Several new students entered the Collegiate Institute yesterday, we are glad to note. It takes pupils to build up any school and with a hearty co-operation on the part of the citizens it would not take long to make New Berne what it should be as an educational point.

With the beginning of the new year we have made some changes in advertising rates. The principle change will be a slight increase in large size and double column ads. There will be no material change in smaller sizes and cards, all present contracts will not be affected.

The meeting Sunday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Hall was one of the best ever held there. The talk by Mr. Gales was a most impressive one. It was listened to with strict attention by every one and resulted in requests for prayer. A spiritual solemnity pervaded the entire meeting.

A meeting was held at the city hall last night in the interest of a State Road Congress. A committee was appointed by Mayor Manly to go to Raleigh in order to petition the present Legislature in regard to this very important question, and one which the JOURNAL has been hammering at for the last twelve months.

The colored people celebrated the 90th anniversary of the emancipation proclamation yesterday. The speaking, reading of essays etc., took place at Clinton chapel. They paraded the principal streets before the exercises took place, and after they were over, the line was formed again and the crowd marched to the Odd Fellows Hall near the railroad foundry, (which was also the point of assembly) and then dispersed. Ralph O'Hara and G. H. White, were the orators of the day.

The happy couple will then take a special train to Goldsboro from which point they will proceed on a Northern bridal tour previous to settling down in their future home in this city. A ball was given last night in Kinston in honor of invited guests and another will be given tonight. An special train will also leave New Berne at 9 o'clock Wednesday.

The steamer Neuss took out the following passengers: Mrs. Dave Roberts leaving to visit relatives at Bellport; Miss Miriam Schultz to visit relatives in Edenton; Rev. Edmond Strudwick and wife of Norfolk, also Mr. and Mrs. Ironmonger, of Norfolk, who have been visiting relatives returning home; Miss Corinne Harrison, President of the Hemingway school, Norfolk, who spent the holidays with friends in the city returning to the school.

Serious Leaks from Rain and Snow. The accumulation of snow on roofs, combined with the rains which came down Saturday night and Sunday, caused some trouble by leaks. The most serious was at the Y. M. C. A. hall. On every side the water came in. Oozing through the prettily tinted kalsomined walls it left them disfigured with ugly blotches. The reading room and the large platform which is generally enclosed and used for the devotional room were flooded. The beautiful Brussels carpet, the gift of the Ladies Auxiliary, was soaked. Some of the papers and magazines on the table shared the same fate. Fortunately the library escaped. It is a case where a little neglect has made considerable trouble. The roof has been in bad order for some time, and the building has suffered by the neglect to properly repair it.

Centenary Church was another public building that suffered, though only slightly. A couple of places, one on each side of the pulpit, being stained by the water in some way soaking through the wall.

Those who try their skill at tournaments should not forget the grand one that will be held in connection with the New Berne Fair on Friday the 24th inst. There is a grand chance to win a good prize. The four cash prizes amount to $100, and there are sixteen valuable special premiums given by the business men of the city.

Mr. E. S. Street, purchaser of the Democratic wigwag, had it carefully torn down yesterday for removal. With a portion of the material he will add to his livery stables and with some of it he will construct a house for vehicles. Mr. Street has been adding so rapidly to his stock recently that the additional facilities will be ready none too soon.

The newly-elected officers of the New Berne fire company, Messrs. E. W. Smallwood, Jas. W. Moore and M. H. Sultan, gave their annual banquet to the members of the company and a few invited guests last night at Hotel Albert, and when it was ended and speeches were called for, more than one thought he was "too full for utterance." Everything passed off in the pleasant manner possible, enjoyment reigned supreme. Long may the gallant fire company flourish, and may they have many such enjoyable evenings as the one just passed.

The account in the Chatham Record of the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Siler, of Siler city, shows it to have been a most brutal affair. Each was shot several times. They were nearly 75 years of age. Robbery was the motive. Mr. Siler was a thrifty farmer with money loaned out, a good citizen, kind neighbor and not known to have an enemy in the world. Circumstances point towards the supposed guilty person. A most remarkable thing about the affair is that this is the third time in a few years that two old persons have been brutally murdered at their homes in that county and it naturally creates excitement and uneasiness.

YOUR FAIR EXHIBIT.

HAVE YOU DECIDED ON WHAT IT WILL BE?

It is Time for Preparation—

Every one Should Send in Something.

Numerous as the helpers in promoting the success of the East Carolina Fair have been there are still many, very many, who could have assisted wonderfully by conspicuous exhibits, who have been content to be simply visitors. This has often been the case from a genuine lack of proper appreciation of the value of what each can do. They do not realize the importance of little things—for instance a horse of extra quality, a fine milk cow, a choice breeding hog, a plump lamb, a trio of pure bred poultry, a bale of well put up hay, a basket of selected potatoes, turnips, cabbage, or other like product good specimens of one kind, or assortments of different varieties of corn, peas and oats; rice in the husk, rough and cleaned; a home-made working implement, and articles of household service or ornament, and many, many things, so small in themselves that scarcely a family could be found who could not put a little effort make a worthy exhibit. Now let every one who has made an exhibit in the past resolve to make even a better one at the coming Fair and not only so but to labor earnestly as he has opportunity among his neighbors to arouse them to do likewise.

