PROFESSOR PAYNE, of the Goodshells observatory says there is no doubt that the planet Mars is inhabited.

SENATOR HILL did not visit Mr. Cleveland, as it was said he would. He simply called up Buzzard's Bay and then sailed down again.

The death penalty has been commuted to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life in the case of Col. H. Olay King, of Tennessee.

ALL the milling interests of California have entered into a combine with a capital of 10,000,000 and a daily output of 60,000 barrels of flour.

THE News and Observer says: Steps are being taken to push the formation of Democratic clubs and to this, we learn, Col. J. S. Carr will address himself with his usual vigor and intelligent action. The Democratic party will find the clubs this year a more necessary and more efficient party instrument than ever before. Col. Carr hopes to have the State covered with them.

FROM Asheville comes the intelligence that Col. T. B. Long, the veteran office-holding Radical, will be the nominee of the Weavers for Governor. That will fuse the two factions for Long is as good a Radical as Gen. Weaver, of the Northern army, and he is training with the enemies of good, honest government in North Carolina. By the way, where did he get his title? Was he in the war, or is he only a Yarboro House appointment?

THE Baltimore News thinks the story of Mr. Blaine's determination to take the stump for Harrison is a very thin campaign yarn, and says: "Fancy Mr. Blaine doing anything of the sort, even if he could. But physically, it is impossible. The ex-Secretary has probably done his last speech-making. Mr. Blaine, in his debilitated condition, traveling round, forgetful of the past, imploring people to vote for his beloved Harrison, would be a spectacle to move gods and men."

IT is greatly to be regretted that the colonizing enterprise of Baron De Hirsch in the Argentine Republic failed, for it had in it the promise of relief for a multitude of persecuted Jews who are forced to flee from Russia where life is no longer tolerable to them. We trust that the benevolence of the Baron and those who are engaged with him in ameliorating the condition of his unhappy race or those of it who are under the ban of despotism, may soon find another and better place to establish a colony which shall be successful.

A THIRD party orator in a speech at Omaha said that no dead American has a right to lie under a $150,000 monument while a live American woman is starving in a garret. This uncouth sympathy for the starving live American women is commendable, but there isn't any sense in questioning the right of a dead American to sleep under any kind of a gravestone, he sees fit. Isn't it better to spend $150,000 in a gravestone, and thus give work to workmen and, at that much money in circulation than lock it up in a vault? The dead man who spends his money that way is to be commended rather than jumped upon.—Star.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

H. Swert—Stall-fed beef.

It is stated that no less than 200 applications for admission into the State Normal and Industrial School for girls are now filed. It is evident that not all can be accommodated.

Timber for the Sugar Hill Tabernacle has commenced to be hauled. Mr. Baughnight delivered his contribution of staves, posts, etc., on Monday. The others will also deliver this week, so it is hoped all the carpenters who have volunteered, and all who desire to help, will be on the ground on Monday with their tools.

The State Chronicle says that the races there on the 17th and 18th give promise of close and exciting contests and the fastest trotting ever seen in the State. The entries are all in and in two of the races nine starters are named, three times as many as have ever started in one race over that track.

A Raleigh correspondent of the Virginian says that at day light on the 9th inst., Deputy Collector Massey made a raid near Varina, Wake county, and seized an illicit distillery, said by some to belong to Lynn Stephenson, and destroyed it. It was an 80 gallon still and admirably equipped, and had recently been in operation.

The Elders and Deacons' Institute for Bible study at Red Springs closed yesterday. The crowd on the Sabbath was enormous, but was even larger afterwards. A highly cultured gentleman, who had been at Northfield, Mass., remarked that the useful instruction imparted there far surpassed this famed summer school for Bible study. The success of the institute transcends the expectations of the most sanguine.

Leonidas McKnight, who robbed and attempted to murder Mrs. S. H. Taylor, an aged lady of Mt. Airy, on February 19, 1892, has been captured at last and is now in Surry county jail at Dobson. He was captured in Virginia. It is a clear case of burglary for which the penalty in this State is death. McKnight says his mother died in the insane asylum and it is likely he will set up insanity as his defence. His accomplice in the robbery was a grand-son of the lady robbed. He was apprehended at the time, convicted and sent to the penitentiary for ten years.

A recent number of the North Carolina Teacher contains the following announcement: We will gladly furnish any public or private school in North Carolina with a first class teacher, in any department, upon short notice, and without any charges or fees whatever. This is one of the special missions of The Teacher and we have already supplied several hundred school vacancies with teachers. Sometimes we have on file more applications for positions than we have schools, and at others we have more schools than teachers, but we generally succeed in satisfying all applications in due time.

The Rocky Mount Argonaut, which has been always best so active in working for the development of the interests of North Carolina, gets down to facts when it says that no town ever grew without the active assistance of its papers, nor papers grow and build up their localities without the assistance of the town. Business men should realize this and remember that in lending support to their local paper they are not only building up their own business, but are helping to support that which is steadily working for the growth of the whole town.

