Mr. Simmons is just now complimented by the active opposition of Congressman settle.

Two members of Mr. Cleveland's Cabinet were in Atlanta last Monday. They are Hoke Smith and H. A. Herbert.

A fearful prairie fire is raging in the Pawnee reservation, I. T., and many boomers have had to abandon all and flee for their lives.

The democratic party will commend itself to the people when its leaders insist on redeeming the pledges made in the platform.

The failure of others cannot excuse us. If the President or Congress fail to do their duty, let us be sure and do ours.

Nine hundred striking workmen of the Louisville and Nashville refuse to return to work and will fight the wage reduction.

Senator Stewart one of the silver hornets, wants a conference with Mexico and South America to agree on a legal tender silver dollar.

Compromise is in the air. A big fight has been going on for the Atlanta post office. The matter is to be settled by the appointment of Renfro, as a compromise. Oan's the President catch the spirit?

By having his hair dyed and eyebrows shaved off, a man aroused a Stone City barber's suspicions and proved to be Samuel Copeland, who robbed the Morehead (Miss.) Bank in June.

Neal, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, is making a very strong canvass. He scouts the tariff as the leading issue, and shows McKinleyism to be the curse of the country.

Miss Clara Barton had a conference with Governor Tillman and the Central Relief committee after which she agreed that the Red Cross association should take charge of the relief measures on the Sea Islands. Miss Barton says the people on the Sea Islands will suffer more later on than they now do and gives her reasons for so thinking.

The New York banks now have more money than they know what to do with. Some of the banks are retreating their circulation and withdrawing their bonds. So much gold is in circulation that in the daily settlements from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 is carried around from one bank to another.

As the home paper of Mr. Simmons we have had little to say about him; knowing that the papers of the state would abundantly vindicate him, but we take occasion now to say that the opposition of Populists and Republicans only indicates him the more to his neighbors and friends.

The Rio Janeiro naval revolt has rapidly taken on the proportions of a revolution. The squadron of three insurgent war-ships has grown to thirty, while the Government's defensive resources appear to be in a state of disintegration. This situation points to the ultimate installation of the rebellious Admiral De Mello as the head of a de facto government.

Supervising Inspector Oast, accompanied by his wife, came in on the steamer Neuse on official business and left on the steamer New Berna returning to Norfolk.

Misses Bailor and Helen Southgate and Nannie Portlock took the round trip on the steamer New Berna.

Mrs. J. L. Pigott who has been visiting at Mr. Ed. Gerock's and Mrs. M. A. Holland's left on the steamer New Berna for her home in Norfolk.

Mr. J. C. W. McLean who has been spending the summer in Beaufort returned to the city yesterday morning.

Remarkably Good Features. The new features of the Mechanics and Investors Union, the National Building and Loan Association which is represented by Mr. Geo. Allen are attracting much notice and exciting very favorable comment among our citizens, especially those of the guarantee fund and the accident and life insurance features with additional cost.

By means of these a member's stock is carried for him in case of disability or death just as long as may be necessary even up to the maturity of the stock. Thus in case of the death of a non-borrowing member his heirs would, without any further payment receive the maturity value of the stock at the expiration of the term and the widow of a borrowing member would have all property pledged to the association returned to her free of incumbrance.

There are features probably not found in any other similar association in the world.

Water Works Notes. The construction of the water works is being pushed ahead. The well-bored after a brief interruption was resumed Tuesday, and it will not be long now before the laying of the pipes which have been distributed along the street will be begun.

The pumps are in position and the engines are being placed. The bricking up of the engine house and white washing of the brick work including the seventy-five foot high chimney is nearly finished and the yard around it being nicely graded, all of which is causing the work to present a striking and attractive appearance.

The Farmers Side. The Southern Planter for this month gives the true side of the home supply producing farmer's situation when it says: "We are only able to say that we entirely agree with one of the large farmers in the State, who on returning from Richmond a few days ago where he had been to try to collect about $1,000 due to him for produce sold from his farm, and had failed to collect a cent, said to his wife: 'I thank God I am a farmer. We have a large stock of live stock of all kinds, splendid crops, and abundance of everything to feed our stock and ourselves for twelve months at least, while the merchants and people in the city have neither food nor the means wherewith to buy it. We can walk without suffering, whilst they must largely suffer and go into debt, until the wheels of commerce get to running again. We can do without their help for a time without inconvenience or loss, whilst they must sooner or later come to us for our produce to enable them to live.' He was right, and this is the strength of the farmer's position."

