"Hear dem silver bells" ought to be popular in Congress just now.

Why does a man's system require more rest and recreation after he becomes an office-holder?

A "praying band" has orders from London to convert Bob Ingersoll.

The diamond mines of Brazil have yielded over 15,000,000 carats; of stones, valued at $150,000,000.

Excessive rope-jumping caused the death of Bessie Woodard, a little girl of Washington, D. C.

The bachelors in Congress will never get married if the sketch artists are not called off.

A good many people seem to have adopted for a motto, "when in doubt, blackguard Congress."

An Asbury Park revivalist has gone crazy. The man who inspects the woman's bathing suits is still sane.

It is a hard task, brethren, to make the lender and the borrower take the same view of the money question.

Paderewski didn't make himself a long-haired freak for nothing. His American tour, just closed, netted him $100,000.

The sea captain who utilized an iceberg to tow his vessel during a calm was determined to keep cool under any and all circumstances.

Grant Scott! A Canadian preacher says the time will come when no man can tell a lie. There will be no politicians, drummers or amateur fishermen when that day arrives.

Truly there are some wonderful things about the financial situation Europe is afraid of Congress, and not a small part of Congress is equally afraid of Europe.

Even we millionaires feel the scarcity of money. George Gould says it would be difficult for him to make $10,000,000 in cash inside of 100 hours. Same here, George.

A Chinaman committed suicide because he could not gain the love of an American girl. He should have joined a Sunday school.

If the Sherman silver law be thrown overboard without righting the ship of finance a good many professional financial pilots will be hunting for holes to crawl into.

The visitor to the World's Fair who was robbed of $3,000 worth of diamonds paid a high price for knowledge that every person should have naturally. Diamonds or other valuable jewelry should never be worn where there is a promiscuous crowd.

The married men ought to erect a monument to Col. Kate Field for having declared that the finest type of women refrain from eating onions. Only married men know the extent of the evil. Girls rarely eat onions between the age 16 and the date of their marriage.

A Washington preacher sums up the financial situation thusly: "Atheism is the cause of our trouble at this time. Politicians say it is legislation, but the people have lost confidence in God and when they do that it is no wonder they lose confidence in their fellow-men."

No services will be held at Presbyterian church today.

The Nantucket and Kearsarge will remain a few days at the Norfolk Navy yard for repairs.

The Irish Home Rule bill passed the British House of Commons Friday night by a majority of 34. The vote was 801 ayes to 267 nays.

Mr. E. F. Rowe's new residence opposite the JOURNAL office is completed. It presents a very neat appearance and makes another good improvement for this street.

After the storm there ought to be a calm and perhaps the long talked of balloon ascension will take place tomorrow. Half past three o'clock is the hour selected for it.

J. W. Sawyer, colored, who is pretty well known by all train and steam boat arrivals, wishes it known that he has now been promoted to the proud distinction of porter and baggage man of Hahn's livery.

The Goldsboro Headlight retracts nothing of its charges contained in its editorial against Maj. Harrell. Mr. W. T. Lyon, of Oxford is out in another card, an extremely severe one against him. Saturday's News-Observer-Chronicle contains it.

President and Mrs. Cleveland are back in Washington. Considering that Mr. Cleveland has recently undergone a surgical operation the report from him is good. The Post of yesterday says he was in excellent spirits, his eyes were bright, complexion clean and he looked vigorous and strong.

Mr. C. V. McGehee, the market wharf baker, has added another oven, the same size of the one he has been using. This makes it so that his bakery has a capacity of 700 loaves a day in addition to the cakes, etc. We are glad to see him receiving such patronage as to make this enlargement necessary.

The fruit business seems to be assuming very good proportions around Greensboro, judging from a statement made by Mr. Jno. J. Phoenix, of that place to a News-Observer-Chronicle reporter. He states he is buying on an average two hundred dollars worth of fruit daily and paying spot cash. The crop is stated to be a large one.

