VOICE FOR CLEVELAND and save the Union.

THE stampede to Democracy continues, unabated.

ONE vote for Koonce is half a vote for carpet-bagger Clark and the Force bill.

THE game of the republicans to bulldoze democrats won't work. Stand by your guns, boys.

THE man who said Cleveland couldn't carry New York has crawled in his hole and pulled it in after him.

$2,000,000 is publicly announced as the profit of the American Oil Company for the year just closed.

REMEMBER that in casting your ballot next Tuesday you make a record. Be sure that you don't make such a record as you will be ashamed of in the future.

IT is a dirty business to have a lot of spies appointed here at Raleigh by a federal office holder to watch our people choose their officers at the polls.—News and Observer.

DR. WARNER, the corset-maker of Connecticut, has created a sensation by withdrawing from the Republican electoral ticket because the McKinley tariff is hurting his business. It draws so tight that even the Warner corset can't stand the pressure.—Wil. Star.

THE Federal supervisors of elections have got their instructions from headquarters to ignore the State laws whenever they conflict with the Federal election law. Give these fellows a Force bill and what would elections amount to? Napoleon's plebiscite transferred to this side of the water, that is all.—Wil. Star.

THE express train between Edinburg and London ran into another train Tuesday, while traveling at the rate of 60 miles an hour causing a terrible wreck. The accident was due to a dense fog. Nine men were killed and others injured. Fire added its horrors to the scene and some of the bodies taken out of the wreck were burned beyond all semblance to humanity.

WE see that the Centenary for October contains a fine portrait of Dr. T. B. Kingsbury the talented editor of the Wilmington Messenger and also a two column sketch of his life. It is splendidly written and is a deserved tribute to our esteemed contemporary's chief.

A BOMB shell exploded in the Third party camp Saturday at Robersonville. The Thirtdites had a rally and speaking there. Among the speakers was J. O. Andrews, county chairman of the Third party executive committee. When Mr. Andrews' turn to speak he denounced the Third party and declared himself a Democrat, and in favor of the Democratic ticket. To say that the Thirtdites were astonished puts it mildly. It was a bomb shell, and the effect of its explosion is still being felt throughout Martin—Tarboro Southern.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Howard, Executors' notice.

S. R. Street—Auction sale. J. W. Stewart—Fresh arrivals. Nunn & McSorley—Cheap oranges. Nunn & McSorley—Old Stowall tobacco.

The meeting for young men of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon will be held by Mr. William Oglesby.

The Third party convention of Pasquotank met at Elizabeth City and nominated the very same ticket that the Republicans had put out. It was a late hour but they cabined with the Republicans just the same.

The registers in Craven and adjoining counties will confer a favor upon us by mailing us the results of the election immediately after the vote is known by getting the news to us otherwise a convenient and more rapid way offers.

The bicycle procession in the celebration at Columbia, S. C., had 500 wheelmen in it. Bicycling is attracting great attention. The New Berne fair is keeping up with whatever is good that holds the attention of the public and bicycle races will be a prominent feature at its coming exhibition.

A colored man by the name of Holey Wilkins was murdered near Enfield Saturday night near the railroad. He lived long enough after being found to state that four negroes were his assailants and that the crime was committed for purpose of robbery but it availed not as he had nothing in his pockets.

Hon. J. J. Moore, of New Berne, and other prominent speakers will address the citizens of Jones county on the issues of the day, at Pollockville, on Monday, Nov. 7th, 1892, at half-past eleven o'clock, a. m. People of all political parties are respectfully invited to hear this address. The time being short, friends of the cause will give as much circulation to this notice as possible.

Houses Still Scarce. As much as house building has been going on, we are informed that a gentleman who made arrangements for moving here has had to abandon the idea, because of not being able to find a suitable house for rent. While this speaks well for the acknowledged attractiveness of our city which is constantly becoming more firmly established, it shows poorly for the enterprise of property owners, in not keeping abreast of the demands. The supply of buildings both residence and business, should be large enough to guarantee accommodation for any one on reasonable terms, and on moderate notice.

Will Close Election Day. We are glad to see the interest being manifested by our merchants and other business men in agreeing to close their stores and places of business on election day. The result of this election is a question which all of our people are interested in, what every good citizen desires is good government, and we all ought to work to that end. The committee who waited upon the business men were unable to see all of them, some not being in their places of business when called upon, and in their limited time were unable to cover the entire city. Next Tuesday being a general election, very few, if any people will be in the city from the country. We hope all of our merchants will close on that day, and do their best for the success of the Democratic ticket and good government. All who have not been waited upon by the committee, and are willing to close will please hand their names in to the Journal office today. We propose to publish this list again tomorrow: Alex. Miller, Hackburn & Willett, C. E. Slover, H. V. Hill, Smallwood & Slover, Ferdinand Ulrich, J. W. Meise, S. W. Willis, Barrington & Baxter, E. Cohen, D. W. Walmsley, W. H. Cohen, M. H. Sultan, Wm. S. A SAY-SO OF MOODY'S.

