CONSIDERING the whole country, the present spell of cold weather is the severest in many years. It brings hardships, but it presents many opportunities for the cultivation of the most excellent of virtues, Charity.

YESTERDAY a little fellow said, "They ought to hang Doctor Hicks for having such weather." Dr. Hicks has nothing to do with making the weather as it is. He only foretells what it will be, and it is a good thing he does, for it enables us to prepare for what is coming. Nevertheless, people will say, "Hang Doctor Hicks."

INSURANCE of Gov. Carr. Isaac H. Smith—Money to loan. Geo. Green, Jr.—Adm'r's sale of land.

THIS winter can be safely recorded as a cold one, and if the old saying is true, there will be good crops this year.

Last night E. W. Smallwood, was elected chief and J. K. Willis assistant chief of the fire department for the ensuing year.

There will be a business meeting, after the prayer meeting, at Presbyterian church tonight, a full attendance of the congregation is desired.

One white man had another arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing his watch and a little later found it in his own pocket. The parties were not residents of the city.

Writing to the Biblical Recorder President Taylor says: "Men have been educated at Wake Forest from eighty-seven of the ninety-six counties of North Carolina, from eighteen other States and from four foreign countries. So far as known 381 ministers (317 Baptist), 259 teachers, 203 physicians and 178 lawyers have gone forth from the college."

The Cold Weather. Tuesday night was the coldest of the winter thus far. The self-registering government thermometer went down to 7-1-2 degrees. During the day it at one time got up to 34; a difference of 26 1-2 degrees.

Both rivers were frozen over in the morning. The steamers that were running had to use ice-breakers—plank in front. Some of these got pretty badly out by the ice.

If the weather holds as it is, it will soon have some skating. Some ice was almost strong enough to bear a person's weight Wednesday.

Coming and Going. Mrs. J. F. Robinson, of Georgetown Ky., who has been spending a short time in the city, left to visit at Kinston, Raleigh and other places in the State.

Miss Maggie Bryan who has been spending the holidays at home, left yesterday morning returning to St. Mary's School.

Miss Louella Makey, another pupil of St. Mary's, arrived on the Str. Albemarle from her home in Edenton, en route to St. Mary's, and stopped over in the city to spend a brief time with friends.

Hon. F. M. Simmons, who has been off to Winston and other points on a business trip returned home last night.

Capt. W. J. Pope, of Lenoir county arrived on a business trip.

Mr. Jas. A. Bryan left for Durham on a business trip.

Prof. E. M. Koonce of the New River High School went up to Raleigh yesterday to attend the Masonic Grand Lodge.

The Monjohs Killing. Coroner Primrose and a jury, consisting of T. A. Henry, J. J. Baxter, E. D. Bangert, Ferdinand Hahn, J. D. Barfield, col., and Geo. Mitchell col., held an inquest Wednesday over the corpse of James Monjohs col. After an autopsy had been held by order of the jury, and they had carefully investigated the case, they rendered a verdict that said Monjohs died from injuries on his head by a billiard cue in the hands of John H. Thomas, during a quarrel in the bar room of J. W. Harrell, Jan. 24 1893.

The postmortem examination, showed an internal fracture of the skull on the right side where the blow was delivered and that what is known to the medical profession as a contra-coupe or injury on the opposite side of the head, had formed. A large clot of blood had formed on the left side, which pressed on the brain, and produced the paralysis from which the deceased died.

Thomas surrendered himself to the officers of the law and will have a preliminary hearing in the District Court.

Our Fair Edition.

Next week we will issue the special Fair edition of the JOURNAL for wide gratuitous distribution. It will contain the premium list and much other matter of great interest and importance. There are many people in other cities and counties, who feel a lively interest in New Berne and the East Carolina Fair, who will be delighted to receive one of these papers, and we want them to have them. The best way for this to be effected, is for all our citizens who have such friends and acquaintances, to furnish us a list of them. A few names have already been handed in. We will gladly mail the papers free of charge, to those we are asked to send to. Do not be bashful about the list, make it as large as you choose—we need the names and it is one way that you can do the Fair a service and favor and your friends at the same time.

This special issue of the JOURNAL gives advertisers splendid services, for the papers will be plentifully distributed among good people in all neighboring counties. Regular advertisers will get all the advantages the special edition offers without charge. Others wishing to make use of its columns, should see us immediately about the matter as we are now at work on it.

Immensity of the Fish Business.

