This is the last day of debate in the Senate. Tomorrow comes the test of physical endurance.

But little interest is manifested in the debate on the Federal Election Repeal Bill. Public interest centers on the silver question.

The New York Commercial Advertiser has celebrated its ninety-six birthday and, notwithstanding its advanced age, shows more newspaper vim and enterprise than the majority of the recently inaugurated void fillers—Post.

"The rivers and sounds of the South are filled with fish and its mountains are filled with minerals. And yet, blessed of God as our lands have never been blessed, the South is the toiler for the North its slave and chief contributor to it; mighty wealth."

Mr. Lawrence T. Neal, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, writes to the New York World, saying that he is more than satisfied with the conduct of the campaign by the managers of his cause, and is convinced that he is going to defeat McKinley.

Representative Davy, of Louisiana has introduced a bill appropriating $25,000 for the relief of the sufferers from the last great cyclone on the Southern coast. It provides that the money shall be expended in stores and medicine under the direction of the Secretary of War, and that the means of transportation shall be authorized by him.

The Norfolk Journal of Commerce says: The four knitting mills in this vicinity consumed 3,517 bales of cotton last year. These mills give employment to over 800 persons male and female, and are important factors in disseminating money through all branches of trade.

We are always glad to see North Carolina merit appreciated, and hence it is a pleasure to give place to the following: The new cotton mill to be erected in Portsmouth will have a capacity of 6,000 spindles. America is pretty safe on the International Yacht race premium. It takes three out of five to decide the winner. The second race was sailed yesterday and the Vigilant was again the victor.

We observe with pleasure that Mr. E. Edmund of Millboro, Va., has been appointed clerk to the commandant at the Portsmouth Navy Yard. The fortunate young man is a son of W. S. Edmund who has made frequent visits to New Berne and has many friends in the city.

Recently a number of copies of THE DAILY JOURNAL have been stolen from houses where they were delivered by carriers. A little more evidence and somebody will be in the clutches of the police. We have a standing cash reward for detection and conviction of these thieves.

The Post-Master at Marines writes us that the package of WEEKLY JOURNALS arrived at that office one week late. We thank him very much for informing us and we would like to know where the fault lies in such slow transportation. We have had numerous complaints of this kind recently and some one should be held responsible for it.

Mr. J. M. Howard has taken the New Berne agency for the Empire Steam Laundry, of Wilmington. It is one of the best equipped in the South, a prime feature of the process employed being that distilled water is used, which gives the best results attainable, leaving the garments clean, faultlessly white and fine in appearance.

A telegram from Washington to the Charlotte Observer states that the examination of witnesses on both sides may take several weeks and it is not expected that the collectors will be confirmed soon. Both sides are doing their best. Some of the friends of Senator Vance admit that nothing but the Republican-Populist opposition to Simmons and the pending silver contest in the Senate enables him to resist so long Elias' confirmation.

There was considerable comment yesterday as to whether the JOURNAL would report the secretly planned boxing match and various kinds of threats were made relative to same. THE JOURNAL does not put itself up as an example, or judge between the right and the wrong, but we hope the day will never come when we shall appear so detestable in the eyes of a true gentleman, as to fear the expression, (feeble as it may be) of the dictates of our judgment.

The Burlington Fair. Mr. E. M. Street, who returned from Burlington last night gives a very complimentary report of it.

The weather was beautiful, with the exception of the opening day. The attendance was good—four or five thousand people were on the grounds Wednesday. The exhibits were fine—the fruit exhibits showed well—there was a great amount, but what there was, was top-top. Take it as a whole the Fair was a great success.

Dr. P. A. Skinner, of Texarkana, Arkansas, is an enthusiast in the praise of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He used it for rheumatism, and says: "I found it to be a most excellent local remedy." For sale by J. V. Jordan.

The Up-Town Church.

We took the opportunity to attend the meeting at the new Free Will Baptist church on Sunday night—it being first opened for service in the morning of that day. The church is situated on Fleet street between Pollock and Broad, at quite a distance westward from the group of other white churches, and is at a very eligible locality. The building is a small plain structure, neatly finished inside, with a seating capacity of about one hundred and twenty five.

The preacher, Elder Lupton, of Broad Creek, discussed upon the passage, Matt. xxiv 89. "But as the days of Noe were, etc." The sermon was historical, diffuse, and comprehensive as to the number of points touched upon, but without any orderly setting forth of the doctrine of the church, as the congregation of about a hundred had perhaps expected.

If this church, which by its location seems in some sense to be engaged in pioneer work, shall be helpful in saving souls, and training up a generation of men and women upon the principles of practical and Biblical Christianity, to lives of honesty and purity and holiness, to the duties of good neighborhood and good citizenship, and to an aggressive and uncompromising warfare against the "hosts of sin" which more than ever before seem to be "pressing hard" and threaten to overwhelm us, it will be a means of inestimable good and for which let us hope.

Coming and Going.

Mr. Jacob Kafer and his children, Miss Bertha and Masters Oswald and Alfred left yesterday to visit relatives in Germany.

