The interests of farmers and merchants are mutual. Cordial cooperation benefits both.

Sell your cotton at the nearest market and do your trading with your home merchant.

Representative Bunn has gone home on account of illness in his family.

Senator Bansom was at the Department of Justice with Mr. O. J. Carroll last Saturday.

The approaching State Fair will have many attractions. Gov. Vance is to speak.

Mr. Elise comes up smiling. His friends say he will go through the Senate with a large majority.

There should be no cloture in the Senate as supposed to have enough patriotism and manhood to vote on any measure when the argument is exhausted.

"Many men of many minds." A Senator says, "the Wilson bill is defeated beyond all hope." Another Senator, equally as well informed says "the bill will pass in less than ten days." So, you can do your own guessing.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, who is about to retire from the governor generalship of India, speaking at a banquet in Simla, said that, far from regretting the passage of the Indian silver currency act, he believed that the action taken was certain to succeed and that it would prove the turning point in the commercial and financial history of India. The coin existing in the country, he said, was selling at a discount with those that would have been encountered if India had issued its own silver coins. A willingness to issue such the proposal of the Marquis.

Judging from the following prices of meat in the principal European cities, as quoted by the London Times, the presumption is that the average laboring man does not indulge much in that kind of luxury: "Prime beef averages in Vienna, 16 cents a pound, in Prague, 14 cents, in Rome 17 cents, in Paris, 24 to 32 cents.—Wilmington Star.

There are several bills on the calendar which may occupy the House in the morning hour each day prior to the election bill debate. Among these are the bill reported by Mr. Oates from the Committee on the Judiciary, to repeal a portion of the laws covered by the Tucker bill, and which, in a general way, may be said to represent the views of the conservative members of the majority. They believe that certain provisions sought to be repealed by the advocates of the Tucker bill should remain in force, but they will doubtless vote for that measure, although preferring the Oates bill. However, the consideration of any other than the bill set forth in the pending order will be desultory, and final action is not anticipated on any one of importance until the election repeal bill is out of the way.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

N. Whitford—Stall fed beef.

Sheep, the barber is at his position.

Mary E. Harrison—Administrators notice.

The Knights of Harmony meet tonight at 8 o'clock.

Annual meeting meeting New Berne Building and Loan Association tonight.

Mayor Kernor, of Winston is dead. He died of typhoid fever after an illness of three months.

Brunswick has five new cases of yellow fever. Savannah keeps a strong quarantine.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the reading room.

Yesterday denoted quite a change in the weather. It began turning cooler in the morning and was very fall-like late in the afternoon.

A number of our merchants have relieved their fall stock of goods already, and others are expecting theirs soon. Most of them are buying nearly as large as usual which of course means that they anticipate a fairly good business.

Davidson farmers are having great success in hulling their clover seed. A wagon load of hay makes about two bushels of seed. If the present expectations shall be realized, on the raising of clover seed will be a leading industry of the country says Charity and Children.

Parties who have contracted for advertisements in the city Directory through Mr. J. W. Watson, and who have not yet handed in matter for said ads are requested to do so, at once, as the book must go to press. Statistical matter of the churches, schools, and industrial enterprises wanted in the work by the parties more directly interested will be appreciated if handed in to Mr. A. Hatchett.

Mr. B. R. Taylor, of Fayetteville came up last night from Wilmington to make a short stay in the city on business. Mr. Taylor is a member of the firm of A. H. Slocumb & Co., of Hubert, tar-pentine distillers and shippers and Mr. Taylor is here to charter a vessel to take some of the naval stores to the Northern markets. The cargo aboard the ill-fated schooner Charles, Capt. Ireland, of Beaufort which was lost and the crew drowned a few months ago was from his firm.

A row and free fight took place in Ebenezer Methodist church, Weldon, on the 21st over a marriage that was to take place at the close of the services. The father and brothers of the young ladies objecting to the marriage and forced their way to the groom and then the fight began. The sheriff who tried to prevent the disturbance was knocked down, men piled upon each other in the aisle and women screamed. When quiet was restored the couple were married by a Justice instead of by two clergymen as intended. The disgraceful affair broke up a revival which was being held in the church.