Another Scholarship in Davidson College.

The Charlotte Observer of yesterday prints the following:

Mr. G. W. Williams, of Wilmington, has at Davidson College endowed the Kate A. Williams scholarship—$1,500—in memory of his deceased wife, whose well-known benevolence makes this a peculiarly fitting tribute. By this agency some poor boy in perpetuity, who otherwise might find it impossible, can get a college education and qualify himself for a higher grade of work in the world. It will be remembered that Col. J. B. Carr, of Durham, lately endowed a similar scholarship in this college. It is greatly to be hoped that the example set in these cases may be followed in many others.

Too Little Politics.

This is what some of the spokesmen thought at the Cleveland and Carr Club meeting held at the court house Wednesday night of what the JOURNAL has had to say on that subject.

Well, we suppose that is true if they said so, and it is probably equally true that they are either holding or wanting to get in some office, that said it. As to the political position of the JOURNAL it is entirely unnecessary for us to make any explanation to those who have read it. It is thoroughly known in New Berne that this department is conducted by Gen. C. A. Battle and we do not hesitate to say that he has handled the subject with true and untiring devotion and that there has not been a single issue of the paper where the ring of genuine Democracy could not be found sounding the note of warning and importance of the occasion. In the issue of the Daily of the same day the meeting was held there were more than a dozen separate and distinct articles in behalf of the Democracy. In proportion to size no paper in the State has given more space to the Democratic cause than the JOURNAL. For a number of months the JOURNAL has been sending out from eight to ten columns of political matter each week and still this does not satisfy some. It may be that they expect a paper to yield its entire space to political issues or it may be that they would have us go down into abuse and calumny of everything that is in opposition to Democratic principles.

If it is either of these—a monopoly of our columns, or mud flinging, that these gentlemen want, you cannot get it from the JOURNAL. It does not propose to take it for granted that all opposition forces are fraud and devilry and that every root and fibre of the Democratic party is perfection. We fully realize the great importance of effectual work in the present campaign and the great responsibility resting upon clubs in winning the victory, but there is such a thing as prudence and fairness in all things. The club here is in pretty good shape and has the right men as officers to insure vigorous work, but we doubt the advisability of making any great demonstration at this time. It is not too early for preparations but there is danger of forest enthusiasm when a sufficient length of time exists to make a contraction before the final result.

To devote more space to campaign work than we have already been giving would be an imposition upon our business and it is unreasonable to ask it. As a business transaction we will cheerfully accept any proposition where the paper can be made of service at rates as near cost as disinterested parties can arrive at, and we have previously announced that all job work needed would be put at cost and in addition to that we will contribute our proportionate part to the campaign fund.

Please do not overlook the fact that the columns of a paper is the publishers' stock in trade, as much so as the merchants goods upon the shelf and that it is left with the editors to know how much and what kind of literature he shall issue.

Colored Fair Notes.

The big-headed, 7-year-old, 57 1/2 pound child at the Fair is a startling curiosity. He is under sized for his age all but his head and that is enormous. It measures 49 inches around and weighs 38 pounds, the body only 19 1/2 pounds as is found by placing one part on scales while the other rests on a platform. His head is so heavy that he has to lie down continually unless some one supports the head. His name is Henry Hargard and he was born in Hertford county, N. C.

A. Cohn of the New Berne music house makes a large display of elegant pianos and organs, of various leading makes, also Ames & Co., of Norfolk, represented by W. R. Barrington.

I. H. Smith and H. J. Green made advertising displays of organizations they represent.

Dennis Wadsworth shows newel posts, brackets, scrolls and other ornamental wood-work that is very creditable to his skill.

The passage on the upper floor serves at the art department. Portraits and other drawings and paintings cover the walls. The rooms on either side are well filled with quilts, tidies, lambricquins, ornaments; honey, preserves, cake, bread and other articles in the culinary line. The exhibits make a pretty display.

We are informed that in all the departments throughout the Fair there are about 2,500 articles on exhibition.

Prof. H. H. Bell is on the ground with hair ornaments of his manufacture and is also making use of the Fair to bring his Eureka preparation for the scalp into more prominent notice.

The best of order has prevailed the whole time and all visitors, resident or distant seem to have enjoyed the Fair.

J. U. Sutton & Son's exhibit of coffins of their own make, from native woods, shows good workmanship.

B. S. Hahn's horse Roonie was winner in the trotting race yesterday. Another horse of Mr. Hahn's won the running race.

Yesterday was the biggest day of the Fair. There was a large crowd and a scene of bustling activity all day long.

The wire walker was watched with interest. He performed difficult feats and elicited considerable applause.

The Charlotte baseball club came out victorious.

Business Men's Meeting.

The business men's meeting commenced at Morehead Wednesday morning. Mr. Alf. A. Thompson, of Raleigh, was chosen temporary chairman, and Mr. K. R. Jones, of New Berne, temporary secretary.