Let no one imagine that in the vast aggregate which makes up the East Carolina Fair that his exhibit however small it may be, is too insignificant to count. Every one that is sent in is an aid, and heightens the interest in the department of the Fair in which it is shown to those most interested in that line. Do not fail to send in an exhibit. Send as good a one, and as varied a one as you can, but if you cannot send a large one do not be ashamed to send the small one. Let everybody help.

We have been appealing thus far in this article simply the patriotic impulses of the citizens of Eastern Carolina. We would, however, remind them that they may be directly and well repaid for the exertion they make. The premiums are always exceedingly liberal and it has often happened that an exhibitor out of public spirit and desire to make the Fair a success would send in an exhibit without a thought of whether there was a premium offered for such a one or not and would win a premium that would more than remunerate him for all trouble besides the pleasure felt from the successful and friendly emulation.

Remember the Fair. Decide what you are going to show and see that it is in good condition and ready in advance so as to avoid annoyance and hurry when the time for sending-in arrives.

ANOTHER GREAT HORSE. Progressive Breeding by a Lenoir County Farmer.

Mr. W. L. Kennedy, Falling Creek, Lenoir county, has recently brought into the state the great Kentucky bred colt, Lucid, sire Egotish, record 2 23 1 2, with seven in the 2 30 list at seven years old and the world's record for a 7 year old. He is a son of Electioneer, 131 in the 2 30 list, which excels all sires that ever lived, he by Rydick's Hambletonian 10, the great progenitor of trotters. Out of Green Mountain Maid, nine in the 2 30 list, the great mother of trotters. Egotish's dam was Sprite, dam of Spry, 2 28 1 4. Sphinx, 2 20 1 2, Egotish, 2 22 1 2, by Belmont 64, sire Nutwood, 2 14 3 4, ninety five in the 2 30 list, with 685 descendants in the 2 30 list. Lucid's first dam, Lucina, dam of Lizzo Mack, record, 2 24, by Cuyler 100, with fifteen in the 2 30 list, he a son of Hambletonian 10. Second dam, Lucretia, sister to Lucille Goldust, 2 16 1 4, dam of four in the 2 30, by Goldust 150. Third dam, the dam of Lucille Goldust, 2 16 1 4, Mollie Goldust, dam of Gossip P, 2 18, by Bald Hornet.

This great colt was bred by Mr. John E. Green at Glenview, the old home of Nutwood, 3 18 3 4, near Louisville, Ky. He is a beautiful bay in color, will soon be 3 years old and, as his royal breeding would indicate, he is a handsome and blood like horse. Mr. Kennedy is getting about him in stallions and brood mares the very best strains of trotting blood in the land. Success to him.—State Chronicle.

We are pleased to note such enterprise as is told of above. Mr. Kennedy is one of the ablest farmers of the State. We have no information from him in regard to the horse spoken of above except what is there given but we hope that nothing will prevent Mr. Kennedy from showing him at the New Berne Fair along with other fine specimens of stock of various kinds from his farm.

In this connection we desire to call the attention of the farmers and all other outside of the city to the fact that with the sole exception of competing race horses the owners of anything exhibited at the Fair get all exhibits transported over the railroads both ways without its costing them a cent. The shipper pays the freight at the time the articles are shipped but upon their return accompanied by a certificate of exhibition from the Secretary of the Fair Association the freight will be returned. Under this

The Y. M. C. A. Sunday nights union meeting in Centenary M. E. Church, in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. was not as largely attended on account of the weather as was desired, but after the reports of the officers of the association were read, showing its condition and the work accomplished last year, and a few remarks made by Mr. W. R. Gales Assistant State Secretary in behalf of the association work, a subscription was taken up, which amounted to about one-third of the sum needed to run the association for the year. This amount was increased yesterday to about half what is needed. The association is a means of great good to the young men of our city, and is worthy of the heartiest support from all our citizens. It is hoped that applications to raise the remaining money needed will meet with a prompt response.

Another meeting was held in the hall last night, one conversion resulted. The attendance was good considering the fact that other meetings were being held. Another meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. All you are warmly invited.

Are They Exempt? EDITOR JOURNAL.—Article in the issue of the 27th of the Constitution of North Carolina says: "The General Assembly shall levy a capitation tax on every individual of the State over twenty-one and under fifty years of age, which shall be equal to the tax on property valued at three hundred dollars in cash."

The question now is, does not this law apply to every male inhabitant whose home is in North Carolina, whether foreign born or native. We hear that in some instances foreign born residents of the State, have claimed that they are not liable to poll tax, and have been regarded as exempt we would like much to know if this is a right construction of the law.
