Entered at the postoffice at New Berne N. C., as second-class matter.

Active and extensive preparations are being made in New Orleans for the better accommodation of winter tourists, a large number of whom are expected in the Crescent City this winter. Two seven-story hotels are in course of erection and will soon be ready for visitors.

Benson Foraker has been telling the Ohions that he doesn't think much of Benjamin. This was an unexact assertion. Not only does Foraker not think much of Harrison or anybody else, or of anything, but he doesn't think at all. He can't. He was born in a gale of wind, and has been blowing ever since. Never had time to stop and think.—New York Sun.

The improvement in business affairs reported from various parts of the country goes forward encouragingly. It took months of depression to pull down the fabric of our trade and industry. It is easier to pull down than to rebuild. It will take years to fully repair the losses incured in the last four or five months. But recovery is as sured. We are on the ascending grade once more.

Orders have gone out from the Treasury for the resumption of coinge of standard silver dollars, the expectation being to coin about 1,600,000 at once, on which the Government will make a seignorage of $500,000. Taere are in the treasury 140,000,000 ounces subject to coinage under the Sherman law, If this could be coined at once and become available the seignorage would amount to $53,000,000. It is the intention to coin this as rapidly as practicable. —Wilmington Star,

We believe that there is enough of honesty in North Carolina, enough of a sense of decency, enough of a genuine love for the right, for square and fair dealing, for the maintenance of the voting liberty to cure any wrongs that may threaten the ballots. If not, then North Carolina is indeed fallen and in a most woeful condition. If the public sense of right is gone and it is right and fair to cheat in elections and triumph by fraud then indeed is public virtue at a discount and liberty is in peril.—Wilmington Messenger.

THE LATE ELECTIONS.

We are not going to say "I told you so," for nobody ought to be suprised. The cyclone has come, and if anybody is hurt it is not the fault of the weather bureau. Storm signals have been flying for eight months or more.

Mr. Cleveland is not above nor beyond criticism, and the cinsorious will find much to condemn in him; but in sober truth, he is not the satanic author of our woes. He is the equal of anyone in courage, firmness and patriotism.

The Democratic ship ought to have been manned with Democratic seamen before it put to sea; the Democratic army ought to have been in command of Democratic officers before it went to the field.

Mr. Cleveland believed that the financial distress of the country was caused by the compulsory purchase of silver, and he called an extra session of Congress in order to remedy the evil through the repeal of the obnoxous law. Congress assembled, and a hot contest epsued among Democrats, and the bill only passed by the aid of Republicans. Now, a very large portion of the people do not believe that the Sher man law was the cause of the panic, nor do they believe that the extra session did anything to promote the public welfare.

The truth is, the Republican party is chiefly answerable for our woes, and the Democratic party is held responsible for ills that are the inevitable result of Republican misrule.

A careless, ignorant driver wears out a wagon: he is charged for a better one, but nearly all the new wagon he ever sees before the axle-tree breaks and the load is tumbled in the mud. No blame can properly attach to him, but the wag on breaks down while he is on the box and he is blamed for it.

Not a single Democratic measure was in force when the crash came.

Is there any remedy? There is. That remedy is Democratic action on the lines marked out by the Chicago Convention.

The President should comply with the demand of the people and fill public offices with Democrats, and then, when Congress assembles, send in a Democratic message and rely upon Democrats to carry out his policy. Relying on Republican aid to support a Democratic administration is worse than dying to a cobweb for shelter in the midst of a storm.

That's best for you and me
Is always Dr. Pierce's Medical

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve year, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold." There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so quickly; no other is so certain a preventive and cure for croup; no other affords so much relief in cases of whooping cough. For sale by J. V. Jordan.