Does the Honest Third Party Voter See Where He is Standing?

Hon. James M. Moody, Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor says that the People's party will poll 50,000 votes in the State, and that 45,000 will come off the Democrats, and 5,000 off the Republicans. In the rural precincts east of Raleigh the voters belong to the Republican and People's party. There are practically no Democrats except in the towns. Five thousand United States election supervisors have been appointed in that section at the instance of the People's party, and thus a fair election is assured. He is sanguine of success.—Asheville Banner.

How can any man who knows the difference between the good government under which the State is now prospering and the bad government under which it was being ruined when in the hands of the Republicans vote anything except the Democratic ticket after reading such statements as the above.

While it is perfectly patent the remarks contain wild exaggerations, they reveal plainly the reason of the encouragement given by Republican leaders to the Third party. Will North Carolinians allow themselves to be fooled into helping the Republican party indirectly when they would not do so?

J. B. Martin's Complaint. We publish in this morning's Journal a card from Mr. J. B. Martin, of Pamlico complaining bitterly of alleged unfair treatment in that we published an account unfavorable to himself written by a hearer of the debate at Arapahoe in which he spoke as a Third party man against Gen. C. A. Battle and Hon. W. T. Chas. Democrats.

We would remind Mr. Martin that we published two accounts of the discussion. One was by a staff correspondent of the JOURNAL. Of that he cannot complain. In it he was awarded every word of praise that could be given the wisest allowance be considered due him and further the writer did not indulge in fulsome praise of Mr. Martin's opponents.

Now, Mr. Martin says in his communication, "I am willing for them (the people that were out to hear)" to say who gained the victory?"

Exactly so, Mr. Martin, that is just what we let them do. We received a communication from one who took no part in the debate — one of "the people who were out to hear" who in his exuberance of spirits at the result of the meeting wrote us a particularizing account of it and we published the communication. It is that communication from one of "the people who were out to hear" whom you say you are willing to let decide as to whose banner victory perched upon and who did thus decide, that you are complaining so roughly about.

But following our rule to give all sides a reasonable hearing when it is desired we publish all of your statement of facts or inferences about them that differs at all with the published account.

Democratic Rally at Wilson. There was a great Democratic demonstration at Wilson Thursday. Senator Ransom was to have spoken there but having been taken ill Hon. C. B. Aycock and other speakers filled the appointment. It was an enthusiastic gathering. Business houses closed for the speaking and a large number of colored people joined in the parade.

There are many indications of breaks from the Republican ranks by the colored people. The beneficent influences of Democratic rule in this and other Southern States is convincing them that no amount of argument could do that it is as much to their interest as it is to the interest of the white people to have good government, wisely administered by faithful competent men. The day appears to be almost past when they as a race will quietly and thoughtlessly obey as one man the orders of Republican Demagogues.

Coming and Going. Mr. Henry R. Bryan, Jr., has left New Berne to accept a position in the freight department of the Norfolk & Western Railroad at Norfolk, Va.

Miss Lizzie Ward left on the steamer Neuse to visit relatives at Plymouth.

Messrs. J. H. Patterson and A. Schultz arrived on the steamer Neuse from a Northern business trip.

The family of Mr. Levi Bray, who are spending the winter at Arapahoe, came up yesterday to spend a short time in the city.

Judge A. S. Seymour returned last night from Wilmington where he has been holding Federal Court.

Presiding Elder W. S. Rone, came down from Goldsboro to hold Quarterly Conference at Hancock street Methodist Church.

Mr. J. S. Mann went down to Beaufort on professional business.

Mrs. W. T. Dixon who has been visiting her brothers in the city returned to her home in Morehead.

THE ELECTION SCHEME.

OF CHIEF SUPERVISOR SHAEFFER MADE PUBLIC.

He Realizes How he Slipped up in Displaying the Cloven Hoof so Early.

There continues to be plenty of talk about Shaffer's arrest of State Registrar Reid. Shaffer sees he has made a mistake—certainly a bad one for his party, which it will cost thousands of votes.

Your correspondent has been shown one of the "Supervisor's Poll Books" sent out by Chief Supervisor Shaffer. It is evident as soon as this book is seen that Shaffer calculated upon having his Republican and Third party deputies get hold of the registrar's book and copy the names therefrom. The books have spaces for an alphabetical list of voters, white and colored separated, showing who voted, did not vote or were rejected.

