We do not know that we comprehend what is meant by "competency of appointees to office, and to remove 'rom political action the demoralizing madness for spoils, Oivil service has found a place in our public rolicy and laws. Its usefulness entitles it to hearty support and encouragement." If this means that no one is to be appointed to office who is incompetent one's self. we approve the address to that extent. If it means that competent Republicans are to be retained in office by the present Administration, unless malfeasance in office can be proven against them, we totally disapprove it.

It is a monstrous absurdity to suppose that the great victory of 1892 was won alone for Cleveland and Stevenson; that the choice of the people for President and Vice President shall be respected, bat that in every other official position their wishes may be disregarded.

The people declared for a Democratic administration, and there can be no Democratic Administration with Republicans in office.

Mr. Oleveland is an honest and able man, and he is not expected hair cut for one $1.00 at to violate the law, but, if there is a law that prevents the complete inauguration of a Democratic Administration, it is the first duty of Congress to repeal it. Pare and unadulterated Democracy should be a prerequisite to office under the Cleveland Administration.