The results attained indicates improvement year by year in the fishing industry in our waters. The Morehead City News tells that the largest catch of fish ever made in those waters was made last Saturday by Messrs. Aleck Lewis, Charles Willis and Rowland Phillips. At a single drop of their nets they caught 10,000 pounds of fish. Just think of securing fifty barrels of so delicious meat as grows by simply dropping a net overboard and pulling it out of the water.

The News also tells of a fine shipment of fish from Morehead the following Monday morning: Three cars went off well loaded with the fishy thousands. J. M. Arthur & Co. sent off 8,000 pounds; W. L. Arendell, 9,000; Watson, Daniels & Bell, 21,000; Ed. Taylor & Co., 4,000; Willis Brothers about 6,000; Hancock & Co., 1,500; J. W. Willis, 4,000; G. N. Ives about 5,000; C. W. Willis 5,000; Eugene Arthur several thousand, and some large shipments from others. There was also fifteen or eighteen thousand pounds shipped by Beaufort sellers.

To give a faint idea of what a grand source of food supply the fishing industry is, we call attention to the fact that this shipment of fish was sufficient in quantity (allowing one pound of fish to each individual) to have furnished a meal to the entire combined population of Wilmington, Raleigh, Charlotte, Winston Asheville, New Berne, Goldsboro and Durham!

All visitors to the New Berne Fair which begins Monday, February 20th will be able to view in orderly arrangement fine specimens of the various kinds of fish that abound in East Carolina waters together with a full display of every kind of apparatus used in taking them. Besides the native fish, taxidermized specimens of foreign varieties will also be shown. No better opportunity for investigating the industry can be found. Whether your object is pleasure or to secure valuable information, it will pay you to examine the fish department of the Fair carefully and thoroughly.

Sugar Beets and Beet Sugar.

We have several times shown the possibilities of sugar beet culture and beet sugar manufacturing in New Berne and vicinity. This morning we give a short article from the Elizabeth City Economist on the same subject: "The subject of making sugar from the sugar beet has long been upon the public mind and the industry has grown from small beginnings to be one of the most important industries in the civilized world. Germany leads in the manufacture of sugar from beets, and we believe the quantity of sugar now made there from the saccharine of the beet is greater than that manufactured from the sugar cane syrup. "Recently a factory for the manufacture of sugar from beets, has been started in Staunton, Va., which will be the pioneer of beet sugar manufacture in the South. At present there are only five or six factories for making sugar from beets, in the United States but in Europe they are numerous and increasing. "The yield of sugar beets to the acre average about fourteen tons, sometimes twenty-two tons are obtained. At the factory they sell for an average of $4.50 a ton, which, at an average yield of fifteen tons to the acre, would make the gross value of the crop $67.50 per acre, and putting the cultivation and other incidental expenses of the crop at $30 per acre, would leave a net profit of $37.50 per acre. Let some of our enterprising mounted men look into the subject and invest in a beet sugar factory and our farmers might profitable diversify their crops by raising sugar beets. "If a double daily mail is impracticable one of our prominent citizens suggests the advisability of trying a daily freight train furnishing also passenger and mail facilities, to run just opposite in time to that of the regular mail and passenger train schedule. We have long been extremely anxious for a double service believing that it would result in great good, not only to New Berne but all along the line.

Proposals Wanted.

Proposals to furnish water to the city of New Berne, will be received up to and including January 31st 1893.

THE NEW BERNE FAIR.

Organization and Regulations for the Approaching Exhibition.

DATE OF HOLDING.

The East Carolina Fish, Oyster, Game and Industrial Association have the honor to announce that they will hold their Sixth Annual Fair at their grounds in New Berne, N. C., on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and Saturday, February 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th and 25th, 1893.

They offer, for progress in all the branches of industry and art, liberal premiums.

FREE TRANSPORTATION FOR EXHIBITS.

The following arrangements for the transportation to and from the city of all articles and animals entered for exhibition have been made with the railroad and steamboat companies: All articles intended for exhibition at the Fair will be transported upon prepayment of freight at regular rates, and receipted bill will be given to shipper by R. R. Agt., specifying articles in detail and charges on each article. This receipted bill accompanied by certificate from the Secretary of the Fair Association that the articles specified were exhibited at the Fair will entitle the original shipper of such articles to free transportation of them back to the original shipping point. On delivery of any such articles after they have been transported back to station from which they were shipped in the first instance, the original shipper may return the receipted freight bill to the Agent of the R. R. Co., and if accompanied by the certificate of exhibition, the Agent will refund the freight paid on such articles as are returned. Unless demand is made by the shipper to have freight refunded at the time articles are delivered to him on their return, all right of claim will be forfeited. The above does not apply to race horses. No certificate of exhibit will be given race horses.

