OUR FISHERIES.

OVER TEN THOUSAND TROUT-AN AS CONISHINGLY LARGE CATCH OF FISH AT ONE HAUL-Capt. Ben Barker, of South Creek was up to New Berne, Dec. 10th, with between 10,000 and 12,000 speckled or salmon trout. They were all caught in Neuse river below the city at one single haul. This is the largest number taken at one haul of which there is any record around here. They averaged weln size also. While many of them weighed but three or four pounds, which is good sized fish, we are informed that others would weigh nearly twelve pounds.

Capt. Barker sold 6,100-about half the catch to fish dealers of this city and hipped the remainder himself. ne disposed of here, sold for four and five cents apiece and brought him just $269. Messrs. Watson and Daniels, Carmine and Wadsworth, B. B. Lane and Fernie Gaskill were the purchasers. At the same rate this would run the value of the entire lot to over $500, but of course the probability is that having shipped them the returns will be well beyond those fig-

Capt. Barker had two boats and three crews with him, but they would not near hold the fish. It took four sail boats to bring them to the city.

As we said this is the best catch at one regular business requiring such a small amount of capital if you can at which a man can pick up $500 or get several thousand pounds of meat with only a little effort and almost without cost. - New Berne JOURNAL.