Mr. O. H. Guion left for Raleigh to attend Supreme court.

Rev. E. F. Costiveness, pastor of the northern Methodist churches at Hatteras and Ocracoke is in the city with his wife. They are en route to Daisy, four miles from Winston-Salem to attend the annual meeting of Blue Ridge conference.

Miss Jennie Edwards and Mrs. Sumnerfield, of Goldsboro are visiting at Mr. E. Danenburgh's.

The steamer Neuse of the E. C. D. line took out the following passengers: T. G. Wilkerson and 3. M. Brinson for the World's Fair; Mr. Sam'l Hand leaving to be transferred from the steamer Newberne to the steamer Isle of Wight; Rev. Father Quinn on a mission trip; Mr. W. B. Hargrove, of Baltimore bound for Elizabeth City and Norfolk on business; Mr. W. G. Bullock bound to Norfolk on a business trip and Mr. Thos. Halstead returning to his home in Elizabeth City from a visit to relatives in the city.

Mr. J. W. Turner left on the steamer Neuse for the North to buy a fall stock of furniture for T. J. Turner & Co., and also to buy a stock for the New Berne Store & Hardware Co., which Mr. J. C. Rigdon will run for the owners.

Mrs. S. S. Willett returned last night from Philadelphia.

Two Men Probably Drowned.

We hear of a couple of men, Mr. Franklin Foster and a Mr. Basnight, near Cape Hatteras being missing under circumstances which point pretty strongly to their having been drowned on Wednesday or Thursday night.

The men were fishing at the time. It is an ordinary custom for the fishermen to be absent on the fishing expedition two or three days with a couple of boats, a large and a small one. The large one is anchored and made headquarters and the nets are looked after with the small one. They were thus fishing.

Another fishing party passed the large boat in the evening and hailed without getting any response. The next morning on passing again the same lack of response followed their salute. They then went aboard and found indications that supper had been partaken of and that no one had been aboard since.

Throughout that day nothing was heard of the missing men, neither was there the day afterward up to the time our informant left the locality.

Mr. Foster, the older of the two men leaves a wife and seven children who will be in destitute circumstances. His companion was a young man.

East Front Wall.

The weakening condition of the Neuse river front stone wall causes it to require speedy attention. The expenditure of a few dollars now in repairing the backing of the wall will keep it from being undermined by the usual winter high tides, winds and storms and may prevent the future expenditure of a large sum of money.

The last storm did considerable damage at two places by breaking down parts of the wall undermining and cracking it further. A little money judiciously applied by the city authorities now will be likely to save the tax payers manifold more if delayed.

Attention Ladies!

Ladies, I wish to call your attention to my stock of millinery and ladies dress goods. It will pay you to come and look through my tremendous stock, whether you intend to buy or not we wish to see you. One visit will convince you that there is no stock in the city to compare with Big Ike's in quality, and most assuredly in price.

Steamer Vaneboro. On and after October 24, and until further notice the steamer Vaneboro, T. G. Dixon, Capt., will sail for Kinston every Monday and Thursday making all landings. Office and warehouse foot Caryon street. A. J. LEAHY, Agt.

A BOXING FARGE.

A Supposed Prize Fight Turns Out to be Not Even Equal to a Sparring Contest Between Boys.

Yesterday afternoon considerable excitement was created among some of the good people of the city by a report that a disgraceful occurrence in the shape of a prize fight was to take place at the Fair ground at four o'clock between a white man of Norfolk and a negro of New Berne and that $3,000 was up on the fight and one dollar admission fee was charged.

Officers were speedily consulted in reference to stopping it but no one found who considered it his business to interfere. The mayor said it did not come under his jurisdiction but under that of the magistrates and sheriffs. A magistrate being seen said it was the business of the city authorities. Deputy Sheriff Harry Lane said he could not make an arrest unless he saw the fight or some one got out a warrant and that no warrant could be gotten out until the fight, commenced—the offensive act had to be committed first. Inquiry also brought out the information that this State has no specific law against prize fighting. If it took place it would have to be dealt with under the general law against disturbances of the peace. He said moreover that while he would not go in to see it himself, he would go to the vicinity of the Fair ground and remain so that if any one chose to get out a warrant he would be readily accessible and would execute it promptly.

A small crowd gathered. About twenty five assembled in all. The tickets to the exhibition read:

"Admit one to Boxing Match between Edward Murphy of Norfolk and Archie Slade, Monday Oct. 9th, $1.00."

Observation showed Murphy to be a white man having the appearance of a common rough. Slade was a shiftless looking negro. Murphy was on hand in full time; Slade was nearly a half hour behind the set time in putting in his appearance showed reluctance to participate in the affair when he did come.

Frank Bragg alias Lee Craft of the city—he is generally known by the former name but says the latter is his real one—was Slade's substitute.

Benj. Brinson was second for Murphy, Edgar, generally known as "Pud's" Harrison for Lee Craft.

