ELEGANT SOCIAL EVENT.

Hollister—Jones, Jones—Bryan Complemented With a German.

Perhaps the most pleasurable social event of the year was the German given in Lowthrop Hall on the evening of the 16th, where, surrounded by a select coterie of friends, two of New Berne's popular, recent benefactors, basking in the smiles of their lovely brides, and under the inspiration of entrancing music, received the hearty congratulations and God speeds of each and every one over life's devious and uncertain path until death shall bring the finale to lives spent in happiness and usefulness.

The pretty and unique figures of the entrancing German were gracefully led by Mr. Milan Howard in such style and courtliness as lent additional charm to the occasion. The occasion was complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hollister and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones recently married. Among the couples prominent were Mr. Milha Howard and Miss Mebane, from Wilmington; orange silk, lace and pearls; Dr. J. W. Duguid and Miss Nanette Street; white and orange silk and diamonds; Mr. C. A. Richardson and Miss Maggie Bryan; pink satin, ribbons, lace and pearls; Mr. Clarence Disoway and Miss Nan Roberts; blue silk and pearls; Mr. Herbert Blabod and Miss Kathleen Bryan; white china silk and diamonds; Mr. Ernest Gasse and Miss Susie Dillingham; white silk and perris; Mr. J. O. Brock and Miss Eva Brock; black serge and chrysanthemums; Mr. Churchill Bragaw and Mrs. Stephen Bragaw; lilac silk and diamonds.

The following gentlemen were also present and participated in the dance, Dr. F. O. Landis from Oxford, Messrs. R. D. V. Jones, T. W. Waters, J. E. Carraway, Percy Cox, H. B. Thomas, C. B. Foy and W. E. Patterson.

The costume of Mr. Hollister's bride on this occasion, white silk, en train, was magnificently superb and the grace with which it was handled through the intricacies of the dance lent it additional beauty. X. Y. Z.

Coming and Going.

Mr. C. D. Bradham has returned from his former home in Duplin to where he has been for several weeks being called there by the sad event of his father's illness and death.

The Argus Editor Married.
Mr. Jos. E. Robinson, editor of the Goldsboro Argus and Miss Ada C. Humphrey, daughter of the late Col. L. W. Humphrey, were married at the residence of the bride's mother in that city, Wednesday morning, Father Thomas Price officiating.

An elegant reception was held on the preceding evening; the hospitable home of the bride was artistically garlanded and decorated with tall vases, evergreens, flowers and lights for the occasion.

The display of bridal presents is described as bewildering and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson departed at noon for a bridal trip north.

The Journal extends its congratulations and best wishes.

Y. M. C. A. Physical Culture.
Regular work will begin in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium next week. Monday and Wednesday will be the regular class nights. Only unlimited members of the Association are allowed to join the classes.

Mr. W. P. Whitaker one of the Raleigh News-Observer-Chronicle staff was married in that city Wednesday afternoon to Miss Mary Carroll, daughter of Mr. O. J. Carroll Esq., at the residence of the brides father, Rev. Dr. J. L. Carroll, niece of the bride pronounced the marriage ceremony.

We have received the printed minutes of the fourth annual convention of the Kings Daughters and Sons of North Carolina which was held in Oxford a short time back. The reports of the work performed by the various circles are interesting and show much sound and permanent good that is being accomplished through their practical efforts.

Mr. B. B. Davenport has an unusually large and exceptionally beautiful specimen of coral. He purchased it yesterday from Mr. John Smith, who found it at Coal Point about Hunting Quarter.

The probability is that it was a piece which washed ashore from some vessel wrecked in the vicinity—there was one lost near there in the August storm. Mr. Davenport will exhibit it at the approaching East Carolina Fair.

Ives—Carmichael.

A friend of the contracting parties furnishes us the following account of the marriage of our excellent young townsman Mr. John B. Ives to Miss Fannie Carmichael, one of the most prominent and popular young ladies of Statesville which took place Thursday afternoon in the Presbyterian church of that town.

Everything passed off pleasantly. Promptly at 4 o'clock the ushers entered the right aisle forming a line half way to the other, bridesmaids entered from the rear entrance crossing the aisle and joining the groomsmen. All remained standing until the bride and her maid of honor Miss Maggie De Wallace had passed through and she was met by the groom and best man Mr. A. M. Scales. The attendants then marched to the altar forming a semi-circle facing the audience.

After the ceremony all marched out the left aisle to the stirring strains of Taubhausen beautifully rendered by Miss Jennie Culver, who presided at the organ. The bridal party then repaired to the residence of bride, where a sumptuous repast awaited them.

