.

There is really but little to be said in regard to the incident you mention, and ordinarily I should not care to dwell particularly upon it, as it is a completely personal matter. As she died nearly three years before my inauguration, it seemed to me somewhat appropriate of the solemnity and impressiveness of the occasion, to take my oath of office upon that Bible. I did so, and had the clerk of the Supreme court of the United States to certify upon a blank as to the fact.

This is the entire story, and as it is given at your special request, I suppose no apology is necessary for rehearsing an incident not directly important to any one but myself.

Yours very truly,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

A Blissful Anticipation!
Being very grateful to the people for their past patronage and support, and thinking they would like to know something of my family history, I have concluded to write a short sketch of my life. I do not do this with any self-pride or conceit, but hoping that some good may come out of it. Many a poor boy whose circumstances are straitened and surroundings are such that the future looks only dark may be encouraged to make a short sketch of what a poor country boy has done. He will find that his life has been a true history of what a poor country boy has done. Of course it is useless to mention my name for all know that there is not another man on earth that would attempt to do what his friends, that the same Big Life whose purchase at 10, 50, and 60 cents on the dollar bring so much profit and causing so many smiles to the poor of our land.
