AT the present price of silver the standard dollar is worth 64 cents gold. This leaves 36 cents flat.

THE system of electing United States Senators by direct vote of the people is gaining advocates every day.

A BILL to compel every southern farmer to raise hogs and chickens would be vastly more to the purpose than any legislation on options.

SEVEN extra editions per day each is the record the lively, evening journals of Paris are making. This is proof of the state of the French mind.

THE report that Senator Carlisle has been asked by Cleveland to become Secretary of the Treasury is continually repeated, and is credible and creditable.

It is a mean trick to hit a fellow when he is down. Just as the Republicans pulled themselves together and began to notice things Boston rolled up a Democratic majority of 13,000.

THE Secretary of War announces that the agreement with Mexico had been extended whereby troops of either country may pursue hostile Indians into the territory of the other.

The Crisp boom has been revived, the Southern Associated Press telegram from Washington says that 240 of the Democrats will be in the next House and have expressed their intention of selecting Speaker Crisp.

Some of the ministers and consular representatives in New York sign service. But they can draw on the Government for their traveling expenses for a trip abroad.

THE newspaper misinformation about Mr. Cleveland's views and intentions will continue to accumulate until Mr. Cleveland settles down to work after the 4th of March. Then he will show the wisecracks how little they know about it.

AS the greatest robbers in France have been imperialists and royalists, there is an expectation that the exposure of a nest of corrupt conspirators under the republic may cause a reactionary revolution and make a Bourbon king until the French grow tired of him and chop off his head.

SECRETARY FOSTER is perhaps the most comical Secretary of the Treasury that the country has ever had. Although his expenditures exceed his income, he proposes to "hoard" gold in the sub-treasuries. How a man can "hoard" anything who is spending all he gets and more to is beyond the computation of old-fashioned average financiers.

We regret to learn that our former townsman, Mr. Clem. Manly, is a sufferer by fire. His and two other residences in Winston were burned Monday afternoon. The total loss from the fire was about $12,000.

If any one is not satisfied that North Carolina is coming as to horse and mule raising, a visit to Mr. E. S. Street's livery stables will go far towards convincing him of the fact as regards both good saddle horses, beautiful drivers, strong farm horses, and tough mules. Mr. Street prides himself on native stock, and for two weeks he has been out to the western part of the State selecting a new supply and he has his stables now filled with them.

A delightful entertainment is promised by the school of Miss Leah Jones tomorrow night at the theatre. The programme consists of a Japanese kaleidoscope, infantry drill, a quarrel, tambourine drill, among the pines, and a Christmas play, closing with a welcome to Santa Claus, by children of all nations. Tickets will be placed on sale at Nunn & McSorley's in the morning at ten o'clock. The admission to lower floor will be 50c., gallery 25c.

Mr. Hill Humphrey is receiving numerous responses to his advertisement for poetry of four or five verses to each piece for the best of which he is to pay a reward of $5.00. There have been some two or three dozen pieces sent in all ready, but to give all who wish to compete a good opportunity he has extended the time of deciding between them until the 15th of January. Those desirous of competing need not hold back for fear of not winning and having the fact made public. The name of the winner is the only one that it is intended to publish.

A fall of snow about two inches deep came down Monday afternoon and night. It was the only snow worthy of the name that has visited this section in several years, and it was taken advantage of to the utmost. The next two days nights were out in numbers all day long. A few of them had been kept over from previous service, but most of them were hurriedly improvised ones. The number was probably near fifty. Some merrily jangled with sleigh bells, others went in with sheep bells and cow bells, and still others with no bells at all, and all were filled to their limits with jolly riders—beans and their sweethearts, family parties, hilarious young men, etc. The boys did not fail to get their fun out of the snow either. A dozen or two would get together at the principal corners, and persons had to run a gauntlet of snowballs. The men and boys who were sleigh-riding were their favorite objects of attack, and few passed escaped a shower of the snow-balls.

There will be a special drill of the 5th Division Naval Auxiliary at Lottory Hall Thursday, Dec. 30, at 8 p. m.

Coming and Going.
Mr. W. B. Boyd, who spent Christmas at Mr. W. F. Konegays returned home last night.

Rev. W. H. Willis who is stationed this year at Plymouth, arrived last night to spend a few days visiting his mother.

Miss Corinne Harrison, president of the Henlaway school, Norfolk, is visiting Miss Leah Jones.

Mr. Chas. Vanler of Seaford Delaware, a partner in the New Bern canning factory, is in the city stopping at Hotel Albert.

Christmas Trees.
At the Disciple's church very interesting exercises were given by the Sunday school. It consisted of vocal music and recitations, and a concert piece—The Queen of the Year. All those taking part acquitted themselves in a most pleasing manner. Much laughter and merriment was evoked just previous to the close when Santa Clause made his appearance loaded with toys etc. and covered with real snow that had just begun falling. The tree was burdened with gifts for the children and was one of the most handsome we ever saw.

