"BUTLER is a whale," yes, and deserves whaling.

WHATEVER else you may do stand by your State and county tickets.

THE election of Cleveland is important, but the election of Carr is an absolute necessity.

"THE Peoples' party is honest." Yes, just as honest as Saul was when he persecuted the Saints.

In a game of base ball at Lansing, Pa., Saturday, the man at the bat was struck by the ball and killed.

THE Virginia courts have appointed receivers of the Iron Hill, to take charge of the order's assets in the State.

THERE was a time when joining the Peoples' party was an experiment. Remaining in it at the South is a crime.

SAILORS from steamers that have been allowed to enter British ports, have carried cholera to Bolton, Dundee, Aberdeen and Swansea.

STRAHERS from Liverpool, London and Hamburg arrived at New York. They were allowed to go to their docks after being thoroughly examined and fumigated.

THE success of the Peoples' party in State and nation would mean revolution, and, if history teaches anything, a peaceful revolution in this country is impossible.

THE story in circulation that Mrs. Jackson, of immortal fame, signs her name on hotel registers, "Mrs. Stonewall Jackson" is not true. She is a modest, retiring woman.

EVERY indication points to the triumph of the Democracy in the State and in the Nation. Harrison is "bothered." His platform in-dorsement and the force bill. He has diagnosed these maladies and knows that one is cholera and the other small pox. Either would kill him, and how to avoid them is the question.

We have heard it said that the present county officers of Craven are the best in the State. Not only are they eminent in the discharge of their duties, but they are gentlemen. If we wished to give a stranger a favorable opinion of our community we could not do better than to carry him to the court house and introduce him to the county officials.

STAND-UP for Elias Carr, for he is standing up to you. When he was nominated he was not considered much of a speaker. His nomination was chiefly a compliment to the farmers of the State. But, he is now leading the campaign, and whether on the platform with Ransom or Jarvis, he proves himself every inch a man.

THEY say that we attack the Peoples' party more than we do the Republican. Well, the truth is, the platform and principles of the Peoples' party are more revolutionary than those of the Republican party; and its candidates are infinitely worse. There is no more objectionable man in politics than Weaver, unless it be Exum the Peoples' party's candidate for Governor.

THE next ten days have an important bearing upon the destinies of our people. The Republican county convention meets today, and will probably put a ticket in the field. The State convention will meet a Raleigh in a few days, and will be closely followed by the Congressional convention at Fayetteville. In the present condition of affairs let us see to it that only Democrats are on guard.

LOCAL NEWS.

W. H. Smith, of Craven, and Cyrus Thompson, of Onslow, were nominated at Kingston yesterday for the Senate.

Misses Rachel Brown and Gertrude Bagby, having stood a successful examination, have been admitted to the North Carolina Female Normal and Industrial School.

Where is Exum? It was stated that he left Goldsboro for Raleigh, but the State Chronicle says that he must have passed by that city, as he could not be found registered there. Has he taken to the woods again?

Good speeches were made at the Cleveland and Carr Club meeting last night by Col. W. H. Lucas, of Hyde county, and Mr. W. W. Haywood, of Raleigh. Mr. J. H. Pou has a regular appointment to make an address here Friday night.

The True Issue, the campaign paper to be under the auspices of the Cleveland and Carr Club of this city, will make its debut today. The Club is leaving no stone unturned to press forward the campaign work, and The True Issue will be a great help in the cause.

Mr. A. W. Haywood, of Raleigh, the special commissioner appointed by the Governor to investigate the charges against Chief Shell Fish Commissioner Lucas and Capt. Adam Warner, arrived last night and is registered at Hotel Albert. The cases will be heard at the court house, commencing this morning at ten o'clock.

The following list of the delegates appointed from the 4th ward, Tuesday night, to the Republican convention which meets today at the court house at 12 o'clock, has been handed us for publication: V. A. Crawford, col.; E. Havens, col.; Jonas Daniels, col. Alternates, A. W. Wetherington, col.; I. R. Richardson, col., and W. W. Lawrence, col.

The Washington Progress tells of an attempt to rob the sheriff's office. Some unknown party broke in by prying the door open, with a cold chisel. The next attempt was to effect an entrance into the county safe. They succeeded in removing the clasp from the front of the safe by means of the chisel, but they were then either frightened off by something or they concluded that to tackle the lock by which the door was still held fast was too hard a job and gave up in despair. Nothing was missed from the office.

