The Kansas Republicans put up a negro for State Auditor, and he fell behind his ticket 7,000 votes. The whole ticket was defeated, but the darky fared worse than any. We fear there is a lurking color line out in bleeding Kansas.

GOVERNOR HOLT has appointed Samuel McDowell Tate State Treasurer, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late Treasurer Bam. It is understood that the appointment was first tendered to ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis.

THE Democrats by admitting New Mexico, Utah and Arizona can get six more United States Senators at a dip; and the R. Republicans are awfully afraid that they will do it. Nor is this all. Kansas can be divided into four States as large as New York, all of which would be Democratic.

LOCAL NEWS

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
Howard.
Theatre—Noss jollities.
E. M. Duguid—Watch stolen.
Lost—Sultan diamond ring.
John Dixon—Lant. res. and candles.
C. E. Slover—Thanksgiving goods.
Nunn & McSorley—Poultry &c.
M. F. Oxtar—Thanksgiving turkeys.

Superior court convenes here next Monday, Judge James H. McManis, of Asheville, presiding.

The following lawyers had petitioned Pauline Superior court: Hon. F. M. Simmons, and Messrs. L. J. Moore, W. T. Caho, J. B. Leigh, W. D. Melver and O. H. Guion.

In the North Carolina Senate there are 44 Democrats, 1 Republican, 2 Vacancies, 3 doubtful. The House stands 92 Democrats, 12 Republicans, 12 Vacancies, 4 doubtful.

There will be a coroner's inquest to Kinston from New Berne next Sunday to take those who wish to visit the A. M. E. Z. Church Conference here. The fare is to be free for the round trip.

Mr. W. T. Hill, local agent for the Columbia bicycle, took a trip to Newport to visit relatives on the 21st. He made the round trip of 50 miles in 5 1/2 hours—2 1/2 to go, 3 1/2 returning.

Remember the request of the Cleveland and Carr Club that the business men close their places at six o'clock this afternoon that their employees may have ample time to take part in the celebration.

There will be a band and bound chase Thursday to start from the Collegiate Institute at half past nine o'clock. All young men under twenty years of age are invited to take part in the chase which will last three hours.

The North Carolina Conference is to lose one of its esteemed ministers Rev. C. F. Sherrill of Beaufort, N. C. While visiting the Virginia Conference to meet old friends, his services were sought in a field of work where there was special need for them, and he accordingly united with that Conference. He passed through returning home yesterday.

Friday night the Noss Jollities will give an attractive entertainment at the Goldsboro Opera House. Arrangements have been made by which New Bernians who wish to see it may attend cheaply by going up on the freight and passenger train, which will leave here that afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The fare will be $2.00 for the round trip including admission to the theatre with a right to a reserved seat.

The Charlotte News says: "Three or four weeks ago, when cotton was low, the managers of the Victor Mills of this city bought their entire year's supply of cotton. They bought 2,400 bales, to be delivered throughout the following year as they may need it. At the price of cotton today the Victor Mills has saved just $30,000 on the deal, and that is quite a handsome sum to transfer to the profit column.

We call attention to an article on another page discussing the new feature co-insurance, which the fire insurance companies have introduced in commercial risk, that is the co-insurance feature does not apply to dwellings, but to stores, their contents etc. The article is copied by request from the New York Journal of Commerce, its publication has been delayed a short time owing to its length and the pressure of campaign matter during the election times.

We have received from the publishers a copy of Branson's North Carolina Almanac, for 1893. This is its 20th year of publication and it is up to its established standard of excellence. A portion of the contents that make it valuable as a book of reference, are the population of each county, the clerk of Superior court, and the superintendent of public schools in each, also the population of the principal cities. The newly elected state officers, including the members of both branches of the Legislature are also given.

Fire in Kinston.

Yesterday afternoon at half-past two o'clock the large barn of Mr. William Bond, near his residence, was found to be on fire. In less than twenty-five minutes the whole structure was destroyed, with its contents. There were many barrels of corn, several stacks of fodder and hay, and a buggy that were burned. We are informed that the barn was insured. Sparks set fire to several cotton bales at the new depot, but the boys from Kinston College saved them.