Murphy stripped to the waist for the fight, Lee Craft did not. The encounter took place near the grand stand. Bragg was knocked over with one blow and lay there a short time. He says he was stunned. This ended his part in the proceedings. Some spectators say Lee Craft was not struck at all but he simply fell over as the pass was made towards him.

Lee Craft being out, Harrison, his second took his place. In one blow he gave, his cuff button struck Murphy near the temple and brought blood. A blow or two passed between the two men and then Harrison threw down his gloves and saying he wasn't "going to fight for nothing." This ended the whole thing. It all scarcely took five minutes.

The crowd was "sold," and as sick a set as one often sees—a dollar gone and nothing to show for it. They went expecting to see a scientific boxing match and saw nothing.

The officers of the Fair let the grounds be used on application of Murphy to hold as he said, simply a sparring match, a scientific one, and they inform us that they knew nothing of who the principals were to be or the other arrangements until the arrival on the grounds of the official representative of the Fair who was present to look after the Fair's interest and to see that nothing they considered wrong took place.

The drift of affairs being sea, the spectators were advised to withdraw and demand their money but they concluded to remain and see it through. We are informed that if the attempt had been made to have the match between two of different races it would have been promptly squelched.

DIED.

In this city on Sunday, Oct. 8th inst. of heart disease, Mrs. Mary E. Smaw, wife of Mr. Daniel G. Smaw, and member of the Baptist church, in the 50th year of her age.

A most amiable and exemplary woman has passed from earth and entered into rest—the rest which remaineth for the people of God.

In all the relations of life, she ever seemed to appreciate fully the responsibilities imposed upon her, and fulfilled their varied duties, with a quiet dignity, a cheerful submission, and sanctified demeanor that always bear testimony to the sweet, consistent, christian character.

The fond husband mourns the loss of a tender and faithful help-met; the loving children have been bereaved of a most considerate and devoted mother; the community sympathizes, in eloquently admiring of this beautiful exemplification of the nobler attributes of true womanhood gone forever; and the church of her love, in the midst of fast falling tears, rejoices in the blissful assurance that she has crossed over to the other side to bask in the sunlight of His countenance who loved her and gave Himself for her, and where with the palm of victory in her hand and the crown of the victor on her brow she sings and shall forever ring the sweetness and glory of redeeming grace.

Peace is now thine, departed sister—the Peace of God which passeth all understanding. And while we who remain still engaged in the fight, drop the sympathetic tear at the opening portals of the tomb, let us all rejoicing look forward to the glorious resurrection, when she and all who love the second appearance of our Lord, shall rise and shine as the firmament—shine, yes, forever shine. "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his." C.

A Rowdy Sunday-School Crowd.

Last Saturday evening a Sunday school excursion train of 600 people arrived here on the 3 C's road from Rock Hill, S. C. Before its arrival here all the coaches were full and many failed to get on. While there were many gentlemen and ladies in the crowd, there were many of the roughest that ever arrived in Marion, although it was called a Sunday school excursion.

On their arrival many of them crowded the bar rooms and imbibed too freely of "fire water" and fell into the hands of the police. One was so drunk that in the calaboose he could not walk, and it being nearly time for his train to leave, his friends paid his fine and carried him in a buggy.

The excursion returned the same evening of its arrival, at 6 o'clock, and by that time many of the excursionists were drunk and ready for a row. I learn that knives were used freely after they left here—Correspondence from Marion to the Charlotte Observer.

WILMINGTON STARTLED.

On the second of October in 1893, What did the people of Wilmington throughout the city see?

Why they saw the people running up and down the street.

Before Big Ike went away once more with him to meet.

The news went abroad from man down to child.

That Big Ike now was going away which carried them almost wild.

The great American bankrupt man who had been with them so long.

Arose then to his little feet and sang a little song.

The merchants all then stood amazed to see and to hear.

If he would there sell all his goods, they trembled with great fear.

That Big Ike would outsell them all which was then all the cry.

He is sure to see us all again in our sweetest pie and pie.

The ladies though persuaded him one half his goods to keep.

They knew the ladies of Newbern knew his prices were not steep.

To save one half of his ladies' goods for them to buy this fall.

He would sure get their trade from the greatest to the small.

I desire now to inform you all come down just if you like.

A 1500 dollar stock you'll see at the store of Big Ike's.

Fine goods will continue to come by steamer and by rail.

Which proves to all there is no such thing for Big Ike to fail.

My trade is so enormous I've added to my band—

Two more clerks to help us out to supply the great demand

Of the people in this section with clothing and fine shoes.

Is what Big Ike has now to tell which is the glorious news.

Swaight From the East.

A Sultan of Turkey once said.

As he groined at the pain in his head.

"Oh, my favorite wife,

I am sick of this life,

And I wish very much I were dead."

But his wife, who was wise, answered

"Fit will Piere's Pellets but try.

You'll be well in a week—

And then you will speak

Of these Pellets with praise just as high."

Dr. Piere's Pellets cost only 25 cents and they are guaranteed to cure all the troubles which spring from constipation, indigestion, and bilious attacks. If you have any of these troubles why don't you follow the example of the Sultan of Turkey!
