THERE is no hope of the recovery of Senator Gibson of Louisiana.

THE New York Herald talks for Dana, but its editor bets on Murphy.

JUDGE CRISP now realizes the feelings of the member who fails to catch the S. eaker's eye.

THE interstate commerce law troubles with fear every time it finds itself in a court of justice.

THE Richmond, Va., Bar Association endorses Hon. J. Randolph Tucker for Attorney General.

THE Missouri Democracy inclines to the opinion that Gov. Francis embodies all of the points of a first-class Cabinet model.

IT seems to be tacitly understood that the Senate will not take up the Anti-Option bill in earnest until after the Christmas holiday.

THE Inter-State Commerce Commission make their statistical report. It shows that for 1891 the great progress in railroad building was in the south eastern section of the United States.

SPARKER CRISP received an impromptu ovation on his return from New York. All parties joined, because the Congress decided to resent the insult implied in not calling on Mr. Crisp to speak at the Reform Club festival.

TALK about the armies, here are the figures of the North as given in the Philadelphia Record of last Friday: "The whole number of men furnished for the Union armies during the civil war, colored troops and Indians, was 2,778,304. Of this number 359,528 were killed in action or died during the war. The South had no more than 600,000. This is true."

VERY little credence is placed in the rumor that Mr. Cleveland has determined upon the selection of Senator Carlisle as Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. Carlisle, who was in attendance at the Reform Club dinner in New York Saturday night, has not returned to the city, but leading Democrats, and among them some of Mr. Carlisle's friends, doubt the truth of the story, which seems not to have risen above the dignity of a rumor. Mr. Gorman said he had not heard of it, and was disinclined to believe it, because he did not think that the President elect had come to a conclusion of any kind relative to the Cabinet. —Washington Post.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
Howard, National Bank—Condition. Lumber—To sawmill men. H. L. Hall—Standard poets. H. L. Hall—Job lot 10c books. Y. M. C. A.—Breach of promise case. Nunn & McSorley—Grapes and bananas.

The thermometer early last night was up to 72—almost summer heat.

Did you know that an advertisement could be put in the JOURNAL for only ten cents? That is the price of one line.

A larger number of ministers and visitors to conference passed through the city yesterday than on the previous day.

The Presbyterian Sunday school of Washington will vary the usual programme by giving the children a party during the holidays instead of a Christmas tree.

The Washington Progress mentions that the Episcopalians are building a very neat little church on the New Berne road about three miles from Chocowinity.

While our advertising has considerably increased, due to the approach of the holiday season, our advertising rates remain as they have been all through the summer.

An exchange says: "J. R. Moore, at Providence, we learn has two pigs 11 months old that weigh over 300 pounds apiece. Granville is really coming on raising meat."

For the benefit of those desiring to spend the Sabbath at Conference we will state that there will not be any Sunday train to it. Those attending must use the regular train.

Be sure and patronize the New Berne knitting mills. If you really want to see home manufactures built up you will call for these goods every time in preference to imported goods.

The weather bureau yesterday afternoon predicted local showers and cooler weather. There is a good chance for it to be cooler to make the weather such as would naturally be expected in December.

There will be a Bible study at the prayer meeting in the Presbyterian lecture room tonight on the subject "Come." Each one attending is requested to bring a verse bearing on the subject. A welcome to all.

The Smithfield Herald tells of a hen belonging to Mr. J. A. Wilson, of Wilson's Mill, which lays remarkably large eggs. Mr. Wilson says that he has one of her eggs that weighs 5-1-2 ounces and the average size will weigh 4-1-2.

Be sure to attend the Breach of Promise case Friday evening. It will be interesting to all. There will be a prologue in connection with the trial. See advertisement for prices. Seats will be on sale Friday morning at Nunn & McSorley's.

The Asheville Democrat says C. F. Christopher, a Haywood county genius, has invented an appliance for steam engines that will cause a revolution in their construction, save fuel and increase the speed. A company has been organized at Spartanburg to manufacture the new invention.

