Kansas Populists defy the supreme court, saying that it has no jurisdiction in the House muddle.

The Legislature appropriated ten thousand dollars Wednesday for a Confederate monument. The vote was almost unanimous in favor of it.
Benton Hancock, of Michigan has been nominated by President Harrison to fill the vacancy in the United States Judgeship, created by the appointment of Judge Jackson to the Supreme Court.

Defaulting cashier Redwine of Atlanta, Ga., got away with $60,000 of the bank's funds. The bank is now in the hands of the U. S. bank examiner. The bank owes depositors $800,000. The President says they will be paid in full.

Mr. C. E. Bolton, who was to lecture for the Y. M. C. A. last night, missed the train at Goldsboro and consequently could not reach here. Those who purchased tickets can have their money returned by calling for it.

Much credit is due the management of the Fair Association for their firmness in keeping gamblers and fakes off the grounds. They are a curse wherever allowed, and we believe that all Fairs that admit such then and there sounded the death knell of the organization as it should be.

Rev. Dr. Battle, of the Synod of Brazil, is visiting Rev. C. G. Varrell, and will preach in the Presbyterian church Sunday at both services. Dr. Battle was in Brazil during the revolution and during the formation of the provisional government. In fact he saw the birth and growth of our new sister republic.

At Midway, near Winston, a small child, the daughter of W. A. Elliott, was accidentally burned to death while her parents were away. A neighbor saw the little one running around the garden on fire. Before the flames could be put out she was so badly burned as to die in a few hours. The mother had left the house but a short time when the accident occurred.

Rev. L. T. Christmas col., pastor of Central Baptist church at Wilmington, is in the city a short while in the interest of raising funds for finishing the church under his charge. He says there is but little work to be done now, and he respectfully asks help from both white and colored. He brings with him a number of excellent certificates as to his character. All donations will be announced through the New Berne and Wilmington papers.

Mr. Howard W. Bowen, with Hall, Creagh & Co., cotton factors and general commission merchants of Norfolk, has been attending the Fair, and speaks in the highest terms of its excellence. Mr. Bowen left with a pamphlet of 160 pages, giving the industrial advantages of Norfolk and Portsmouth. It is a well gotten up book showing the enterprises of these two cities. Mr. Creagh of the firm is a young man formerly of New Berne, and we are glad to note his success.

When the attempt was made to inflate the balloon yesterday afternoon the wind made it so unmanageable that it caught on fire before filled. It was however put out with trifling damage, and the ascension was postponed until 10 o'clock this morning. Prof. Steel will make some special preparations this morning, and there is scarcely any doubt but what the balloon will go up at the time stated. Those who wish to see a good ascension will do well to be on hand. It will be the last of the Fair.

EAST CAROLINA EXPOSITION.

FIFTH DAY, GOOD ATTENDANCE, SPLENDID WEATHER.

Further Mention of Exhibits, and Fine Stock Parade.

Today closes the exhibition of the Fair. Though the Association has undergone considerable expense since its organization. It has been one of unbounded prosperity. The exhibits this year in every department have been of a high order, the weather has been good, and the attendance most flattering.

The taxidermy exhibits of Miss Alice Duffy and Mrs. Moulton are remarkable for their beauty and striking resemblance to life. The forest scenery, provided for a portion of the exhibit, adds considerably to its attractions, and many specimens of various kinds offer to the students of nature a good opportunity for investigation.

The exceeding excellence of the poultry department is a matter of astonishment to all visitors. The "birds" shown—the number of which is near a thousand—are remarkably fine in size, color and plumage. Chickens, ducks, geese and turkeys. Those from a distance say that in all their attendance on poultry shows they have never seen this one excel in quality.

Among the poultry is a sixty pound pair of turkeys—a hen and gobbler—from the Riverside farm, Haw river, Alamance county. This is their regular breeding weight. When fattened the gobbler alone weighs forty-five pounds.

W. H. Bray, of New Berne, makes the largest display and has the greatest number of varieties. He alone shows 150 fowls, representing many breeds, and they are all good.

