CAMPAIGN SONGS.

Best Efforts of Versifiers in the New York World's Prize Competition.

[Air—"Benny Havens, O!" or "The Wearing of the Green."] Stand forth, ye friends of Liberty, The bugle call is blown! Ye mighty throngs who hate the wrong Stand forth to claim your own: The people's right to rule in spite Of barons high or low, 'Tis what we claim, in Freedom's name, With Grover Cleveland, O!

CHORUS. With Grover Cleveland, O! With Grover Cleveland, O! 'Tis what we claim, in Freedom's name, With Grover Cleveland, O! No tariff tax that robs the poor To pay the rich man's debts, But let them learn each man must earn And own what'er he gets. Oh, ye who toil and till the soil, Strike now a manly blow For honest work and wages and For Grover Cleveland, O!

They tax you toil and substance, and The tariff barons dream That bayonets they tax you for May yet be made to gleam Round boxes where your votes should fall, Untrammelled as the snow, For free and fair elections and For Grover Cleveland, O!

One thousand millions squandered and A treasury left bare— It calls for retribution swift, And we must all be there. With Cleveland and with Stevenson With steady step we go For equal laws, the people's cause And Grover Cleveland, O!

Incorporate trusts will save them not, The gold is red with guilt And ruined lives and widowed wives And lordly castles built In foreign lands by alien hands— These are the fruits they show, Then strike like men and strike again For Grover Cleveland, O!

Fair play for all who think and plan Or humbly turn the soil, We care not which, for poor and rich Are equal under God. Protection true is each man's due; The false well overthrow And vote unswayed by force or fraud For Grover Cleveland, O!