The board of naval officers who supervised the shipboard exercises of the North Carolina Naval Reserves on the U. S. Battleship at Wilmington have made a report to the Navy Department in which they say that it seems doubtful whether the Reserves can continue unless they receive more encouragement from the State. The organization is at present unsatisfactory and except as infantry the men showed no evidence of having been drilled. "As the first now 'stands,' says the report, "it would be impossible to send a ship-of-war with them, but they might, with further instructions, be utilized in some station." A willingness to train would be the paramount of the Reserves.

The Funeral of Rev. Mr. Forbes.

The funeral of Rev. E. M. Forbes took place yesterday afternoon from Christ Church at 4:30 o'clock, conducted by Rt. Rev. A. A. Watson, Bishop of the Diocese; Rev. Wm. Matthias, Rector of St. Paul's church, Beaufort and Rev. T. M. N. George, of Christ church, New Bern. Mr. Geo. Bishop, of New Bern and Mr. C. V. Robinson, of Beaufort were the undertakers.

The pall bearers were Messrs. W. H. Oliver, Wm. B. Boyd, Wm. Dunn, Jas. A. Bryan, E. W. Smallwood, D. T. Carraway, E. K. Bishop and John R. B. Carraway, active; and Messrs. Jas. C. Davis, N. W. Taylor, Alonzo Thomas, Jacob L. Gibble, Dr. Edward King, Capt. A. G. Hall, B. L. Perry, C. H. Guthrie, Vestrymen of St. Paul's Honorary pall bearers.

There was a large concourse of citizens in attendance to pay the last tribute of love and respect to this noble man of God.

The floral offerings were fine and numerous.

The remains were brought up on the morning train under the escort of Mr. Robinson; the undertaker; the rector and vestrymen of St. Paul's church, and Mr. N. L. Carrow, Alonzo Gardner, Wm. Marcom, Charles Skarren, Misses Julia Thomas, Susie Gibble, Mary Bell, Lovie Dill and T. Higgins of that Parish.

They were met at the depot by the Bishop, Mr. George and a number of the Congregation of Christ Church and the corpse was taken to the church and borne to the chancel by the Vestrymen of St. Paul's, when the casket was opened and many persons passed in during the day to take a last look at the features once so familiar in that sacred edifice.

North Carolina's Industries.

The bulletin for August of the North Carolina department of agriculture makes an excellent showing of the industries of this State.

This bulletin contains a list of all the miscellaneous mills, factories, etc. in the number of cotton mills Gaston county leads with 19. Next comes Alamance 18. Randolph is third, with 16. Then comes Mecklenburg with 11, Richmond with 9, Cleveland with 7, and Cumberland and Guilford with 6 each. Eight counties alone have 93 mills. Iredell, Lincoln, Durham and Surry having 5 each. Cabarrus, Montgomerie and Rowan have 4 each. Then there are other counties with three, two and one each.

In all, there are 154 cotton mills, whilst the miscellaneous mills, factories, etc., number about 770.

There are 210 plug, smoking, cigar and cigarette factories. The Wilmington Messenger is correct in declaring that this exhibit "is valuable and encouraging." Few States can make a better showing.

The absence of any big cities is the main reason why North Carolina is so little known, but the establishment of varied manufactured industries in all the counties will make it one of the most solid and desirable States in the Union, and it is fast reaching that point.

The State Fair.

The State Fair is only three weeks off, it opens Oct. 17th.

The News-Observer-Chronicle says the various features are getting into good shape.

Senator Vance has announced his intention to be present and deliver an address on opening day.

A game of foot-ball will be played between Wake Forest and Trinity College.

A cyclorama of the battle of Gettysburg will be presented.

A museum of native North Carolina wild animals will also be on the ground.

It is stated further that there will be about two acres of wonders and curiosities.

Assurance have been given from some of the most progressive farmers of the State that satisfies as to the excellence that will be attained in the Agricultural line.

Taken all in all, everything points to a grand occasion in every way.

United by Wire.