A Native of New Hampshire. Mr. W. H. Smith, chairman of the late Craven County Peoples' party convention and one of its chief leaders, desires us to state that though he only received his certificate of naturalization on the 30th ult., the order for it was granted by Judge Connor in 1891. He made application for it in 1888 but there were delays in securing it. He tells us further that two years ago he was a delegate to the Democratic congressional convention, which nominated Mr. Rogers and that in the convention he did his best to secure the re-nomination of Hon. F. M. Simmons.

As for his citizenship he states that he is a native of New Hampshire and lived here for thirty odd years, that he took out naturalization papers upon moving to Canada simply for business reasons, and that he was a British subject only ten years.

Shell Rock Wanted. Sealed proposals will be received for thirty days, for furnishing 1,000 tons shell rock, delivered on wharf at New Berne.

For further information apply to W. D. WALLACE, City Clerk.

On and after this date shaving will be Ten Cents at my Shop, Middle street. J. W. BROWN, barber.

Precautions Against Cholera.

We are not inclined to be alarmists, but the terrible nature of a visitation from cholera, the increasing danger from it, and the growing uneasiness among officials from its rapid spread in Europe and the fact that refugees from it are seeking to come over to this country furnish sufficient reasons for the early establishment of strict quarantine regulations. At the great Northern landing ports for emigrants such regulations are in force. Our United States revenue cutter Winona has been called away for the present to assist in the service. Our neighboring sea coast city Wilmington, has quarantined against all European ports and is commended by the press for so doing.

That the fear of cholera being brought to this country by means of vessels is not groundless is shown by the fact that it has thus been carried to England and that some of the passengers have died there from it. It is hoped that the authorities will, however be able to prevent its extending to the inhabitants. The danger of its being brought here by vessels is further shown by a telegram from the State Department at Washington from the United States consulate at Glasgow, Scotland, which states that cholera has broken out there among Russian emigrants for America.

If infected emigrants should by any means succeed in effecting a landing at any point on the coast it would be an easy matter for some of them to reach this city by either water or rail. Obviously, ports are in more danger in this regard than inland cities, consequently for the sake of all, timely precautions should be observed, for it is manifestly easier to keep out the fearful scourge than to fight it after it obtains a foothold.

While on this line we would say that due sanitary regulations should not be disregarded. Strict cleanliness should be observed and householders compelled to guard well their respective premises and not to allow offensive refuse of any kind to exist.

Coming and Going.

Messrs. M. H. Sultan and Wm. Sultan, left for the western part of the State on a pleasure trip.

Hon. F. M. Simmons came in to spend a short time in the city.

Miss Susie Danberg returned from a visit to relatives at Goldsboro.

The following were passengers on the Neuse for Northern business trips: J. B. Gardner, of Maple Cypress, L. A. Cobb, of Grifton, L. J. Chapman, of Johnson's Mills, and D. V. Dixon of Hookerton.

Our former townsman, Mr. W. P. Smith, who was for some time in business at Reidsville but has lately been spending a month at Beaufort, came up to the city yesterday morning. Mr. Smith informs us that he intends now to make New Berne his home again.

Nut Orchards--Why Not?

Wherever nut raising has been given a fair trial it has proven very profitable, still, comparatively little attention is as yet paid to this branch of horticulture and those who first step in boldly and embark largely in it will be the greatest gainers. An exchange says on the subject:

Nuts are healthful, nutritious and agreeable food. The market is not overstocked; indeed, the demand is greater than the supply. This fact is being recognized. The chestnut, English walnut, butternut, black walnut, pecan and hickories in variety, besides the hazel nut, or better, its improved form, the filbert, are all valuable. The pecan, chestnut, English walnut and hazel nut bring best prices. The small, thin-shelled, sweet-nutted hickory-nut always finds market. Our native nut trees are slow about coming into bearing, requiring usually eight to twelve years. Little has been done by cultivation and selection to improve them. What may be done has been shown by the European chestnut; the number of varieties has been increased, the nuts are larger and of better quality and the tree bears earlier than our own. There is a dwarf Japanese variety that comes into bearing at four to five years, and bears larger nuts than the European, but it is not very hardy. Doubtless they could be made more hardy by grafting on our own native stock.

The Right Kind of Subscriber.

