Another rebellion is on in Cuba.

The convention of the Chickasaw Nation just held opposed Government disturbance of tribal relations and the formation of a State.

Comte d'Eu is willing to knock together a new throne for Brazil, and to sit upon it, provided the Brazilians shall clamor for his sway. As the Comte is said to have the support of Mello's navy, it is just possible that Providence (and Mello's big guns) may side with his aspirations.

Waterways are attracting a large amount of attention at present. They make transportation cheap and this is much to be desired. It is proposed to cut 150 miles of canal in Georgia, Alabama so that boat transportation may be established on five rivers, affording water communication between Atlanta, Montgomery, Birmingham, Savannah, Mobile and Seima, Ala.

A Mexican who recently died at the alleged age of 193 years is said to have smoked cigarettes for a hundred years. Fortunately for him he did not contract the habit until he was 93 years old, but under the circumstances it is not surprising that the cigarette got away with him at last. It is only a question of time when they will down the man who tackles them.—Wil. Star.

You can't always tell what will happen. Bepeal of the silver-purchasing act would paralyze silver mining, it was predicted. But that has not come to pass. With the opening of silver has come an extension of its use in the fine arts that promises in time to widen the market for the products of the Colorado mines. People are buying in solid silver many small articles that used to be plated, and silver plate has been submitted in other cases where hitherto the base metal had been almost exclusively used. It looks as if fashion could have a great deal to do with the fate of silver for the next five years.—Daily Sentinel.

What a Big Advertiser Says. John Wannamaker, the great advertiser, says: "Merchants cannot fail to reap money from advertising in their home papers. A merchant ought to advertise in and subscribe for just as many copies of his home paper as he can afford to pay for; the paper he gives away to his customers." These are the words of a millionaire and the greatest American advertiser.—Ex.

COTTON SALES.

Mrs. David Heaton was interred in the National Cemetery at 4 p. m. Sunday.

A telegram in an exchange says "the glass trust is going to pieces." Who threw the brick?

The weather bureau says we are to have fair weather today. Most people will think it is time.

A Universalist minister of South Carolina is to preach a series of sermons in Goldsboro, commencing to-day.

The meeting at the Hall tonight at 8:15 will be conducted by Rev. D. H. Petree. All men are invited. Good singing.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will meet at the hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock. By order of the President.

Mr. Henry Albright of Alamance has a peacock between 30 and 40 years of age, probably the oldest in the State.

Messrs A. R. Dennison and C. S. Hollister recently elected deacons of the Presbyterian church were installed Sunday Morning.

The meeting in the Hall last night was a splendid service. Dr. Clark talked on "wrecked in search of Gold" was one worthy of the occasion. The meeting to night will begin at 8:15.

The Rocky Mount Argonaut tells of the death of a mule forty-four years old in Nash county. It pronounces him the oldest in that county if not in the State. The mule belonged to Mr. M. C. Weaver.

The steamer New Berne of the N. N. & W. Line left Norfolk, for New Berne yesterday morning on time. She is expected to arrive today and to leave as soon thereafter as possible.

The suit at Raleigh for $10,000 damage against the electric light company for the death of a grandson of one of the Siamse twins caused by an electric wire was decided in favor of the company.

The steamer DeLancey of the N. N. & W. Line went out Saturday night with a full cargo consisting of 50,000 shingles for the Northern markets and cotton for American ports and also for Liverpool and Bremen.

Lots of newspaper space is given up to the breaking of records by the ocean passenger steamships, but not a line do the hundreds of passengers who "go broke" on their extortionate charges get.

The Chicago Sunday Post is authority for saying that Chicago has 232 millionaires. The men standing at the head of the list are Marshall Field and Phillip D. Armour, both of whom are credited with fortunes amounting to $40,000,000.

Col. R. B. Creecy, in his paper, the Economist-Falcon, in the last issue of his paper gives the following pleasant mention of our townsmen: "We had a delightful call and conversation Thursday from Major Graham Daves of New Berne. Our thoughts upon historical and antiquarian subjects run so parallel, that the twin comradeship was a fountain of infinite delight."

