It cost the State of Pennsylvania $400,000 to maintain the troops at Homestead, and it cost New York $250,000 to suppress the switchmen's riot at Buffalo. Tennessee has not yet received her bill for troops at the coal mines.
 Of course no good Confederate soldier is going to vote for Weaver. We once heard a man in the line curse Gen. Lee, and if that fellow is alive he may vote for Weaver, but no man whose heart was in the cause of the South will do any such thing.

The republican party, however great its history and however honest and well-meaning many of its leaders and the bulk of its rank and file may be, by the natural working of its high tariff policy becomes the greatest engine of political corruption on a grand scale that this country has ever seen.
 WHAT has the Democratic party done? is a question asked by the Weaverites as often as it is answered. The Democratic party in North Carolina has established peace, liberty, equality of taxation, and honesty in the public service. This is all that any Government can or should do. The Democratic party will do the same in the nation whenever it gets the power.—Mecklenburg Times.

The most Dominique pullet belonging to a prosperous farmer of Riverton, Ky., laid an egg with G. C. in raised letters upon the large end of the egg. He has been a Republican but he says since this pullet has laid an egg with Cleveland's initials on it is time to turn from the error of his ways and vote for Grover. The family are much elated, as the wife has been in favor of the Democrats all the time and his daughter is engaged to a prominent young Democrat of the neighborhood.

GROVER CLEVELAND has served the people of the United States four years, and therefore is no experiment. During the time he was President there was an era of unprecedented prosperity all over the country. The business men were satisfied, the business interests were subserved and all went prosperous. He opposed all trusts and combinations which claimed undue exemptions, and he bravely met every contingency that arose.—Roanoke Times.

POLITICS IN NORTH CAROLINA.
 In a late editorial we mentioned Judge Russell among party leaders in North Carolina. The Judge is a leader, but not in the sense in which he was alluded to. A report had been circulated to the effect that Dr. Exum would be withdrawn and Judge Russell substituted as the Peoples' party candidate for Governor.

The Wilmington Messenger, published in the city in which Judge Russell resides, says: "So it is all bosh about Judge Russell being a Weaver candidate for Governor. He has no idea of being simply put up to be put down. He knows the Weaver gang can do nothing except to draw off from the Democracy some dead failures, disgruntled office-seekers, and ignorant calamity howlers. The Judge is an able man and does not love leaves and the remainder of that kidney."

The meaning of this, we suppose, is, that Judge Russell opposed the nomination of a Republican State ticket, and will not support it, but declines to be a candidate himself. Then the canvass goes on with Carr the candidate of the Democracy, Furches the standard-bearer of the Republicans and Exum the representative of the Peoples' party.

The most ridiculous idea yet advanced in the present campaign is that Furches was brought out by the Democrats, and that the party supporting him is "a Democratic annex." No parties are more diametrically opposed to each other than the Eaves Republicans and the old line Democrats. They have not a principle nor a sentiment in common. The gulf that separates them is as impassable as that between Dives and Lazarus. Any man who says that they are political allies is either a simpleton or a knave.

Then, the parties to the fray in North Carolina, are the Republican party under Furches, the Peoples' party marshaled by Exum, and the Democratic party led on by Carr.

We do not pretend to know the purpose of the Peoples' party. They seem to be a party of discontents, floundering about in the "slough of despond" without light or compass. They are a body of honest, well meaning men, who have been decoyed into the wilderness under the assurance that it was the road to Canaan's happy land. But, thirsty, they have no leader to draw water from the rock; hungry, they have neither quails nor manna. They are in a devil of a fix. They find fault with everything in the past, and are utterly unbalanced in their plans for the future. Having for them nothing but the sincerest friendship, we say to them, come out of the wilderness and return to your father's house.

The Republican and Democratic parties are very different. Their principles, designs and purposes are known of all men. Republicans boldly advocate a protective tariff and the force bill, and oppose the present system of county government. Reduced to its last analysis, Republicanism means the robbery of fifty honest, laboring men for the support of one bloated bond holder and lordly manufacturer, the seizure of the ballot-box by the Federal Government, and the overthrow of white supremacy and the establishment of negro domination in North Carolina, and throughout the South.

Democracy means the repeal of the tariff, the defeat of the force bill, anglo-saxon supremacy, a free ballot, free schools, equal rights, and exact justice to all. The fight is between Republicanism and Democracy. No third party is in it. All that the People's party can lay claims to is, a recruiting station for the Republicans.

SENATOR HILL, with unerring finger, pointed out the only way to Democratic success in New York when he said, at the close of his great speech in Brooklyn: "The election will not win itself. It is our duty to Organize, Organize, Organize!" Always a prime condition of success in a closely contested election, organization is this year more necessary than ever.