Those of our subscribers who have not yet settled their indebtedness are again requested to attend to the matter. Statements of their dues were sent to them some time ago and while a good many were promptly attended to, some are still due and they will oblige us very much by calling at this office and settling up or remit by registered letter.

The still further reduction on the price of the Journal, from $1.50 to $1.00 per year was done in the interest of the subscriber, they to either call at our office and settle or remit by registered letter or money order and avoid the expense of a traveling agent. This reduction of expense on our part enabled us to reduce the price of the WEEKLY JOURNAL to the very low price of $1.00 a year provided all subscribers would keep paid up promptly. We believe this action will be appreciated by them.

One of the most important campaigns that ever dawned upon the country is about on hand and at the low price of $1.00 a year or 60 cents for six months no family should be without the WEEKLY JOURNAL, and where there is a daily mail the DAILY edition ought to be taken.

The Journal, proposing giving the news from every section and on all questions, and while it will have decided views of its own, the opinions of all others, it making no difference how much they may differ, will be respected.

Below we give a few verses from a subscriber. Read them and act accordingly or you may soon find your name erased from our books and placed on our black list.

Send on your paper, printer.

Don't strike my name off yet.

You know the times are stringent.

And dollars hard to get.

But tug a little harder.

Is what I mean to do.

And rake the dimes together.

Enough for me and you.

Then take it kindly, printer.

If pay is somewhat slow.

For cash is not so plenty.

And wants not few, you know.

But I must have THE JOURNAL.

Cost what it may to me.

I'd rather dock my sugar.

A Steamboat Line to Hyde County.

Two or three months ago we spoke in advocacy of a steamer line between New Berne and Hyde county in the confidence that reliable and regular communication would give a substantial increase to our trade with that prolific and prosperous region. However, thus far no move has been made in that direction, but we learn from the Progress that Capt. A. W. Styron, a progressive citizen of Washington, has had a fine model constructed "for a steamboat for the down river route to Aurora, Hyde and other points."

The progress endorses the move, as it could not well help doing, for it would prove of material advantage to that town and express the hope of seeing the boat built and on the line at no distant day.

We believe that with the number of local steamers that ply our waters one or more could run between New Berne and Hyde county with advantage to the steamers and to both the sections that they connect.

WHOSE INTEREST IS PROTECTED?

Why Was Not Oyster Monopoly Throttled by Repealing the Two-Mile Entry Law?

EDITOR JOURNAL: I see that yesterday's JOURNAL I see that Mr. Lucas says that he wants this matter sifted to the bottom that it may be seen what manner of man he has to fight to prevent the carrying out of their monopolistic schemes. If Mr. Lucas was so anxious to keep out those monopolists in the oyster business why did he not do it when he had a chance, when he was in the legislature? I told him of the importance of repealing the law allowing entries to be made outside of the two mile limit, that as soon as he repealed the dredging law that the non-residents and others who wished to monopolize the oyster business would enter all the grounds around the oyster rocks, and then dredge over the rocks while professing to be dredging on their own private grounds. I also told him about my making application for over ten thousand acres out in the sound to keep it from being entered by non-residents. I saw then examining the grounds with dredges for several days; I hurried off to the court house at Swan Quarter and saved the ground for our oyster-men. I told the Register of Deeds that I did not intend to enter it, but that my application would hold it until the legislature could repeal the law allowing entries to be made outside of the two-mile limit.

Now, Mr. Lucas has so much to say about what he is doing for the oyster interest, then he speaks about protecting "the rights of those whose interests the law was meant to guard." I would like to know whose rights he means, if he has ever said a word to encourage the cultivation of oysters (which the law must have intended to do) or what he has done to all this trouble. Why did he leave it as it was for the last hundred years before our late oyster law? I have never heard of it, and as he had a chance to save the oysters to the State and oystermen when in the legislature, and did not do it or try to do it by repealing the law of entry outside of the two-mile limit.

I really am at a loss to know whose interest he is looking after. I don't see any one making anything out of it at present but himself. I do not think that the law was made for that purpose, though Mr. Lucas helped to make it, and ought to know what the intention was, but he said some very naughty things about Mr. Watson for helping to pass a law for an office, when he was in the legislature, (that had no pay attached to it) and then taking the position himself. Surely after all that naughty talk about Mr. Watson, he did not try to make a law with big pay in it, when he was in the legislature and stepped into himself. What a pity! What a pity! Surely he can't mean that, there is something else, he possibly may tell us of it.
