I NEVER knew one who made it his business to lash the faults of others that was not guilty of greater ones himself.—Addison.

TRUTH can hardly be expected to the crooked policy and wily sinuities of worldly affairs; for truth, like light, travels in straight lines.—Colton.

LIFE is a burden, but it is imposed by God. What you make of it, it will be to you, whether a millstone about your neck or a diadem upon your brow.—Gail Hamilton.

THE abundant mercies of God are like a never ceasing spring, sending out its sparkling waters to refresh the growing plants and make the birds sing sweet carols of joy.

THERE is no surer sign of an unmanly and cowardly spirit than a vague desire for help, a wish to depend, to lean upon somebody and enjoy the fruits of the industry of others.—J. T. Holland.

THE world is a looking-glass, and given back every man the reflection of his own face. Frown upon it, and it will, in turn, look sourly upon you; laugh at it and with it, and it is a jolly, kind companion.—Thackeray.

GOOD thoughts are blessed guests, and should be heartily welcomed, well fed and much sought after. Like rose leaves, they give out a sweet smell if laid up in the jar of memory.—Spurgeon.

A LIVING, loving Christian—true of tongue, honest of heart, pure of conduct and yet lovable in daily life, is the most unanswerable argument for Christianity.—Hie's Advocate.

NORTHERN philosophy nor pleasure can avail anything in the chamber of death; the taper of the one is too faint for so oppressive a gloom, and the torch of the other burns sickly in so unwelcome an atmosphere.—Melville.

THE following comes from an old preacher: "In all my ministry I have never known the husband of a worldly minded church woman converted. I had rather have fifty unconverted members of my church than two fashionable worldly women. Such women make a selfish blot on their husbands and children. The great need of this world is Godly, educated women."

GOD keeps a school for his children here on earth; and one of his best teachers is named Disappointment. He is a rough teacher, severe in tone and harsh in his handlings sometimes, but his tuition is worth all it costs. Many of our best lessons through life have been taught us by that same stern old school master, Disappointment.—Cuyler

UNDER the operation of the Democratic revenue tariff of 1846 in the ten years from 1850 to 1860, as the census statistics prove, the increase of wealth in the country was over 126 per cent., and the increase in the amount of capital invested in manufactures was 90 per cent. The golden era of the Republic was 1846 to 1861. There has been no other time comparable with that fifteen years for prosperity and advancement.—Philadelphia Record.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Howard.
F. Ulrich—Flour and tobacco.
Nunn & McSorley—Tenney's fine com-

Clear weather today.
Election of Y. M. C. A. officers to-morrow night.

You will hear one of the great vices of the day argumentatively, dispassionately, and yet unsparingly dealt with, if you attend the Y. M. C. A. devotional services this afternoon. Half-past five o'clock is the time. Rev. I. L. Chestnut will conduct the meeting.

The Green Front Novelty Store which moved last week from its former quarters to the building vacated by the Clark Store has not had a front corresponding with its name since the removal. The paint brush was moving lively yesterday and now the fresh green color is a guide to any one seeking the store.

Extraordinary fine North Carolina apples from Western North Carolina are being sold in the city by some of our advertisers. They are as large, beautiful and well flavored as can be found. With proper freight rates between the mountains and the sea coast the products of the two sections would be exchanged to a much larger extent than is now the case.

A fine Democratic meeting was held yesterday afternoon at Core Creek. Over a hundred voters present. The speaking commenced at 2 o'clock and lasted until about 5. Sheriff W. B. Lane made the first address. Gen. C. A. Battle next, and then Mr. J. W. Biddle spoke. Mr. Ross Richardson, of Cove, also made a few remarks. It was one of the best meetings yet held. The Democrats of Cove are in dead earnest and very enthusiastic.

Mr. Calvary Temple Sunday-school 9 a. m. Mass meeting at 4:30 p. m. Everybody invited who wishes to do good and get good. Several voluntary contributions have been made to it the past week and others are needed to put windows in it and make it comfortable for the coming cold weather. Any one having window sash with glass in them will do a charitable act to notify Rev. J. F. Butt of it by mail or otherwise and he will have them put in to give light.

It takes but little to excite and alarm some people. An illustration of the truth of this was the scare felt by some when the schooner V. F. Hawley arrived here from Baltimore with a cargo of powder for Mr. C. S. Hollister, and on account of the explosive nature of her cargo stopped a little down the river off Union Point with a red flag flying before approaching the wharf at which she would discharge the powder. Not knowing that it took a yellow flag to betoken disease, and that a red one simply meant danger, some who saw the schooner thought a pest ship had strayed into North Carolina waters and come up to the city for help and were accordingly frightened almost into a state of panic until they were informed what was the cause of the flag being up.