Mr. Deppe, a northern gentleman is making quite a large collection of pine tops at stations on either side of New Berne to be taken to Philadelphia for Christmas decorations. He takes only the choicest and is very careful in the packing that their beauty may not be marred by the long journey.

Premium lists of the New Berne Fair are in readiness. 2,500 will be sent out. It is desired to place them advantageously and as an aid to accomplish this end Mr. Chas. Reizenstein, Secretary and Treasurer, desires our citizens who have friends that they would like to have a copy sent to them to furnish him their names and he will take pleasure in mailing a copy to each one.

The sewerage company are now nearly through with the work of laying the pipes through the streets of the city. They are now opening trenches on Hancock street which is the last one they will have to work on. With fair weather and everything moving smoothly another week will probably see it finished. Then will come the laying of the iron pipe in New river for the outlet and the running of the connections to the houses of the citizens who wish to avail themselves of the advantages of the system.

Breach of Promise Suit.

The counsel for the plaintiff in the pending Breach of Promise case, which is to be tried at the Y. M. C. A. Hall Friday night has obtained evidence against the defendant which will undoubtedly win the case for the plaintiff. They say the letters to be read before the judge and jury written by defendant will undoubtedly obtain the sympathies of the jury. The counsel for defendant also claims to have letters written by plaintiff which will cause the jury to give a verdict for defendant. Those who do not attend will miss hearing a suit which has good talent arrayed on both sides. Be on hand in time and hear it all.

Death of a Travelling Man.

Mr. George McArthur died yesterday at Hotel Albert, of Typhoid fever, having been confined to bed ten days. Mr. McArthur was a travelling salesman. He represented an Ohio business house, but he was from Canada. He came to New Berne sick, having contracted his illness elsewhere. Copious hemorrhages from the nose and bowels caused death in this case which was before considered very hopeful. We are informed the nature of the fever was suspected from the beginning and care exercised to make disinfection complete so as to prevent further propagation of the disease.

In this connection it is well to remark that if all cases of Typhoid fever were recognized and proper precautions taken the disease would be much less prevalent if not practically stamped out.

The remains of Mr. McArthur will be taken to Coshocton, Ohio, where he has a brother-in-law living, for interment. They will leave this morning by express.

Attributed to the Wrong Man.

Mr. Andrew Flowers of Pamlico county was up to the city yesterday for the first time since the election. He called at our office to get a correction of a news item which we published on the 10th of November to the effect that he shot Mr. Wm. Powers in the arm during a disturbance growing out of political differences.

Mr. Flowers informs us that he had nothing to do with the fight in which the pistol was fired, that he was some fifty yards away at the time, that the ball did not hit any one and whatever wounds were given were bestowed in some other way, and that owing to the darkness it is not known who did fire the pistol, but that Mr. Powers himself is satisfied that Mr. Flowers was not his assailant, they being friends though on opposite sides of the political fence. He tells us however, that the story as we published it was stated the next day but was promptly contradicted in the neighborhood. It is far from our intention to do any one an injustice, so we gladly make the correction Mr. Flowers asks for and would have done so at the time had he written us.

Coming and Going.

Rev. J. P. Butt went up to Goldsboro yesterday to attend Conference.

Mr. R. A. Willis and Miss Virginia Harrison went up to Goldsboro to visit friends and attend Conference.

Dr. Westrey Battle, of Asheville, is visiting at Lieut. Winslow's. He will take a trip to Ocracoke looking after interests that he owns in yester gardens.

Miss Rebecca Harris is visiting at Mr. O. Marks.

Mr. Wm. F. Wyldes, of Saco, Maine, has arrived to take a position with the Stinson Lumber Company, and is stopping at Hancock's boarding house.

Miss Ditta Roberts left on the steamer Neuse for New York to visit her uncle, Mr. Hugh L. Cole.

Mr. Percy Cox left on the steamer Neuse for Norfolk, on a business trip.

Mr. J. B. Dunn returned from a business trip.