Coming and Going.
Mrs. W. F. Rountree and daughter left to visit Mrs. J. W. Carmer of Baltimore.
Mr. Wm. Hollister, who has been visiting relatives in the city and Miss Sadie Hollister left to visit relatives in New York.
Mrs. G. W. Wallace and children left on the steamer Nense to visit relatives at Elizabeth City.
Miss Laura Hughes left on the steamer Nense to visit Mrs. Edmond Stradwick of Norfolk.
Mr. R. H. Berry left on the steamer Nense on an insurance business trip.
Mrs. B. Laska and children, of Fayetteville, arrived to visit her father, Mr. W. H. Oliver.

CELEBRATE.

Hurrah for Successful Democracy!

Judging from reports there will be a very large number of country people in the city tonight to view or take part in the parade. The more that come mounted and join in the procession the better.

Who'll have the gayest illuminated residence in the city to-night?

Messrs. Alex. Miller, D. S. Jones and other Democratic volunteers for the work were busy yesterday marking transparencies for the parade to-night.

The procession will be a gay one. The hundreds of torches, Japanese lanterns and transparencies carried by those on foot, and the long array of mounted men, the fireworks and the brilliantly lit will be a sight not soon to be forgotten.

Be on hand early and be one of those in the procession.

The fireworks, the hundreds of torches, lanterns and transparencies, the illuminated residences, the long array of horsemen and the thousands of spectators to-night will be a sight long remembered.

DEMOCRATIC CELEBRATION
Tuesday Night, Nov. 22, 1892.

The procession will form at the wigwag at 8 o'clock. The Band and Assistant Marshals will meet the Chief Marshal at the wigwag at 7 o'clock.

THE ORDER OF THE PROCESSION.
Chief Marshal and Staff.
Mounted Police.
The Band.
Carriages.
Horsemen.
Persons on foot.

The line of march will be from wigwag to East Front, East Front to Pollock, Pollock to Craven, Craven to Johnston, Johnston to Middle, Middle to Pollock, Pollock to Craven Craven to South Front, South Front to Middle, Middle to Pollock, Pollock to Fleet, Fleet to Broad Broad to wigwag.

The procession will be under the direction of the Chief Marshal, and the following Assistant Marshals:
J. J. Baxter, E. E. Harper, Jos. Lucas, J. W. Smallwood, Ralph Gray, E. K. Bishop, Fred Mitchell, B. B. Neal, J. W. Waters, W. D. Melver, J. B. Leigh, J. Hollister, H. S. Guion, Joe McSorley, Charles Sweet, W. H. Cohen, Edward Cohen, J. H. Hackburn, Thos. McCarthy, Wm. McKay, J. M. Harget, Dan Jones, Walter Bray, Norman Ippock, F. S. Erul, Joseph Kinsey, Jason House, G. W. Richardson, E. W. Wardsworth, Geo. Dudley, Graham Richardson, H. H. Perry, M. W. Carman, Edward Clark.

C. A. BATTLE,
Chief Marshal

The Baggage Smasher Called Down.
Every person who has had his trunk destroyed for no better reason than the baggage-smasher was stronger than it, was, will rejoice to know that in one State, at least, a halt has been called in the work of destruction. The South Carolina railroad commission has ordered that the following law be hung in every baggage car used in the State, and also in every station house:
"Any baggage-master or other person whose duty it is to handle, remove or take care of the baggage of passengers, who shall willfully or recklessly injure or destroy any trunk, valise, box, package or parcel while loading, transporting, delivering or storing the same, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $50, or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days."
Cannot the North Carolina railroad commission do something along this line for a defenceless public—Charlotte Observer.

Reasonable care in the handling of his baggage is due every passenger and the prevalent disregard by many railroads of the rights of passengers in this regard needs a remedy. A similar regulation to the one spoken of above is having been inaugurated in South Carolina deserves to be in force wherever there is a railroad and it would be hailed with general satisfaction.

Lost.
A solitaire diamond ring engraved inside to S. 5. 9. 78. A reward will be paid for its return to the JOURNAL office and no questions asked.

