THERE is nothing now to prevent an adjournment of Congress except the dead lock in the House over the World's Fair amendments to the Sundry Civil appropriation bill. The Senate is through its work and waiting for the House to take action on that bill.

THE Boston Journal, an organ of the Protectionists of New England says that the McKinley tariff has given us, among other blessings "a favorable balance of trade to the amount of nearly $203,000,000." It was doubtless the McKinley tariff that also sent out the two or three cargoes of flour to feed the starving people of Russia.—Phil. Record.

CONGRESSMAN WATSON, of Georgia, is being investigated. He has published a book, in which Congressmen are charged with drunkenness. He specially charged that a member made a speech while utterly drunk. During the setting of the investigating committee it came out that Judge Cobb, of Alabama, was the member alluded to. If Mr. Watson's reputation depends upon his proving that Judge Cobb is a drunkard Watson is a gone coon. Judge Cobb is a leading Methodist and no layman stands higher in the Church than he. There is no purer man in Congress than Judge Cobb.

THE ALABAMA ELECTION. The first battle of the campaign has been fought and the victory is ours. The opposition regarded Alabama as the field on which the organized Democracy would meet with crushing defeat on last Monday, but Democratic banners floated triumphantly in the beams of that day's setting sun.

If any where in the South there were portents of evil for the Democracy it was in Alabama. The election embraced every office from constable to Governor. Not a stone was left unturned, but every one was placed to impede the progress of Democracy.

The opposition had for its candidate for governor Ruben F. Kolb, a gentleman of high standing and remarkable personal popularity. From his youth up he had been known as "a model" among his fellows. He belonged to one of the first families in the State. His maternal uncle John Gill Shorter and Eli S. Shorter were the foremost men of their day—one the beloved Governor of his State, the other a distinguished member of Congress. Henry Russell Shorter, the youngest of the brothers is now the popular president of the Railroad Commission.

But Kolb was not dependent upon family influence to give him honorable position. He possesses within himself qualities that usually win men's hearts and command their support. He was a gallant Confederate. As Captain of artillery he won for his battery a reputation second to none in the army of the West. He is a practical farmer and was the first President of the National Alliance. With such a candidate it is not surprising that the opposition expected a sweeping victory in Alabama.

Now is this all. No where in the South has Mr. Cleveland met such opposition from leading Democrats as in Alabama. Senator Morgan—usually admitted to be the ablest man in the U. S. Senate—was the specially commissioned champion of Gov. Hill, and Senator Pugh was recognized at Washington as Mr. Cleveland's most uncompromising opponent. He had told the people of Alabama that Cleveland could not, and ought not to be elected. No where was Democratic revolt so ably planned or under such able generalship as in Alabama.

But, the decisive hour came on election day. It was the peoples' day. Slumbering energies awoke, and the yeomanry of Alabama rolled up the old time majority of over 50,000 for the regular Democratic ticket.

The position of Captain Kolb in Alabama was much the same as that which Col. Polk held in North Carolina in the day of his power. As it is in Alabama, so will it be in North Carolina. The Democratic party will sweep the State, because it is the party of the people, and the people are invincible.

When the Dinner Bell Rings. People ought to feel hungry, and when they feel hungry they ought to have good digestions. But, alas they don't—frequently. That plague alike of the just and of the unjust; of the abstemious and the glutton; of youth, middle age and life's decline—the protean imp, dyspepsia—exact dire penalties for appetite's appeasement in the shape of heartburn, wind on and uncomfortable distention of the stomach, and general disturbance in the gastric region. Dyspepsia is very generally accompanied by biliousness, irregularity of the bowels, insomnia and nervousness, for each and all of which, as well as their cause, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the nation's chosen remedy. Malarial, rheumatic and kidney troubles, lack of strength and flesh, and failure of appetite and the power to rest tranquilly, are also overcome by the Bitters.

Catarrh. Catarrh is the most disgusting ailment and yet many unnecessarily suffer with the disease. They will try local applications, which do no good whatever, but fail to try such constitutional treatment as is afforded by a use of B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm), which removes the mucus poison in the blood and thus eradicates the cause of the disease.

N. C. Edwards, Lampassas Springs, Tex., writes: "I was greatly annoyed with catarrh which from my nose was very offensive, and I used various advertised remedies without benefit until finally the use of B. B. B. entirely cured me. I am proud to recommend a blood remedy with such powerful curative virtue."

B. C. Kinard & Son, Towaliga, Ga., writes: "We induced a neighbor to try B. B. B. for catarrh, which he thought incurable as it had resisted all treatment. It delighted him and continuing its use he was cured sound and well."

BIG IKE'S COLUMN.

THE ORIGINAL AND Only Living Big Ike.

Notice of No-Co-Partnership!

After much consideration and due deliberation, I have concluded to never sail in the old ship—that ship—that has brought so many to ruin—Co-partnership. Often I am asked the question, "Don't you want a partner? you have more business than you can attend to. I am making no money and would like to close my business and go in with you, as you seem to be making all the money!"

Where did you get that Hat?

Is the question often asked Big Ike on the street. Let me look at it. I never saw any like it before. Some think it a Cleveland Hat, some a Harrison, and some a Weaver Hat. Makes no difference to Big Ike, he had just as leave get a dollar from a Weaver man as a Harrison man, and a Cleveland man as a Weaver man. All the same to him.

Boys, Take Warning!

I fear some of my friends will be disappointed this year in going to the Annual Picnic at Alum Springs. It comes off Tuesday after the first Sunday in August. Boys, take warning, NOT the first Tuesday in August.

The Right Time!

My brother merchants say it is too dull to advertise. I am doing more now than I ever done. I believe it pays better to advertise during the dull season.

A Penny Saved, Etc.

Has Hard Times got to your house yet? Have you made up your mind that you would try Big Ike next time you go to New Bern. Next year promises to be the hardest year Eastern North Carolina has ever experienced. What will the harvest be? Is the daily study of every farmer in the country. Will he have enough to satisfy the mortgage he gave last Spring.