Scotland Neck is getting into the cabbage raising industry also. The Democrat mentions seeing on the street fine ones just from the garden and says several gentlemen are raising them extensively for the home market which is now fully supplied thus, while five years ago nearly all that were used in the fall and winter were brought from other places.

The special sermons to young men preached by the several city pastors Sunday night as commencement of the Y. M. C. A. week of prayer, were all earnest discourses impressive and inspiring. The feeling that entered into their delivery shows how near the rising generation lies to the heart of consecrated Christians.

Up in Easthampton, Mass., the telegraph messenger boy happens to be a girl. The result is that the people of Easthampton receive their dispatches with promptness unhindered by marbles, dog fights or baseball. The girl is ten year old Elsie Gough, who works in order that her older brother may go to school.

Lieut. F. Winslow, commanding officer of the New Berne Naval Reserve who has been spending the summer at Jamestown, R. I. is back; to the delight of the company and other friends.

During the absence of Lieut. Winslow, Mr. E. K. Bishop acceptably filled the vacancy. Lieut. Winslow's family are now in Washington and will remain there a while longer.

The continuous rains of last week kept fish scarce the week through—in fact none were obtainable the greater part of the time except such as inhabit the smaller streams—chubs, robins, etc. Oysters happened to come in plentifully the beginning of the week and the supply lasted to its close and then gave out. As the weather keeps too bad for either fishing or oystering, our citizens will probably have to run short on all water products until fair weather comes again.

Present and Future of the New Road.

Mr. J. P. Clark, the efficient civil engineer, who has been in the service of the W. N. & N. R. R. during its construction between Wilmington and this city left yesterday morning for his home in Baltimore, the construction work being furnished until the extension to Norfolk is arranged for.

Mr. Clark, during his connection with the railroad has spent considerable time in New Berne, and being a social and jovial young man has let many friends in the city who will cordially welcome him back at any time.

We hope the day is not far distant when Mr. Clark's skill will be called for in a survey for the extension. When the road is built throughout its entire length it will be in reality "the coast line," the shortest and quickest route between North and South, and beyond question will easily command an immense business both in freight and passengers. It will be one of the most valuable pieces of railroad property in this region.

At present, outside of the operating of the road, the main attention of the company is being directed to such matter as the building of the wharves, warehouses, depot, etc.—the chief work of which is in this city.

The depot here is getting nearly finished, and will soon be occupied. It is a handsome building, a credit to the company and city.

The driving of the piling for the principal warehouse of the company which will extend out into Neuse river at the present terminus of the road (foot of Queen street, this city) is being pressed forward with despatch and when the piling is ready the building will follow without delay.

We trust there may be no lull in the present building activity until the direct connecting link between New Berne and Norfolk is an accomplished fact. We all long to see the day when the road will rise to the importance that belongs to it and which assuredly it will hold in the near future.

Good Words From the Free Press.

The Kingston Free Press says that it has been shown a Norton jam potato that weighed 9 1/4 pounds. It was raised by Mr. D. H. Wade on Dr. H. Tull's plantation. It is the largest potato we have seen.

"Our farmers should select samples of the best of their products and put them away for exhibition at the New Berne fair next February. The Free Press would be pleased to see Lenoir county well represented by exhibits at this fair, which is the best in the State. It would do our county good to be so represented."

That is certainly a large potato, but such products are characteristic of Lenoir county. It is one of the best agricultural counties in the State and composes in a large part of live and energetic people.

We hope to see it have a good exhibit at the Fair that her resources may be more widely known.

Coming and Going.

Miss Augusta Crapon left to spend a few days visiting in her former home in Wilmington.

Mr. R. R. Hill is back from Aurora for awhile.

Mr. J. J. Blair left yesterday morning returning to his home in Winston.

The municipal authorities of Jacksonville, Fla., are taking steps to prevent the Mitchell-Corbett prize fight. It seems the pugilistic gentry are falling into almost universal disrepute. Members of the city government say that they are law-abiding and God-fearing, and that a prize fight, although cloaked under the name of a "scientific glove contest," will not be tolerated within the confines of their official jurisdiction if there be any legal methods of preventing it.