Printed on the books are these instructions to supervisors: "A correct transcript of the registered list of your precinct into this book, careful checking under their respective heads of those who vote, who fail to vote or whose vote is rejected on election day, and the return of this book to this office on the day after election, with your signatures attached, is of the very first importance. If you are hindered, delayed, or obstructed in the free performance of this duty by any officer of registration or of election, or by any other person whatsoever, or if you associate refuses to assist you in this work, you are required to report on oath without delay to the undersigned, all the facts relating thereto, with the names of parties and witnesses thereof."—Raleigh Cor. Wil. Messenger.

Look out for the Legislature. The control of the next legislature is now the chief object that is sought by the third party people. They fully realize that of course there is no possible chance to elect Weaver, and they have also abandoned all hope of electing Exum and their other candidates on the State ticket. But they are concentrating all their strength and making all kinds of combinations to control the next Legislature. This is openly avowed in the last issue of the Raleigh Signal, Loge Harris's paper. From an editorial there we copy the following extract:

"The Legislature is the citadel of all political power in this State, and therefore it behooves all who wish to continue good government in North Carolina to be certain that the next Legislature remains under the control of the democratic party.—Clatsam Record.

The Light Turned On. To those who are not altogether familiar with the political history of North Carolina away back in the sixties and seventies, it may not be amiss to remind them of the fact that in '68 and '70 the Republican legislature set in Raleigh 302 days. During the first part of the session they sat 55 days without passing a single act. The members of this republican legislature voted themselves $7 per day. There was not enough money in the treasury to pay the per diem, and they voted to borrow $158,000 for the purpose, from the school fund. During the year ending September 30, 1870, there went to the credit of the school fund $858,973.76, only $38,881.86 of which was disbursed on account of common schools.

It appears above how a part of the school fund was used, and the State has never realized a cent from the balance. Let the republicans get into power again, and they will borrow the educational fund again. It is sufficiently large now to tempt them as it tempted them before. Already their voice is heard on every stump against that grand old institution of learning, the State University, at Chapel Hill, that seat of learning which should be the pride of every North Carolinian's heart. Are you willing to vote either the Republican or Third party ticket and thereby take the risk of bringing about such a condition of affairs again?—Ex.

Less Than One Million. In 1880 there were in circulation in North Carolina over two million dollars in national bank notes. Today there is less than one million in circulation. The Democrats propose to take the 10 per cent. tax off of State banks, and thus allow the people of North Carolina to increase the circulating medium to meet the demands of business. The money issued by these State banks can have for its basis North Carolina bonds, worth over 100 cents on the dollar in gold, and as good as a national bond, the basis of the national bank notes.

The people who want more money should remember this when they vote.—Asheville Citizen.

TWO YEARS AGO AND NOW.

The Election of '90 the Fore Runner of the Tidal-Wave of '92.

Looking over the election returns from the States which have thus far spoken in the present campaign, our mind naturally reverts back to the returns of 1890, where we find the democrats carried 32 out of the then 42 States in the Union.

The gains therefore in the West and north-West two years ago were phenomenal and may prove interesting to our readers just now. For instance, Illinois, that had sent only 6 democrats to the House before in '90 sent 12, Indiana, that sent 10 out of 13 in '88, sent 11 in '90; Iowa, with only 1 democratic member of the 51st Congress, sent 6 to 52 Congress; Kansas, with a solid republican delegation in '88, sent 6 democrats in '90; Massachusetts, with only 2 democrats in the 51st Congress, elected 6 to the 52nd Congress; Michigan elected 6 democrats in '88, Minnesota elected 3 democrats and 2 republicans in '90 against 5 republicans in '88; Nebraska reversed things entirely and sent 3 democrats, whereas it had heretofore sent 3 republicans to Congress; New Hampshire transferred her solid republican delegation in Congress to the democratic column, New Jersey sent 5 democrats to Congress out of a total of 7; New York changed her 15 democrats in the House in '88 to 11 in '90; Wisconsin increased her democratic delegation in Congress from 1, in '88 to 7 in '90, while the entire Southern States only elected 4 republicans to the 52nd Congress.

The issues upon which the campaign of 1890 were fought being the identical issues upon which the present fight is being waged, it is but reasonable to say that the election of 1890 was but a forerunner of the great tidal-wave of '92, which has already set in and which bids fair at this moment to sweep the country, from Maine to Texas, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. From our experience in 1890 let democrats everywhere gain fresh courage and press forward to that grand victory awaiting us next Tuesday.—N. C. Gazette.
