Ex Congressman Benjamin Butterworth, of Ohio, who has not been in New York for almost a year, loomed up at the Fifth Avenue Hotel Friday. "No, I am not in politics now," he said. "I am engaged in protecting the hearthstone of B. Butterworth, and making a desperate effort to keep the wolf a few thousand miles from the door. I am now a plain lawyer in Cincinnati, with sufficient number of clients to make life a pleasure rather than a burden. Do you know there are hosts of good people in this world? I have always found that the man I don't like is the man I don't know. I prefer religion to politics."

The big Morehead meeting of the States business men comes off tomorrow.

The Young Men's Christian Association are working up a mid summer concert which will soon take place.

There is a hen in James city which has just laid 4 eggs in two days—a large one in the morning and small one in the afternoon. They are on exhibition at the Fair.

A daily special train will be run on regular schedule over the A. & N. C. R. for visitors to the Fair. It will arrive each afternoon at 6:15 and leave each morning at 9:45.

The large cedar poles put up by the telegraph company are very fine ones but they will not be much of an ornament to the city without a suitable coat of paint. We hope they will receive it.

Rev. Rufus Ford and wife have the sympathies of our citizens generally in the death of their infant daughter Hattie Fry, aged five months, which occurred Sunday morning at 7 o'clock, after a brief illness. The funeral will be at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. Ford, who was out of the city, returned last night.

Rev. Homer T. Wilson, of Louisville, Ky., who with his family is summering at Morehead preached Sunday night in the Methodist Church of that place—both congregations of the town uniting in the service. The Sunday previous he conducted services in the Baptist Church. The sermons on each occasion is very highly spoken of by the hearers.

Mr. Samuel H. Howell died Sunday morning at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Howell on Queen street near the depot, aged 35 years. Mr. Howell recently had an attack of malarial fever from which he had nearly recovered but he took a relapse about a week ago which ended fatally as stated. The funeral will take place this morning from the residence at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends are invited.

Rev. J. W. Lee, of Greensboro, passed through last night to spend some time at Morehead, where one of his daughters has been spending several weeks with friends. Mr. Lee has just closed a protracted meeting at Norwood, near Salisbury, which resulted in sixty conversions, and the reconciliation of neighbors who had been at variance for years. The Methodist church received 27 of the new members. Others went to the Presbyterian and Baptist churches.

A Northern Relative of Captain Gray Murdered.
Thursday, Mr. Andrew J. Borden, a wealthy banker, and his wife were brutally murdered in cold blood in broad daylight in their home at Fall River, Mass. Their heads were terribly cut and beaten in, apparently with a hatchet. Mrs. Borden's maiden name was Miss Abbie D. Gray, and she was a niece of our townsman, Capt. S. H. Gray.

The murder was a mystery. As there was no robbery or attempt at robbery, it was first supposed that some one had killed Mr. Borden out of revenge, and that the murder of his wife was only because she was in the way of accomplishing the murderer's prime purpose.

Later investigation deepened the mystery and caused suspicion of the foul deed to rest upon members of the family for mercenary motives. Mr. Borden had been twice married, and a brother of the first wife was visiting in the house. The police have him under surveillance and are even closely watching the daughter, Miss Elizabeth, who seems nearly crazed by the affair. She is a daughter of Mr. Borden by the first marriage. The last Mrs. Borden, Capt. Gray's niece, had no children.

Mr. Borden was interested to a considerable extent in manufacturing interests, and was worth about $800,000. He was President of the Union Savings Bank, and besides that office he held important positions in several other important institutions.

THE COLORED FAIR.

A Good Opening—A Glance Through the Various Departments.
The colored Fair opened yesterday with a large attendance, with a great variety of exhibits and a larger number of them than at its last exhibition.
According to programme, a procession consisting of organizations, officers of the Fair and citizens led by the Samaritan Star band formed at the court house in the morning, paraded through the business part of the city and on some of the main residence streets and upon arrival at the grounds the opening exercises were held at the front of the main building.
They commenced after music by the band—with prayer by Rev. H. C. Phillips, pastor of St. Peter's Church, then the President of the Fair, M. P. Holley, made a few remarks on the need of all seeking to make it pleasant for visitors and urging those present to put forth their energies to make the Fair second to none.
Then Chief Marshal Oden introduced Ex-Congressman O'Hara, who made a short and appropriate address, impressing upon all the importance of showing advancement and development of hand and brain by placing on exhibition articles of their handicraft, the products of their shops, their looms, their barns and of all that pertains to industrial pursuits. An invitation was extended by the speaker to people of the whole State and of other parts of our country to come and view these evidences of their progress.
There are some exhibits in Machinery Hall but it is largely devoted to the serving of refreshments.
There are interesting farm and garden exhibits in considerable variety principally in the regular agricultural rooms, though there are a few in the fish and game building, but the exhibit in these lines and in stock is not so large as it should be. The colored farmers of the vicinity could rush in many of their best without delay this morning to the material advantage of the Fair. This is principally an agricultural section and special care should be taken in showing up attainments on that line.
There is quite a large display of good pianos and organs and there is a fair supply of antiques and curiosities well worthy of examination.
There is a large number of exhibits regularly and pleasing arranged in the floral department.
The culinary department has exhibits that show quite well.
One of the largest rooms of the building is filled with pretty fancy work, both ornamental and of practical utility.
The Star band given engineering music and others are expected to join in today. Games and other diversions serve to amuse when one wants a change from looking at the exhibits.

Raising Fruit.

Mr. Asa Moore, of Reidsboro, was in the city yesterday selling some good apples raised by him at that place. They were large apples—a common name but a choice apple.

They brought him sixty cents per bushel. Mr. Moore informed us that good developed trees yield twelve to fifteen bushels, and that 150 trees can be placed on an acre. Calculating at only ten bushels to the tree, and putting the price at only 60 cents per bushel, that would give 1,500 bushels to the acre, and $750 as the gross receipts.

Mr. Moore told us of fine peaches of his raising for which he received 50 cents per peck. This looks as if fruit culture with the proper varieties duly cared for can be made highly remunerative.

Two Excellent Sermons.

Large and attentive audiences greeted Mr. J. T. Hawkins at the Church of Christ Sunday. The morning sermon was "Legalisms on Love," and at night, "Christian Union."
Both sermons were masterpieces, and no loss forcible than they were plainly and simply told. Mr. Hawkins makes no display at oratory, but speaks with great earnestness and fervency.
A visitor at the night service was so impressed with the discourse as to address the following for publication:
EDITOR JOURNAL—Hearing so much comment on Dr. Hawkins' sermon on "Christian Union," on Sunday night, I want to ask if he cannot be induced to repeat it on Wednesday night.
Our having heard that subject so often discussed by many of my irreligious associates, and the question so often asked why children of the same Heavenly Father can not agree, we are anxious to hear all that throws light on that subject, for to those who are not religious 'tis a great hindrance to hear those who profess to love the Lord Jesus Christ so divided.

CLEVELAND & CARR CLUB.

Full Organization—Committees Appointed and the Work Started.
According to a call by President Watson the "Cleveland-Carr" Campaign Club assembled at the court house Friday evening, Aug. 5, 1892, at 8:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee on Constitution and By Laws, Hall Com., etc.