Yesterday the telegraph line from Wilmington was completed to New Bern, and the instruments placed in the office of the W. N. & N. R. R., and connection made with the W. U. Office. The following was the first message sent from New Bern:

H. A. WHITFORD, Gen'l Manager, Wilmington, N. C.

With lightning flash,
With dot and dash,
I now communicate;
No doubt express
Of our success.

Yours truly, up to date,
JOHN S. MARSH, Ag't.

Coming and Going.

Mr. James Wahab, who has been off a month or two visiting relatives at several points and attending the World's Fair got home last night.—His friends say he has not got any shorter except in cash.

Mr. James W. Moore, Jr. took the round trip to Wilmington on the new road on pleasure.

Dr. R. S. Primrose and wife returned last night from the World's Fair.

The citizens of Rosnoke, Va. have held a meeting and requested Mayor Trout to return, stating that he would not be named. They want a full investigation, and in it he knows that they are not under the rule of mob law.

NEWLY OPENED COUNTRY

Traversed by the W. N. & N. R. R.—Its Characteristics and Effect of the Road Upon It.

In our last article on the W. N. & N. R. R. and the regions it traverses we left off at Maysville.

Maysville is situated in the middle of the finest agricultural country in eastern North Carolina and though as yet a small place it must speedily become a very important station.

This village is but a small distance—about four miles—from the head of navigation on Whiteoak river and this stream should be made navigable the entire way from Swansboro to Maysville by the general government. They are distant from each other, near twenty miles.

This would open up the fish and oyster industry of Whiteoak river and Bogue sound with the harbor of Swansboro.

Along the line of the river are some elegant farms, prominent among which are the Cyrus Foscoe place, the Long Point Plantation belonging to Col. Featherstone, of Rome, Ga., the Hunter's creek plantation of the Pelletiers and others belonging to the Koonces, Smiths, Mattocks, Amans, Gerocks and various others.

The railroad from Maysville to Jacksonville passes through some very fertile farming land and well wooded timber lands.

Reaching Jacksonville, we come in contact with the large saw and planing mills belonging to the Parmele and Eccleston Lumber Company.

The farm, fish and oyster interests are well served at this point with steamboat transportation belonging to the railroad and run in connection with it down New river to the mouth, a distance of about twenty-five miles.

The superiority of "New river trout" and New River oysters" have done much to keep prominently before the public this (heretofore) back woods stream. May the excellence and numbers of its inhabitants never diminish no matter how many of them are eaten.

Six miles from Jacksonville is Verona. Eight miles from this station is the elegant winter home of Mr. Thos. A. McIntyre, of New York built specially for his own family. It is situated on a high bluff in the primitive wood and in connection with it is this grand stock and poultry farm from which such superb specimens were shown at our last Fair.

The country from the New river to the Cape Fear does not show up so well as that from the Neuse to New river, but nevertheless it has considerable growth of timber and the lands are fine for truck and fruit culture and we believe that the berries, larger fruits and especially peaches could be raised in a degree of excellence and in a great abundance along both sides of the railroad and as well as in the New river region and near it.

What has been done shows that the industry is capable of great development.

All along the line of the road may be seen cotton farms white unto the harvest and filled with busy pickers, fields of ripened corn waiting to be gathered and here and there a small acreage devoted to sugar cane. Orchards and vineyards also catch the eye of the traveler, the early varieties of trees and vines divested of their fruit, the later ones still laden with their products in delicious ripeness.

Sleek cattle also may be seen grazing in pastures green and forage covered field or roaming through the woods and swamps.

So rich in all their natural growth of luxuriant vegetation.

The idea of the good this road has done to Onslow county is but faintly grasped by many; for fertile as the country is, owing to its isolation from the centres of trade, it was, in the years just passed tending towards an abandoned wilderness.

The property valuation and population were almost annually decreasing. Now the country is being rapidly brought up to rank with the most prosperous counties of Eastern North Carolina. So much is this the case that we understand the taxable property has very nearly, if not quite doubled in value within the last few years.