After appointing a committee of seven to report on permanent organization and to arrange a programme the meeting adjourned to 9 p.m.

At night the programme committee made a report recommending a State organization and the election of president and vice-president from each Congressional district, and a director from each city or town having a Chamber of Commerce or trade organization, and an executive committee of seven.

Alf. A. Thompson of Raleigh was elected president, and H. W. Ayer, of Raleigh, secretary and treasurer.

The next annual meeting will be held in Raleigh on Thursday following the meeting of the General Assembly.

Speaking by Stevenson.

At the meeting of the Cleveland and Carr Club, Wednesday night, a committee, consisting of Messrs. C. E. Foy, C. R. Thomas, M. DeW. Stevenson and Gen. C. A. Battle, was appointed to invite Hon. Adlai Stevenson to speak in this city and to correspond with the State executive committee, soliciting their co-operation in the matter.

A delegation was also appointed to attend the convention of Democratic clubs which meets in Raleigh on the 31st inst., at which time Hon. Adlai Stevenson is to be present and make an address. The New Berne Cleveland and Carr Club now numbers 225 members, and is consequently entitled to ten delegates. The following were appointed: Messrs. S. M. Brinson, S. C. Bragaw, J. J. Baxter, C. E. Foy, J. S. Long, J. W. Biddle, M. DeW. Stevenson, C. R. Thomas, A. H. Powell and Gen. C. A. Battle.

A Raleigh correspondent says Committees have been appointed by the local Democratic club to take charge of all matters relative to the visit of Gen. A. E. Stevenson here on the 31st of August, and also to arrange for the reception of the several thousand Democrats from all parts of the State who will be here.

Sidewalk Curbing and their Benefits.

The sidewalk improvement in progress on Craven street below East Front is being constructed in a thorough, substantial and durable manner. A good brick curbing several inches higher than the present sidewalk is being built to it along the whole square without break from East Front street to the gate entrance of the E. C. D. Steamship Company's warehouse yard.

The walk will be filled in even with the top of the curbing, the last four inches being shell rock marl, which in open places where used only by pedestrians makes a firm pavement. There will be a proper grade so that the water will run immediately off. The work is being done by the following parties who own property on the line: Messrs. J. R. Redmond, T. A. Green and S. W. Smallwood, and by Mr. E. Danenberg who occupies one of the buildings. These gentlemen are to be commended for their public spirit and for the good judgment displayed in making the work thorough. Now when the sidewalk is finished it will be there to stay—as the curbing will hold it in position and do away with the need of repeated repairs at short intervals.

A brick or concrete curbing is a fine thing for any sidewalk and is so essential in a much used business part of the city that they cannot be dispensed with without detriment.

It would be an immense improvement and convenience if such sidewalk curbing extended throughout the city and the saving in street labor would be so great after they were once established that we are satisfied that it would pay the city in the long run to build them.

Not only does the curbing make durable the work performed but it also adds in no small degree to the good appearance of the streets. The straight and even edges give a finished appearance which is not otherwise attainable.

If any one wishes an illustration of the advantage of good curbing and pavements notice the great change in Middle street from Pollock street to Trent river as compared with a few years back, when worn brick and plank pavements and the lack of curbing made the walks very uneven and disagreeable for use. Now a great change has come, and well-made curbing and fine concrete walks are the rule and every passer moves along with ease and pleasure and the handsomely finished sidewalks are a source of pride to all.

Important to Fruit Growers.

The collecting committee of the World's Fair managers for North Carolina, are anxious to procure some very fine samples of choice fruits—other than apples—which they will have put up in preservative fluid and enclosed in handsome jars, for the Chicago exhibit. All fruit growers in the State, who have or expect to have later on, such fruit, will please write at once, to Dr. H. B. Battle, chairman of committee on Horticulture, Raleigh, N. C.

The committee makes an urgent request to the fruit growers of the State to help them out in this very important matter, and trust they will inform Dr. Battle at once of what can be supplied. The parties furnishing fruit to the committee will in addition to the compensation they receive, be honored by having their names placed upon the jars. An immediate response is earnestly desired.

Store Burglary.

Mr. J. J. Tolson's grocery store was burglarized Wednesday night. The thief effected an entrance at the back door. He prized off a portion of the shutter that covered the glass part of the door and reaching his hand through where a glass had been broken out he reached a key that had been left in the door and unlocked it. Then he procured the meat hatchet and broke open the money drawer, which however contained only two or three dollars in small change. A shelf packed with smoking tobacco had about one-third of its contents removed and cigars were also appropriated. The robbery was pretty daring, considering the fact that the money was in an alarm till, and was within about ten feet of the full glass front of the store, in which there were no shutters, and in which two electric lights were burning.

The burglar was evidently some one posted on arrangements in the store as is shown by the knowledge that a key was in the door, though it was a short key with a head of such a shape that it might easily be mistaken for a projecting portion of the lock.
