Georgia's State election comes off on the 5th October.

The order of the Iron Hall has been reorganized and Freeman D. Somerby, of Philadelphia, re-elected supreme justice.

Weaver has turned tail and run out of Georgia. Weaver is running from his record but it not only keeps up with him but goes ahead of him.

The Mexican chamber of deputies which constitutes the electoral college has again declared Diaz President of Mexico for four years from the first of December.

The Atlanta Journal says Weaver has cancelled all his engagements in Georgia and South Carolina and has gone to speak in North Carolina.

COTTON on the jump. The price of the staple has materially advanced. The visible supply is two million bales short, and cotton men think the price will continue to advance.

HERE is what a very prominent Iowa Republican said of the tariff—John A. Kasson: "The Tariff Bill should read: A bill to prevent the dispersed blessings of Providence from being enjoyed by the people of the United States."

Let the Force bill party succeed and there will be no Democratic fractional quarrel in the Southern States. In fact, the bayonet-guarded ballot-box would relieve our southern friends from all responsibility and worry over governmental affairs. N. Y. World, Dem.

The next State elections will be held in Florida and Georgia: in the former on Oct. 4, in the latter on Oct. 5. The Democratic majority in Florida will be about 15,000, and in Georgia from 40,000 to 50,000.—Lantern Courier-Journal, Dem.

On last Friday night Richard Gecker said at Tammany hall, that the district leaders should not encourage any one to vote unless he voted the national ticket. He added, "we must consider the national ticket first and our county ticket second."

With the New York Democracy without a willing shoulder to shoulder for Cleveland defeat in the Presidential election, so he is impossible. Schuler Hill's man, J. A. Jones, has made the way at victory path.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

OUR TIMBER.

THE NORTH CAROLINA FOREST EXHIBIT OF THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

This State Beats the World in Valuable Varieties—Measurements of Large Trees and Other Information Wanted.

The lumber interest of North Carolina is a vast one and the industry is a growing one. The extent to which the State is blessed with wealth in native woods is but little realized, and to make a display at Chicago commensurate with its greatness will be greatly instrumental in establishing among all people—our own citizens as well as outsiders a proper appreciation of its worth and such a display can scarcely fail of bringing about great benefits and important advances in the development of manufacturing from these woods.

The State of North Carolina stands alone in the United States, and also in the whole world, for the magnificent size reached by the deciduous trees of her forests. With the single exception of Florida, no other State has so many kinds of trees, both hard and soft wooded, and even Florida is far behind in the variety of valuable timber.

An important part of the North Carolina exhibit at Chicago will consist of a pamphlet for free distribution, describing the trees and forest resources of the State. The agent in charge of the collection, Mr. Gifford Pinchot, Baltimore, Buncombe county, North Carolina, is anxious to gather together the largest possible number of measurements of the finest trees standing either in the forest or in the open, in order to incorporate them in the pamphlet. It should be a matter of pride with our citizens to see that the trees of this section are fully represented, for an attempt will be made to connect the measurements of all remarkable trees, with the names of the localities in which they grew. The only way to accomplish this end is to send the dimensions of remarkably fine trees of any species growing in the State, to the agent above mentioned. In doing so send actual measurements in preference to guesses, and give the following dimensions whenever possible. The circumference or diameter at four feet above the ground, the height of the trunk to the first branches, the height of the whole tree, and its spread, if that is a noteworthy feature. Be careful to locate each tree exactly, so that the agent may have no difficulty in finding it later if it should be thought well to photograph it.

Trees standing in the forest are preferred to those which have grown in the open; but measurements of any fine trees will be welcome and useful, especially so when the age of the tree is accurately known.

Not only measurements, but all accurate information concerning the trees of the State will be of great value to Mr. Pinchot, and it is earnestly requested that those who have special information at hand, or who are willing to collect it, will communicate at once with him, since every effort is to be made to render the State forest exhibit worthy of the splendid forest flora which it is to represent.

Weaver in North Carolina.

Gen. J. B. Weaver, the Third Party nominee for President, military tyrant, and abuser of the South, arrived at Raleigh Sunday with his wife and Mrs. Lease, his campaign helper in talking. Such contempt was felt for him by the people of Georgia, the last State in which he tried to speak, that he gave up in despair and failed to meet his fourth appointment and the meeting was turned into a Democratic jubilee.

His unfavorable reception was due to the knowledge of the insults he has repeatedly heaped upon the South since the war, and also the knowledge of the oppressions he practiced during the war upon helpless Southerners, both men and ladies. He found that he was held in such odium that he cancelled all other engagements in Georgia, and also gave South Carolina, the State in which he was to have spoken next, the go-by entirely and came on to North Carolina, but his contemptible record had preceded him as he soon found out by a newspaper purchase. Arriving at Raleigh he bought a State Chronicle and took it into the dining room with him and that paper was full of his Tennessee record.

It was planned for Weaver & Co. to leave Raleigh Monday evening for Fayetteville and to speak at Fayetteville Tuesday and at Greensboro Wednesday.

DIED.

In this city, Tuesday, Sept. 27, 1892, at 1 o'clock, Charles Thomas, youngest child of Mr. B. F. and Mrs. M. D. Thomas, of spinal meningitis, aged three years and seven months.

The funeral will take place from the residence at four o'clock this afternoon.