The following were among the arrivals at Hotel Albert: Congressman R. H. Bunn; Mr. R. H. Cowan, of the State Chronicle; Rev. J. R. Sawyer, of Manteo, en route to Conference; Mr. Jas. Vass, of Virginia, a nephew of Rev. L. C. Vass, and Mr. J. E. Baxter, a prominent shoe manufacturer of New York.

Baltimore has had a big conflagration. Over 17,000 bales of cotton were burned entailing a loss of nearly a million of dollars. It is thought the fire originated from spontaneous combustion.

A bold train robbery took place on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, in West Virginia. A fight ensued in which one of the passengers was killed and another wounded. The banditti made good their escape.

The stringent prohibition law which we told of recently, has passed the third reading in South Carolina house, and the senate will now have to struggle with it. There is a general impression that the senate will fail to pass it.

A report has reached Charleston that four Italian miners working in a mine near Jonesboro, S. C., were shot and killed by a Padrone named Andree. An armed band of Italians, headed by a trial judge, are in pursuit of the murderer.

The New Book Store.

Messrs. C. Disosway & Bro., who recently opened a book store under Hotel Albert have repeatedly increased their stock and intend to augment it still farther. They propose to keep on hand standard publication and school books, periodicals, both magazines and newspapers, a good supply of stationery and to order specialties in blank books, or in fact anything desired in their line.

The firm is composed of Mr. C. L. Disosway, a young man of business experience but who now first launches out in business for himself and his brother, Mr. J. J. Disosway who is also the senior partner in the mail supply firm of Disosway and Churchill. The new business will be mainly under the management of Mr. C. L. Disosway. We wish the young men abundant success.

CONFESSED HIS CRIME.

After Ten Years' Time and Then Committed Suicide.

Ten years ago a negro man named Wallace was found dead on the railroad track near Davidson College. It was supposed he had been run over and killed by the train. A coroner's inquest was held, and the verdict was to that effect. The negro was buried and nothing was then thought of the matter. Several days since his relatives, who live near Zion church, received a letter from a white man by the name of Torrence, formerly of, or near Davidson College, who went West shortly after the negro was, as supposed, killed by the train, stating that he had killed Wallace, and that when this letter reached them he would be dead as he intended killing himself.

Accordingly his letter was one from a party with whom he was living, stating that as soon as Torrence made the confession he committed suicide by taking laudanum. The murdered man was an uncle of E. L. Whitley, who killed Policeman Moran.—Charlotte Observer.

Raise Your Meat.

Our exchanges are full of big hog stories. The hogs are said to weigh from 200 to 700 pounds each. This is fresh evidence of what is already known—that as large hogs can be raised in North Carolina as anywhere in the world. Very few of our farmers can make any money under present conditions, and the best thing in the world to do is to raise something to eat and wear. Meat can be bought at low prices for cash at any time, but there is no cash to pay for it. Hence the wisest thing to do is to raise it yourself. If you can raise one good hog, it will prove a good thing for your family. You know whether the hog was sick or well when killed. You know the advantage of having backbones, ribs and sausage. Begin now buying pigs, if you have none, and raise your own meat. This would be a good topic for discussion in your Alliance, and is strictly non-partisan.—Progressive Farmer.

How it Appears at the Capital.

Two years ago the Legislators heard no end of talk and contention in regard to the oyster matter. Next month the battle will be renewed. It will be what sporting men call a "fight to a finish." On one side are those who wish to dredge; on the other those who wish to save the oysters and allow only "tonging." It is said that there are no oysters of value in Pamlico sound in depths of water over twelve feet and that tests have shown this to be so. It is said that two years ago there was an offer of a very large sum for the privilege of dredging a relatively small area. It may be set down as a fact that in January and February the oyster will be a common subject of discussion in the Senate and House.—Raleigh correspondent Wilmington Messenger.

The Hickory Press and Carolinian says: "Our friend, 'Squire Hamilton' is the owner of a Bible that has been in his family, descending from father to son for over two hundred years. It was printed in the city of London, A. D., 1679. The book is still in a good state of preservation."