The committee will take every precaution in its power to secure the safety of all articles and stock, after arrival and arrangements for exhibition, but will not be responsible for any loss or damage that may occur.

ACCESSIBILITY OF GROUNDS.

The grounds are nicely located and easily reached, being directly on the line of the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad. Also cabs and carriages from all principal streets in the city.

ACCOMMODATION FOR GUESTS.

Hotel and boarding house accommodations are fully up to the requirements of the occasion.

Strenuous efforts will be put forth to make this the most attractive and most successful Fair yet held by the Association.

THE OPENING.

The Fair will be formally opened by the Governor, and many other distinguished men are expected.

EXCURSION TRAINS.

will be run every day during the session of the Fair, and all railroads in North Carolina will issue excursion tickets to the Fair at the rate of one cent for every mile traveled.

Also greatly reduced rates on all steamboat lines.

REGULATIONS.

The President and Directors shall have the general supervision of the Fair. It shall be the duty of any of these officers to take speedy and efficient means to quell any disturbance that may arise upon the grounds, and to see that proper order is kept. The employees and policeman will obey any one or more of them to accomplish this end.

The President will wear a white rosette; each of the Vice-Presidents, red and white; each of the Directors, blue; the Secretary and Treasurer, red; Managers, green.

JUDGES.

To secure an intelligent and impartial award is the end to be attained by all the machinery of the Fair, and the Judges will be selected with that view, by the Directors.

They will carefully examine all articles in the class to which they are assigned, and give the awards.

If there is no competition the Judges will not award a premium, unless there is decided merit; and if they find any article on exhibition not mentioned in Premium List, deserving mention, they will report same to the Secretary and he to the Board of Directors.

No competitor can act as Judge, in the class in which he or she exhibits. Competitors for premiums cannot be present during the examination of the Judges, unless specially requested by them.

ENTRIES.

The Secretary will receive entries at his office and record them in the Entry Book and give the exhibitor a tag for same.

The name of the exhibitor shall be on the tag, and the exhibitor shall be responsible for the safekeeping of the same.

Children Cry for Fisher's Catnip.

until the awards have been made by the Judges.

Parties from a distance may ship their goods to the Secretary who will follow their instructions in regard to them and have them exhibited to the best advantage.

All articles entered for Premiums must be upon the grounds on Monday the 20th day of February.

Every article or animal entered for competition shall be under the control of the Board of Directors.

Exhibitors will not be allowed to remove any article or stock until the close of the Fair without the permission of the Director in charge of Department.

The Treasurer as soon as possible, will pay the successful exhibitors who have been awarded premiums.

All premiums not called for within 30 days after awarded will be considered donated to the Fair.

INVITATION.

The members of the press generally are invited to attend our Fair, and if they will make it known to the Secretary, he will gladly furnish them tickets of admission.

PRICE OF ADMISSION.

For each Adult, 50c.; for each child under 12 years, 25c.; season tickets purchased before February 20th, $1.50 season tickets purchased during Fair week, $3.00; season tickets for children under 10 years, 50c.; for each two-horse vehicle, 50c.; for each one-horse vehicle, 25c.

AT BIG IKE'S.

Big Ike's is the store, whose wide open door, invitingly woo's you to enter, Where bargains abound, both up stairs and down, Just crammed from circumference to centre.

He will treat you so fair, with dealings so square, You will tell all your friends with amazement that they can do as they like, I will trade with Big Ike.

From now to the end of my days, Should a large dealer fail, Big Ike's at the sale, And buys in the whole of the stock, He does nothing rash, just pays out the cash, And let his wares as firm as a rock.

Come buy what you wear, you'll have cash to spare, The hard times no longer lament, If with Big Ike you spend, you'll find in the end, It was money judiciously spent.

When he gets his steam ferry, we'll all be so merry, We'll give him the grandest ovation, We'll give him our trade, and have a parade, And hurrah for Big Ike's legislation.

"A place for every thing— And everything in its place." There should be a place for everything. There is a place to buy your Clothing, Hats and Shoes—that place is at Howard's. When you need any of these things call on us. Our idea is to give you your money's worth every time. We have just received a new lot of Gloves, kid, mocha and cloth. Do you need a suit. If we have any to suit you, will name a close figure on all winter clothing.