We could not conceive of any other investment which the county could have made that would have brought her so rapidly to the front as her subscription to this railroad, which subscription was carried by a large majority when but limited to a vote of the good people of that county.

They Are Hard to Beat.

The "New Bern Superiors", Capt. Herbert Moore, and the "Rim City", Capt. Ed Harrison, played a match game of base ball at the Fair grounds yesterday afternoon. The game was called at 4 o'clock and it closed at six.

The New Bern Superiors beat. The score was 9 to 7. This is the fifth game won in succession by the Superiors.

Mr. C. A. Hines, the Broad street tuff man, set ten up after the game, placing out a pan of the candy and telling the boys to help themselves.

The club membership consists of youths from 14 to 16 years of age. One of the members informs us that they intend to uniform themselves and play at the Fair.

The Streets Are Being Numbered Properly.

The plan of numbering being followed by the city is to start at the foot of each street with the number one and number on each side alternately odd numbers on the right even on the left.

The general rule for guidance is to allow 50 feet for each number in the residence portion of the city and 25 feet in the business portion but the rule is not inflexibly observed. Proper judgment is exercised according to the way each neighborhood is built up.

Some adverse criticism of the method adopted having arisen Mayor Ellis wrote to the officials of three of the principal cities of the Union for the plans they followed and they were substantially the same that were being put into effect here, so much so that no alteration would have been made even had the information come before the work commenced. We give the letter from New York.

Hon. WM. ELLIS, Mayor, New Bern, N. C.

Dear Sir—Your letter of the 15th instant was duly received. In reply to the inquiries you therein make, I have the pleasure of informing you as follows:

1. "If a store is numbered, is office or residence above it also numbered?"

Ans. No, one number suffices for the entire building.

2. "If a store has entrance on two streets, are both to be numbered?"

Ans. Yes, when there is an entrance on two streets.

3. "And how about the custom in regard to intervening vacant spaces, is a certain number of feet commonly allowed for a number?"

Ans. Vacant spaces are numbered as houses are, 30 feet is usually allowed for a house. Should, however, say eight houses only be built on a space on which it was originally designed to build ten, then, in such case that street would in New York City be renumbered.

The foregoing obtain in New York City.

Very truly yours,
W. S. ANDREWS,
Commissioner of Street Cleaning.

R. R. Directors and State Proxy.

News was brought down last night by passengers of the A. & N. C. R. R. of the appointment of the following directors and State proxy for the A. & N. C. R. R.:

Directors—C. E. Foy, Enoch Walkworth, Saml W. Latham, of Craven county; W. T. Calo, of Pamlico; W. S. Chadwick, of Carter; W. L. Kennedy and W. W. Carraway, of Wayne.—State proxy—W. T. Dorich, of Lenoir county.

Bellar Correspondence.

The sound of the mower is heard about us now, and the crab grass hay, with a few more such days as this, will be plentiful.

We had fine weather last week for church service, which service closed on Friday night, with four accessions to the church, and a membership moved up nearer to duty.

There is an occasional chill in our midst even on these warm September days, but we have no serious sickness just around here.

The cotton picker seems happy, this clear pretty weather. Persimmons are nearly ripe, and sweet potatoes are coming in quite handy. So the cotton picker is not compelled to use much time cooking.

We would like to have that scrap of North Carolina history up this way which gives us such an early date as that reported not long since in the Journal, of one "Fuller", I think the date of whose birth is put down many years before a permanent settlement is on record in the N. C. histories we have here. If it is something new and correct we would like to have more of it.

DUTY.

The camp-fire dimly burns
Through the night and the snow,
And over a frozen earth
The wild winds blow.

But the sentinel stands at his post
As the hours creep by,
While clouds grow heavy and thick
In the sullen sky.

His limbs drag hard, he longs
To rest awhile,
Yet over his white, cold lips,
Comes never a smile.

For his heart is a soldier's heart,
And his blood runs warm
When he thinks of his brother men
Asleep in the storm.

Then he shoulders his gun and draws
A quick, deep breath;
What foeman shall conquer him now
But the foeman Death!

—G. E. Montgomery.