Maid of Honor: Miss Maggie D. Wallace, of Wilmington; best man: Mr. A. M. Scales, of Greensboro; bridesmaids and groomsmen: Miss Jettie Harrill and M. C. Wood, Statesville, Miss Lulie Ives, of New Berne, Alex. Hall, of Hickory, Miss Maggie Stockton, of Asheville, Eugene Morrison, of Charlotte, Miss Mary Bell and F. L. Page, of Statesville, Miss Mary Cowles and L. B. Bristol, Statesville.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. A. Wood, the pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The Landmark, a weekly paper, printed just before the marriage took place had an excellent notice of the coming event from which we take the following concluding paragraphs:

"On their bridal tour they will visit New York, New Haven, Conn., and other points of interest. They will return to the residence of the groom at New Berne, where a reception will be given them December 7th.

"As the Landmark has a habit of being printed on Thursday morning, we are compelled to give this news a little in advance, and also to extend in advance our heartfelt congratulations and best wishes to these young people, and more particularly to congratulate Mr. Ives on the prize he is winning. The young lady has spent about all of her life in Statesville and is deservedly popular here. Accomplished, beautiful and possessed of charming manners and a gentle modesty that suits most becomingly upon her, she has endeared herself to a large circle that give her up with a sigh of regret. May every blessing attend this union, and may their pathway be always strewn with thornless flowers."

The JOURNAL echoes the good wishes of its co-temporary. "Johnny Ives" is one of New Berne's best young men and well deserving of the prize he has won. He is an equal partner with his father in their very lucrative business, and consequently has every indication of a bright future, and that the cordial wishes of his multitude of friends will reach a full fruition.

The M. E. Conference.

This assembly convenes in Wilmington December 6th, and for that occasion the W. N. & N. R. R. will sell a round trip ticket from New Berne to Wilmington and return for $2.65. Tickets will be on sale from December 4th to the 6th inclusive, and good to return up to, and including the 14th. This is a very low rate, and no doubt our people will avail themselves of it.

Looking Toward Union.

In the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina, which met at Tarboro, N. C., the following paper was unanimously adopted: "In view of the identity of belief both in doctrine and polity between our church and the Associate Reform Presbyterian Church, and in view of the known orthodoxy and loyalty to their trust of this esteemed body of Christians, our synod would express the desire for closer relations with said Associate Reform Presbyterian church, and to this end, Resolved, that a committee of three be appointed with instructions to present this matter to the proper Presbytery or the General Synod, or both.—Ex.

Saturday Night Thoughts.

For THE JOURNAL.
As we sit by the home-lit lamp, after the chores of the day, and the duties of the week, have been finished. It is natural that a train of Saturday night thoughts should be the mind to relieve the heart.
There is no letter pausing place amid the busy scenes of life than on Saturday night. "Six days shalt thou labor" and when this command is faithfully observed how sweet the prospect of speedy rest.
The thought of a rest day looms up before us, as a welcome oasis in the great desert of life. How many tired mothers tonight, as they tuck in the last little charge of their dependent ones, will sit down, eye, kneel down and thank Our Father for the approaching rest day. "Rest" is a consoling, soothing word, none but those who really labor know how to appreciate rest.

Looking over the JOURNAL tonight my eye rests on a question from a young man asking how he may become rich. The Atlanta Constitution tells him how and perhaps there are some who are willing to follow the prescribed course, but whoever they are; this Saturday night does not find them getting ready for Sunday but Sunday may find them with hearts bent on riches rather than rest.
As the Saturday nights roll around, we are so forcibly reminded of a good time somewhere, not far perhaps in the future, when the least Sabbath comes and life's toils and cares will all be for ever gone.
"If I were a voice, a persuasive voice that could travel the wide world through," I would speak to hurrying man tonight, and ask him to pause in his eager rush and worry and take at least one hour every Saturday night, to put his whole being, body, mind, and spirit in proper condition for the sacred Sabbath of rest. D. L.

Good Effect of High Prices for Farm Produce.

On Saturday a farmer was discussing with us about the price of meat. When we remarked that the high price of it was a blessing to the farmer as it caused so many of them to raise their meat at home, he said "that is true, and it is also a blessing because it enables us to get so much work done on our farms than when meat is low. Take meat at 8 cents a pound and cotton at 8 and the picker can make enough in a day's work to buy provisions for a week.

And a large majority of colored laborers (some white people are that way too) cannot be induced to work as long as they have any ration allowance. When meat is high there is far less idleness among them than when it is low, and we can therefore get more work done." Greenville Reflector.
