ONE OF the most satisfactory things about a Columbia Bicycle is the price. Owners of this wheel know they own a bicycle worth the price, $190, because Columbia are never at any place sold for less. Heavy discounts are given on many other wheels listed at $150, because they are not worth the listed price. The discount varies as does the patience and persistency of the prospective purchaser. Moral: Buy a Columbia and know that you do beyond the shadow of a doubt ride the Best on Earth 100, 000 wheelmen ride Columbia.

The State Alliance agency authorizes the statement that in the past four years its business amounted to $1,490,000. The business for last year was $330,000, being a falling off of $1,160,000 from the previous year.

The Charlotte Observer regrets that North Carolina is unwittingly responsible for the pardon of the anarchists, Fielden, Schwab and Noebe. It thinks that if Governor Aligeld, who pardoned them, hadn't gone to Asheville to recuperate his lost health he would have died. More's the pity!

The farmers of North Dakota, reckoning upon the fact that wheat is very low in price and pork very high, have begun to feed their wheat to their hogs. Selling wheat in the shape of pork, they can get a dollar a bushel for it. This is better than selling it for 50 cents per bushel for shipment eastward.

A. J. Warner, president of the American Bifurcated League, has issued a call for a national convention of the league to be held in Chicago, beginning August 1 next. General Warner says he is sure, from a "count of noses, that the Sherman silver purchase act cannot be repealed without a satisfactory substitute.

The crops in this State are reported as excellent, while the cultivation of the fields show marked improvement, and general confidence is made on the enlarged production of vegetables on the farms. As people are living more at home than usual, good rains are reported throughout the State. The outlook is that our people will have a good year.

Our people heartily appreciate the better service which the A. & N. C. R. R. is to give the public by running a double daily mail and passenger train commencing with next Monday. This service means a great deal for New Berne, for this section and for the development of the road.

The bicycle club regret that the city authorities will not allow them to ride on the side walks away from the business portion of the city. It will not only deprive them of a great deal of pleasure but almost practically rules the bicycles out of use as implements of business convenience, which purpose they are so rapidly filling.

In one of our Western States a certain girl has become almost insane because she could not be a man. She never had to meet the rent, nor slave, nor serve on the jury, nor pay a poll tax, nor pay for the ice cream, nor fasten her suspenders with a single nail. She don't know when she is well off.

We think the majority of people will be a little surprised to find that yesterday lacked half a degree of being as hot as the previous day. Yet this is what the self-registering Government thermometer at the railroad shows. The highest point reached during the 24 hours ending at 6 p. m. yesterday was 91, the highest of the day before was 91.1-3. The lowest yesterday was 74. The range during the time being 17 degrees.

The Elizabeth City Economist is gratified to hear that a canning factory is in contemplation in that town to be run by local capital and under local management. A good move. There should be at least one—several—would be better—in New Berne for vegetable canning and we would rather see them put up by home men with their own money than to see so much said about getting factories to come. If there is money in it as every indication shows why not make some of it ourselves.

PROF. G. T. ADAMS.

His Determination to Enter the Ministry—Remarks on His Excellent Work in New Berne.

On Friday the 28th, ult., Prof. G. T. Adams, Principal for the past four years of New Berne Collegiate Institute formally tendered his resignation to the Board of Trustees, he having just previously given notice of his intention to abandon the profession of teaching in order to prepare himself for the work of the gospel ministry. He expects to leave next week for a visit to his home at Little River Academy after which he will enter Vanderbilt Theological Seminary, Lexington, Ky.

Although it is the sacred calling of the ministry alone that causes Prof. Adams to sever his connection with our school, the fact does not prevent widespread regret at his connection with our school. From the time that Prof. Adams first entered our city to the present he has never shown any signs of gain being the prime object of his work. On the contrary he has labored unceasingly and unselfishly for the general educational advancement of all this eastern section. Neither has it been his ambition to occupy foremost places with ease and let others bear the brunt of the work, but whatever came to hand he was ready with the most diligent to bear his full proportion of the burden whether in the line of his occupation, in the line of benevolence, of his church work or general Christian or philanthropic effort.

Prof. Adams took hold of the Institute in the fall of '89, a young man fresh from Trinity College, having graduated in June of that year. The position upon which he entered was no sinecure as is the case many times with superintendents of schools. He did not come on a fat salary and find the work mapped out to his hands with a corps of able teachers furnished and the money to pay them already provided—not at all. He took hold on his own responsibility and what was done he had to do, secure the teachers, secure the scholars, make the money with which to meet the expenses and manage the business affairs of the institution, in addition to doing a share of the most important teaching himself. No small task for so young a man.

But Prof. Adams entered upon his labors with a love of the work, a laudible ambition to attain the greatest usefulness and an energy seldom found and made the school so successful that the high standing in colleges of those who took their preparatory course in this Institute because of the subject of considerable remark.

Although the school has never had boarding facilities connected with it, the extent to which it is attracting pupils from outside of the city is marked. In the last scholastic year then were thirty-eight non-resident pupils representing several counties.

Prof. Adams during his stay here has justly improved the library which now number a thousand or so, interesting and useful volumes in variety, has built up a model department through Prof. Morton and his assistants which has a splendid reputation for its high class work and has secured a fair supply of general scientific apparatus.