Cleveland's Acceptance.

Cleveland's letter accepting the nomination as the Democratic candidate for President of the United States, has been given to the public. He discusses Tariff legislation first and ends that subject by showing the need of tariff reform. He devotes nearly an average newspaper column to this question, considerably more than to any other one topic.

After this he takes up in order, the force bill, the silver question, civil service reform, pensions, government paternalism, the Nicaragua canal and the Columbian exposition. On the financial question he says:

"The people are entitled to sound and honest money abundantly sufficient in volume to supply their business needs. But whatever may be the form of the people's currency—National or State—whether gold, silver or paper—it should be so regulated and guarded by Government action, or by wise and careful laws, that no one can be deluded as to the certainty and stability of its value. Every dollar put into the hands of the people should be of the same intrinsic value or purchasing power. With this condition absolutely guaranteed, both gold and silver can be safely utilized upon equal terms in the adjustment of our currency. In dealing with this subject, no selfish scheme should be allowed to intervene and no doubtful experiment should be attempted. The wants of our people, arising from deficient or imperfect distribution of money circulation ought to be fully and honestly recognized and remedied. It should, however, be constantly remembered that inconvenience or loss that might arise from such situation can be much more easily borne than the universal distress which must follow discredited currency."

Coming and Going.

Rev. Levi Branson, who has been in the city a few days in the interest of his publications, left yesterday to continue his work at other points.

Messrs. John Richardson and Jos. Snelling, left to take a course in Siler City business college, Moore county.

Mrs. Jno. S. Long has returned from Haslin, Beaufort county, where she has been visiting her father, Maj. E. S. Marsh.

Dr. P. L. Murphy, of Morganton, superintendent of the Western North Carolina Insane Asylum, arrived last night to visit Dr. Frank Duffy.

A CONTRAST.

What the Two Last Presidents of the Alliance Have Cost the Order.

Mr. Elias Carr, while president of the State Alliance, was allowed $300 and expenses. The last year of his presidency he drew only $150 of his salary and not one cent for his expenses.

Mr. Butler, on the other hand, drew the $300 allowed by the laws of the Alliance, and charged for traveling near $600, and, besides this, borrowed $475 from the order, making a total of something over $1,300. At the last session of the State Alliance, at Greensboro, a resolution was passed cancelling said debt of $475. We presume the third party delegates, who "captured" the State Alliance, gave this extra Alliance money to Mr. Butler for his services in behalf of the third party—possibly the cancellation of that debt was one of the considerations of his deserting the State Democratic ticket he helped to nominate.

The above facts were related by Mr. J. S. Davis, of Haywood county, a farmer and an Allianceman, and a Democrat.

Mr. Davis, in a speech at Asheville, spoke of Butler going to that city in October, 1891, to establish an Alliance lecture bureau, and asked, "was he (Butler) considering the interest and economy of the farmers in the State when he, a self-confessed poor man, stopped at the Battery Park hotel, at from $3 to $4 per day, while Mess. Davis and Bell, whose expenses, like Butler's, were paid by the Alliance, stopped at a nice, respectable boarding house for $1 per day?" Mr. Davis said they looked all over the city for Butler before they found out where he was stopping. This should cause the honest Allianceman of the State to stop, before it is too late, and consider who are their real friends, honestly and truly working for their relief—Butler, who is trying to land them all into the third party, or such honest, economical, hard-working farmers as Mess. Davis, Bell, Boddinfield, Carr and many other good Democrats.

One year of Mr. Carr's presidency of the Alliance cost the farmers in that order $150; one year of Butler's presidency cost them over $1,300. Now, according to that showing, which is the more likely to do something for the real benefit of the farmers, Carr or Butler?—State Chronicle.

St. Cyprian's.

This is the colored Episcopal church of Newbern. They have a comfortable house of worship, situated near the College Institute, a devoted rector, Rev. P. W. Casey, a branch Brotherhood of St. Andrew, and a flourishing parochial and Sunday-school. On Monday night at their chapel on West street, they celebrated the natal day of St. Cyprian, their patron saint. Dr. John S. Long, who has always taken a great interest in this congregation, had been invited to deliver their address, and spoke to them at length on the character and work of the old Bishop of Carthage. On account of the recent death of Robert Green, their oldest communicant, the funeral part of the exercises were dispensed with.

Notice.

The Cleveland Carr Club will meet at the Wigwam tonight at 8 o'clock. The public are cordially invited.

By order of the President,
A. H. POWELL, Sec'y.

The Fertilizer Tax Constitutional.

Judge Seymour today filed his opinion in the fertilizer tax case sustaining the legality of the State law imposing a tax of 25 cents per ton on commercial fertilizers. The case, a test one, was brought by the Patapsco Guano Company against the Board of Agriculture. An injunction was obtained, preventing the collection of the tax until a decision was rendered. Judge Seymour two years ago ruled that the tax of $500 a year (then levied as a privilege tax) was unconstitutional. The Legislature at the session of 1891 repealed that tax and imposed the tonnage tax.

The Patapsco Company claimed that the tax was a regulation of commerce. The Department of Agriculture answered that it was an inspection law. The company then claimed that the receipts under the act were more than were needed and asked the court to direct an investigation to see whether they were not too great. As yet there is no notice of an appeal.—Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer.