Twelve hundred gallons of corn syrup will be made in Halifax county in a territory not more than half a mile square. In Warren county large quantities of syrup are being made also which speaks well for these counties. This looks a little like some of the "before the war times" when our people raised more home supplies. We are not one of those that believe all those customs of making a living at that period was superior to those of the present day, but in this particular it is undoubtedly best. Raise all home necessities and some to sell and a more independent and happier people will be difficult to find.

The Spirit of the Age, published at Raleigh says: "Evanqelist Weston R. Gales, a young and enthusiastic soldier of the cross of Christ—a native of this city, and a gentleman of the very finest character, as to family and culture, is preaching some most excellent sermons at the Metropolitan Hall, nightly. Large crowds attend upon his ministry." Mr. Gales is pleasantly remembered by many of our citizens. He was here about a year ago in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. and impressed us as a gentleman of the highest type of character, and the splendid success he has been meeting with in the evangelistic field is very gratifying to his many friends.

Hunters Keep Off.

All persons are forbidden to hunt on my "Clermont" plantation with gun or dog. Anyone offending will be prosecuted. HENRY R. BAYNE.

Nov. 5th, 1893.

All Parts of the State Should Exhibit at the New Berne Fair.

Mr. Nat. Boyden, of Boyden, N. C., has probably the largest hog this year in Surry and adjoining counties. Mr. J. E. Warner who gives us the points, brought to our office some bristles from the animal, that measured from 8 to 9 inches in length.

The hog measures 8 feet from tall to stout and 21 inches across the rump. The animal was never used as a stock hog, and is some 7 or 8 years of age. Mr. Warner feels confident that when fairly fattened for the butler's knife this winter, it will kick the beam at fully 1,000 pounds.—Winston Republican.

Send that hog to the East Carolina Fair which will hold its seventh annual exhibition in this city next February from the 19th to the 24th inclusive. He would be almost sure of taking a premium and if he weighs as much by that time as is anticipated he would be the largest North Carolina hog ever at the Fair though a larger one from another state has been shown.

Moreover, it costs nothing white at the Fair the Association takes good care of all exhibits, furnishes feed for stock and giving all needful attention free of cost.

These things being so there ought to be much more numerous and larger exhibits from the central and western parts of the State than has been heretofore, though we have had some pretty good ones, notably stock from Alamance county and vicinity and manufactured goods from several places.

Fall Irish Potatoes Profitable.

The Free Press tells of the success attending Mr. J. W. Grainger in his fall crop of Irish potatoes. He raised 400 barrels of fine large ones on ten acres. Mr. Grainger has sold some of them at three dollars per barrel.

This is a very profitable crop. Not half so much fertilizer was used as was used on the spring crop.

Lenoir County Superior Court.

EN. JOURNAL: Court convened here this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Judge H. R. Ryan presiding. Solicitor Allen at his post.

I note the following attorneys present: Dal Hardy and Swift Galloway, of Snow Hill; H. E. Shaw, of LaGrange; L. J. Moore of your city and the following local attorneys present: J. J. Jackson, D. E. Percy, C. H. Brown, W. D. Pollock, A. T. Hill, N. J. House and A. J. Loftin.

H. E. Dillon foreman Grand jury.

Quite a heavy docket of petty criminal offences. No cases of special interest.

A very good attendance today. Kingston, N. C. Nov. 13.

He's About Right.

A gentleman who travels over the State every year and who knows how the people of North Carolina live, told us a few days since that the people of North Carolina now have more to eat, are living in more comfortable homes, have better stock and more stock and are better prepared for living every way than he has ever known them.

But he says that money is scarcer than he has ever known it to be at this season of the year, and that cotton is coming on the market slower than he has ever known it.—Monroe Enquirer.

Young People's Meeting.

To-night at the Baptist Church at 7:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation to all.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures nausea, indigestion, bloating; weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness. In fact, it is the greatest of earthly boons to women. Refreshing sleep and relief from mental anxiety can be enjoyed by those who take it.