The citizens of Riverdale are building a school-house near the station. The one formerly used at Thurman is so far away as to be inconvenient, and those in charge of the school work agreed to let the people at Riverdale have their proportion share of the school fund if they would furnish a lot and erect a suitable building. This they are endeavoring to do. Mr. H. C. Wood donated the lot and the school is progressing fairly, but about $50 is needed to complete the building in addition to what the people immediately interested succeeded in raising among themselves. Accordingly Rev. Mr. Hines of Riverdale was soliciting contributions from our citizens yesterday to help forward the work. The appeal deserves a ready response. The effort for better educational facilities is a worthy one that merits encouragement.

Y. M. C. A. Annual Meeting.—An adjourned meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held Monday night, Oct. 2d, at eight o'clock, for the election of officers and directors for the ensuing year. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

Coming and Going.

Mrs. I. L. Chestnut left yesterday to visit relatives in Wilson and Greene county.

Mrs. J. A. Richardson and Miss Maud Anyette returned last night from a visit to Mrs. J. M. Manning of Durham.

Miss Glennie Moody returned last night from spending the summer at Seven Springs.

Mr. F. W. Hancock arrived to spend a short time in the city with relatives.

Keys Placed.

There are in all fifty keys to the fire alarm boxes. A portion of these have been distributed. Wherever a key is at a business place that has a watchman, the key will be in the place of business during the day and in the possession of the watchman at night. The keys placed thus far are located as follows:

Box No. 15—E. H. & J. A. Meadows and watchman.

No. 25—E. K. Bryan, J. B. Clark & Co. and watchman, and Dr. Geo. Slover.

No. 30—J. Blake, M. W. Anderson, Congdon & Co. and watchman, Stinson Lumber Co. and watchman, and L. A. Smith and G. Davis, engineers of ice factory.

(For the Power.)
THE POWER OF MUSIC.
M. E. SCOTT.

I sat enraptured for my soul entranced by music's spell,
Had sought responses from the depths of memory's sacred cell;
And there far buried in the past were visions of my youth,
When hope and joy went hand in hand, and love was born of truth.

And fairy scenes, and fragrant flowers, bedecked my onward way,
As pleasantly my young life passed, in dreams from day to day,
And many a sunny spot on earth by me remembered well,
Came brightly up before my view some treasured bliss to tell.

The harmony of sound had stirred intensity of thought,
Prevailing o'er all other powers by music's passion fraught,
And that soft music soothed my soul like minstrelsy of heaven,
As o'er each harpstring, round the joy of sinful deeds forgiven.

And tears of melancholy sort I scarcely could control,
My spirit seemed to wend its way toward where the sainted dwell
But paused to bid a long adieu to scenes it loved full well,
Then upward as on angel wings, I reached the pearly gate.

And listened to the songs of those who at the portals wait,
Methought the heavenly choirs had tuned their harps to sweetest song,
And wooed me with their dulcet notes to join the happy throng
All outward sense was merged in that wild, drunk sweet melody

And my rare spirit seemed to join heaven's song of jubilee,
But from that vision I awoke to view the scene around,
Where faces fair were wreathed with smiles, while I had been spell-bound.

BLACK AS MIDNIGHT!

WEAVER'S SHAMELESS ROBBERIES AND ILL-TREATMENT OF OLD MEN AND WOMEN.

Sworn Statements of Good Men Prove the Truth of the Allegations. Weaver Does Not and Cannot Deny Them.

The above is a fac-simile of an order for $250 issued by Gen. J. B. Weaver, People's party candidate for President, when he was in authority at conquered Pulaski during the war. Similar orders were served upon John H. Newbill, Robert Rhodes, and others. Weaver said the money was for the maintenance of refugees (meaning negroes and renegades from Alabama). He accompanied the order by threats that if the money was not paid they and their families would be sent further South and their property given to said negroes and refugees.

What Southern man has groveling spirit enough to vote for such a heartless wretch. Weaver heard of some cotton twist which a poor farmer had stowed in the loft of his little home, saying, thinking it would help in buying him a home after the war closed. Weaver sent a detachment of soldiers to the house, took

Dearest Flora.
Dearest Flora, where is that sunny smile that used to greet me whenever I came, and make me sweetly happy all the while as I breathed so gently their own dear name.