At Mr. John Dunn's store is what seems to be simply a bob tailed kitten, but which we are informed is half-rabbit. He was obtained from Mr. M. A. Marshall of Beaufort by Mr. Claud Gaskins who informs us that he has seen the mother, a large yellow cat and the remainder of her progeny and that the others have the true feline appearance about the head but partake plainly of the rabbit characteristics in the body. They move about by leaps and also have short claws.

CHOLERA IN JERSEY CITY.

Official Announcement That the Dread Disease is in This Country.

Martin Crowe, whom we announced as being attacked by cholera in Jersey City, died in the hospital from the disease in two days time. The case has been officially declared genuine Asiatic cholera. Experts were called in from New York, and upon examination the spirillum of cholera was found. Another suspicious case is being investigated, and an emergency hospital large enough to accommodate 100 patients has been established. The authorities however are not alarmed. The origin of the disease is unaccountable.

The plague is raging in Russia with unabated fury. There were over a thousand deaths from it last week and 3,496 new cases.

Advices from London tell of four fresh cases and two deaths at Grimsby.

Directory of the City.
A complete directory of New Berne, with the different interests classified together with a synopsis of its history is being gotten up and will soon be ready for the press. Comparative statistics of her enterprises, increase in population, receipts and shipments of all articles of trade, showing the rapid and solid growth of this town will have precedence in the publication.

Without the assistance of the citizens, which is earnestly requested, it cannot be perfected as the publishers desire. It is proposed to set forth the many advantages of New Berne, and to take advertisements at a very low rate—just sufficient to pay for the cost of printing. Parties having statistics of interest or wishing to advertise in the books, will confer a favor by communicating with A. Hatchet at Hotel Albert, or Mr. Joe Watson.

It has been some time since New Berne has had such a directory and one is greatly needed. Another improvement that our city ought to have without any delay is the numbering of all residences and business houses. Our population has grown sufficiently large to require this and it would give strength to any effort at securing a free delivery.

Church Services.
Centenary M. E. Church—Rev. R. A. Willis, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., conducted by the Presiding Elder, Rev. F. D. Swadell, D. D. The Holy Communion after the morning services. Mr. Jas. Windfield who has charge of a flourishing school at Mealee, Pamlico county, is in the city on a short visit to his father, Rev. B. Windfield.

THE SOUTH SOLID.

Her Divers'ed Interests The Secret, Even Though But Little Developed.

In the face of the great financial crisis that has swept both continents during the past few months the South has met it with great fortitude and an assurance that she has all the resources and acquisitions necessary for the happiness and comforts of her people.

A great deal has been said and written about her progress and rapid development, and in spite of the dull times and scarcity of money the South, and especially North Carolina, has scarcely felt any such thing as a panic.

Manufacturing enterprises are still going up and that alone means that money is not being clinched by all of our men of means and additional work is given the laboring classes and money kept in circulation. Our cotton, lumber, truck, bread, meat, fruit and vegetable interests are still in their infancy and cannot only supply the home consumption but raised sufficient abundance to supply nearly any demand that could possibly be made. Let us push forward in this line.

The Washington Evening News pertinently insists that the "cotton must be manufactured into clothing to be of any use. Raw fruit will soon decay. Timber must be transformed into lumber and woodware. Almost all the transforming processes were formerly delegated by the South to the North or to Europe."

The Messenger also coincides with these views when it says that all this must be changed. A beginning in this was made some years back, but it must be pressed and developed. We buy wagons, carriages, etc., made of North Carolina timber. And so with cotton goods and canned goods, etc. The South must raise its own supplies, manufacture its own goods; machinery, wagons, etc. It must raise its own fruits and vegetables and can them.

North Carolina claims more cotton factories than any State in the union because 'arious other kinds and there is no noticeable abatement in the establishment of new ones.

This immediate section of our State, though wonderfully blessed in natural resources, is not up with the other sections in manufacturing, and the absence of such has not gone on without being felt. The question still is, how much longer shall we so remain. The last step was the establishment of a knitting mill in New Berne. It is true that it was on a small scale, but it gradually building up by enlarging its capital and moving to more commodious quarters.

Cannot other manufacturing interests be started? Who is really concerned in the matter and who is giving it any thought?

