CLEVELAND is not the only public man in the history of the United States who has been nominated for the Presidency three times. Both Andrew Jackson and Thomas Jefferson ran for the office that number of times both being defeated in their ambition on the occasion of their first candidacy. The true disciple of these two great Democrats, Cleveland, has shown that their mantle has descended to him both in the character of his opinions and the importance of his public services in the past and will further show it in his election for a second term.

THE distribution of population by color, sex, and general nativity in 1890, by States and Territories, and for the United States as a whole, is given in Census Bulletin No. 194. The primary results of this first detailed count of population, according to the returns made under the eleventh census, are given as follows:

Aggregate population	62,622,250
Males	32,067,880
Females	30,664,370
Native born	53,372,703
Foreign born	9,249,547
White	54,983,890
Colored	7,638,360

THE STATE TICKET.

Far be it from us to object to any man's voting the Democratic State ticket. It was not put up simply to look at and smile on. It was nominated to be elected and it will be elected. It is Democratic to the core. It carries the seal of a Democratic State Convention, and that is enough to command the undivided support of North Carolina Democrats.

But, there are those who support the ticket who are not Democrats: they honestly differ with the Democratic party on questions of National policy but are in accord with it in matters relating to the State.

It is a matter of congratulation that Democratic administration has been such in North Carolina as to challenge such commendation, and we rejoice in the belief that it is prophetic of the election of Mr. Carr and his associates on the State ticket.

It is of the greatest importance that the State be wisely administered. The State protects life, liberty and property, and any man who votes for the Democratic State ticket contributes to the support of social order, individual prosperity and public liberty.

The gentleman composing the ticket nominated by the late Democratic Convention at Raleigh, are eminently worthy of the confidence of the whole people of the State.

Mr. Carr, in making his acceptance speech, said there were two things he knew how to do—tend a crop and vote the Democratic ticket. Mr. Carr is a modest man. There are many things that he can do, and there are many things that he cannot do. He can administer the State upon principles of justice and economy; he can conduct himself with gentlemanly propriety and magnify his office; he cannot betray trust reposed in him; he cannot be false to any man. Honor wraps him in that not a stain touches his garments.

So it is with each and every one of his associates on the ticket. Mr. Carr, Mr. Coke, Mr. Scarborough, and others of the ticket, have appeared in the canvass. Every where they have been cordially received and greeted with applause. All the signs are propitious. Chairman Simmons has his shoulder to the wheel and the Democratic car is moving right on to victory.

Then, while we regret that there are those in the good old State who were rocked in the cradle of Democracy, who are not giving to the National Democratic ticket the support to which it is entitled on every principle of party fealty, we rejoice in their support of the State party organization, and the confident assurance it gives of the triumphant election of the State ticket.

A TEXAS farmer is informed that the difference between the Democrats and the Republicans on the silver question, defined by the recently adopted platforms, is this, that the Democrats are clearly for the free coinage of both silver and gold dollars, provided the silver dollar have the same intrinsic and exchangeable value as the gold dollar, while the Republicans have declared for something that is not easily understood. They say: "The Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals." The Eastern and Northern Republicans assert that this does not mean the free coinage of any sort of a silver dollar, while those of the West and South say it is an out-and-out plank for the free coinage of the depreciated silver dollar.—Baltimore Sun.

Opening the Canal. The most acceptable proposition that can be made to persons troubled with chronic constipation, is to open that important canal—the bowels. That proposition can be carried out by the parties interested if they resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most effective, most genial alternative extant. It is the mistake of many otherwise sensible people, that they resort to drastic or, in other words, violent purgatives. Without exaggeration, this is highly injurious, since such medicaments weaken the bowels besides convulsing both them and the stomach with pain. Relief sought from the Bitters comes freely enough, but they never produce pain, excessive action, or subsequent weakness of the bowels. Liver and kidney trouble, malaria, dyspepsia, lack of stamina and a tendency to rheumatism, are remedied by this pleasant substitute for drenching cathartics.

THE STAGE AND THE PULPIT. Rev. F. M. Shront, Pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 26 lbs. in weight." Arthur Love, Manager Love's Fanny Hall, Conington, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption beats 'em all and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it." Free trial bottles at F. B. Duffy's drug store. Regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

Some Foolish People Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. BIG IKE'S

COLUMN.

KEEPING EVERLASTING AT IT BRINGS SUCCESS.

Advertising is the key note to success. The most successful merchant in the whole county will tell you so. There is no merchant in the town of New Bern who can afford to put as many dollars in advertising as Big Ike, because he sells therocks and trusts no living man.

By selling for Cash enables me to put five times as much in advertising as the credit man does, hence the people need not think Big Ike is investing all his profits in advertising.

Will soon be time for the Colored people to have their Fair. Remember Big Ike will give the person who trades the largest amount with him a Five Dollar Bill (during the week). The customer who trades the next largest amount during Fair week will get a prize of Three Dollars, next largest Two Dollars. So you see Big Ike will give Ten Dollars during Fair week in solid cash.

I fear very few colored people read the JOURNAL. To my white friends who peruse Big Ike's two columns I trust they will inform their colored friends of the treat laid up in store at Big Ike's during Fair week which will be Aug. 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, '92.

To every reader of the JOURNAL, you can save your subscription if you trade the amount of Ten Dollars with Big Ike during the year; hence the JOURNAL cost you nothing.

Do not your wife and children often ask you the question when you return home from New Bern, Did you see Big Ike? Don't your children often say let me go to town with you; I want to see Big Ike.

Any person who is not really able to subscribe to the New Bern JOURNAL, that desires to read Big Ike's ads, can send him their names and Big Ike will send them THE WEEKLY JOURNAL for six months free of charge. This offer stands good for thirty days.

Not the fire bell, but Big Ike's Auction Bell. When he opens his auction sales on 8th of August and exclaim to the people in mighty thundering tones.

Thirty days means thirty years. And thirty years means never—Save your wife and children's tears. By paying cash forever.

I have the largest Stock of Clothing in the City of New Bern bought at 50, & 55c on the dollar of New York Cost. Ask yourself the question, It is not to my interest to examine Big Ike's stock before I buy.

Is it my desire to reduce my two stocks so I can conduct the two in one building. I prefer having an eye over my business, so you can get some bargains by looking over my stock.
