STARTED WRONG.

One of the greatest difficulties in the way of party success and the return of national and individual prosperity is to be found in the fact that the Administration started wrong and obstinately refuses to get on the right track.

There are analogies all around us, and they have their lessons that cannot be disregarded with impunity.

No general offers battle to the enemy before his army has been officered by men devoted to his flag and skilled in the arts of war; no admiral gives his ship to the waves and the tempest until it is manned with seamen who love their ship as they do the cradle that rocked and the home that sheltered them: loyal and brave men, who, trusting their commander, look the storm in the eye, and defy the thunderbolt.

Mr. Cleveland has set his battalions in the field with three-fourths of their officers hostile to his policy, and ready at any moment to salute the triumpant flag of the enemy. He has gone to sea with his ship manned by a peratical crew ready at any moment to throw over the cargo and scuttle the ship.

How can there be confidence in an Administration elected as Democratic that ignores Democrats and honors Republicans? The thing is impossible!

Policy suggests acquiescences—but, we know that the apples of hope, that cheered us in our struggle for victory, have, like dead sea fruit, turned to ashes on our lips.

There cannot be a Democratic Administration with more than half the offices held by Republicans.

But, we believe there will be a change. Any man knows where a stone wall is after he has struck his head against it, and there may be a return to Democratic principles and Democratic methods.

The fixed determination of Congressmen to insist upon a faithful compliance with the Democratic platform is the star, over a dark and stormy sea, that may lead to a harbor of safety. God grant that the ship of state many ride out the storm until deliverance comes!

The Genuine and the Sham.

Every good thing has its hosts of imitators; every genuine article its counterfeits. The imitators always choose the most valuable and popular article to counterfeit so that when they claim their sham to be equal, or as good, or the same as "So-and-So's," the public may depend upon it that "So-and-So's" article is the best of the kind. The sham proves the genuine merit of the thing it copies and never has this been better illustrated than by the imitations of Allcock's Porous Plasters.

Allcock's Porous Plaster is the standard of excellence the world over, and its imitators in their cry that theirs is "as good as Allcock's" are only emphasing this fact and admitting "Allcock's" to be the acme of perfection, which it is their highest ambition to imitate. The difference between the genuine and these imitations, which copy only general appearance, is as wide as that between copper and gold.

The only safe way for purchasers is to always insist upon having Allcock's Porous Plasters. They are the only perfect plasters ever produced.

Actions are ideas in motion.

Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administers it to her own offspring and always with the best results. For sale by J. V. A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.

From the Troy (Kansas) Chief.

Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhœa, etc., we become scary. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by J. V. Jordan.

Mothers, and especially nursing mothers, need the strengthening support and help that comes with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It lessens the pains and burdens of child-bearing, insures healthy, vigorous offspring, and promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment on the part of the mother. It is an invigorating tonic, made especially for women, perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system, as it regulates and promotes all the natural functions and never conflicts with them.
The "Prescription" builds up, strengthens, and cures. In all the chronic weakness and disorders that afflict women, it is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded.

Rocky Mt. Keeley Mocking Birds.
The Keeley Institute students are having a gay time now-a-days, or, rather, now-a-days and now-a-nights. They keep cool in the day time under the broad spreading oaks in the campus, and in the night gather on the broad verandas of the Institute, and fill the air with melody until the mocking bird, singing to the moon from the branches of the great oaks, gives up in despair and tucking his head under his wing keeps silent.—Rocky Mt.