The Storm at Swansboro.
A correspondent writes us from Swansboro: The storm last Monday did considerable damage to wharves and docks and small houses on water street, the tide was the highest here in 8 years; fences, wharves and little exposed houses were washed away, but no serious harm was done to up-houses, boats &c.

The storm commenced here Sunday night about midnight on the 27th prox. and continued till Tuesday morning the 29th, very little rain, but wind from the South-East blew the salt spray over the land and now the trees, crops and gardens look like a heavy frost had fallen on them; it was the driest storm we ever saw.

Crops are considered pretty good in this county, but this storm wind has materially damaged the cotton and young corn.

Fishermen say the storm won't injure the fishing interest much—we hope it won't.

Messrs. Dan H. Ward, P. Smith and Ed Foster left here to go to New River a few days before the storm in a small sail boat. We haven't heard from them since they left. Perhaps they were struck by the storm somewhere and had to scud to some other port; like they did last winter when they started for New River in a small sharpie outside and hove up at Cape Lookout lighthouse three days afterwards, nearly froze to death with no sails or ropes—all blown away in a storm of wind, snow and sleet.

YOU'RE AN EASY PREY, with your flesh reduced below a healthy standard, for Consumption and other Scrofulous and dangerous diseases. And it's for you the condition that Dr. Farrow's Golden Medical Discovery is especially valuable. If you're thinner than you ought to be, whether from wasting disease, defective nutrition, or whatever cause, the "Discovery" will surely bring you up to the healthy standard. By restoring the normal action of the deranged organs and functions, it cures every internal source and means of enervation. As a strength-restorer and flesh-builder, nothing like this medicine is known to medical science. Fitty Cod Liver Oil and all the disquieted complaints can't compare with it. It's sold on trial. That is, in everything that's claimed for it, if the "Discovery" ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. What offer could be more business-like!

Postponement.
Mrs. A. T. Jenkins will reopen her school on MONDAY SEPT. 16th, instead of on the 6th, as heretofore announced. sept 16.

A Natural Pear Country.

We have noticed repeatedly that pears thrive here remarkably. Go where you will and find a pear tree and it is almost an invariable rule, that you will find a thrifty tree and one loaded in its season with the finest fruit of the kind. We have viewed with particular pleasure special ones raised by our townsman Mr. J. McSorley and by Mr. Guard Dixon, and by those that come from quite a number of farmers on the north side of Neuse river.

Report from this section generally are just as good as in New Berne. The following clipping from the Kingston Free Press correspondent is but a fair specimen:

"The pear crop in Jones is very fine. Mr. J. B. Banks has the finest pear orchard we have ever seen. The fruit hangs in bunches almost like grapes."

We do not know of any large pear orchard near here but there is one thing that is pleasing; many of our farmers are turning their attention with increasing interest to the culture of this delicious fruit and we doubt not will become in time a prominent industry.

Quis Grumbling.
Under this headline the Augusta "Chronicle" says:

"Cotton is once more on the move and there is an advance in prices quoted in the past forty-eight hours. Cotton is the most valuable export that America offers to the world, and in disposing of it much will be done toward the restoration of the equilibrium of exchange between this country and Europe. The price of cotton for some months to come, will be higher than it was last season, though the stringency of the times and the want of ready money has forced the current quotations slightly below what they would otherwise be."

"The world's supply of cotton is placed at 365,000 bales less than it was 1892, and this is looked upon as favorable to those in demand. Cotton is the American product which brings the greatest returns from foreign markets and at this time affords an assurance that the influx of gold or its equivalent will continue for some months to come. This adds another to the foundations for an inference that improved times are at hand. With money coming in, and wheat, corn and cotton going abroad, says the Detroit Free Press, 'the timid hoarders of money will soon realize the folly of which they are guilty and will be hunting for investments instead of seeking to avoid them.'"

"Why, then, should we not stop wearing long faces and begin to talk about better times instead of hard times. A man's feelings are much influenced by the talk he hears all day, and if we will talk about better times that are coming we will feel better and hasten their approach. Let's quit grumbling.—New York Journal of Commerce.