Mr. O. H. Pierce, of Lenoir county, will give a stereopticon exhibition at the New Berne Theatre tonight for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. The scenes represent Bible incidents from the creation of the world onward. The admission price places the entertainment within reach of all. It is only 25 cents for adults, 15 cents for children.

Our young townsman, Mr. Hughes Holland, is a prominent candidate for congress in the position, as there are indications that he will, the duties will be well performed. He is a steady young man of good habits, and close application to business. He is as good a man for the place as can be found.

Mr. Jas. Duffy sent to his home and to friends in the city yesterday an abundant supply of partridges—78 of them—the trophies of his splendid marksmanship. He and a friend of the Fort Barwell neighborhood, Mr. J. Dougherty, killed them. The birds arrived on the steamer Vaneboro, but Mr. Duffy still remains to enjoy the sport. Who can blame him?

THE GREAT EXHIBIT.

Big Ike, when entered at the Fair, Will surely take the prize, And make the people gaze and stare: At his uncommon size. His eyes are of a navy blue, The finest of their class, In stocking feet he's eight feet two And has a cheek of brass. Besides he has a silver tongue That does not wag in vain, But places all—the old and young—With bargain on the brain. He is a sight that all should see One time at least or more, So call where he'll not fail to be—Down at his Mammoth Store.

Arrested for Barn Burning.

We recently published an account of the burning of Mr. Gaylord Shavender's barn and contents at Pantego, by which he lost the entire crop that he made this year, worth $1,000 or more. The Washington Progress gives the following additional news in regard to the fire. It was evident that it was set on fire and the circumstances pointed to several negroes in the immediate section. Several of the number suspected were arrested and a hearing was had before Mr. J. D. Swindell, J. P. A. and pros was taken as to all apprehended, but two, Joseph Pearce and George W. Gungamus. The evidence as taken by the Justice seems to be strong against them. Mr. Shavender had taken some property from them under a mortgage and they were made with him on this account. They were brought up and lodged in jail on Thursday last. If the parties held are the guilty parties they should receive punishment to the fullest extent of the law.

Our Oyster Faddism.

An oyster is a very humble and simple member of the animal family. It toils not, neither does it spin, and yet it illustrates the power and providence of God in living and growing fast without labor, and in taking no interest in the things which interest to some extent every thing that lives and has a being. But humble as it is, the problems that pertain to it are more numerous than any member of the family. The oyster faddism of the salt water sounds of North Carolina is the property of North Carolina, and every one has the right of ownership and regulation with his own. This is a starting point and from this point comes the solution of the problems that beset the pathway of this and other States. They have never been solved, perhaps never will be, but it is the duty and the interest of the Legislators of North Carolina, and every citizen in the State to solve as best he can the intricate problem of the Oyster question.

It is admitted on all hands that the oyster property of North Carolina is a valuable property and might be a revenue to the State, but up to this time it has never been a paying property and has produced no fruits but strife and no pecuniary benefits save to those who administer its unwise and fruitless legislation. It is a reproach upon the wisdom of our representatives of the State of North Carolina, that with ample powers of utilizing the property of the State, with the duty incumbent upon them of providing a revenue, that thus far a property that is confessedly one of our richest and most valuable should remain throughout our history a white elephant upon our hands, a neglected inheritance, fruitful only in strife.

It shall not be the fault of the Economic Fallacy, if this continues, and we propose now and until the next Legislature of North Carolina does something to solve the Oyster problem, to frequently ventilate the matter and put our best thought upon it, and we invite the cooperation and contributions of our friends and of the friends of North Carolina. The North Carolina Legislature meets in Raleigh January 4th next. Let the members fortify their judgment by a careful study of the oyster question in all its complicated aspects. Elizabeth City Economic Economist.

The Oyster Resources.
"How much will your oyster hold?" asked a friend, relates Hollister. Since '90, half a dozen hog-heads of more. It cost me $20. Twenty dollars for an unending supply of water which is never contaminated by "soil leaching." Cheap enough if the oyster be well made and lasts for twenty years, a reasonable time frequently exceeds—E. V.