The toils and cares of life were then so light. That they seemed to pass as gently by as the cool zephyrs on a summer night. That played and sported with the rustling rye, but now thy look is feelingless and cold, as if we'd only met one week ago; Tell me, dearest, as your hand I hold, why it is you treat me so.

Dear George—
Since it is your wish, I'll tell you the reason why I do not smilingly greet you when you come, as I did in the happy days gone by. When you were noble, generous and full of fun.

You now are selfish and study your own good, regardless of the importance and power, who are toiling and working for a livelihood. To keep from begging their bread from door to door.

Now if you would win my hand, regain my smile. By going to Big Ike's for all your underwear, for to these honest poor he gives work all the while. In his new pants factory to help their humble fare.

"To err is human."—Pope.
That is very true, and you cannot err more surely in anything than in buying what you need, therefore call on a dealer in whom you can rely. We try to get good goods only, and give them to you at the right price. Do you need any White Shirts. We have some, reinforced front and back, good strong muslin, at only 50 cents. Remember our line of sample goods. Try us for what you need. J. M. HOWARD.

Lowney's Fine Chocolates and Bon Bons, Stephen Whitman & Son's Fine Philadelphia Made Candies, Fruits, etc., etc., received weekly by Sam. B. Waters, New Bern, N. C.

possession of the twist, which at that time was worth $2,000, and shipped it to Iowa for his own use.

Weaver in person stole 25 fat hogs from John P. Williams, a poor but highly esteemed farmer in Giles county, Tenn. He had his soldiers to shoot every hog on the place and bring them to camp. The hogs were worth then $750. He also had the turkeys which belonged to Mrs. Williams taken to headquarters for his own special use.

He also took possession of horses belonging as he called them to "rebel sympathizers." In some cases he returned the horses but charged the owners from one to five hundred dollars for doing so and put the money into his own pocket. He also charged citizens for passes to go into or out of the Federal lines and put the money into his own pocket.

ROBBING AND IMPRISONING PROMINENT CITIZENS.

Weaver had a number of law-abiding citizens arrested and put in jail and then charged them from one hundred to five hundred dollars for releasing them. Several of the gentlemen who were put in jail and paid the money are still living, among them is Dr. J. C. Roberts, one of the most highly respected citizens in Pulaski.

The following are a few of the gentlemen in Giles county, from whom Weaver coerced money at the point of the bayonet.

They were all tax-paying and highly respected citizens—

Thomas Martin $500.00
Dr. Wm. Battle 100.00
Charles Abernethy 250.00
Robert Dickerson 250.00
J. H. Newbill 100.00
J. W. Morris 100.00
David Reynolds 250.00
B. Abernethy 200.00
Charles E. Daly 200.00

Total $1,700.00

This money was taken Jan. 26, 1861.

The above parties were old men, staying at home and interfering with no one. Several of them had borne their muskets and followed the state and stripes through the Creek, Florida and Mexican wars. They are all dead except Dr. Wm. Battle, who is now living and subsisting the above.

J. P. Abernethy, son of Charles C. Abernethy, has the original receipts which Weaver gave to his father for the $250 taken from him. The fac-simile copy we give this morning is from them.

Besides the extortion already mentioned Weaver had John P. Williams, an old Mexican soldier, arrested and imprisoned until he paid him $500.

David K. Cox was arrested and imprisoned until his friends paid $500 for his release.

D. T. Harrison an old citizen of Pulaski, who gave a Mr. Lanier, of Nashville, had given him (Harrison) $1,935 with which to buy some cotton and that as soon as Weaver found it out he had Harrison arrested and took $935 of the money and then added falsehood to robbery by reporting to Lanier that Harrison had made away with the money. Mr. Harrison says that of all the men he ever knew Weaver was the worst—that he seemed to have a perfect hatred for Southern people and took a delight in causing, persecuting and robbing them and that he had no respect for old defenseless men, women or children.

The Third party campaigners are beginning to realize what a load they have to carry in Weaver. They can't get away from the facts. All they can do is to keep muttering more on that subject. The public is arriving at a true estimate of the Third party candidate for President.

What Southern man is so lost to self-respect that he is willing to vote for a man for any office who called Southerners "rank traitorous horde and who said a Southern rebel stank in his nostrils worse than a pole-cat," who expressed a desire to furnish rope to hang every 4-m one of them, and who has lately said that he had nothing to take back, or what man is there North or South, white or black, Democrat, or Republican or Third Partyite who has so little regard for decency as to cast a ballot for a known horse thief, hog thief and chicken thief. When such a man is found let him go off into the darkness of some desolate region and hang his head for very shame.
