An exchange wants to know where Adia is. He is on the Democratic platform with both feet.

The German Army bill was defeated by a large majority and the Reichstag was immediately dissolved.

The longer Commissioner Blount remains in Hawaii, the more apparent does it become that he is the right man in the right place. He knows what not to do and what not to say.

The financial flurry in New York is very ominous. It shows how near the brink of a huge crash this country is. It is on the "ragged edge." Nothing but the people's confidence in Cleveland saves it.

West Virginia has a two-headed woman who has voices entirely different in tone. She talks bass on one side and tenor on the other. She is not in the stage line, however.

It costs $1,500 to fire the big Krapp gun at Chicago. It doesn't cost anything to fire an offensively partisan office holder, however, and it is being done every day at Washington.

Alabama is nothing if not original. That state now boasts a woman who was struck by lightning seven years ago, has never spoken since, and whose eyes grow luridly brilliant at the approach of a thunder storm.

Secretary Hoke Smith is a democrat from head to foot, but if what is said of him is true, a seeker for a place must have something more than democracy behind him to insure success. He has given orders to heads of bureaus under his department that merit must govern nominations as well as appointments.

Postmaster General Bissell says the colored postmaster at Fayetteville shall serve out his full term, no matter how distasteful he makes himself to the people, unless charges of incompetency are brought against him.

The report of St. Louis says that they will have a World's Fair in 1903 that will surpass any present Chicago fair. It will approximate the 100th anniversary of the purchase of Louisiana territory. The fair included Missouri.

The report of the Texas Senator M. K. Bailey says that the proposed tax on tobacco and other duties will be levied on the basis of the ordinary tax on the Government. The Indigent Pension bill was enormously increased. The expenditures, the M. K. Bailey bill, especially in its repeal of the manumission, has caused a corresponding loss of revenue. In this situation the Senator from Texas sees no alternative but to levy fiscal duties on sugar or coffee or on both, or the work of tariff revision, or in raising increased revenue for tax on incomes; and he is plainly not for the latter proposition.

Memorial Day!
A special meeting of the Naval Reserve will be held tonight.

Y. M. C. A.—Breast meets at 8:30 p. m. tonight in the Association Hall.

Mr. J. W. M. DeLoach has commenced the work of repairing his residence.

The members of the Bar are requested to meet at the office of Mr. M. D. W. Stevenson this morning at ten o'clock to prepare calendar.

Mr. A. N. Mason, of Carteret county was married yesterday to Miss A. E. Potter, of Beaufort by Rev. D. H. Petree, at his residence. They left by the night's train for their homes.

On Thursday, May 11th, Capt. Sol. Broughton left for the city some very fine potatoes some of which were as large as goose eggs, from the farm of which the Journal has mentioned in a previous issue. Such a productive country we are blessed with.

Rev. D. H. Petree received a telegram yesterday bearing the sad intelligence that his father, Mr. F. F. Dupree had just been stricken with a severe stroke of paralysis at his home in Germantown, Stokes county. He was so low that it was feared he could live but a short time. In consequence of this news Mr. Petree will leave for his home this morning.

The North Carolina Teacher says: "Every mail brings letters from teachers and our friends of education, expressing their intention to be present at Morehead City with the Assembly, and the general outlook is for a very pleasant and successful session. Mr. Petree, the well-known proprietor of the Grand Hotel, guarantees to reserve comfortable room accommodations for all who give him due notice."

In a lawsuit over a Texas pony, in Marshall county, Alabama, between W. B. Gross and A. G. Chambliss, the jury brought in a verdict for defendant, Chambliss. The jury threw "heads or tails" or used a similar plan by which to decide the case, and the judge set aside the verdict and the case will come up at the next term of the court. The costs in the case already amount to about $700. The pony was worth about $25.

We have conversed with Postmaster W. E. Clarke in reference to the change by which the two men who act in the capacity of railway mail clerks on the A. & N. C. R. R. clerks are the help on another route making it so that they run twelve days at a time without interruption. Mr. Clarke decidedly expresses the opinion that no man can stand the strain. The work required has got to be performed very rapidly and yet accurately. The mail matter has more than doubled and if any change is made it ought to be made in the direction of giving additional assistance instead of imposing additional duties.

Truck Quotation.
The following truck quotation was received by telegraph last night from Messrs. Palmer & Rivenburg of New York:
Strawberries, 15 to 15; asparagus $3 to $4; cabbage, $1.50 to $2.00; peas—Edenton—$1.25 to $1.05; others—N. C. baskets—75 to $1.20.

Naval Reserve.
A special business meeting of the Naval Reserve will be held at the court house tonight at half past eight o'clock.

Improvements Rapidly Coming.

The hydrants for the water works arrived yesterday. The steamer New Berne of the N. N. & W. line was the one that brought them in.

