FRUIT eating is a great restorative of the system; peaches, plums and apples, especially the latter, are good for brainworkers and those of sedentary occupations. The fruits must be eaten in their natural state, without milk, sugar or cream; if too acid, a piece of bread will correct that. The only thing to observe is that they are ripe and fresh. Nothing will improve the complexion so much as eating good, sound fruit. Don't eat them at night-time; that is the only thing to avoid.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
Miss Harriette Lane Opening.
H. B. Duffy—Fall Opening.

Fair weather today.
Do not forget the Y. M. C. A. business meeting Tuesday night.
The Atlantic Baptist Association meets here next week beginning Tuesday.
The Sunday afternoon meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at five o'clock until further notice.

Rev. T. M. N. George having returned there will be services as usual in the Episcopal Church today.
The city election case of Baxter vs. Ellis was argued before the Supreme court Friday by Thomas and Guion for plaintiff and Clark for defendant. The decision has not yet been rendered.

Mr. J. W. Biddle, Sheriff Lane and Mr. Shepard Bryan spoke at Vanceboro yesterday. This ends the appointments thus far made for the Democratic county candidates. They have been meeting with encouragement wherever they have been.

Rev. J. W. Lee, the Irish Evangelist has just concluded a very successful protracted meeting in Burkhead Church, Winston. At the last service, the pastor, Rev. Ira Irwin announced that 59 names had been received to join the several churches up to that time. There were in all 110 conversions. Mr. Lee's last sermon was a practical discourse to the young converts. Mr. Lee begins a meeting today at Sanford.

Judge Fowler's son-in-law, Mr. D. B. Ayers, of Johnson county, committed suicide in Raleigh yesterday morning about half past seven o'clock. The doctor and an attendant were in his room at the time. He covered his face with the bed clothes so it was not observed what he was doing and cut his throat with his pocket knife, severing the jugular vein and carotid artery. He died to death in a few minutes. We hear he had been drinking.

West End is getting in pace with other parts of the city in building. Mr. L. H. Cutler has had the house on the north-west corner of Pollock and Berne streets moved to the rear of the lot which is a large one where he will have it repaired and improved. He is also preparing to build five other good two-story, six-room houses on it, a portion of them fronting on one and the remainder on the other street. On Queen street fronting West a large colored Samaritan lodge is being built, and at the junction of Broad and Queen two stores are in course of erection.

Dr. R. S. Primrose, coroner, summoned a jury and held an inquest yesterday over the remains of Elsie Simmons, colored, whom we mentioned yesterday as being burned to death in her home on Trent road about eight miles from the city. The jury, after proper investigation, decided that she came to her death by accidentally setting fire to the house herself. Possibly her pipe caused the mischief. The house was a mile back in the woods and she was old and in a measure helpless—not able to save herself, and all others were absent from the house at the time.

WEAVER IN TENNESSEE.

He Speaks but Outside the Limits of Pulaski.
Special to the JOURNAL.
Weaver declared Friday that he would fill the appointment that had been made for him at Pulaski and deny the charges. He did muster courage enough to get off the train in the city but hesitated outside. When he arrived the town was pretty well under arms, some citizens swearing they would kill him; third party men seeking to protect him and conservative men aiming to preserve order.
Weaver got off the train and saw the guns; he looked pale but with Mrs. Lease on one side and a friend on the other he went through the town and spoke a mile beyond to a handful of third party men and denied all charges. There would have been trouble if the same speech had been delivered in Pulaski.

STAND BY YOUR TOWN.

The following article, from the Waterloo (New York) Observer, is respectfully submitted and commended to our citizens. It is advice that is both good and as applicable to New Berne as to any place. Read it and judge for yourself:
Encourage every one, especially new men to come in and settle among you, particularly those who are worthy and active, whether they have capital or not. Their labor alone is worth money. Those who have capital should buy lots, build houses, or tear down and remodel the old ones. Go to work and stimulate every legitimate enterprise by giving all the friendly encouragement you can, or by uniting your industry, influence and capital in the common cause.
Cultivate a public spirit and help your neighbor. If he is in danger of breaking down, prop him up in some way, either by kind words, good counsel or a lift from your pocket-book. If he gets fairly down before you discover his situation, set him on his feet again—his misfortune is to be pitied, not blamed—and his talents and labor are worth money to the community. Besides, it may some day be your turn to need corresponding sympathy.
Encourage your local authorities in making public improvements for the good of the town. If you have a personal quarrel on hand, fight it out on its merits. Don't log it into water-works, the electric light, the question of sewerage, church, school or any other public enterprise.
Speak well of new and desirable projects, but encourage only of the town, of its prospects, of your neighbors, and in fact of everything likely to advance the general good, for as certain as effect follows cause, so certain will every enterprise of merit repay every citizen. We cannot live unto ourselves, nor discourage any movement in behalf of the place without inflicting upon ourselves a personal injury.
If you see a needed improvement for the town, demand it and talk it vigorously until the whole community is impregnated with the idea; until a storm of public sentiment compels the work, and by and by you will see the result of your courage and talk in universal improvement, increased facilities and business, and a broad, liberal, generous public spirit that pervades and vivifies and makes beautiful every place where it enters.