Married.
At Moore's boarding house Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Mr. Jasper W. Wood to Miss Annie L. Willis, both of this city. S. R. Street J. P. officiated.

HEADING FOR THE EARTH.

The Comet Will Bunch Close to our Planet, but Astronomers do not Apprehend any Danger From It.

[New York Herald, Nov. 19th.]

If the comet discovered by Holmes on the night of November 6th, really proves to be part of the long lost comet of Biela, as some astronomers now incline to believe, the "hairy star" will be a very close neighbor of ours on November 27th, the date of its nearest approach to the earth. It is not likely to hit us, but even if it did it would get the worst of the clash. Far from doing any damage the collision would furnish a magnificent display of celestial fireworks, such as occurred on November 27th, 1892, when the earth was crossing the old track of the lost comet and again in November, 1890, when the earth one more cut through the comet's path.

It is not, however, by any means certain that the mysterious wanderer whirling directly toward us with velocity from the depths of space is Biela's comet. All that can be said is that it appears to be traveling in the direction taken by Biela's. Not enough observations have so far been made to give with any accuracy the intruder's orbit.

The present is the month and year when the comet is due to return, provided it has not been disintegrated in the meantime. Is the comet now visible in the constellation of Andromeda Biela's or is it another that has appeared merely by coincidence? As far as the appearance of the celestial visitor is concerned no inference can be drawn. Comets vary in shape and size almost from day to day. Pointed at the earth "head on" as the present comet is, it cannot be said even whether it has the usual "tail."

The comet now in sight presents the usual characteristics. According to Professor Rees the coma, or nebulous envelope surrounding the nucleus, is almost perfectly spherical. The nucleus is well developed and elongated. At times it seems to show signs of separation. The streamer of light, the "tail" usually accompanying a comet, is very invisible, but whether this is due to a lack of that member, or as already explained, to the position of the body, cannot at present be determined.

Sharp eyes, if they knew exactly where to look, might, without the aid of glasses, distinguish the comet as a star seen through a slight fog. It is apparently in the constellation Andromeda, which is almost directly overhead at 8 o'clock p.m. Of course as the comet approaches it will become more conspicuous. How bright it will be at the time of nearest proximity cannot be stated. It may equal in glory the great comet of 1882, but this is doubtful.

Ever since the discovery of Biela's comet men have stood more or less in dread of the fiery visitor. The ignorant tremble before it as presaging wars, famine, pestilence, conflagrations and other evils, while many well educated persons are fearful that harm may be done either to pieces or by falling into the sun and producing such an increase of solar heat as to burn up our planet.

It is a comet should strike the earth head on no one can say exactly what the consequence would be. On the generally accepted theory that the nucleus of comets is composed of small particles, the particles would be dissipated by friction with the atmosphere long before they passed through the fifty miles surrounding the earth. If, however, the nucleus is composed of heavy masses, weighing tons, but widely separated, the bombardment to which the earth would be subjected might result disastrously.

If a comet fell into the sun—an extremely improbable occurrence—it is not likely that harm would be done. The mass of the greatest comet is so small compared with that of the sun that, moving at the rate of 400 miles a second, it would not generate enough heat to hurt the earth.

Too Noisy.
EDITOR JOURNAL:—I love boys—always did. I remember very distinctly when I was a boy, and had the reputation of being a right lively boy. I have had much to do with boys, both in school and Sunday school, and have raised boys, and taken great satisfaction in the fact that they were manly boys and have since become manly men.

I have always been in favor of the boys coming to the Y. M. C. A. both to the devotional meetings and the "socials," even young boys, and have always voted for the lowest age named. So I was glad Friday night to see the young boys admitted to the entertainment, although it was at first proposed and notice given that none should be allowed under fourteen.

But their behavior was a great surprise, and drew forth many remarks, quite the opposite of complimentary, and often severe; (like that at the head of this article). Some said they would never come again to an entertainment of this kind if the boys were admitted.

Evidently there was a mistake made. I don't think it was a mistake to admit the boys. I think the boys made a mistake in leaving off the manners of the parlor and bringing in the manners of the street. Such manners as they exhibited Friday night will be in order tonight at the "grand glorification." If in the patriotic demonstrations of a political celebration they can exceed the noise and boisterousness of Friday night in a Christian social, which is doubtful, it will be all right.