Mr. A. E. Boyer, of Fostoria, Ohio, arrived to join his brother Mr. T. J. Boyer, who has been here a short time. They are the gentlemen who are to do the boring for the wells for the water works. They will begin the preliminary work of erecting a derrick today; the work of boring will follow as quick as certain material on the way arrives. The wells will be six inches in diameter; the first one will be over three hundred feet deep. Several others will follow, possibly over half a dozen.

It will take only about one more day's work to finish the work on the foundation for the stand pipe. The work on the foundation for the buildings will quickly follow.

The works are moving on well and it will not be long before New Berne will be well fixed on water works. A sewerage system has also been constructed and in a very short time we will have another railroad—it is almost completed now. These and many improvements in the city prove beyond doubt that New Berne is on the high road to a bright and prosperous future.

Mathematical Training.

It has been our pleasure several times lately to visit the New Berne Collegiate Institute. While the pupils show proficiency in all times of study we are specially impressed with the good results from the mathematical training. We have seen the pupils show their mastery of practical and complicated problems and yet as much skill as they showed at working examples on the black board, their quickness in mental arithmetic was more surprising still.

Prof. Adams would give out questions prepared on the spur of the moment involving from three to four calculations in all four divisions of arithmetic and by the time he would finish speaking the answer would be ready.

Such tests show that under the methods in vogue at this school not only do the pupils assimilate their lessons but that their minds are also quickened into brisk activity. The results of the thoughtful teachers at this school are exceedingly hard to equal.

Painful Accident at Kinston.

Mr. Carl Pridden, son of Mr. J. A. Pridden of Kinston, received a serious injury Monday from the accidental discharge of his gun. He was standing, leaning upon the muzzle, throwing food to his dog. The latter in jumping for the food brought one of his feet down upon the hammer which fired the gun. The entire load of large shot passed through the left arm, coming out on the top of the shoulder.

The shoulder and collar bone were fractured and the muscle of the arm almost completely destroyed.

Dr. Hyatt and Tull are in attendance and this condition at last accounts was as comfortable as could be expected.

Coming and Going.

Dr. F. Duffy left yesterday morning for Raleigh to attend the State Medical Society.

Messrs. F. Ulrich, J. H. Hackburn and H. J. Lovick left for Tarboro as delegates to attend the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons and the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar.

Mr. P. H. Pelletier left for Raleigh to attend the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows. Mr. Hill Humphrey went up to Tarboro on a business trip.

Dr. F. W. Hughes returned last night from Raleigh where he has been attending the meeting of the State Medical Society.

Mr. A. M. Baker of Danville, arrived last night to spend a few days in the city.

Honors to a North Carolinian.

Dr. William F. Lewis, son of Dr. R. H. Lewis, of Kinston, who has recently graduated in medicine in the University of Maryland, has just passed the examination before the Army Board in New York and now ranks as Assistant Surgeon in the army. He is home awaiting orders. Dr. W. F. Lewis was one of three only that passed the board.—News and Observer.

WORLD'S FAIR.

—Via the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway—

The quickest and best line to the World's Fair. Only twenty-seven hours from Richmond, and twenty-three hours from Charlottesville to Chicago. Double daily Vestibule trains with Pullman sleeping and dining cars.

The Chesapeake and Ohio is also the cheapest line. Ask for tickets via this route. If you desire to stop at the famous Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs or at any of the watering places along the line of the C. & O., your World's Fair tickets will permit you to do so. Special arrangements for the care of organized parties.

THE YOUNGERS. VEERAN.

[When the Confederacy was in its death throes, and Sherman was sweeping everything before him, the youngers, so well known to our people, who was then about 18 years of age, boarded the train for Greensboro to join his son, having older brothers in the army. Not liking to leave his dear parents, he had witnessed over his shoulder the burning too, his mother's son, he had to go. He went without a word to his father, who locked him up in his room.

Grim war his father's name was calling.

And the leaves of the old oak were falling.

The Sun of Peace was shining brightly.

For the grand old days were coming.

A nation was to be reborn.

Defeat upon the South was coming.

Veiling its stars as a funeral pall.

The booming guns have ceased to thunder.

The sword and bayonet no longer are seen.

The brightness that set the world a-wondering.

And keeps forever the memory of an Of the deeds of valor and chivalry daring.

On many a victory that unquenchable Little recking nor ever caring.

Till heroes in numbers compelled them to yield.

Saddened faces and eyes were staring.

As flew the tidings of that April day.

To the homes of those who were longed for dreaming.

Of the nation's glory so proudly they dreamed.

And Hope no longer fondly they dreamed.

Had winged its way from the western light.

Despairing gloom was darkly revealing.

A nation's life with deathly night.

Yet on that morn when braves were kneeling.

Beneath the blow that swayed the nation.

When women had ceased their frantic kneeling.

And a might remained for heroes' showing.

Without mother's kiss or father's blessing.

A boy, scarce ten, took his part.

Spring to arms, no fairies' part.

For the Southern Cause had to leave heart.
