JUMPING JOSEPH.
 A Saltatory Marvel Who is Astonishing London Theatre-Goers.
 The management of the Empire Theatre, London, has a novel attraction in the person of Joseph Darby, the champion jumper of the world and holder of the championship belt.
 Mr. Darby clears six chairs at a bound, his only spring-off being from a brick standing end up. In a similar way he jumps from a brick over a chair on to a second brick, and clears a bar five feet high.
 His flying leaps include a chair placed on a table, a series of eight chairs making an obstacle ninety feet long, and a horse standing with his ankles tied.
 The more sensational feats consist of a jump over three chairs backward; a jump over a chair on to the face of a man lying at his feet, and off again, without injury to the man; and a flying leap over water, in the course of which the champion just skims the top of the water without wetting more than the soles of his shoes.
 Mr. Darby concludes with a splendid bound over a six-foot gate studded at the top with vicious-looking spikes.

THE PARSON'S TEETH.
 There is a story of a clergyman who had taken a temporary duty for a friend, and who had the ill-luck to injure his false teeth during the week, says the Manchester (England) "Times."
 The plate was sent to the dentist's for repairs, a faithful assurance being given that it should be duly returned by Sunday's post, but the dentist or the post proved faithless.
 With the assistance of the clerk the clergyman managed to stammer through the prayers, but felt it would be useless to attempt to preach. He therefore instructed the clerk to "make some excuse for him and dismiss the congregation."
 But his feelings may be better imagined than described when, in the seclusion of the vestry, he overheard the clerk, in impressive tones, thus deliver the "exemption": "Parson's very sorry, but it is his misfortune to be obliged to wear a set of artificial teeth. They bowed last Wednesday, and he ain't got them back from London to-day, as was promised. I've helped him all I could through the service, but I can't do more for him. It ain't any use him going up into the pulpit, for you wouldn't understand a word he said, so he thinks you may as well go home."

TECHNICALLY INNOCENT.
 The judge of a Western court, was not thoroughly posted on the case before him, but he was one of those men you have probably heard of who think he knows it all.
 "You are charged with horse-stealing," he said loftily to the prisoner. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"
 "Not guilty, your Honor," responded the prisoner.
 The Court looked surprised.
 "Do you mean to say that the animal you rode into town on today, and which was identified by a half a dozen citizens as yours?"
 "No, your Honor."
 "Well, sir, did you buy it?"
 "No, your Honor."
 "Did the owner present it to you as a token of esteem?" and the Judge smiled.
 "No, your Honor," and the prisoner smiled a little himself.
 "Didn't you feloniously enter the stable of the owner, where it was kept, in the dead of the night, and remove it forcibly, without his consent or knowledge?"
 "Yes, your Honor, more or less," replied the prisoner, boldly.
 "Well, don't you call that horse-stealing?"
 "No, your Honor."
 "And why not, pray?" and the Judge was more sarcastic than ever.
 "Because it was a mule, your Honor," and the prisoner guffawed at his own joke to the extent of a $10 fine for contempt of court.—Detroit "Free Press."

Valuable Farming Lands For Sale at PUBLIC AUCTION.
 In obedience to a judgment of the Superior Court of Craven county, rendered in the special proceeding, wherein James O. Harrison, Administrator of the estate of John W. Hill, deceased, is plaintiff, and Martha Hill and others are defendants, the undersigned as Administrator and Commissioner, will, on Monday, February 13, 1893,

 (It being the first day of February Term 1893 of Craven County Superior Court), at the Court House in the city of New Berne, County of Craven, N. C., at Twelve o'clock noon, sell at Public Auction to the highest bidder all the lands belonging to the estate of John W. Hill, deceased, and being in No. 3 Township, Craven county, on Hoxley Creek about 1/4 mile north of Dover Station on the public road leading from Dover to Fort Barlow in said county, also, the lands of Wm. White, Ann Barnes, Emanuel Williams, both Wives and others, containing 27 1/2 acres, more or less, with all the buildings and improvements thereon, excepting the standing pine timber sold to the Columbia Lumber Company by deed bearing date April 28th, 1891, recorded in Craven county records, Book No. 105, folios 221, 222 and 223.

The above lands are described in the following deeds recorded in Craven county records, to-wit:
 One deed for 200 acres, more or less, from Jonathan Griffin to Edward H. Hill, dated Nov. 15th, 1881, Book No. 68, folio 81; one deed for 12 1/2 acres, more or less, from Jonathan Griffin to said Hill, dated Jan. 24, 1885, Book No. 67, folio 220; one deed for 300 acres, more or less, from said Griffin to said Hill, dated February 22nd, 1891, Book No. 122, folio 211; one deed for two tracts (150 and 25 acres respectively) in all 215 acres, more or less, sold to Emanuel Williams, January 7th, 1884, Book No. 75, folios 101 and 102. Excepting tracts sold off by said Edward H. Hill, to-wit: One tract for 200 acres, more or less, sold to Emanuel Williams, January 7th, 1884, as per deed recorded in Book No. 68, folios 200 and 201, and two other small tracts of 10 and 12 acres, respectively, in all 35 acres, sold to Ann Barnes by said Hill, Jan. 13, 1874, as per deed recorded in Book No. 74, folios 200 and 207.

These lands are valuable for farming, as well as for stock raising, and conveniently located on the public road, about half way between Dover Station on the Atlantic & N. C. Railroad and Fort Barlow, with a good dwelling and other buildings on same. About 100 acres are cleared for cultivation.
 Terms of sale, Cash.

A PRETTY SURPRISE.
 A beautifully illustrated and charmingly bound edition of Longfellow's "Evangeline," the most popular long poem ever published by an American author, and one of the most famous poems in the language, recently published is a pretty surprise for book-lovers. It is in large type, numerous and excellent illustrations, very fine and heavy paper, gilt edges, remarkably handsome cloth binding, combining in delicate colors, blue and white and silver and gold. No illustrated edition has ever before been published at less than $1.50, and that is about what you might "guess" the price of this to be, but it isn't—witness our offer below.

Our Offer. By special arrangements with the publisher we are able to offer this book to the subscribers to this paper as follows:
 EVANGELINE and DAILY JOURNAL, one year, $2.00
 " " " " " " six months, $1.75
 " " " " " " three months, $1.50
 " " WEEKLY JOURNAL, one year, $1.50
 " " " " " " six months, $1.25
 Under no circumstances does this proposition hold good except where payments made in advance.
