when he and Glenn met in joint debate at Fayetteville. If any man who reads this thinks of casting a ballot for Weaver let him apply the questions to himself: Mr. Butler, I appeal to your patriotism. Can you endorse all the damnable things said against your people by J. B. Weaver? Was your father in the war? (Mr. Butler nodded in the affirmative.) Weaver says your father was a traitor, and a manhandling woman selling scoundrel. Tell this people how you can support Weaver. I would be unworthy of my father and my country if I uttered any word of praise of that man who had applied to us these epithets. [Mr. Glenn then read other extracts.] These are the utterances of the man who vilified your father and mine. If your father is living he is estimated at his son's Merion Butler. He is dead, I, the son of another Confederate soldier, am ashamed of that dead father, of his son, Merion Butler.

TWO IMPORTANT CASES.

The S. & R. and the R. & G. Tax Cases Compromised.

We learn from the Raleigh papers that a compromise has been effected in the case of the State against the Seaboard and Roanoke railway, judgment on which was rendered in the Federal Court by Judge Seymour last week in which it was declared that the taxes were due for the years 1886, 1892, both inclusive, amounting to over 6,700. There was also a short time ago a similar case decided against the Raleigh & Gaston railway, suit in the latter instance was brought by the commissioner of Wake county.

These cases were both of extreme importance, as these railways claimed exemption from taxation. By the compromise agreed to, the Seaboard system, including the Raleigh and Gaston railroad, confessed judgment of three years back tax, and the relinquishment of all claims of exemption from taxation on the Seaboard, as well as the Raleigh and Gaston railroad which are to be taxed in future as other property in the State without exemption under charter. All this now pending are withdrawn. This compromise now puts all railroad property in the State subject to taxation, except the Wilmington and Weldon railroad main line, and will bring in addition to the taxable property of the State on the present valuation property to the amount of about $1,500,000, or an annual tax of about $150,000. Wake county will be benefited by about $300,000.

The compromise is pronounced fair to both sides and the most important thing done for the State since Gov. Jarvis sold the W. & C. R. R. and had it completed to Murphy.

Coming and Going.

Miss Lulie Ives, who has been spending a short time at Beaufort, returned home yesterday morning.

Mr. W. F. Kornegay, who has been visiting Mr. W. B. Boyd, returned to his home in Goldsboro.

Messrs. C. R. Thomas, J. W. Waters, W. W. Clark and W. D. McIver, are attending Supreme court at Raleigh.

Gen. C. A. Battle and Hon. W. T. Caho are canvassing in Pamlico county this week for the Democratic party.

Mr. J. S. Mann returned from a visit to his brother at Beaufort.

Misses Maggie and Katie Betts, of Adams Creek, left on the steamer Newberne to attend Norfolk Female College.

Col. J. D. Whitford returned last night from a business trip, and Miss Bessie Whitford from Georgetown, S. C., where she has been visiting her brother, Mr. Reid Whitford.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol. Oettinger, of Kinston, arrived last night to visit the family of Mr. O. Marks. Mr. Marks' two little daughters, Misses Iffie and Belle, who have been visiting them came back with them.

Miss Ozora Jones, of Cedar Point, and Miss Carrie Simmons, of Pollocksville, who have been visiting at Capt. K. R. Jones, left, Miss Jones returning to her home and Miss Simmons accompanying her on a visit.

THE STATE FAIR.

The Railways Arrange Low Fares and Admirable Schedules.

The railroads are getting ready to run plenty of trains and pleasant schedules to afford accommodations for transporting the public effectively and pleasantly during the State Fair. The secretary of the fair and also the committee on railroads, have had correspondence with the various officers which has resulted most satisfactorily. Special trains will be run every day of the fair, beginning on Tuesday. The R. & D. Co. have already arranged their special schedules, which are as follows:

In addition to the regular schedules, a special train will leave Goldsboro every day of the fair, viz: October 18, 19, 20, 21, at 8 o'clock a. m., and will arrive in Raleigh at 9:45 a. m. This train will leave Raleigh at 5:45, and arrive at Goldsboro at 7:45 p. m.

Mr. W. A. Turk, who has been particularly kind and especially effective in arranging the schedules, writes to the fair management the following: "We are endeavoring to arrange special schedules for the A. & N. C., and the A. C. I." This connection will make through connection from Beaufort, Wilmington, Weldon and all eastern points. The schedule from Greensboro will make connection from Danville, Hillsville, Charlotte, Asheville, and all western points. Col. Turk also writes: "We will print 15,000 tickets which we will distribute in the most judicious manner possible, to all of our agents in North Carolina, and hope that persons attending our fair will have no trouble in securing tickets on our lines."

It will be seen from this correspondence that the railroads will do the handsome and proper thing by the public for the coming State Fair. The rates are the greatest and most interesting ever held in North Carolina, and this is the year for everybody to attend it. W. W. Ayer, will give any particulars. State Chronicle.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Howard,
H. L. Banks—Bath rooms.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Craven county today, at ten o'clock, at the club house on Broad street.

Seven warrants are out for illicit distillers. Two of the cases were made returnable before U. S. Commissioner E. G. Hill at ten o'clock this morning.

The Third party demonstration at Raleigh was sufficient to convince any candid observer of the times that the Radical hand in glove with the movement.

Mr. Alexander Holt, brother of Gov. Holt and fourth son of late Edwin M. Holt, the founder of plaid manufacturing in the South, died suddenly at his home at Burlington, Saturday aged 57 years. He was a farmer and manufacturer.

The Order of Pentec, similar to the Fraternity of Financial Cooperation, has failed. We are informed that it has been operating in New Berne about three years, and that it has about thirty members in the city.