There's the philosophy of the situation stated briefly and sensibly. It is worth all the talk made with the intention of causing the farmer to be discontented with his lot.

Highwaymen in Gaston Jail. During the past few days four or five daring highway robberies have been committed in Gaston county. A number of travelers have been held up and relieved of their valuables in regular border style. The sheriff of Gaston, aided by a squad of deputies, captured three white men, at whose door the crimes are laid, and lodged them in jail at Dallas. They are said to be regular highwaymen, and their operations have been of the boldest character. —Charlotte News.

$20 Reward. Twenty Dollars reward will be paid for the apprehension and conviction of the person who sent in a false alarm from Box 48 on the night of the 16th inst. Wm. E. Linn, Mayor.

Lost or Misplaced. A note given me by Samuel Campin for $235, dated February, 1893, payable eighteen months from date. All persons are forbidden trading for or buying the same. J. B. BARRINGTON.

Coming and Going. Rev. F. H. Johnson of Elizabeth City came in on the steamer Neuse and left on the morning train for Smithfield to attend the meeting of Albemarle Presbytery which convened there last night.

Rev. C. G. Vardell of the city, and Rev. James Thomas, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who has been visiting relatives in the city, also left to attend the meeting of the Presbytery.

Miss Annie L. Carter, of Fairfield, Hyde county, who has been visiting Miss Clara Burrus, left to enter St. Mary's School, Raleigh.

Mrs. B. B. Lane, who has been north after fall millinery and visiting the world's fair, returned home on the steamer New Berna.

Mr. J. Rosenbaum returned on the steamer New Berna from a northern business trip.

Mrs. C. T. Randolph and children of Kinston who have been visiting relatives in the city left returning home, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. T. J. Turner and children for a visit of several weeks.

Dr. N. H. Street and wife returned last night from the World's Fair.

Mrs. Jas. B. Clark and Miss Estelle Clark left on the steamer New Berna to visit relatives at Pantego.

Mr. Jno. S. Manix, local freight and passenger agent of the W. N. & N. R. R., came back on the steamer Neuse from New York where he has been spending a week very agreeably with old friends and school mates.

WRECK OF THE SEA BIRD. E. D. CARROLL.

The sea bird o'er the foaming waves, Glides gallantly along, Unmindful of the howling wind That blows so fierce and strong.

Yet bravely on the proud ship glides, Through the roaring waters deep, Little dreams the Captain that something will happen, To make his "Loved One" weep.

Unfurled the mizen top-sail, mate, The hopeful Captain cries, And ere the dawn of another day, We'll behold New England skies.

But alas! already too many sails Before the wind is spread, For the mote the sails the sooner shall gain The awful shroud ahead.

And under the weight of another sail, The ship leaps forth still faster, A moment more and the Captain sees, A sight he'd never remember forever after.

"Heave too" or else this ship is lost, He then was heard to say, And looking up the crew beheld A wave that would carry the ship away.

It breaks, it rolls o'er the deck of the ship, That so proudly an hour before Was gliding so gallantly over the sea, But is now being washed ashore.

And the faithful sailors, Oh where are they? They have passed from this world of strife, But God has taken them to his home And given them eternal life.

"The Old Confeds." In the Austin (Texas) Evening News of September 11th, under the caption of "The Old Confeds," an itemized account appears of what the different states are doing for the indigent old Confederate soldiers. About North Carolina it states: "North Carolina has 4747 pensioners who received $103,000. It has a soldier's home with 50 inmates, and the cost of its maintenance this year has been so far $10,000.

To those who have visited the soldier's home at Raleigh and seen the wholesome but plain and inexperienced manner in which the institution is conducted, it will be a little surprising that each inmate has cost the state "so far" this year the sum of $200, an amount in excess of what the best hotel in Raleigh would take the contract for.

The $103,000, divided between the 4747 pensioners, or about $21 each per annum, is smaller than the general public is aware of, but if the figures of the Texas paper are correct, there is room for reform in the administration of the soldier's home that should be attended to. The disabled and decrepit soldiers should have the full benefit of the appropriation. A. HATCHETT.