Prof. Adams is a man of high instincts of scholarly attainments and strong force of character and devotion to duty. He desires no easy place in his work. Though he has repeatedly been tendered from elsewhere very desirable positions as city superintendent or college professor, it was his calm and deliberate choice to remain in New Berne and teach as long as he taught at all. He thinks it is the best place in the State for a school. He saw a work in this section to be done and it was the desire of his heart to do that work and he ceases from it only because he has become fully convinced that he can do the most good in the ministerial work.

This step has been in his mind for some months, but he never gave any intimation thereof to others and did not reach his determination until shortly before he handed in his resignation. When the school closed he did not know but what he would resume teaching as usual this fall.

In Prof. Adams' labors here he thought not of the city's interests alone but of those of Eastern Carolina and lost no opportunity of working to inspire each neighborhood, higher educational attainments, and the wish is uppermost in his mind that the policy of reaching out to the country settlements around the city and of running the school on a line that will hold resident pupils and attract outsiders may be the fixed characteristic of the school in future.

Prof. Adams possesses the high esteem of our people and he carries with him their wishes there the lofty aspirations which animate his breast may come to fullest fruition.

Mr. D. F. Jarvis who has been off visiting the World's Fair and taking quite an extensive pleasure tour arrived home yesterday morning on the steamer Neuse.

The steamer Neuse also brought in the following passengers: Mr. W. F. Crockett returning from a business trip to Norfolk, and Miss Etta O'Neal returning from a visit to relatives at the same city.

Among those who went down to Manteo last night were Mrs. E. H. Meadows, Mrs. F. G. Mitchell, Miss Emma Hunter of the city, Mr. Sam'l Casper and family of Pamlico.

Miss Minnie Reid, daughter of Dr. E. L. Reid of Raleigh, is visiting Miss Jennie Watson.

A Youthful Candidate for the Gallows.
A small boy named Moses Barker was shot in the fleshy part of the forearm yesterday by a little darky about ten years of age named John Henry Wells, being the same hard little case who assisted in the two store burglaries recently on Broad street and who previously detected hiding himself away in another store evidently for purpose of robbery. He has been under arrest three times and yet he has not yet reached ten years of age and is so small that on one of the occasions he escaped from the police station cells through an air hole.

He was let out of jail under a bond on Tuesday the 4th inst and in one hour time charges were made against him for having just stolen a bicycle. This was on Tuesday and now on Friday he has shot a boy though fortunately the wound is not a very bad one.

The shooting seems to have been done in pure wantonness. It is said that he simply called out, "Look out, I'm going to shoot you," and fired away.

He ran and escaped and has not yet been re-arrested.

$50 to the Naval Reserve.
Receiving information through Mayor Ellis of the existing in our midst of our military company, the Naval Reserve, which is as yet (but in its infancy and struggling upward, the Lewis Mencer Construction Company sends a check to the amount of $50 for the use of the company and the following short but kindly and expressive little letter:

HON. WM. ELLIS,
New Berne, N. C.

Dear Sir—Your letter of June 16th would have been answered more promptly if the President of our Company had been here as we wished to consult him in the matter.

We wish to be considered citizens of New Berne in view of our interests in the city, and we sincerely hope the people of the city will consider us.

We enclose our check for $50 to the account of the Naval Reserve of the city of New Berne and hope to do better in the future.

We Remain Yours,

A Brave Goldsboro Confederate Dies.
The sudden death of Mr. Joseph Ballen-Berger occurred at his home in this city Monday evening about 11 o'clock, of heart trouble, in the 68th year of his age. He was well known throughout this section and universally esteemed. He was born in Germany in 1825 and was of the Hebrew faith.

He came to this country before the war and located near Pikeville, this county marrying a gentle lady of the neighborhood and addressing himself to the avocation of farming which he followed studiously till some ten years ago, when he came to this city and opened a small grocery near the city market.

He was a brave Confederate soldier, volunteering at the beginning of hostilities and facing the inevitable at Appomattox and refusing to surrender and during a thousand deaths, after all his hard fought fields, he rode through the Federal lines with forty others of his comrades, and joined Gen. Joe Johnston at Greensboro.

Brave soul he was Honest and true. God bless his memory. His funeral, largely attended, and with the Masonic and E. of P. orders, of which he was a member, in attendance, was held Tuesday afternoon, 7th inst. at the residence of his wife two sons and a daughter survive him.—Goldsboro Argus.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
The rapidity with which cholera is spreading in Europe, and the fact that thousands of people in the plague-stricken sections are dying in terror from their fears, should be a note of alarm which should be heeded in America. To be forewarned is to be forearmed. The germs of disease do not find lodgment in perfectly healthy digestive organs. For the purpose of inducing the conditions of health necessary to destroy all disease germs, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It cures, others, will cure you.

The Population of New Berne is about one thousand, and we would say at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the Throat and Lungs, and these complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. Safe, Quick and Effective.
The valuable curative properties of Alcock's Porous Plasters are due to the employment of the highest medical and chemical skill. They are purely vegetable, and in ingredients and method have never been equalled; safe, quick and effective in their action; they do not burn or blister, but soothe and relieve while curing, and can be worn without causing pain or inconvenience.

Do not be deceived by misrepresentation. All other so-called Porous Plasters are inferior, made to sell on the reputation of Alcock's.

Ask for Alcock's and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.