The Wilmington Messenger sensibly advocates a canvass in the country rather than in the towns on the ground that there are very few votes in the towns that can be changed but that there are now in country districts many Weavers, who would hold to the Democratic party if a square presentation of Democratic principles is made to them.

Mr. C. B. Lileston, of Accomack county, Va., arrived last night and is stopping at Hotel Albert. Mr. Lileston is a truck farmer who is considering the matter of locating here. He is attracted here to a large extent by noticing the advantage of earliness this section has in the growing of such crops. Our people will all be glad to have Mr. Lileston move here. There have several Virginia truckers made investments in the last few weeks in truck farms near the city, but there is land in abundance for all and a welcome awaits all new comers.

The house on the water's edge alongside Meadows marine railways, which was formerly used as a steamer warehouse but which has more recently been used as the ship-yard workshop, is being repaired and slightly re-modelled to adapt it to the requirements of the knitting factory, it having been secured for that purpose. The work was begun yesterday. The engine for the factory is already here; the machinery is expected to arrive in about two weeks, and it is probable that inside of a month the factory will be in operation. A new workshop, 28x40 feet, for the ship-yard force is being built on the opposite side of Howard's ways.

Thos. G. Sawyer, a young man of Pantego was tried before E. G. Hill, Esq., yesterday on two charges of obtaining goods on false pretenses—in one case a pair of pants from Mr. H. B. Duffy and the other a pair of shoes from Mr. J. M. Howard. He got the goods promising he would try them on and bringing to return them or pay for them the next morning, but he did neither. He was acquitted in each case—not but what it was clearly proven that he obtained the goods and did not pay, but the justice held that according to the law, the words that were passed in the transaction made it a sale. Mr. L. J. Moore represented the defendant.

The News and Observer gives a very favorable report of the Raleigh Hosiery Yarn mill, which it says is one of the finest managed mills in the State. During the month of September its production was 105,400 pounds in 26 days actual running. This shows what can be done by proper effort. Our New Berne Knitting mill which will soon be started is a forward move of the right kind. We hope other manufacturing enterprises will follow it in rapid succession. With plenty of such running there would be scarcely any reason for a New Berne youth to leave home to obtain employment. Instead of that he could be

Dearest Flora.

Dearest Flora, where is that sunny smile that used to greet me whenever I came, and make me sweetly happy all the while? As I treaded so gently, time own dear name.

The toils and cares of life were then so light.

That they seemed to pass as gently by as the cool zephyrs on a summer night.

That played and sported with the rustling rye.

But now thy look is feelingless and cold, as if we'd only met one week ago; Tell me, dearest, as your hand I hold, Why it is you treat me so.

Dear George— Since it is your wish, I'll tell you the reason why.

I do not smilingly greet you when you come.

As I did in the happy days gone by.

When you were noble, generous and full of fun.

You now are selfish and study your own good.

Regardless of the importance and poor, who are toiling and working for a livelihood.

To keep from bagging their bread from door to door.

Now if you would win my hand, regain my smile.

By going to Big Ike's for all your underwear.

For to these honest poor he gives work all the while.

In his new pants factory to help their humble fare.

"Your coat may be perfect as fashions now go, Your shoes may be pointed like Wales, docher know, Your tie may be fetching and quite the right style, But you're never 'at fait' Without a new tie." — Post.

SINCE the end of the civil war there has been no event in our political history so full of good promise, hope, and encouragement as Mr. Cleveland's nomination, and so it will stand in the annals of the republic if ratified by the popular vote.

We have no doubt of Mr. Carr's election. Indeed we understand that the efforts of the opposition is mostly directed to the legislature. They hope to carry the legislature for the Peoples' party and the State for Harrison, but they are doomed to disappointment, for they will do neither.

The republican party is the occupation of the capitalists deriving profits from the tariff duties protecting certain industries. The capital invested in these industries constitutes a gigantic money power dependent for the magnitude of its profits on legislative favors, and therefore interested in influencing legislation for its own benefit.

Mr. D. M. HARDY, the gentle man who nominated Ixam for Governor and subsequently withdrew from the Third party, now states that his reason for withdrawing was the "information" he had that the leaders of the movement was to receive $30,000 if they succeeded in electing North Carolina to the Harrison column.—Raleigh Chronicle.

Dearest Flora.

Dearest Flora, where is that sunny smile that used to greet me whenever I came, and make me sweetly happy all the while? As I treaded so gently, time own dear name.

The toils and cares of life were then so light.

That they seemed to pass as gently by as the cool zephyrs on a summer night.

That played and sported with the rustling rye.

But now thy look is feelingless and cold, as if we'd only met one week ago; Tell me, dearest, as your hand I hold, Why it is you treat me so.

Dear George— Since it is your wish, I'll tell you the reason why.

I do not smilingly greet you when you come.

As I did in the happy days gone by.

When you were noble, generous and full of fun.

You now are selfish and study your own good.

Regardless of the importance and poor, who are toiling and working for a livelihood.

To keep from bagging their bread from door to door.

Now if you would win my hand, regain my smile.

By going to Big Ike's for all your underwear.

For to these honest poor he gives work all the while.

In his new pants factory to help their humble fare.

"Your coat may be perfect as fashions now go, Your shoes may be pointed like Wales, docher know, Your tie may be fetching and quite the right style, But you're never 'at fait' Without a new tie." — Post.

You will need a new fall Hat or "tilo," why not try us? Our stock is constantly being added to, and we think we can suit you. See our new style Blucher Shoe, they are the proper thing now for dress.
