THE goddess of liberty wearing a hoop-skirt at the World's Fair. It would be a steel-ribbed.

The European governments regard the international monetary conference as having been a failure, thereby coinciding with public opinion in America.

Mr. Cleveland has kept his word about not choosing any back numbers for his cabinet, but several of the gentlemen chosen may without fault be classed as experimental issues.

Secretary Foster says he has received assurances from representatives of the leading powers of the world warranting the conviction that the annexation of Hawaii will be regarded by those powers with satisfaction or ready acquiescence.

A Washingtonian says that no exceptions can be justly taken to the timber selected by Mr. Cleveland to make his cabinet: each board is good when examined by itself, but it remains to be seen how they will harmonize when worked into that useful piece of state furniture known as a cabinet.

FAIRS.

The first annual Exposition of the East Carolina Fish, Oyster, Game and Industrial Association is drawing to a close. This is the last great day of the Fair. The Exposition has been a uniform and unparalleled success, and our people have great reason to rejoice.

While the Exposition has been excellent, and visitors have said "the half has not been told us," yet, one of the chief pleasures of the occasion has been the meeting of old friends and the sweet communion of kindred spirit.

All parts of the State have been represented. Mountain beauties have won the hearts of men who live in cottages by the Sea; and gallants of the West have surrendered to the superior charms of the beautiful daughters of the East.

Distant sections of our common country have met and blended in the ties of brotherhood. The North, the East, the South and the West have stood together, rejoicing in the achievements of genius in this the most blessed land on which the sunlight of heaven falls.

The success of the East Carolina Fish, Oyster and Game and Industrial Association has stimulated the managers of other Fairs to greater exertion and has prompted enterprising citizens of other communities to organize similar Expositions.

The State Fair at Raleigh will no doubt maintain its high character and win new honors.

We may expect the next Fair at Elizabeth City to be very far in advance of all its predecessors. Mr. Lamb, chief manager, is attending the New Bern Fair and will take advantage of all he sees and learns to make the Elizabeth City Fair worthy of the intelligent and progressive community in which it is located.

The Goldboro Fair will continue to be one of the chief attractions in the State.

We welcome the announcements of all Fairs. New Bern, appreciating the liberal patronage and cordial good will that has been generously extended to her by all sections, rejoices in the success of all, and will do her part towards making their futures more glorious than their past.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.
 Mr. Michael Carlson, Plainfield, Ill., writes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. A PRETTY SURPRISE.

A beautifully illustrated and charmingly bound edition of Longfellow's "Evangeline," the most popular long poem ever published by an American author, and one of the most famous poems in the language, recently published, is a pretty surprise for book-lovers. It is in large type, numerous and excellent illustrations, very fine and heavy paper, gilt edges, remarkably handsome cloth binding, combining in delicate colors, blue and white and silver and gold. No illustrated edition has ever before been published at less than $1.50, and that is about what you might "guess" the price of this to be, but it isn't—witness our offer below. Every home in the land ought to have a copy of this Evangeline, so charmingly beautiful, as a poem, as a collection of artistic illustrations, and as a product of the book-making art.

By special arrangements with the publisher we are able to offer this book to the subscribers to this paper as follows:

EVANGELINE and DAILY JOURNAL, one year,	$5.00
" " " " " " six months,	2.75
" " " " " " three months,	1.50
" " WEEKLY JOURNAL, one year,	1.25