I don't want the boys shut out. I hope they will not be offended at what I have said, but come again and bring their parlor manners with them. Will God give us "manly boys!" B.

At 10:30 Saturday morning the commission as State Treasurer was made out for Samuel McDowell Tate. A few minutes later the oath of office was administered by the Governor in the Executive chamber in the presence of Attorney General Davidson and private Secretary Telfair. It is said Treasurer Tate was to take charge of his department Monday. The bond which is required is $250,000. In Mr. Tate's case the Raleigh banks were the bondsmen.

HON. F. M. SIMMONS.

Further Words in Favor of Cleveland's Recognizing the Old North State Through This Worthy Son.

The Henderson Gold Leaf warmly endorses what has been said by the Press of the State in relation to Mr. Cleveland's bestowing one of the foremost appointments within his gift upon Hon. F. M. Simmons. It says of him that though a young man "he is a clear-headed and logical reasoner, resourceful and far sighted, and that he possesses executive ability of a high order is questioned by none." It says further:

"Friends of Hon. F. M. Simmons speak of urging his name for a place in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet, for Attorney General perhaps. And why not? North Carolina has not for a great many years been recognized by the bestowal of high honors of this kind upon any one of her citizens, while it cannot be denied that she has within her borders as fine material for membership in the President's Council as can be found anywhere.

"Hon. F. M. Simmons is a man of sound judgment and depth of learning beyond his years. His success at the bar, his career in Congress and his splendid conduct of the campaign just closed just closed have shown breadth of thought, mature deliberation, legal equipment and executive ability of a high order, such as entitle him to a foremost position among the best furnished and well rounded lawyers and politicians of the country. The Gold Leaf would be pleased to see Mr. Simmons recognized by his being called to fill any office commensurate with his merits and ability."

GOVERNMENT FINANCES.
Democrats and the Treasury Deficit of the Republicans.

The Republican administration has had a deficit in the Treasury starting them in the face for a year, but by skillful management the Secretary postponed the crash and put off the evil day, until the subsequent proceedings interest them no more. Had the appropriations made by Congress been paid regularly, as the law contemplates, the Treasury would long ago have been bankrupt; but the Department has juggled with the accounts and held back payments and paying out "management" to keep from paying out the cash and thus have maintained an appearance of solvency. The time is now near at hand, however, when that system of postponing payments must fall through, and already the Secretary is breaking ground for increased taxation in order to meet the needs of the Treasury under the laws passed by the Reed Congress.

The income of the government is quite one hundred millions short of the requirements. It is predicted that the pensions alone next year will absorb $185,000,000, while not allowing for the estimated increase in this item, the government will need $500,000,000, to meet which an income of $375,000,000 is available. Instead of an increase of taxation, the Democrats should apply the pruning knife to the cause of the evil. They ought to alter the pension law—scale the pensions down to $100,000,000 a year and reduce expenses otherwise.

Then by retarding the tariff, it may be that the receipts from that source will be increased. At any rate the Democrats are not going to begin their administration by an increase of taxation. We would vote no on that no matter what should result.—Wil Star.

Japanese Persimmons.

We were lately shown some beautiful bunches of the Japanese persimmon, which were grown by John N. Taylor, Esq., at his farm about three miles from town. They do not look very much like the American variety, being very much larger, and averaging about five of them to the pound. Mr. Taylor says he had one this year that was three inches in diameter. He grafted a large healthy native tree in 1889 and in 1890 the tree produced seventy-eight fine persimmons. As about 100 trees can be planted to the acre, this would mean a production of 20,000 pounds per acre. The fruit is delicious and readily sells for five cents apiece. This is an industry that can be made very profitable, and one that our progressive farmers can afford to look into.—Rocky Mount Argonaut.

"And that ye make a thing cheap is to be most short visioned—but make ye it well, and ye shall rejoice."

This is an old English saying and is just as true now in this day of Shoddy. When you want any Clothing, Hats or Shoes call on a dealer who tries to sell good goods and at the right price.
