LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
Howard.
Scott—Toys, etc.
C. E. Slover—Cream cheese, etc.
Nunn & McSorley—Royster's candy, etc.

The Gazette says that a gentleman in Washington has a bible over 300 years old.

Our city authorities are watching vigilantly, and will see to it that no suspicious individual will be allowed to enter New Berne while there is danger of cholera.

The Goldsboro Headlight says: "The latest curiosity in this county is a child born Sunday night to Mr. John Beard, in Brodgen township, that has no eyes, no nose and only one ear."

John R. Rowe was nominated on the 14th inst. by the Beaufort county Democratic convention for the House of Representatives. The convention was large and harmonious, and the entire ticket is regarded as a good one.

Monday evening next at the Y. M. C. A. hall will be held the regular election of officers for the coming year. This election was postponed from last Wednesday night. It is desired that every member interested in the work of the Association be present.

Mr. W. T. Hill has received a new safety bicycle of the latest improved pattern. It is of the celebrated Pope manufacture and a beauty indeed. Quite a number of our young men own machines now which are being used more and more for service as well as for pleasure and health.

Remember that Gen. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee, will speak at Goldsboro next Thursday, and that the very low rate of only $1.00 for the round trip will be given from New Berne on the regular train, and proportionate rates from all points along the entire line of the road. It will be a grand occasion and the exceedingly cheap fare makes it so that every one can go who wishes to.

Rev. Edward Bull received an invitation last night from his native home, Centerbrook, Conn., to attend the centennial celebration of the dedication of the Congregational Church at that place which is to take place on the 25th inst. This is the first church with which Mr. Bull was ever connected. Rev. Lewis Pratt, D. D., pastor of the Broadway Church, Norwich, Conn., and an intimate friend of Mr. Bull's, will deliver the principal discourse on the occasion.

Mr. James R. Riggs, who has been visiting his brothers and other relatives at Vancoloro, was among the passengers leaving on the steamer Neuse yesterday. Mr. Riggs is a native of this city. He has been in the United States Navy for five years, and now after a short visit to his home, having come across the United States from California for the purpose, he leaves for Norfolk to re-enter the navy. Mr. Riggs was in Chili while the civil war was raging in that country and was on the ship Baltimore, which carries five hundred men, at the time a portion of her crew was attacked in Valparaiso. He was also a close and interested witness of several of the hotly contested engagements.

Returning Home.

As the day of election approaches, and the campaign work progresses, the number of those who were for a time misled by the representations of the Third party, but who now see their mistake increases with rapidity. At the rate the good old honest voters of the Democratic party have been rushing back to the fold lately the Third party will soon be a thing of the past in North Carolina.

Major W. H. Melone, of Asheville, leader of the Third party in the West, has declined the nomination for Judge and will vote the Democratic ticket. He says the Republicans deceived the Third party and the division of the whites will result in Republican ascendancy.

Joe A. Bennett, nominee for Coroner of Martin county, withdraws from the Third Party, saying: "While I am heartily in favor of reform, I have become thoroughly convinced it can come only through the success of the Democratic party."

Mr. C. W. Bell, secretary of the county convention at Beaufort also withdrew. He became disgusted even before the convention was over.

All it needs is to let the patriotic voters have a clear conception of the situation, of the danger that menaces through division, and the glorious victory with the beneficent results that assured by presenting a united front and all will be well on the 9th of November.

Lost on Fry-Pan Shoals.

The Signal Service observer at Southport, Capt. Doaher, telegraphed last evening to the station in Wilmington as follows:

"The British barque Casket, 330 tons, Capt. Tozer, from Huelva, Spain, bound to Wilmington, N. C., loaded with iron pyrites, went ashore on Fry-Pan shoals last night. The crew consisting of ten persons were all saved and landed at Cape Fear Life-Saving Station by Capt. John L. Walls of that station. The weather during the night was very thick and stormy with a high sea and the vessel is supposed to have grounded on account of mistaking her position. The vessel and cargo are a total loss."

At the E. C. D. Wharf.

Capt. J. J. Lassiter, agent of the steamer Howard has just moved into the new office. It is located in the south east corner of the E. C. D. steamship company's warehouse and a portion of the warehouse connected with the steamer Howard's office has been partitioned off for the storage of her freight.

The work on the new office of the E. C. D. steamship line is not yet finished but the company is occupying it. When completed it will be very comfortable quarters.

During the past year there have been considerable changes made in the E. C. D. wharf and buildings. Since March there has been no cessation in the carpenter's work of improvement on them. The business of the company demanded the additional conveniences and facilities. The E. C. D. steamship company's sign and also that of the office of the steamer Howard are painted well and very conspicuously on the side of the buildings towards the river and where the interior and exterior painting of the property is done it will still further change its appearance for the better.

A Cyclone at Durham.

The Durham Sun tells of a terrific cyclone that visited Durham county Tuesday night. It was preceded by a very black cloud. It started four miles west of Chapel Hill and passed Durham town and a half miles west of the town. It lasted about five minutes, with a terrible roaring sound which frightened some nearly out of their wits.

The cyclone cut a track through the county from 150 to 400 yards wide, in some places wider than others. It tore up fruit trees by the roots and twisted off trees in the woods as large as a man's body, leaving only the shattered trunks or stumps to show where they once stood, and cotton and corn were just wiped off the face of the earth. It blew down outhouses and residences in its path and there were several very narrow escapes. One man was caught under the falling timbers of his house and injured. Nothing like it has ever occurred before in that part of the county.

Chief Engineer's Report—General Remarks on It.

We have received from Mr. J. H. Reel, one of the principle projectors, a copy of the report of Major John Runk, chief engineer of the Norfolk, Wilmington and Charleston Railroad, made to the president and board of directors of the company at the general office in Philadelphia, July 15, 1892. The report describes and gives full estimates on the line of the road in the States of Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, showing the resources of the country, physical condition, cost of road and expected traffic for the line. It also contains statistics showing area and productions of counties named in Virginia, North and South Carolina; the population of counties and cities, the amount of business done, and the tonnage and value of traffic on the rivers around.

The report is very comprehensive and makes a pamphlet of 38 large pages. Accompanying the report is a good sized map of several States, showing both the original proposed route and the suggested changes, one of which would bring it to New Berne. The map bears the date of 1891. It shows a proposed important branch line to Columbia, S. C., starting from Dover. It seems that the starting point and route of the Columbia branch is to be a little different from that shown in the map as the reference made to it in the report reads as follows:

"An important line is contemplated from a point in Pitt county, N. C., to Columbia, S. C., two hundred and forty-five miles long, running through Kinston in Lenoir county; Clinton, Sampson county; Lumberton, Robeson county; Darlington, Darlington county; Camden, Kershaw county; then connecting with the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago railroad; thence to Columbia, Cincinnati and Chicago railroad; thence to Columbia, S.