The Presbyterian Christmas tree and accompanying exercises in the lecture room was also a very entertaining affair. A prominent, pleasing and instructive part of it was a stereopticon exhibition of Doré's scenes from the life of Christ. Besides the school a number of visitors were present, among them some strangers.

Both the Baptist and Methodist Christmas trees were postponed. The date is not yet fixed for either.

Preparing to Come.
The extreme liberality of the racing premiums which aggregate $2,000 is waking up the sporting people in regard to our Fair.

Four more horses came in last week and were placed in charge of Wm. Farrow to be practiced on the track between now and the holding of the Fair. This makes seven he now has in training for the event.

They represent quite a breadth of territory. They came from the western part of the State, the southeastern part and from South Carolina.

Everything points to a grand exhibition and to one of the greatest if not the very greatest gathering of people that was ever in the city.

Rooms and board are already being engaged in the city by those intending to attend it, some taking and paying for the rooms for the entire week whether they use them all the time or not. One of our boarding house keepers, Mrs. J. M. Hines has engaged every room she has except two. Although the Fair is almost two months off.

Storm Notes.
At nine o'clock, Tuesday, at Staunton, Va., the mercury stood at 10 degrees above zero, and ice formed eight inches thick, a rare occurrence there.

The Mississippi river is frozen over at St. Louis.

Rough weather is reported at sea. Incoming steamers at New York show evidence of terrible experience, and of more than twenty steamers due or overdue only four had reached port at last accounts.

The Wilmington Star says not once in twenty years perhaps is Wilmington visited by such a snow storm as the recent one. The Durham Globe quotes one of the citizens to the effect that it was the greatest since '57.

At Raleigh the snow is reported twenty inches deep. Snow plows had to be used on the railroads, and the electric cars had to cease running. The temperature there on Tuesday did not get above 30 degrees, and at 11 o'clock it was down to 10 degrees.

At Columbia, S. C., the snow was four inches deep.

The storm was pretty general. At Augusta, Ga., it was the worst in five years. Charleston, S. C., had a freeze, and the orange trees are injured somewhat. They will probably bear only one crop this year. They generally bear two.

Owing to the snow and cold, there were not so many spectators out to the Divorce Trial at the Y. M. C. A. hall, Tuesday as otherwise I would have been on hand, but those who did brave the elements were well repaid by witnessing a jovial and very pleasing entertainment. There were 26 characters in the piece, and its rendering took two hours. There were some good acting, many laughable jokes, and considerable originality shown in the performance.

Divers opinions continue to be expressed by the press in regard to the Abernathy case, some speaking in terms of extreme harshness, others looking at it as favorably as circumstances will permit. It will be remembered that the votes were almost equally divided in conference—six of the investigating committee believing him guilty of immorality, and the other seven guilty only of imprudence, and on a rising vote of conference upon the question of locating him 59 voted for, and 49 against it.

Notice.
There will be a special drill of the 5th Division Naval Auxiliary at Lottory Hall Thursday, Dec. 30, at 8 p. m.

THE BEAUTIFUL SNOW.
"BY ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE."

The following exquisite poem is the production of an unknown author. It is one of the most tender and beautiful poetical effusions to be found in the whole range of English literature. It has been read with delight everywhere, and has recently been beautifully illustrated and published in book form.

The rare occurrence of snow in this section calls forth more than the usual delight of places to the North and West of us and we know that the re-production of these beautiful lines will not be out of place at this time, or "chestnut" as some think, to the admirers of true poetry:

Oh, the snow, the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and the earth below,
Over the house-tops, over the street,
Over the heads of the people you meet.

Dancing,
Skimming along,
Beautiful snow! it can do no wrong;
Flying to kiss a fair lady's cheek,
Clinging to lips in a frolicsome freak,
Beautiful snow from the Heaven above,
Pure as angel, gentle as a dove.

Oh, the snow, the beautiful snow,
How the flakes gather and laugh as they go,
Whirling about in their maddest fun,
It plays in its glee with every one.

Chasing,
Laughing,
Hurrying by
It lights on the face and sparkles in the eye,
And even the dogs with a bark and a sound,
Snap at the crystals that eddy around—
The town is alive and its heart in a glow;
To welcome the coming of the beautiful snow!

How the wild crowd goes swaying along,
Hailing each other with humor and song!
How the gay sledges, like meteors, flash by,
Bright for a moment, then lost to the eye—
Ringing,
Swinging,
Dancing they go,
Over the crust of the beautiful snow,
Snow so pure when it falls from the sky,
To be trampled in mud by the crowd
rushing by.

To be trampled and tracked by thousands of feet,
Till it blends with the filth of the horrible street.