Other large exhibitors in this department are Mitchell & Ellis, of New Berne; Thos. A. McIntyre, of Onslow county; Jas. P. Kerr, of Alamance, and Wood Bros. of New Berne. These latter gentlemen show but one kind—buff cochins.

They prefer to devote their attention to this favorite breed alone, and to breed to the highest point attainable. Their birds, beautiful in plumage and heavy as ordinary turkeys, have attracted much attention.

And oh, the varieties in general. Don't ask us to enumerate them. They are in abundance. In chickens, from bantams, polish and hamburgs (pretty little pets) to the slender and active games, the massive and slow-motoned Asiatics, the prolific, egg-producing Mediterraneans, and the all-purpose American breeds. This department by itself, to any one who has any taste whatever for poultry, was worth coming a long distance to see.

The live stock in all lines—thoroughbred and standard horses, the jacks, cattle and sheep—were of a high grade. Among the bulls was a grandson of the famous Jersey cow Euros, which made 778 pounds of butter in eleven months.

Those who fancy dogs had a good opportunity to delight themselves by examination of the foremost breeds represented by select specimens.

There were a good number of hogs, and as we have already stated they were fine. Mr. W. H. Bray showed a Berkshire, "Old Prince" that tips the scale at 740 pounds. Also two pigs just a year old this week that would dress 300 pounds each, and a pen of six fat hogs that would dress between 2,300 and 2,500 pounds.

Mr. Bray made very full and creditable displays in the agricultural, poultry and live stock departments. In the poultry he showed more varieties and the largest number of fowls of any exhibitor. His combined exhibit in all the departments is said to be the largest ever made by a single exhibitor in the State.

G. H. Waters & Son, carriage factory of New Berne, and the Ellis carriage works of Kinston, made a good display of buggies on the grounds.

Mr. Edward Gerock made a handsome display from his art studio of crayon and pastel portraits, and fine paintings from nature.

Yesterday's Races.
Five hundred dollars was the amount of money to be contested for in the various races yesterday—$300 in the first race, $200 in the next—the last race of the Fair—the consolation race for horses that had not won first or second money in any race.

The first race was the 2:35 class, mile heats, best three in five.
The horses won in the following order: Dominion, owned by Hackburn & Willitt, first; Tony F., by M. H. White, Hertford, second; Charlie, by J. Schwartz, Durham, third; and Brave Boy, by Geo. D. Bennett, Goldsboro, fourth.

Dominion came in ahead in the first, third and fifth heats, Charlie in the second, and Tony F. in the fourth.
Dominion time was 2:30, 2:41 and 2:39; Charlie's time in the heat he won was 2:37 1-4, and Tony F. 2:39.

The consolation race resulted as follows: Adrian won first money, Robert D. second, Ananias third, and Abdallah Chief Jr., fourth.
Robert D.'s time was 2:47, 2:42 1-2 and 2:45.

Thus ended the races for this Fair.

FOR HIGHER USEFULNESS.

Exhibits at the East Carolina Fair Secured for the Columbian Exposition and for a College Museum.

Mr. Guilford Pearson, who has been attending the Fair in the interest of Guilford College has secured all the dead feathered game at the Fair, (except a very few specimens which he did not desire) to be taxidermied for the college museum. It will make a prized addition to the college collection. Mr. Pearson came with the expectation of taking back some of the four footed game, and fish also for the same purpose, but he found that the birds made as much as he could manage on one trip. He will look out for the other desired specimens later.

Mr. H. H. Brimly who has been attending the Fair in the interest of the State Exhibition at the Columbian Exposition also expresses satisfaction with what he has accomplished.

He will take off the collection of the varieties of oysters and clams for the Exposition. They will be prepared by being carefully opened, the meat removed and the shells filled with plaster paris and closed to resemble the freshly taken oysters. In addition he will take some of the mammoth fossil oyster shells that were shown at the Fair.

Mr. Brimly has also secured really mounted specimens of birds, and some of agricultural exhibits. He will have several boxes of New Berne taxidermy at the exposition. He intends also to secure a full-rigged sharpie for the fish exhibit, and to display also all kinds of boating tackle and chandlery and fishing apparatus.

These various and striking exhibits at such a time and place will tend to bring the fishing and oyster industry of the State into very prominent and favorable notice.