Once I was pure as the snow—but I fell!
Fell like the snow-flakes, from Heaven to earth,
Fell to be trampled as filth in the street,
Fell to be scooped, to be spit on and beat.

Pleading,
Cursing,
Dreading to die,
Selling my soul to whoever would buy,
Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread,
Hating the living and fearing the dead,
Merciful God have I fallen so low!
And yet I was once like the beautiful snow.

Once I was fair as the beautiful snow,
With an eye like its crystal, a heart like its glow;
Flattered and sought for the charms of my face,
Father,
Mother,
Sisters all,
God and myself I've lost by my fall;
The vilest wretch that goes shivering by,
Will make a wide sweep lest I wander too high;

For all that is of or about me I know,
There's nothing that's pure but the beautiful snow.

How strange it should be that the beautiful snow
Should fall on a sinner with nowhere to go!

How strange it should be when the night comes again,
If the snow and the ice strikes my desperate brain,
Too wicked for prayer, too weak for a moan,
To be heard in the streets of the crazy town;
Gone mad in its joy of the snow coming down;
To be and to die in my terrible woe,
With a head and a shroud of the beautiful snow.

THE ANSWER.
Brother and friend, tho' I never may know
The soul that gave birth to the "Beautiful Snow."
Tho' the hand that first penned it be laid in the dust,
The pen that first traced it consumed with the rust,
In the world of word pictures there is nothing I know
More deeply can move me than "Beautiful Snow."

And tho' it brings beauty and joy in its wake,
This innocent, noiseless, downy snow,
Lovingly seeks this dark orb of our birth,
And folds its soft mantle around "Mother Earth."
While warmly and tenderly mustered below,
Sleep flowers and verdure 'neath "Beautiful Snow."

And what tho' it falls on our sin-stricken earth,
To brighten our gloom, to heighten our mirth,
Softly and gently it seemeth to tell,
Tho' tried and tempted, you faltered and fell,
Yet Jesus can wash you and clothe you in white,
In garments as white as the "Beautiful Snow."

And what tho' it seems too pure for our God-given it freely to sinners, as much as to saints, and he says, tho' wretched and wild,
With despair, and the lost to both parent and child,
Thou' none can be fallen, but yet he may

And wash, and be pure as the "Beautiful Snow."
Then it awakens such thoughts in the soul,
A longing and pleading that God would make whole,
The vilest poor wanderer and teach him the way,
From fathomless darkness to infinite day,
In all the wide world, there is nothing I know,
More sweet than the mission of "Beautiful Snow."

And tho' brother and friend tho' we never be known,
'Till we tune our harps near the Great White Throne,
Yet the sweet word picture, shall live as today—
"A thing of beauty and a joy for aye,"
And while sight and memory linger below,
I shall ever thank God for the "Beautiful Snow."

Christmas at St. Thomas'
Monday the 26th was appointed for the children's Christmas Celebration of the mission of St. Thomas at Jasper, and although the day was cold and threatening by noon a large congregation of children and adults from the neighborhood were present, and fully inspired with the spirit of the occasion.

A beautiful Christmas tree was erected in the body of the church, by a unique arrangement of Mr. A. B. Dawson. A large cart wheel was laid on the floor and a substantial holly tree set in the hub just where the axle was wont to do duty; then the spokes and rim were covered with gray moss, producing quite a natural appearance of a tree in its native situation, upon this moss an abundance of oranges, apples, candies and other good things were placed upon the branches of the tree was suspended an almost endless variety of presents for the children and friends of the Sunday School, each present bearing the name of the person for whom it was intended. The tree was further ornamented with lighted candles, and with the windows darkened presented a lovely scene.

After a brief service by Rev. Mr. George, and a short address to the children, the presents were clipped from the boughs and presented to each as named by Mr. Geo. H. Roberts. Many anxious eyes were fastened upon him during this interesting part of the ceremony, and glad smiles seemed to greet each name as called out.

When this was ended, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow" was sung with great will, the benediction pronounced and the children's celebration was over. Then the older ones were invited to partake of a collation which was done with quite as willing minds as had the children partook of their part.

The arrangement of the whole entertainment was largely the work of Mrs. A. B. Dawson her mother Mrs. Cicero Green, and friends, who were ably aided by Mrs. John Dunn, Miss Lillian Roberts, Miss Emma Disosway Miss Lilla Roberts and Miss Mollie Heath, of this city. Mrs. Wm. Dunn and E. K. Bishop were also active in doing much for the comfort and pleasure of those present.

An interesting item was whispered around that one of the young ladies who received a present was to be married on Wednesday night, she at least will know who it was.

It was a most delightful celebration, and all returned home feeling amply repaid for any discomfort the cold weather might have subjected them to in going and returning.
